Damage Done by Tornadoes in Kansas

HAVEN, Kan., May 29.—Reports from the country through which the tornado passed Friday demonstrate the loss to be greater than at first reported. The course of the storm resembles a perfect letter "S," and swept in that form a distance of 45 and fifteen miles. Nothing escaped in forty, and great damage was not only done to houses, stock and trees, but thousands of dollars worth of stock was killed and injured. It is impossible at present to estimate the entire loss sustained by the storm, but conservatively it will fall short of a million dollars. Not more than a mile out of sight of this handsome residence in the city escaped damage, and nearly one hundred and fifty houses are total wrecks and as many more badly injured, while the minister was seriously injured. The amount of cyclone insurance in town is very slight, while in the country it is comparatively nothing. There is scarcely a residence recognizable as such on Central avenue from the Presbyterian church north and practically all the houses in the northeast part of the city are in ruins and others greatly damaged. Many people are not only destitute of shelter and food and clothing as well. A committee has been organized and the chairman today issued a call for aid.

ANOTHER TORNADO.

WELLINGTON, Kansas, May 29.—When the Wichita excursion arrived this afternoon the members reported a balloon going up in the Sugar district and conclusions were formed for another tornado at 4 o'clock. The sky was typical Indian one, and the report was broken as a jest. At 4 o'clock, however, a dense cloud appeared in the south, heavily charged with electricity, and great alarm spread among the people. The alarm spread to the wildest extent when four or five men came rushing into Main street shouting to the multitude that a cyclone was approaching and to flee for places of safety. A fearful rush was made for basements and cellars, and it is a great wonder that scores of people were not crushed to death in the mad stampede. The report was found to be correct, for a small tail fully developed "funnel" was seen traveling rapidly in a northeasterly direction. This increased excitement and terror. The alarm subsided somewhat in a few minutes when the "funnel" disappeared entirely. A stairway between two buildings yielded beneath the weight of the people, but no one was hurt. A heavy rain followed and the alarm subsided entirely when the dense cloud passed and was followed by sunshine again. The cyclone passed to the northwest and about a mile west of Corbin, in Sumner county, but did no damage as far as heard from. Another cyclone, originating in the territory, was seen west of Caldwell, but very small, and did not touch the ground. The search of the Council House ruins, where it was reported the groans were heard, was completed today. No bodies were found. A farmer who has just arrived reports a cloudburst in South Haven, Sumner county. Rainfall is said to have been terrible, but no news of damage has been received.

VISITING THE RUINS.

KANSAS CITY, May 29.—The Journal's Wellington (Kan.) special says: Great crowds visited the stricken city today. All the railroads entering town ran excursions and the people in the neighborhood flocked in. It was a common remark of those who had witnessed similar scenes that in extent and completeness of destruction, it surpasses anything in their experience. The miracle is that the loss of life was not four fold greater. This is attributed to the fact that the churches, schoolhouses and business blocks in the south's track were partially deserted excepting two hotels where eight casualties were reported.

The death list remains at the figures given yesterday and all the injured are progressing towards recovery except Mr. Murphy and Jesse Brown. The funeral of Mrs. Schubert, Kitty Sirkin, Leonard Adamson, Ida Jones, Horton Upson and Professor James Mayer took place this afternoon from the Methodist church. James Hastie was buried by the Odd Fellows and Ed. Forsythe will be buried tomorrow. The bodies of Thomas Cornwell and Frank Campbell have been forwarded to their homes.

The ruins having been diligently searched, the work of clearing away the wreckage will begin tomorrow. Mechanics have been at work all day sealing the partially wrecked building habitable. Temporary shelter has been provided for the homeless, and the relief organization is raising the necessary funds to keep them from destitution. The Presbyterian and Lutheran churches were well protected by cyclone policies and will be restored as will be the schoolhouse, which was also protected. The insurance in evidence and business property is partly worth mentioning. The absolute loss is in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars.

STORMS AND FLOODS.

Incessant Rain.—Hail.—Cyclones.—Tornadoes.

PINE BLUFFS, Ark., May 30.—After incessant rains for two days a terrible hailstorm swept over this section today, causing much destruction. The floods are beginning to subside somewhat.

RANCHER UPON WATER.

SACRAMENTO, May 30.—The Sacramento river made an opening 250 feet wide in the levee ten miles from here, causing much alarm. At noon the river seemed to be slowly receding. The damage thus far is confined to the swamping away of a house and barn and a small tract of cultivated land, and it is not expected to go outside. Edward Curtagier arrived this afternoon from the scene of the break. His cross-levee is broken and several ranches are under water. An enormous flow has set in toward the town of Washington and the losses may reach a quarter of a million.

A CYCLONE IN MISSOURI.

MEXICO, Mo., May 30.—A cyclone devastated the northern part of Audrain county last night. Barn and houses were blown down, crops torn down, orchards ruined and trees uprooted. A cloudburst followed the cyclone, flooding the devastated district. The house of Henry Berry was blown to the ground, but none of the family were seriously hurt. Wm. Brenton's house was demolished. Of eleven occupants Alvin Brenton and Mrs. W. C. Brenton were the only ones badly hurt and their injuries are not dangerous.

SUPPOSED TO BE DROWNED.

BANCHERIA, Cal., May 30.—Two girls of the family of J. M. Pulliam, having been missing since yesterday morning, were tracked to the bank of the river, and are supposed to be drowned.

Charles E. Jewett, assistant cashier of the Kern Valley bank, and two boys of the family of William Greene, who were drowned today in Kern river. The boys fell in, and Jewett attempted to rescue them.

A TORNADO IN ARKANSAS.

NEWPORT, Ark., May 29.—A tornado struck the little town of Auvergne last night. The masonry building and the new Methodist Church were thrown down and other buildings damaged, but no loss of life so far as heard from.

TERRIBLE RAIN.

WELLINGTON, Kan., May 29.—The most terrible rainstorm that has ever visited this section fell this morning, adding to the misery and distress of the already miserable inhabitants, nothing else was left of the unlucky stocks of goods.

A SOUTH CAROLINA TORNADO.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 30.—A tornado in Orangeburg county yesterday, did great damage, particularly to the city of Orangeburg, where churches and many residences were badly wrecked. No fatalities.

TWO MORE.

WICHITA, Kan., May 30.—Two tornadoes passed to the north of Caldwell last night. One man is known to have been killed. Much damage has been done to property. Details not received.

A HEAVY RAILSTORM.

STERLING, Kans., May 30.—A heavy hailstorm, some hailstones measuring several inches in circumference, last night caused great destruction to crops.

The Czar and the Emperors.

NEW YORK, May 29.—A Paris cable to the Herald says: The Czar's visit to Emperor William, which has been so often announced and so often postponed, will take place next Thursday. The Czar will go to Kiel on the yacht "Polar Star," and spend a few hours in the company of Emperor William. It is evident that the meeting will be without political import.

Floyd, the Train Robber, Caught.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 28.—Although the officials thought they had landed Bob Floyd, one of the four train robbers who killed Messenger Saunders, May 21st, at Jennings Station, last night, a special from Gainesville, Fla., says Floyd is now in jail there, having been captured twenty-five miles west on Saturday night. He made a confession, giving all the facts in the case.

Conger Now has Something to say on the Political Situation.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Chauncey Depew, who is in the city today, en route to the Minneapolis convention, had several things to say on the political situation. "Mr. Harrison's friends," said he, "are attacking no one." They don't have to do it, for Mr. New thinks it is beyond the shadow of a doubt that Harrison will be renominated on the first ballot. "I know," said he, "that without President Harrison reciprocity would never have been of any practical value. More than that, the moment in his own handwriting will show exactly what is and all the legislation regarding Reciprocity with Cuba and Chile." Mr. New does not look upon Mr. Blaine as a candidate, and says those who pretend the secretary's letter was not final insult Blaine's honesty.

A Missionary Said to be Murdered by Indians.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 28.—The steamer "Danube," from Alaska, brings the particulars of the murder of Missionary Rev. Sheldon Jackson by Indians. The Indians had been smuggling and Jackson, with the Indian constables, watched for and captured them as they were landing a supply of firewater. The Indians were bound hand and foot and Jackson and the constables retired. The Indians, however, managed to sever the ropes and shot Jackson while asleep. A terrible encounter took place between the constables and Indians. One constable was finally beaten to death, but the other escaped. The murderers took to the shoal and disappeared.

THE STORY DENIED.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., May 28.—The dispatch from Victoria, B. C., announcing the murder of Rev. Sheldon Jackson, commissioner of education for Alaska, at Juneau, is without any apparent foundation. Dr. Jackson left here May 19th on the "Bear." He was to go first to Ouralaska and thence to Northern Mission. Even if the "Bear" did put in to Juneau, she could hardly have reached there before the steamer "Danube," which brought intelligence of the alleged crime, left that port. The probability is that the killing of Missionary Edwards about two months ago gave rise to the rumor. The department of justice has sent a special agent to investigate the killing of Edwards.

Ingersoll's Presidential Candidate.

CHICAGO, May 29.—Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, who is in this city on business, stated in an interview tonight that he is in favor of nominating Gresham for President. He supposed Blaine can be nominated if he wants to, but doesn't think he wants the nomination himself. Ingersoll thinks, however, he would take it if necessary to prevent the nomination of Harrison. When asked why the desire to prevent Harrison's nomination, Ingersoll said he takes it for granted that Harrison and Blaine are not very good friends. Blaine is master of the situation. He can have Harrison nominated if he wants to, in such defeat that if he wants to, and Ingersoll thinks he wants to. Colonel Ingersoll said he considered Blaine the strongest as a candidate for nomination than as the nominee of the party. Blaine has a good many enemies, said he. Ingersoll thinks the strongest man, the one who would secure the largest following, is Judge Gresham. He thinks Gresham could get more votes than any other man the Republican party could put up that he would to a certain extent draw the vote of the laboring classes. Ingersoll added: President Harrison's administration has been a good one, and he is not objecting to him on any personal grounds, but because he doesn't believe in a second term for anybody, and doesn't think Harrison can be elected. There is a good deal of opposition to him in Colorado, Montana, Washington and Nevada, and we can't afford to lose any State next November, said he.

A Suit Which Involves $15,000,000.

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—A railroad suit has been brought in the United States circuit court which involves about $15,000,000. The case is that of S. W. Carey vs. the Houston & Texas Central railroad. The suit is brought to set aside the sale of the railroad, now in control of the Southern Pacific, on ground of property sacrificed; that parties promoting sale entered into collusion to turn property over to Southern Pacific; that foreclosure which ordered the sale of the property had no jurisdiction, as the debts on property were not due at time of sale.
