Another correspondent telegraphs from Versallies, last night, that Paris is being burned to the ground.

The mad and frenzied insurgents deliberately fired the Louvre, the Tuil-leries, Cour des Comptes, Hotel de Ville, churches, and every public building in the city. The conflagration is rapidly extending. This correspondent tried to enter Paris, but found it impossible. In watching the fire he noticed a tremendous increase in the volume, and one-third of the city, he says will be burned before night. Denis, Thursday evening, says, fighting has comed. The Versaillists have The Communists Fighting Like complete possession of the city. The conflagrations are nearly over.

How to Run a Local Battery a Year without Cleaning or Renewing.

We take the following statement of Mr. E. A. Walker, of Augusta, Maine, of his method of running a local battery a year without cleaning or renewing, and with the consumption of but the pounds of vitriel, from the Journal of the Telegraph.

"I run my local a year without cleaning, and might have run it longer, but I had accomplished my object in running it a year, and was using more sitriot than was becomeny, if cleaned. I use only three ingredients in my battery, and M. F. can accomplish the same, if he only has the applies. In the first place I keep my battery in a tight box; I have glass jars; my sines have a wire run through them to rust
