DESERET EVENING NEWS.

Tuesday, February 13, 1891.

Copy for the amusements which are expected to appear in the Evening News must be in our office before 12 o'clock noon, and copy for the special announcements must be in by 2 p. m.

Notice of discontinuance must be given in writing.

Title for advertisements must be in every time.

FRAGMENTS.

CONVENTIONAL PRAYER was engaged in hearing the expression in a civil case this afternoon.

THE members of the Central Sunday School will meet in the Tabernacle, at 10 o'clock, in their new seats.

MESSLAPEVE has that lovely campfolet, "The Mormon Nation," for sale at 10 cents a copy.

THE seventh quorum of Elders will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Twenty-second Ward meeting house. A full attendance is required.

DR. JAMES R. ROBERTS has recently been promoted by an even throw. A loss of friends will be pleased to learn that he is nearly recovered, being up and about again.

THE interesting attraction in the Police court today before Justice Lewis were James Kelly, A. Sangiry, A. Rogers and James O'Brien. They were all adjudged guilty and assessed $5 each for their folly.

SOME of the Germans and Swiss of this city gave an entertainment last evening in the Seventh Ward meeting house. The house was full and all were delighted with an appreciative audience enjoying of various entertainments.

MR. BOWEN, of the R. G. W., returned this morning from a trip to Sanpete and Sevier, whither he had been in company with a number of other railroad men looking over the ground with a view to the extension of the road.

IN the Third District Court today before Judge Zane, the case of the Victoria Copper Mining Company vs. William Hewes et al., was argued on motion for a new trial upon the united affidavits of the defendants, motion overruled and exception taken.

BROTHER BENJAMIN SWINYARD, of Dingwall, who, for some time has been back in Cincinnati engaged in the study of medicine, returned last evening in good health, and will remain home a few months before returning to complete his studies.

AT Ogden yesterday, Frank Monroe, president of the Society Fiddlers, was indicted by the grand jury for illegal voting at the late city election. Defendant was brought into custody by Sheriffs and gave bonds in $1000 for his appearance when called upon.

A NOTICE is in course of signature in the city, as follows: "To the Honorable Mayor and City Council, Gentlemen: We, the undersigned merchants doing business in Salt Lake City at the respective place below indicated, hereby respectfully petition your honorable body to cause to be repealed that part of the city ordinance imposing a merchants' tax upon those doing business in this city." It is understood that the petition will be submitted to the Council at next Tuesday's meeting.

No Longer Twain.

On Wednesday, February 11th, at Manti, Angus M. Lambert and Miss Eliza L. Snow were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The groom is a worthy young man, a son of Brother and Sister Charles Lambert, of this city. The bride is a beautiful and estimable daughter of Brother Gardner E. Snow, of Manti. We wish the happy couple a blissful and prosperous voyage through life, and join their numerous friends in congratulating them upon the recent auspicious event which has made them one.

First District Court.

The following business was transacted before Judge Miner at Ogden yesterday:

The grand jury came into court and reported five indictments against the Territorial laws. They ignored eight cases.

M. B. Buford et al., vs. Thomas Ferguson et al., in ejectment, Kimball vs. Allison, ordered dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

United States vs. M. B. Buford et al. M. B. Buford appeared in open court and pleaded not guilty to the offense charged in the indictment.

Teachers' Institute.

The teachers of Salt Lake County will meet on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, in the University building. The programme prepared for the occasion is as follows:

General subject, "Government."
First topic, "Discipline," L. S. Hanford.
Second, "Whispering," F. F. Christensen.
Third, "Moral Force of Government," Oscar Young.
Questions and discussions by the teachers on the subjects named.
Correspondence and Literature Department, Lee Greene Richards; Art, Prosper Jenkins; Music, Joseph M. Tanner; Physical Culture, W. M. Stewart.
Short essays on department. Each teacher will give a report of the school.
Unfinished business.
Question box. Every teacher indicate a "new subject" Teachers.

All who are interested in the cause of education are invited to attend.

INFORMATION WANTED

Concerning the Whereabouts of a Missing Minneapolis Man.

Below is given the copy of a notice that is tacked up in the Post Office and other prominent public places in this city—describing a missing Minneapolis man, who is supposed to be somewhere in the West.

"The following is a description of Fred. H. Matthews, who mysteriously disappeared from his home in Minneapolis on January 27th, and has not since been heard from. Age thirty-two; height five feet ten inches; weight one hundred and thirty pounds; sandy hair, light blue eyes; bald front with fringe of sandy hair behind; nearly bald; front teeth short and pointed, in the middle. He may have shaved upon his disappearance; he pale, sharp features.

"Dress: Dark coat, light vest, gray, fine dress mixed, black coat, and small, dark felt slip with visor. He is disposed to stand very erect, head inclined forward; is an intelligent talker of vigor, and for some time past has been moderately fond of beer, even attending conventions which his business. He is an expert bookkeeper and accountant by occupation, and may work for such employment.

"Two hundred dollars will be paid for his position that will lead to his discovery and good care in communication with family or relatives.

"Write at once to Captain J. L. Amsby, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

"Send all communications with your footing for Brother's sake. JAMES.

January 27, 1891.

MORE PROPERTY SEIZED!

The New Receiver Makes a New Attack on Real Estate.

CONFISCATION RUNNING RAMPANT.

Whose Property Will Be Next Assailed to Satisfy the Perverted

This morning United States Attorney-General Miller and Called Statte Prosecuting Attorney Varian filed an information in the Third District Court.

The information first cites the Acts of the Territorial Assembly, the Act of Congress of 1882 prohibiting any charitable institution from holding property valued at more than $50,000, and the Act of 1887 dissolving the corporation of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

It is alleged that at the time that the corporation was dissolved it owned real estate consisting of lots in value, viz: The Temple Block, at the value of $500,000 and upwards; lot 1, block 46, plat A, of the plat of Salt Lake City, and part of lot 2, block 46, plat A, of the value of $25,000; part of lot 7, block 66, plat A, valued at $50,000; All of this property is situated in the city of the west half of the Temple Block, was acquired subsequently to the act of 1882.

It is asked that three pieces of property: First, the former residence of George Q. Cannon, on Sixth Temple Street west, consisting of the one block south of the Deseret News office; third, the lot adjoining the last named property on the east, known as the Whitney property, be escheated to the United States.

On the information, a condition was received by the United States Marshal from the President of the United States, and the properties herein described were seized this afternoon by Deputy Marshal Swan, who has directed the proper notice to all parties interested that the matter would come up for hearing on the 13th of April, in the Third District Court.

CHARGED WITH BIGAMY.

An Impudent Englishman Finds Himself in an Awkward Corner.

A young Englishman named Alfred G. Jackson, who for some time past has been in the employ of John Rees, of Main Street, as delivery man, was yesterday afternoon arrested by U. S. Deputy Marshal Cannon, on a charge of bigamy.

It would appear from the statement of the defendant's lawful wife, Sarah A. Jackson, by whom the complaint was sworn to, that the parties were united in the bonds of matrimony at Leeds, Yorkshire, England, some three years ago. All went on happily for the brief period of six or seven weeks, at the end of which time Jackson left her. About two years since he emigrated to America, eventually reached this city, and became a resident of Salt Lake. Mrs. Jackson herself arrived in this city in the month of October last, and shortly after announced to the defendant, who positively refused to have anything to do with her, or contribute in the least degree towards her maintenance.

By and by it leaked out that Jackson was courting a goodmaking young lady of twenty-two summers, named Sarah Pitts, living in this city, and on Wednesday last the defendant had not a marriage license. Curiously enough, on that very same day Mrs. Jackson was formally served with a notice of divorce proceedings which her husband had initiated against her in the Third District Court ten or twelve days previously.

Mrs. Jackson apparently accepted the situation without the slightest display of feeling, deeming it premature to let matters take their course in regard to the defendant's contemplated second marriage.

On Wednesday evening Jackson and Miss Pitts were married by the Rev. N. F. Putnam. Next morning wife No. 1 waited her case to Assistant City Attorney Eichner, with a view to instituting proceedings against the erring husband for bigamy. Mrs. Jackson was advised, however, by Mr. Eichner to go before Commissioner Greenman, and in that gentleman fully state her complaint. She did so, with the result that a warrant was issued and the defendant taken into custody.

Jackson appeared to be not only surprised but expressed the utmost indignation when the deputy marshal placed his hand upon his shoulder and quietly told him for what he was "wanted." Thinking, however, discretion is the better part of valor he said but little on the matter then, and went his way with the officer. Very shortly afterwards Jackson found himself face to face with Commissioner Greenman, who fixed his bonds at $2500.

The preliminary hearing was arranged to take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The defendant, who spent last night in jail, does not deny that he was lawfully married to the complainant, but asserts that he married Miss Pitts under the belief that his wife had already obtained a divorce from him in England. He has consulted an attorney and instructed him to do the best he can in his case, but it is evident that the defendant considers himself in a decided fix just at present.

Jackson was brought before Commissioner Greenman this afternoon, pleaded guilty, and was bound over in the sum of $500 to await the action of the grand jury.

Probate Court.

Estate of B. V. Morris, deceased: petition for partial distribution of property heard, continued until Monday, February 16, at 11 a.m.

Estate of Mary J. Weaver: hearing on proof of publication of notice of sale, proof of posting notices approved, order confirming sale of property, terms and conditions of sale, Hoskins appointed in the case of goods.

Estate of John Tobyn: executor's petition for allowance of final accounts and distribution of estate ready for hearing, continued until February 16th, at 10 o'clock a.m., executors instructed to submit briefs and cross issues noted and argument.

Estate of Mary Ann Hopkins: petition for allowance of final accounts and distribution of estate ready for hearing, continued until February 16th, at 10 o'clock a.m., executors instructed to submit briefs and cross issues noted and argument.

Estate of