OGDEN.

Big R. R. Damage Suit—Burglar Caught—Sidney Reception—News Notes.

Special Correspondence.

OGDEN, May 28.—Another damage suit was entered against the Oregon Short Line railway company on Saturday. This time the complaint is by Mr. H. Bryan, who asks the company to pay him the sum little sum of $20,000, for damages alleged to have been sustained by him while employed as a brakeman on a freight train operated by defendant company, by reason of a accident near Soda Springs, Idaho, on September 27, 1897. Carelessness and negligence on the part of the company are alleged, by which the plaintiff was permanently disabled.

The funeral services over the remains of Mary A., wife of H. S. Wood, who died last Friday night, were held at 2 o'clock yesterday from the Lyons meeting house.

BURGLAR CAUGHT.

Saturday evening Detective J. F. Tyndall arrested a man named Clark, on suspicion of being the man who robbed a doctor's office of some valuable instruments and other property one day last week, and got him to the police station, where he made a full confession of his guilt, and succeeded in getting away, Tyndall after all the man during the parade, but succeeded in locating him shortly after. Clark was in the act of being arrested when he ran away. He was found by a hotel on Twenty-fifth street with a gun in his hand, and at once gave himself up. Clark is a young man, and has been under arrest and landed him safely in the city bastile. A search of the city revealed a lot of other stolen goods and skeleton keys. He will be given a chance to explain matters to the police justice.

All the arrangements have been perfected for giving Hon. Joseph Bishop a grand reception when he reaches this city this evening, and Ogden will not be the only capital he will visit while in Utah and Colorado in doing honor to the noble old sea fighter, the hero of Santiago harbor.

J. Van Dieftschack of Stuttgart, Germany, who was the imperial commissioner of the German government to the Centennial and Columbian expositions in Philadelphia and Chicago, stopped over in Ogden Saturday to visit Mrs. Fred J. Kiesel and his brothers-in-law, William, Adolph and Theodore Schoenhaus. The gentleman is on his return to Germany from an imperial mission to Japan.

A considerable amount of the property for which Weber county holds tax deeds was sold last week. The purchasers of all such property are given quit claim deeds. The original owners are allowed to redeem their property which has been sold for taxes at any time upon payment of the taxes and accrued costs.

Saturday afternoon Mayor Doyle appointed the appointments of Robert R. Shaw as captain of police and G. H. Brown as lieutenant, to take effect immediately upon their duties.

In the United district court on Saturday, Judge Judge Cephas Hiles, the case of Henry Stevens vs W. J. Stephens et al was continued until this morning.

The ball game here on Memorial day yesterday, but the baseball game attracted more people to the grounds than the game, for it was the first time attended religious services in all the churches combined.

The preliminary hearing, on the charge of assault, preferred by Deputy constable Joseph Belnap against Dr. H. H. Pierce, of the Ogden sanitarium, was continued until the Fisher-Garrison sets-up, will take place before Justice Justice Halsnoid Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

PROVO.

Fifteen Minutes with Admiral Schley—County School Graduates.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, May 28.—Admiral Schley, the hero of Santiago harbor, was given a royal welcome by about one thousand enthusiastic citizens as he passed through this Garden City Sunday morning. A welcome which made him exclaim: "This is the kind of material which to make a great republic."

The train which bore the admiral's special car was attached to arrived in Provo about 3.30 a. m. and was dropped at the station by the regular train which attached to the special which came down from Salt Lake, bearing a distinguished party. The admiral's special car in this city was about 15 minutes, and all got a good look at the hero. Gen. Manderson introduced the admiral to the people, who in a few well chosen words thanked the people for their good cheer. Gen. Manderson then turned to Mrs. Schley, and said: "You have won the rear admiral; now this is the real admiral of the fleet." Mrs. Schley blushed and he runs the fleet."

Mayor Jones in behalf of the city, in a short eloquent speech, said to the admiral: "We are proud to honor such a man and even the stately pines on the Wasatch range have bowed down in respect to the man who would share the glory of the wonderful naval victory in Santiago bay." July 25, 1898, was the day "when the guns." The mayor's speech was received with applause by the multitude.

Admiral Schley responded briefly to the mayor's remarks and in conclusion said: "What could the people expect from such a navy which this great Republic has, and which includes such a man as the gallant Dewey? The souls were anxious to shake the admiral's hand, but few succeeded, for, as he shakehands said, "The people of Colorado did something which the Spaniards were unable to do, they disabled the admiral's good right arm."

There was a large attendance Memorial day, G. A. R. and W. R. C. exercises and their friends coming from all parts of the county.

Hon. President Edward Partridge presided.

Invocation was offered by Rev. H. S. Gardner of the congregational church. The singing was led by the Tabernacle choir, under the leadership of George Davis, Prof. Bennett being absent.

Rev. J. Kirby and Rev. George H. Brimhall were the speakers.

Memorial services will be held at the cemetery Tuesday morning early, so that the citizen parade will not interfere with the program by keeping people away.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Mrs. Martha Dabelstein of the Stake presidency of the Relief Society, went to Knightsville Sunday morning for the purpose of addressing the Sunbeams in working order a Relief Society among the ladies of that model mining camp.

County Commissioners Joseph T. McEwan and W. S. Hughes went up Provo canyon Saturday on the purpose of inspecting the new roads near the power dam, which the railroad company has just had done. With a few exceptions the roads in question will receive the acceptance by the county at the next meeting of the board.

A great number of Utah county people filled the tabernacle to capacity today. The B. Y. Academy music class, under Prof. McClellan, and the Salt Lake Theatre orchestra, under Prof. Willard Weihe.

LOGAN.

Court Cases—Suit Against Orson Smith—Interesting Railway Service.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, May 28.—Judge Hart held court in Logan yesterday, and the following matters were disposed of:

In the suit of the N.Y. College against Orson Smith, a judgment was rendered for the sum of $1,261.18, and costs. Considerable property was attached in connection with this suit, and it will be sold as soon as possible, to satisfy the judgment.

Isabelle Olney was appointed administratrix of the estate of John W. Olney, deceased.

The heirs of David L. Evans, filed a petition praying for the appointment of L. C. Thomson, as administrator of the estate.

In the matter of the estate of James Brown, deceased, a decree of distribution was made.

David Murray filed the inventory and appraisement of the estate of Joseph Wilkinson, deceased, which shows the property to be worth $1,735.

The writ of mandamus asked for in the case of Alfred Brown vs Logan Irrigation company, was issued last evening, and was immediately served upon the officials of the corporation named.

Justice Rawlins yesterday rendered a decision in the case of Edward Thompson company vs Hyrum G. Nick. The suit was a friendly one brought to determine the right of possession of a set of law books belonging to the plaintiff. The decision was in favor of Attorney Nick.

UNSATISFACTORY SERVICE.

People here who are conversant with railroad matters assert that the old train service, which cannot be out of complaint while in force before, will be restored within the next few days. Emphatic opposition will be met with by the railroad company unless Cache Valley is given a through train to Salt Lake.

R. R. Campbell of Salt Lake, is visiting in the city today.

KAYSVILLE.

Memorial Day Celebration—Sheep and Wool Business.

Special Correspondence.

Kaysville, Utah, May 28.—Memorial day will be properly celebrated by the people of Kaysville and the two Layton wards at the city cemetery. The committee having the matter in hand report that an appropriate program is being prepared for the occasion. The Sunday schools of the three wards will take an active part in the exercises. There are now eight soldiers buried in the city cemetery, and for many years past, on each memorial day, the best members of the G. A. R. and the few veterans of the Confederacy meeting here have contributed flowers with the usual tribute of honor. In carrying out the customary rites for one year and more the surviving veterans will be joined by a few of the heroes of San Juan hill, who have left the ranks of the Sixty-first regiment. In the battles before Santiago he contracted a sickness which has hung around him ever since. Nearly every year he has spent much of his time in the Rocky mountains, and which helped such a man as the great Dewey. The souls were anxious to shake the admiral's hand, but few succeeded, for, as the shakehands said, "The people of Colorado did something which the Spaniards were unable to do, they disabled the admiral's good right arm."

DRAPER.

Farewell Party to Peter S. Garff—Fred Killed—New Meeting House.

Special Correspondence.

Draper, Salt Lake County, May 27.—A well attended farewell party was held here last evening in honor of Peter S. Garff, who leaves for Denmark on missionary service on Monday next.

The lyceum of Sabbath Schools in all Alfred, Millcreek, Draper and Wasatch join in the general wail over the loss of their President.

The Draper Mercantile & Manufacturing company's store, owned by a number of the principal men in this place, has a new manager in the person of Mr. Hyrum Bishop. Mr. H. Bjorn having withdrawn on account of his personal business, and the duties of his secondary office, requiring his time and attention.

NEW MEETING HOUSE.

The fine new brick meeting house in course of erection—make quite a noble appearance, and is much admired by the good people of Draper, as exemplified each Sunday, by the overwrowding of the place of worship, and the crowds in close proximity to the new one.

ENTERPRISING CITIZENS.

Eighteen new buildings went up last year and Mr. Don Monk starts out this season with the erection of a fine large residence, and Mr. Jackson adds a fine improvement, to this thrifty county town.

The breeders of fine stock, Jackson Allen and Fitzgerald are seriously meeting the inquiry for information regarding the purchase of the stock of John Fitzgerald, particularly in regard to the prices which they expect to win for the horse of their breed, and the prices which they asked for his fine stock. Jackson Allen stipped twenty-two head of stock from this one outcrowd this last spring, he has a number of fine pedigreed animals, and supplies the shows from which he has a number of his books for the improvement of their flocks.

Mr. J. H. Wright, painter and decorator, is busy preparing to board with the living and the dead; that is to decorate the interior of Lyon's hall, and now busy preparing head boards to place at the graves of the dear ones, who lie in the cemetery, and preparing to place at the very center of the town, right next to the large mercantile store of D. O. Hibbard, a fine cenotaph to our Dear Utah, and reminds one of the old English church yards.

The recent rains have caused the snow down on the foothills and overcoats are in requisition, and although the people are afraid of this Utah weather they feel hopeful of a splendid crop of hay and grain.

HEBER.

Concession of Right of Way to R. G. W—Killing Frost.

Special Correspondence.

Heber City, May 28.—Mr. Nock, R. G. W., field of way agent, arrived in Heber Thursday at 4 p. m. He carried a concession for right of way with the people of Heber for the line between this city and Midway. Mr. Adam Patten, Mr. C. Halik, Attorney Wm. Hays and Lemuel Briggs, boarded carriages and drove to Midway, then turned north and followed the railroad survey from the last stamp town back to Heber. The citizens of the last town turned out around Charleston who were interested, and led them to give an option on the right of way for 30 days. All the people they were after landowners who are interested in Heber. They were excited in an adverse way but not in a hostile way.

Saturday morning a meeting was held in Judge A. C. Halik's law office, from 10 to 12 of the leading men of the town with Mr. Nock were present. Mr. Nock was the object of the meeting. After looking over the situation, he thought that it would require some $100 to be raised to pay for the right of way for the road, which the company expected the Heber citizens to donate. A subscription was then taken to raise the money, and after some time spent in soliciting, quite a few doubled their subscriptions at the meeting, but not quite enough to make the sum. Mr. Nock then said if five of the men present would assume the responsibility of the balance, he would make a contract with him he would be satisfied. A contract was accordingly drawn up, signed by Joseph Halik, John Muir, Isaac Cummings, John Hook and Judge T. S. Watson, guaranteeing the payment of $1,500 to the first of July, at the call of the R. G. W. to pay the land-owners for right of way. This contract was signed by both parties and Mr. Nock carried away one copy in his grip sack, and started for Park City to meet the T. S. in Salt Lake City. The company agrees to and finding it impossible to Heber not later than January 1, 1900, as the company stated. Mr. Nock stated privately that the road would be ready for Heber by the month of October at latest.

The weather is still cool and windy, frost nearly every night, which is a misfortune for the farmers, and a misfortune in being given to breeding, and some like stock, has been reported of late. The sixteen heads of Bodily bros. and W. L. Galbraith have attracted buyers from all parts of the state.

Baldness Can be Cured
Just so long as there is a particle of vitality left in the hair roots. The fact that the hair is already gone or silvered is a serious proof that the roots have died.
Deep-rooted baldness is more hair than ever, and again, and that is the hopeless case. Still, that is no good to defend them into a hopeless condition of hair is the fault of the proper agents.

KANOSH.

Fine Musical Entertainment—Local Enterprise—Crop Prospects.

Special Correspondence.

Kanosh, May 27.—What can be done in the way of musical culture of our people by the single handed efforts of a master was demonstrated last night when Professor Wm. Clark gave his annual operetta entitled the "Twin Sisters," with Mrs. Annie Bennett and Mrs. Fred Kirkham as the principal actors in the leading roles. Mr. Pugh has been working at this entertainment ever since his return from the Agricultural College, and a beautiful success was the verdict of a large audience, a number of whom were from Fillmore, Oak City and Meadow to witness the production. The fine singing and masterly display made by Mrs. Annie Bennett (Grace) Charley, her husband, to express to the writer double as to his own future fate.

And the absence from home of the enthusiastic mines of the newly married "Ted," probably saved trouble with the family, for the fair faced Pearl, the stolen rider, was transformed into an ideal groom. The enthusiasm was not real self. The gray amazement was a revelation to the audience, as the sentiments were heard by many for the first time in the romantic revelry.

Mr. Pugh has put in the hard under obligation to him for his untiring efforts in music. The blackberries acted as doorkeepers and ushers, and the ladies are to help the choir and T. L. M. I. A.

Mr. Rich came into our town a few months ago and has proved to be a very useful enterprise, by opening up the "left hand fork canyon" and has set a stage and water wheel to pass on the creek now to town, and will shortly be saying lumber, charging given, ready to help us out in building such model times.

Our crop prospect is quite good at present and considerable hay will be raised.

The wedding dance of Brother Lewis Brown and Miss Elizabeth Patten takes place on Monday evening.

WEST WEBER.

A Fitting Farewell Reception to Canada Missionaries.

Special Correspondence.

West Weber, Weber Co., May 26.—Last evening the ward meeting time was spent in the meeting house. The occasion was a farewell party for two of our young ladies, Minnie Jacobs and Thomas R. Fadden, who leave on Monday for a mission to Canada.

The hall was filled to its utmost capacity. A most interesting program was rendered, which lasted until about the o'clock, when refreshments were announced but none to, and enjoyed themselves in the dance until the "morning hours" commenced. We expect hand clasping and hearty wishes for the future happiness and prosperity of the young missionaries.

Both of the young men have been active workers in the Sunday schools and Young Men's Mutual Improvement Associations, and have been as one in the cause of their efficiency in these positions, we feel sure that they will succeed in opening up a new country. The experience gained in the ward will be invaluable to them in organizing and running these institutions, as they will come into experience in the country in which they are called to labor.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER.

It has been unusually dry here for some time with occasional cold winds and frosts, which have done damage to the fruit and early vegetables. The beets have also suffered, until there is only about half a stand, and many have had to replant. Our weather clerk keeps promising us a shower. If it doesn't come soon, the crops that may not be irrigated to advantage will suffer.

We have some few cases of sickness but nothing of a serious nature.

RICHFIELD.

Closing Business of District Court—Rights of Private Property.

Special Correspondence.

Richfield, May 28.—District court was in session here on Monday and Saturday with Judge McCarty and Johnson on the bench.

The dull weather considered was the decisive in the case of Tom Fonsenes vs James N. Nilson. After arguments by counsel, the decision was reserved and plaintiff given ten days in which to file an amended complaint.

Tom Fonsenes, plaintiff, vs A. Nilson was next heard on demurrer of defendant to plaintiff's complaint.

After argument the court the court took the matter under advisement, and later sustained the demurrer and gave plaintiff ten days in which to file an amended complaint.

Now comes on the case of the State of Utah vs Joseph Orton, Sr. Mr. Attorney Collins, defendant, was given a hearing on the charge of potenage of court in the case. The jury then rendered a verdict adversely to his interests on the 19th inst.

Judge Johnson of the Seventh district, by special invitation of Judge McCarty of this district, was present and heard this case. Mr. Orton's attorney had no right to appear in the case as the charge is not a criminal one. The court overruled the motion, whereupon defendant interposed a demurrer, which was sustained only in his own behalf. District Attorney Chidester and County Attorney Erickson representing the State, argued the motion, and the court being fully advised in the premises, sustained the demurrer and dismissed the case.

Then came on for hearing before Judge McCarty the case of V. C. Pulsipher, plaintiff, vs Geo. S. Ward et al, defendants. The facts in this case briefly stated are as follows: Last October defendant Ward, with others, commenced appropriating the water of Glenwood Spring Creek for milling and manufacturing purposes, and has run some water electricity, and last March he located a mill site upon which to erect a plant for a complete flouring mill. The mill site and the ditch through which the water was diverted to gain power upon plaintiff's land, and plaintiff claimed damages for the use of the water, and brought suit for damages and that defendant be restrained from further appropriating the water.

The main question involved in the case was as to the validity of the action of an electric plant was in the hands of a public project so to be entitled to the right of condemning the land and water and ditch way.

After carefully considering the case the court held that private property cannot be condemned for the purpose herein contemplated, and granted a nonsuit in case and a restraining order against defendant. This case will hold up the electric plant, and the question involved passed upon there.

In the case of the State of Utah vs Lester Elliott was dismissed and defendant discharged. Elliott was given a hearing before the court last January for trespass from the public school lots, and a nolle was postponed pending action on the case.

The case of the State of Utah vs Alfonso Torgesen was also dismissed. Torgesen was sought to last December for cutting a house in a neighbor's chiffonier and removing his property thereon.

Had I been thirty-six instead of sixty-six, I should have turned from the pass to the pass.

Men who are not afraid of work can find good places to make a home here. Land there is plenty, and it is fertile, and the climate is healthful and delightful. The Dutch, who was as base as a lee at this late season, left a good farm and cabin, and made nearly every home. It is a land rich in everything that will sustain life for man and beast, and all that is to make day when population reaches at its rich zones or richer cultivation then, it will be "A land flowing with milk and honey."

AN EPIDEMIC OF WHOOPING-COUGH.

Last week during an epidemic of whooping cough, my children came down with the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Ballard's Horehound Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure.—John E.
