Sheriff Davenport at Virden, saying that one hundred had been killed and asking that troops be sent immediately. Orders have been issued for the troops to go there. I think the number of killed is exaggerated. From information I received by people who came here from Virden on the train carrying the agents I do not think that more than thirty were killed, but a good many were wounded. The killing seems to have been done by the deputies on the train, as nearly all of those killed and wounded were striking miners.

"My information is that very few of the deputies were hurt."

"It is, however, not altogether reliable. The trains came to Springfield and three or four bodies are expected here. The regiment was not unloaded in Springfield. The train went north I understand, and stopped at Sherman, the destination of the train being Bloomington."

SOME OF THE INJURED.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—The wires of the injured brought into Springfield on the train were:

Wm. Clarkson, St. Louis, wounded in head, will die.

——— Carrol, shot in the neck and body, dying at Springfield hospital.

James Palmer, soldier, shot in arm and body, will recover.

Wm. Kinnet, St. Louis, shot in head, slightly wounded, and says will return to Virden if necessary.

Two negroes, names unknown, slightly injured.

WITH THE JOINT COMMISSION.

A Few of Spain's Extremely Moderate Demands Reviewed.

The Dons Desire Cuba Free to Assume Cuban Debt and to Hand Over All Captured War Material.

Paris, Oct. 12.—The sittings yesterday of the joint peace commission of the United States and Spain were devoted, according to the Gaulois, to an examination of the situation which it is possible or give to two questions in the protocol.

The Philippine question, the Gaulois adds, was discussed incidentally, the United States commissioners seeking to impose a system of compensation for claims connected with the entire group by assuming the debt, provided Spain guarantees the Cuban debt.

The Spaniards, it further appears, wish the United States to assume the Cuban debt and hand over to Spain all the war material in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The discussion still, according to the Gaulois, was very animated. Judge Day, the president of the American commission, and Senor Montero Rios, the president of the Spanish commission, having received precise instructions from their respective governments, the Americans consider that they cannot depart from their principle forming the base of the protocol, to which the Spaniards reply that the protocol was signed in a critical moment and under a pressing necessity that it cannot be considered as expressing the sovereign will of a free nation.

Military Cadets.

The annual report of the superintendent of the Military Academy is made this year to the war department by Lieut. Col. O. H. L. Heyde, who commands the academy in the absence of Col. Mills, now in Porto Rico. He says that his discipline of the cadets has been very good and the usual high standard of drill has been maintained. A slight increase in the number of annual appointments of cadets is recommended in order that the corps may be kept up to the maximum strength, there being each year a number of vacancies.

Sanitary Inspector Doe Comments on Councilman Diehl's Complaint.

REASONS FOR THE COUNCILMANIC IRE.

Says Diehl's is Purely a Personal Kick and is Without Actual Foundation in Fact.

A "News" man saw Sanitary Inspector Doe this morning and called his attention to the discussion had in the council last night as to the health department of the health department, and which was precipitated by the introduction of a resolution by Mr. Diehl. Mr. Doe was very emphatic but cool in his denial of the accusations against his department made by Mr. Diehl.

"There is no truth whatever in those accusations against the health department, said Mr. Diehl's statements come as a complete surprise to me, because it is not many than a week ago that he talked to me in the most friendly way, stating that the salary of the inspector should not have been cut as it has been. He knows that my predecessor was paid $100 per month and that furnished for his horse, while I get $90 and furnish my own horse feed, besides that, the Council has cut down the number of teams at my disposal, but by crowding them I have been able to do the dirty work free from complaints, etc. The men who are now working for the department for several weeks complained to me the day or so the condition of the city saying it is in better condition now than it has been for years.

"It seems that on one or two occasions the garbage wagon has failed to take away Mr. Diehl's refuse for the reason that it has not been put out, as it should have been. The man has even gone into the councilman's back yard to get it at times. When the garbage has been soaked it has been because it was not put out as is required by the rules of the department. Furthermore, inasmuch as Councilmen Diehl and Tellmann have become so interested in their attack on me, I will resignate by saying that, notwithstanding my frequent requests, personally and by telephone, these councilmen have persistently neglected to have vacant sloughs and other necessary sanitary duties attended to until they saw fit to do so.

DISGUSTED A KICK.

A lady who lives at 202 Second East street called in at the department this morning and complained that a neighbor's house is allowed to piling manure on his premises in a place which is very objectionable to the complainant. The man does not break any of the rules of the department, but upon reported of the inspector he has changed the sliding place of the aforesaid manure. The lady's kick seems to come from a neighbor's disagreement and its personal, as is a source of much annoyance to the health department—the being the third lady that has spoken at the office. She was very emphatic in saying that her neighbor's action was contrary to law, notwithstanding Mr. Tellmann's statement that under the circumstances there was no infraction of any law or rule of the department. The lady, however, was very persistent in asserting that her friend of the manure pile was a lawbreaker, and Chief Pollard, with all the gallantry of a knight errant, gracefully conceded that he was not so well posted as to the law as was his fair visitor, who is a native of Scandinavia. The inspector will go over and investigate, but if he does the lady's allegations as to the location of the objectionable pile is to be true, all he can do is to make a request for its removal as a matter of accommodation, as has been done heretofore.

This is one of the cases that help to make the position of the health officer anything but a bed of sweet-scented roses.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The annual report of the board of health for 1897 has been printed and now ready for distribution. The first copies were delivered by the printer this morning.

AT THE SUGAR FACTORY.

Superintendent Velie Highly Pleased With the Splendid Record Now Being Made.

It is now being shown by the splendid work being done at the sugar factory that Utah is an ideal place for the production of beet sugar, says the Lehi Banner. Nowhere on earth are better results being made than at the Lehi factory. The constant stream of fine beets pouring into the factory and the stream of splendid sugar pouring out is an active proof that Utah is the place to successfully raise beet sugar. Nick only is there a splendid crop of beets to work up but this season the factory is running better than ever before and Supt. Valle is justly proud of the work being done. When he took charge he made some changes which now show that they were an improvement. The past week has been unprecedented and has been a record breaker. The superintendent and men are all proud of the work done.

Previous to this year the most beets worked up in one day was 62 tons, which was done on October 1, 1896. The record for the past week has established a new record for capacity in that. The record by days is as follows: Monday 60 tons, Tuesday 69 tons, Wednesday 62 tons, Thursday 65 tons, Friday 69 tons, Saturday 67 tons, Sunday 68 tons. This is a week's work which cannot be equaled by a factory of the same capacity.

Since the putting of bottom of a top pan was changed so that it does not come or over are worked up, the factory has made over 60 tons almost every day and the men now think they are not making enough of a run unless they do that. Supt. Valle is much pleased by the way things are working and everything goes to show that he is the right man in the right place. The result shows that he has a superior way of managing a factory.

The factory now has run a month and during that time has worked up 11,500 tons of beets. This is about 1,000 tons more than was ever worked up in the same time.

Assaulted and Robbed.

Last night about 8 o'clock Mr. Samuel Ensign of this city was assaulted and robbed of $11 or $12 on Commercial street. From the appearance of the wound it would seem that Mr. Ensign must have been struck from behind with some blunt instrument, probably a piece of something as the cut seems to have been made with such an instrument being five inches in length and shending down to the skull. Dr. John Taylor attended to Mr. Ensign, the cut requiring several stitches. At last accounts the patient was resting easily. Dr. Taylor says Mr. Ensign was not intoxicated as quite generally supposed, but was still suffering from the effects of the blow received.

Kingdom of Josephus.

There will doubtless be a large audience tonight at the Assembly Hall to hear Dr. Mazzarella's lecture on the prince-king of Kingdom and Pamphlet. That will be a rare literary treat, as those who have heard the professor's lectures have been charmed with them. The New York Times, speaking of the same lecture, says: "Dr. Mazzarella expresses a knowledge of his subject and a style of address which are forcible and at times eloquent. It was a great lecture. It contained passages of thrilling eloquence. We hope to hear it again, yet it seemed but a few minutes for the delight it conveyed to his hearers."

SCROFULA

It is Foul Blood's Advertisement

But It is Soon Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Yes, Scrofula, if anything, may benefit the advertisement of foul blood. It is the scourge of the world—offensive, painful, debilitating, stubborn and will sigh unendurable.

Outward applications do not cure, they only drive the difficulty to new quarters. Emollients may palliate, they cannot abolish the evil. There is but one sure way out, and that is to eliminate the taint from the blood.

There is one remedy that can effect this, and it is the only one that, so far as we know, has almost invariably succeeded—even where the system has been poisoned by long years of taint, and the ravages to be repaired are tremendous. That remedy is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"My daughter was afflicted with impure blood. Their were running sores all over her body and they caused her much suffering. We tried medicines that were recommended as blood purifiers, but could not see that they did any good. A friend told me about Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began giving the girl this medicine. The result was that she was perfectly cured after taking a few bottles. She has had no symptoms of scrofula sores since that time." MARIETTA M. HARTE, South Middleboro, Mass.

AMUSEMENTS.

The "News" welcomes to its exchange table the first number of Musical America, published at New York and Chicago, by Marshall Brown and others. The magazine is edited by John C. Freund, who, in his starting address, declares that, notwithstanding the hard times, the people will spend a dollar per head to christen the national endeavor, the national work is music and to assert a principle—the principle that music has a place in a prosperous country. No other name could have been chosen. If the first number is a fair sample of the issues to follow, Musical America ought to succeed.

WILL NOT BE TOLERATED.

So Says Chief of Police Pratt with Reference to Gambling.

Two Poker Cases Decorated Upon and Arrests Made—What Happened to Those Arrested.

The police department does not propose to allow a single gambling den to survive in this city—that is if their services will prevent it. Chief Pratt has received on this and what's more, is bent on carrying on the crusade until every such institution in the city is wiped out, obliterated. In a talk with a "News" reporter today the chief admitted that it was a hard job to suppress and keep suppressed, these evils, but said he, while prohibited to stay with it it will before that, perseverance will eventually win and that before long gambling, so all its forms, will be a thing of the past in Salt Lake City.

While this remarking, done by the fire the chief in one corner of his desk and took a box of poker chips. There are what the boys call "pot hot hogs." And he, "which they found in those two houses—one on Commercial street, underneath the dwelling occupied by Mrs. Hatch, and the other behind the Abbey saloon. We had known of those games for a week or two, but we knew it's such a hard matter to get evidence against them that we had to proceed cautiously, and go at it in a systematic way. The boys were thwarted in their first effort to pull the gamblers in, because, as we found out, they tried it a second time, an hour afterwards, and made a good job of it. Both these places were conducted in the open, and some but those interesting themselves in such matters, know anything about them. Now that they have been closed up, we hope to keep them closed, and it is my earnest desire that they will be so handled by the Police Justice, as to teach such people a lesson and emphasize the fact that our effort must be paid attention to."

The arrests made last night, consisted of three keepers and four players, Joe Thompson, who conducted the door behind the Abbey saloon, was compelled to put up $100 bail, while A. J. Hall and Ben Houston, keepers of the other, had to do likewise. Each of the others were required to put up $50, a penalty which forced some of them to spend the night in jail. Those charged with gambling gave their names as L. Bunch, Antonio Cuna, John Logan, H. Gibson, John Doe, Charles Cuna, Bud Hall, John Marsden and J. H. Wade. Their arrest was effected by Detectives Sheets and Gillespie, supported by Officers Hall and Orbison. Wednesday, Dwyer, some of whom were conveyed to their homes in the patrol wagon, at a very unseemly hour this morning.

FINES AND FORFEITURES.

These cases were called up in police court this afternoon, when Joe Thompson and A. S. Hall were fined $10 each for keeping a gambling house, while Bob Houston, charged similarly, was discharged. Those charged with gambling were handled as follows: L. Bunch, Antonio Cuna, John Doe and John Logan were each fined $10, some of which will have to be liquidated in the city jail.

Charles Cuna, Bud Hall and John Doe were forfeited $10, Charles Collins was discharged, and J. H. Wade, Bud Hill, John Marsden and John Logan were each fined $10, some of which will have to be liquidated in the city jail.

SHORT LINE OFFICERS.

Another Utah Railroad Elects a New Board of Directors Today.

UNION PACIFIC IS IN THE SADDLE.

Will be a Separate Maintenance of Roads, However—Close Traffic Relations Only—Ogden Gateway Undisturbed.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Short Line company took place at the office of the president of the company in the Oregon Short Line building beginning at 10 a. m.

There has been great interest in railroad circles over the outcome of this meeting and the probable action that would be taken by the magnates who guide the destinies of these arteries of commerce. It has been strongly maintained by some that one act would be to draw the road into closer relations with the Union Pacific, and, in fact, to practically amalgamate the two systems. This the officials of both roads have denied in a measure, but always ending with the remark that time alone would tell.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific yesterday told nothing, and as just could be gathered from those present, there was no definitive action being taken, further than to make closer traffic relations between the two systems. All the officers and directors were re-elected without a change. Long sight all were given to understand that the company is in good condition and that the lines are prospering, and that the old directors of the Oregon Short Line would be elected with but few changes of personnel. It was well known that the old board and the one just elected will show how far this was carried out. The old board is as follows: Sidney Dillon Morgan, Henry G. Nickols, Gordon Abbott, Jefferson Coolidge, Gardner M. Lane, Nathaniel Thayer, Adolphus Merrill, S. F. Whitney, Alexander E. Orr, Charles H. Coster, Walter G. Oakman and Walter A. Gilmore. The new directors of the board are Francis B. Range, Horace G. Hart, W. D. Cornish, W. E. Guyon, George J. Gould, E. H. Harriman, Otto H. Kahn, Horace H. Burt, Oliver W. Mink and Winslow S. Pierce.

How these changes will affect the short line time alone will tell. Most of the new members are interested in rival railroad circles. Several of them are known, however, to be closely connected with the Union Pacific system. From what is known of the directorate as a whole it will be extremely fortunate to the interests of the older company.

The officials this morning stated it to be directly understood that nothing would be done with the Ogden gateway, which will remain open as at present. They likewise assured those present that the Short Line would retain as a separate corporation, and would be operated and maintained as ever. What action would be taken in regard to traffic relations, it was said, but that these relations would be maintained could not be learned. If any change is made it will not materially affect the Ogden traffic, at least that was the impression conveyed.

After the close of the meeting the officials left for points east, for the east. President Carr will remain in the city for a few days looking after details before returning to Boston.

SHORT LINE OFFICERS.

Another Utah Railroad Elects a New Board of Directors Today.

UNION PACIFIC IS IN THE SADDLE.

Will be a Separate Maintenance of Roads, However—Close Traffic Relations Only—Ogden Gateway Undisturbed.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Oregon Short Line company took place at the office of the president of the company in the Oregon Short Line building beginning at 10 a. m.

There has been great interest in railroad circles over the outcome of this meeting and the probable action that would be taken by the magnates who guide the destinies of these arteries of commerce. It has been strongly maintained by some that one act would be to draw the road into closer relations with the Union Pacific, and, in fact, to practically amalgamate the two systems. This the officials of both roads have denied in a measure, but always ending with the remark that time alone would tell.

The meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific yesterday told nothing, and as just could be gathered from those present, there was no definitive action being taken, further than to make closer traffic relations between the two systems. All the officers and directors were re-elected without a change. Long sight all were given to understand that the company is in good condition and that the lines are prospering, and that the old directors of the Oregon Short Line would be elected with but few changes of personnel. It was well known that the old board and the one just elected will show how far this was carried out. The old board is as follows: Sidney Dillon Morgan, Henry G. Nickols, Gordon Abbott, Jefferson Coolidge, Gardner M. Lane, Nathaniel Thayer, Adolphus Merrill, S. F. Whitney, Alexander E. Orr, Charles H. Coster, Wm. G. Oakman, Walter B. Gilmore and Thos. H. Jones.

The following are the gentlemen elected as directors this morning: Oliver Ames, of Boston; Francis B. Range, of New York; Horace G. Hart, of Boston; Samuel Carr, of Boston; T. Jefferson Coolidge, Jr., of Boston; W. H. Oakman, of New York; W. E. Guyon, of New York; George J. Gould, of New York; Otto H. Kahn, of New York; Edward H. Harriman, of New York; Thomas R. Jones, of Salt Lake City; Otto H. Kahn, of New York; Gardiner M. Lane, of Boston; James Lowell, of New York; Oliver W. Mink, of Boston; Winslow S. Pierce, of New York.

Of these the following are directors of the Union Pacific company or officials of that road: Oliver Ames, Horace G. Hart, T. Jefferson Coolidge, W. D. Cornish, George J. Gould, E. H. Harriman, Otto H. Kahn and Winslow Pierce.

Horace H. Burt and W. D. Cornish are the president and vice president respectively of the Union Pacific company; the remainder are directors of the same company. It will be seen that this gives Boston the majority of votes in the majority of the board. Some of them, however, are heavier holders of Oregon Short Line stock than of that of the Union Pacific. This is especially true of Oliver Ames, who represents the wealthy family of that name who are the heaviest holders of Short Line stock in the company. T. Jefferson Coolidge also represents the stock of a family who are very heavy holders of the same securities.

The retiring members are Henry G. Nickols, Gordon Abbott, Nathaniel Thayer, E. Dallas Bates, E. F. Whitney, Alexander E. Orr, Charles H. Coster, Walter G. Oakman and Walter A. Gilmore. The retiring members of the board are Francis B. Range, Horace G. Hart, W. D. Cornish, W. E. Guyon, George J. Gould, E. H. Harriman, Otto H. Kahn, Oliver W. Mink and Winslow S. Pierce.

How these changes will affect the short line time alone will tell. Most of the new members are interested in rival railroad circles. Several of them are known, however, to be closely connected with the Union Pacific system. From what is known of the directorate as a whole it will be extremely fortunate to the interests of the older company.

The officials this morning stated it to be directly understood that nothing would be done with the Ogden gateway, which will remain open as at present. They likewise assured those present that the Short Line would retain as a separate corporation, and would be operated and maintained as ever. What action would be taken in regard to traffic relations, it was said, but that these relations would be maintained could not be learned. If any change is made it will not materially affect the Ogden traffic, at least that was the impression conveyed.

After the close of the meeting the officials left for points east, for the east. President Carr will remain in the city for a few days looking after details before returning to Boston.

BAD BREATH

I have been suffering CATARRH for about a year and tried everything I could hear of without any success. Last week I was induced to try Ely's Cream Balm, and have used only one bottle and am pleased to say I am cured. My catarrh was very bad, I was hawking and spitting all the time, and was very much troubled with my voice. I can now say that I am free from catarrh. This was a great fall to the catarrh. I shall be happy to recommend Ely's Cream Balm to any person I meet suffering from catarrh. Yours truly, W. H. WEBSTER, Editor Times, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ely's Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not a liquid nor a snuff. Not injurious. Sold by druggists or by mail, 50 cents. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.
