FRAGMENTS.

The demonstration announced to take place in this city today, May 2, in behalf of the carpenters' unions of this city, has been postponed for the present.

It is stated that a lampblack factory, in which Pittsburg capital will play the leading part, will shortly be started in near proximity to Salt Lake.

A man named Madsen fell down in a fit on Main street, near Second South, yesterday afternoon. He was taken into Smith's drug store, and after some time recovered.

MR. ANDREW BRIXEN, the outgoing proprietor of the Cliff House, last evening gave a farewell dinner to a select party of old friends. Mr. F. D. Cliff, owner of the premises, will take charge of the hotel forthwith.

THE refunding, by the board of education, of the special school taxes of 1891 has resulted in the issuing of 121 checks, covering 162 tax receipts, amounting to $[illegible]. This gives a total refunding of $[illegible], by 2412 checks, covering [illegible] tax receipts.

On Saturday evening Mr. Shannon, the real estate and insurance agent, was driving west on Second South street. The wheel of his vehicle caught in the shaft of a passing buggy occupied by two ladies, and as a result of the collision Mr. Shannon was pitched out. Fortunately, beyond an unpleasant shaking, he received no hurt.

SATURDAY'S clearances in the Salt Lake clearing house amounted to $[illegible], as against $[illegible] for the same day last year. The week's clearings amounted to $[illegible], as against $[illegible] for the same period last year. The clearances for April were the largest in any month since the organization of the association, namely, $[illegible], against $[illegible] for the corresponding month in last year.

An Italian named Giovanni Batista and Barney Kahoe, the latter a native of Wisconsin, were seriously injured on Saturday, while working in a tunnel at Helper. They were brought to this city for medical treatment on a Rio Grande Western train. The accident was caused through the falling of a large quantity of earth upon them. Batista's legs were crushed and Kahoe was badly hurt in the back.

THE members of the Home Dramatic Club, at the close of the performance at the Theatre on Saturday evening, tendered the venerable and popular actor, C. W. Couldock, an informal reception, at the Templeton Hotel. It was a quiet but nevertheless exceedingly pleasant meeting of old friends, among those present being several Salt Lakers who played here with the veteran actor in the days of long ago.

A couple of suspicious looking characters were seen prowling around the rear of the building occupied by the J. H. Layson company, on Main street, about Saturday midnight. They were challenged by the nightwatchman, but turned "ugly" and began to show a desire to fight. A couple of shots from the nightwatchman's revolver, however, sent them off. They then landed in the arms of a police officer who hauled them in on a charge of trespass.

Funeral of Brother Blythe.

The services over the remains of Brother John L. Blythe were conducted on Sunday, May 1st, in the Thirteenth ward assembly rooms. The speakers on the occasion were Elders George Goddard, A. Milton Musser, President George Q. Cannon, Elders Seymour B. Young, John T. Smith and William S. Brighton.

The remarks were highly and yet deservedly eulogistic of the character of the deceased, who was an honest, upright man. The discourse of President Cannon was particularly interesting. He related a number of incidents connected with Brother Blythe's coming into the Church, in California, while the speaker was on a mission in that State. The occurrences narrated were of a character to exhibit the devotion and integrity of the deceased to the work of God, and the generous impulses of his nature.

After the service the body was conveyed to the cemetery, followed by a large cortege, where the grave was dedicated by President George Q. Cannon.

Amusement Notes.

The audience at the Theatre Saturday night was much smaller than anticipated, but those present enjoyed the presentation of "Egypt Ailyn" by Effie Ellsler and company very much. Some splendid acting was done which received well merited applause.

WILL CARLETON

ought to have a crowded house at the Theatre tonight. The class of entertainments which he gives is not often offered. His stay with us is limited to one evening and those who wish to see and hear the famous poet will have the opportunity tonight.

THE BOSTONIANS.

This famous company will appear at the Theatre for two nights, commencing tomorrow, May 3rd, presenting "Robin Hood" both evenings.

"Robin Hood" is a pretty comic opera, and the Bostonians are well known to be a talented company. The following names are on the list: Tom Karl, Edwin W. Hoff, W. H. MacDonald, H. C. Barnabee, Eugene Cowles, Peter Lang, Jessie Bartlett Davis, Camille D'Arville, Caroline Hamilton, Flora Finlayson, Josephine Bartlett and Maud Ulmer.

THE FISK JUBILEE SINGERS

are announced to appear at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. This band of vocalists became known all over America and England many years ago, when they started out to raise funds for the Fisk university, in which undertaking they were eminently successful. The writer had an opportunity of listening to their sweet singing in London at that time. This is their twenty-first season and it is asserted that they sing as well as ever.

"ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME"

is announced at the Theatre on Friday and Saturday. The company employed in the representation of this play is said to be an excellent one, and the comedy full of good humor.

WONDERLAND.

The seals in the curio hall and the enjoyable variety entertainment in the theatorium continue to draw large audiences. The "Eclipse Quartette" consists of good singers.

The "Flying Dutchman" Makes a Remarkable Run

FROM OGDEN TO GRAND JUNCTION.

With Engineer Shermer at the Throttle, A Rate of Speed of Sixty-two Miles an Hour is Attained.

SUPERINTENDENT WELBY ENTERTAINS ROYALLY THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PRESS.

Gambling and the Social Evil at Grand Junction—A Boom Town—Observations Along the Line of Travel.

A most important and desirable change in local railway and mail service was inaugurated on the Rio Grande Western yesterday. Heretofore twelve hours and thirty minutes were occupied by the fastest passenger trains in making the run between the termini of the road—Ogden, Utah and Grand Junction, Colorado. But by the adoption of the new schedule the time has been reduced to ten hours and five minutes. The distance between the points named is 328 miles and four-tenths. The road bed, notwithstanding it passes through many mountain gorges, and rocky and romantic in their grandeur, is one of the smoothest, safest and best kept in the West.

The change marks a new era in the progress of western railway travel and the management of the "Scenic Route" are to be complimented in their splendid achievement and unexcelled accommodations.

The initial trip was made by the "Chicago Limited" or the "Flying Dutchman of the Rockies," and was highly pleasant and successful from start to finish. The regular train consists of one mail, one baggage, two passenger coaches and two Pullman sleepers. Yesterday Superintendent Welby's was added to the train, making it larger and heavier than usual. The latter was occupied by Mr. Welby, A. H. Cowie, his private secretary, S. O. Snyder, Assistant Superintendent W. P. McKinley, purchasing agent of the road and the following newspaper men: R. J. Jessup of the Tribune, J. E. Hansen of the DESERET NEWS, Eugene Young of the Herald, W. C. Edwards special correspondent of the New York World, Denver Republican and other eastern papers, W. H. Tallis of the Western Railway of Denver and James Clove of the Provo Enquirer. The above named gentlemen were all invited guests of Superintendent Welby, and were handsomely entertained by that ever courteous and enterprising official.

There were three shifts of railway hands on the division, and each acted under the immediate supervision of Charles Shermer, traveling engineer of the Rio Grande Western. Mr. Shermer has and official trains through Utah and Colorado, among them the Presidential train and party one year ago. He is considered the coolest and bravest engineer, besides being the best "time maker" in the employ of the company. He is said to have safely and successfully carried his train through many dangers that with one less skillful and experienced at the throttle would have meant destruction and certain death to hundreds of passengers.

The schedule time for leaving Ogden was 7 a. m., but owing to the Southern Pacific passenger train being behind time the "Flying Dutchman" did not steam out of the depot until 22 minutes later. Salt Lake was reached at 8:10, notwithstanding stops. Between the two last mentioned points the astonishingly high rate of speed of

was made over two separate stretches of country. The new train left the company's depot in this city at 8:17, just 17 minutes late. On reaching Draper one minute of lost time had been recovered. On arriving at Provo Mr. Welby consulted his watch and found that 4 minutes more had been gained. At the "Garden City" the enterprising residents gave the "Dutchman" and its guests a hearty welcome and showered beautiful bouquets of roses upon the superintendent and party. An elegantly embossed menu card containing a bill of fare that would satisfy the most fastidious was distributed among the passengers, at this point. The usual stay here of "twenty minutes for breakfast" was cut down to ten minutes and the in Utah County—Springville—was reached on time, thus making up the twenty-three and a half lost minutes in a run of eighty-seven miles.

On entering Spanish Fork canyon the grade drew gradually heavier and the throbbings of the engine became more plainly apparent, while there was a decided falling off in the rate of speed, yet good time was being made.

In this canyon the most attractive object of interest, perhaps, were the famous Castilla Hot Springs, the waters of which are fast becoming famous for their medicinal properties. As a summer recreation resort the springs are becoming very popular and offer inducements to the tourist and health seeker that cannot be easily excelled. On the property, which is owned by the Southworth Brothers of Provo, a large and of brick and stone has been recently erected and is being equipped with many of the latest modern conveniences. The style of architecture is pleasing and the material of which it is built, the very best and reflects great credit on its owners. The springs are on an elevation of 4,990 feet.

At Thistle station another engine was added to the train. Red Narrows, Mill Fork, Clear Creek, Soldier Summit, Pleasant Valley Junction, Kyune and Nolan stations are all situated along the line in a region of excellent stone quarries, and were passed in the order named.

SOLDIER SUMMIT

is situated at an altitude of 7,465 feet and is the highest point on the road.

Journeying eastward the observing traveler witnesses the more or less picturesque beauties of Castle Gate and Price canyon. Castle Gate is one hundred and forty-seven miles from Ogden and is located in the extreme end of Price River canyon, through which the road, serpent-like, winds its way into the very heart of the range. It bears many striking resemblances to the historical far-famed gateway to the Garden of the Gods. Two gigantic and of sandstone, one on either side of the narrow defile, the bottom of which is now filled with a rushing, roaring and milky stream of water, swollen by the melting snow, stand like untiring sentinels in their lonely grandeur. They are strongly streaked with stains of iron of excellent quality, and may some day be blown to atoms by the miner speculator in this metal. Between the promontories along the bank of the river unceremoniously close to the turbulent stream runs the railway track. Near this place the Rio Grande Western coal mines and coke ovens in full and active operation, were viewed by the passengers from the platforms and windows of the cars with intense interest.

is the next town along the route and will be readily recognized as the place which the Rio Grande Western people have been booming with so much vigor for the past year or more. This is the eastern limit of the second division, and here are located the company's main round house and repair shops.

Price, with a population of about 700 people, is the nearest railway station to and was the next point reached. Then in the order named the stations of Huntington, Farnam, Lower Crossing, Green River, Solitude, Little Grand, Crescent, Thompson, Sagers and White House were passed.

These places are all situated in the Castle, Grand, and Uncompahgre valleys which comprise rich agricultural, grazing, mineral and coal lands.

Cisco, Agate, Cottonwood, Westwater, Utaline, Crevasse, Fruita and Rhone all intervene between the last named points and Grand Junction, and are in a stretch of country remarkably well adapted for GRAIN AND FRUIT GROWING.

For many miles the railway skirts along the banks of the Grand rivers under the shadow of massive sandstone cliffs.

The last seven miles this side of Grand Junction were traversed in six minutes, the fastest time on record over this route. The end of the division was reached two minutes ahead of schedule time, and another triumph perched on the banner of Mr. Shermer, who emerged from the engine, covered with dust and smoke, for the first time during the run, having remained at his post constantly. He was and congratulated on his efficiency. Several railroad men had told him before leaving Salt Lake that he could not get through on schedule time but he proved their statement to be incorrect and was naturally jubilant. Here, too, the "Dutchman" and its jovial crew were given a reception which amounted to an ovation.

Grand Junction is the county seat of Mesa county, Colorado, is situated thirty-four miles beyond the Utah line and has a population of 3,000 people supported mainly by agricultural and railroad pursuits. It has but one newspaper, the Star, a daily publication edited by a Mr. Bunting.

At this place Mr. Bunting informed the writer late last night that the town had for sometime passed been run by

GAMBLERS AND PROSTITUTES.

A recent united effort of the citizens and officers of municipal administration resulted in throwing certain restrictions around the business of this class of people but not sufficient to securely guard the morals of the community. Open and easy access to gambling houses was had last night notwithstanding the day was Sunday. Before darkness had settled upon the city, in fact before the sun had gone down a crowd of boisterous men and large boys were seen shooting craps unmolested on the sidewalk of one of the principal streets, while a slack of was closely guarded by the stakeholder.

The town situated as it is at the terminus of three railroads naturally attract large numbers of the rougher element. The altitude of the place is the lowest of any town in the centennial State. But little snow falls there in winter and scarcely any rain in summer. It has electric lights, a street railway and a good system of waterworks. A St. Louis syndicate is said to have invested a million dollars in placer mining a few miles from the town, and a boom is longingly looked for this spring.

Superintendent Welby's car was switched from the main to a side track immediately after arriving at Grand Junction, and had the itinerary of the party been carried out the return trip would have commenced at 12:30 this morning, but a and twenty minutes was caused by the Denver and Rio Grande passenger train, which makes connection with the Rio Grande Western at this point, being that much late. This reduction of time in passenger train and mail service went into effect simultaneously on the Southern Pacific, Rio Grande Western, Denver and Rio Grande, Colorado Midland, Burlington and all continuous and intervening roads as far east as Chicago, and the time of travel between that point and San Francisco thus decreased twelve and a half hours.

AN INGENIOUS CONTRIVANCE

for catching and delivering the mail pouches is erected at fourteen stations along the Rio Grande Western and is so cleverly operated by Sergeant O'Keefe, the postal clerk, that scarcely no perceptible decrease in the rate of speed is noticed in making the exchange. The return run was successfully made and this city reached at 12:40 this afternoon.

JUDGE LANEY will start on his trip to Europe in a few days. He expects to be absent for three or four months.

BUY ASPEN MINING STOCKS.

Every one has heard of the famous Mollie Gibson mine at Aspen, Colo., which has produced nearly $2,000,000 in silver during the past year, and is good for many millions more. Eighteen months ago its stock sold at thirty cents a share, now it cannot be bought for less than ten dollars a share. The company pays dividends of $100,000 to $200,000 a month.

The Pontiac Mining Company, the St. Joe and Mineral Farm Consolidated Mining Company, and Champion Empire Mining Company, each owns over twenty acres, covering the same vein on its northern extension, on which the Mollie Gibson, Smuggler, Della S. Bushwhacker and Park Regent great mines, are located on Smuggler mountain.

I am president and manager of these three companies and own the majority of the stocks, of which I am selling a limited amount at 20 cents a share.

The Cowenhoven Tunnel Company has contracted to extend its double track tunnel into the Pontiac, Mineral Farm and Champion Empire ground as fast as possible, and will tap it at a depth of 1000 feet below the present workings during this year, when we can begin shipping ore and paying dividends. I am almost positive these three stocks will sell for fifty cents to $1.00 a share, and possibly more within a year.

I will also sell a few thousand shares of Little Annie stock at thirty cents a share. The Little Annie Company owns six patented claims on Richmond Hill, on the same vein as the other mines of Aspen are located, and is already a great mine, which will pay dividends in the near future. These offers will be open but a few days. A map of Smuggler mountain sent free on application. For further particulars or the purchase of stock, apply to A. B. Greene, No. 12 Commercial Street, Salt Lake City, Utah, or to me at Aspen, Colo.

La Grippe Successfully Treated.

"I have just recovered from a second attack of the grip this year," says Mr. Jas. O. Jones, publisher of the Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, as I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" 50 cent bottles for sale by Z.
