DESERET EVENING NEWS.

5 O'clock EDITION.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 218 — FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1895, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. — VOL. XXVIII.

RATES TO SALT LAKE

Southern Pacific Not Discriminating Against This City.

[illegible] OF THE FREIGHT AGENTS.

Lively Competition Between the East and the West for the Utah Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Southern Pacific officials deny the story telegraphed from Salt Lake City to the effect that the company is engaged in discriminating against that point. This is the way that Assistant General Freight Agent Sproule explains it:

"We are simply engaged in an effort to hold San Francisco interests at a level with the interests of Eastern shippers in the Utah market," he said. "Last month the lines from the East, of their own motion, reduced the rates from the east to Utah. Had the Southern Pacific stood still and done nothing when these rates were reduced, San Francisco would have been out in the cold and the business of this community would have become severely affected. Consequently we put in a tariff from California to Utah common points to meet the situation. It was based on the theory that San Francisco is entitled to have the same rates per mile to Utah on commodities of manufacture in California as are made from points of Eastern manufacture into Utah. We wanted to enforce the fact that San Francisco's proximity to Utah gives it precedence there. It was also based on the theory that San Francisco is entitled to a share in the competition as between the port of San Francisco on the one hand and the ports of New York and New Orleans on the other on articles of import from abroad.

"Well, we put the tariff into effect on June 17, and immediately received notice from the lines east of Ogden that they would not join in the rates and that we must withdraw them. They said practically, 'You cannot do business over our rails on such rates,' and we were thus left without a means of reaching Salt Lake City and the other points in Utah beyond Ogden.

"As a consequence of this action on the part of the Eastern roads, we had to cancel those rates and in their stead we put in force to Ogden, the terminus of our line, rates based on the same theory. These rates were made sufficiently low to enable the shipper to pay the local rate from Ogden to Salt Lake City and still compete with the Eastern shippers.

"Instead of discriminating against Salt Lake City, we are willing to put in the same rates to Salt Lake City and other Utah common points that are now applying only to Ogden, and in dealing with our connections, we are willing to pro rata giving the lines from Ogden two miles for one, whereas the usual mode of settlement is to apportion each line's earnings according to the percentage its haul bears to the entire distance over which the freight is carried. The Union Pacific and the Rio Grande Western have refused to join in these rates simply because they would rather see the business come from the East. It would give them a longer haul. We have been forced into the position we have assumed. We could not stand before this community and refuse to make rates to Ogden simply because we could not make rates to Salt Lake City."

For Fear of a Revolution.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A Salvador dispatch to the World says:

A strong party has been organized against the proposed federation. A riot is threatened at La Libertad, against the new governor general, [illegible], who replaced General Rivas, who is very popular there. The annual August feasts have been suspended this year for fear of giving an opportunity through the massing of people for an attempt of revolution.

Return of the Prodigal.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Very affecting was the meeting in Chicago yesterday between Mrs. Annie M. Gardner, of Arcadia, Neb., and her husband. The woman has become known during the past month on account of her mysterious disappearance from the Christian Endeavor convention in Boston. She was found by J. W. Landers, a friend of the family, while she was serving as a domestic at Norwich, Conn.

Mr. Landers telegraphed to Mr. Gardner and the latter reached Chicago a short time before Mrs. Gardner and Landers came from the East. After an affecting meeting, the husband and wife went to the Palmer house.

Mrs. Gardner shows the effect of the illness which resulted in her disappearance. She is wan and pale, but is convalescing. She talks but little and sees no visitors. The welfare of her children worries her greatly and her first question to her husband was in regard to them.

Spring Valley Outrages.

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 9.—The colored citizens of Joliet held a mass meeting last night to discuss the Spring Valley outrages. The Rev. Emory, of Romeo, was the principal speaker. While the Constitution of the United States guarantees equal liberties and privileges to all, the black man, he said, thus far had never been able to receive the same privileges or the same protection accorded.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the colored men of Joliet and vicinity do solemnly denounce the outrage perpetrated upon the fellow members of their race at Spring Valley, and believe in so doing they voice the sentiments of all the American citizens.

The War in Ecuador.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A special to a local paper from Panama says:

Guayaquil's advices from the army confirm the reports of the battle which was fought August 6 at San Miguel, near Chimbo, state of Guaranda.

General Sarasti's vanguard of over [illegible] troops, attacked the advance guard of the patriot army, commanded by General Vera [illegible]. After thirteen hours of continuous hard fighting, General Sarasti's troops were routed and fled toward Rio Bamba, demoralized, and leaving 150 men on both sides killed and wounded. The patriot army lost Colonel Castillo, who was killed. Major Roca and Montevercle were wounded. General Sarasti's vanguard was led by General Parr.

General Eloy Alfaro has arrived at Guamote and is now facing General Sarasti's army. It is expected that the decisive battle will occur on August 10.

Ecuador is having a national festival over General Vicanaza's victory. Guayaquil, where the great enthusiasm is increasing, has organized a reserve of 2,000 men.

Good Fishing.

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Aug. 9.—The fishery news from Labrador, where the chief codfishing of the colony is prosecuted, is most encouraging and prospects are excellent for the largest fishery in many years.

Texas Steers on a Rampage.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9.—In Kansas City, Kansas, late last evening, eighty-five Texas steers being driven from the stock yards to Armour's packing house, stampeded and rushed pell mell down James street. For a short time they created great consternation, driving everything before them and causing storekeepers to close their shops. Twenty-five cowboys were soon chasing the animals, which had spread out into the adjoining side streets and were continuing their mad flight. Fortunately nobody was hurt. Many of the steers ran into the Kaw river and were drowned. The others were rounded up in short fashion, without having caused much damage.

Indian Allotments.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The U. S. government is making preparations to allot the Indian reservation.

There are 84,000 acres of land in the strip and it is estimated that 10,000 acres will cover all that may be called good land. The rest is rocky, sand, stretches of brush and desert that grows worse and worse until it pitches off into the Salton sea, a stretch that fires with heat at midnight. It is below the surface of the ocean and more desolate than the Sahara.

Surveyor General Green is looking every day for the return of the surveyors from the reservation. When their report is made up he will forward it to Washington and then the government will proceed to make the allotments, based upon the number of Indians on the reservation.

Kentucky Ladies Elect Candidates.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 9.—Last evening the ladies of Lexington met in mass meeting and elected four candidates one from each ward of the city, for the board of education, to be elected at the November election. This is the first time women have been given a right to vote in Kentucky, but their suffrage is restricted to voting for members of the board of education. The meeting was harmonious. It was presided over by Miss Laura Clay, daughter of the ex-minister to Russia, Cassius M. Clay.

KEPT HER PROMISE.

A Samoan Girl Travels 5,000 Miles to Get a Husband.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9.—Miss Amalia Nissen, a comely Samoan, who had come all the way from Apia to marry her lover, was last evening wedded to Frank F. Harbeet, a Kansas City, Kan., grocer.

Two years ago the couple first met on the Pacific while en route to Samoa. Harbeet, who is a portly German, professed love and followed his sweetheart to her native country, where she was governess in the family of the German consul at Samoa. Harbeet was soon compelled to return home, but before starting he got her promise to come on later and become his wife. She fulfilled her rather remarkable promise today after traveling over 5,000 miles alone.

The N. P. Receiver Suit.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 9.—The attorneys for the Northern Pacific receivers gathered here, are preparing to stubbornly contest the suit to oust the receivers, brought by counsel Pettit at Seattle.

Strike for Higher Wages.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 9.—The 150 miners employed by the St. Louis Iron & Steel company, at Boffner, have struck for an increase of wages. This is the third mine strike in this district this week.

THE BONDS DELIVERED.

But the Syndicate Will Have to Face a New Danger.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A local paper says:

The 33,000,000 of new United States 4 per cent bonds sold abroad by the Belmont-Morgan bond syndicate have been delivered in London to the individual subscribers, and a goodly portion of them will start back at once for the United States. This is a new danger which the syndicate will have to face.

So long as the subscribers to the bonds abroad only have interest-bearing scrip in their possession, calling for the delivery of bonds on August 8, the syndicate was in control of the situation, as holders of scrip could only sell contracts to deliver the bonds when released by the syndicate managers in London.

The London price of the scrip has been below the New York price for the bonds for over two months, and the holders cannot resist the temptation to negotiate sales for future delivery in New York. Considerable "arbitrage" business has also been done in the bonds.

There have been small sales thus made, aggregating in all about $5,000,000 bonds. It is understood in addition that negotiations have been consummated for the sale of one block of $5,000,000 of bonds. A large portion of these bonds will be shipped within a week.

The return of $10,000,000 of the bonds to this country, or one-third of the entire amount placed abroad, within a week following the actual delivery of the bonds in London is startling. Every bond which is sold here by the foreign holders must be paid for either in gold or a bill of exchange and the difficulty of controlling the foreign exchange market so as to prevent extensive exports of gold is correspondingly intensified.

It is believed that a considerable portion, if not the better part of the bonds placed abroad, will return to this country within a short period. The reasons are very simple. There is a demand for the bonds here for uses beyond a mere investment.

The banks contested eagerly for the new bonds when they were put out, as they provide a much more profitable basis for circulation than the five per cent bonds which were issued by the government in the previous loans. The banks throughout the country have importuned their New York correspondents to obtain lots of $50,000, $100,000 and $150,000 of the bonds. The New York market being bare of the bonds, they can only be obtained in London.

Bond Syndicate Transactions.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Notice has been given the members of the government bond syndicate that distribution will be made today of 24.4949 per cent of the capital contributed for the operations of the syndicate. This payment is 20 per cent of the principal and 4.4949 per cent on account of the premium paid for the bonds and leaves 80 per cent all due. It is understood this will be claimed by the managers of the syndicate until the Sterling exchange market reaches a point which shall preclude the possibility of further gold shipments this year. The London operations of the syndicate were terminated yesterday by the actual delivery of bonds to the holders of the syndicate's certificates.

HOME FIGHTS RUM.

Catholic Temperance Men Discuss the Liquor Question.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—In the Catholic Total Abstinence Union convention today, Rev. H. F. O'Brien, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the majority report. It was a bitter attack on liquor sellers, and asked those engaged in the business to give it up. It also advocated strict Sunday social laws. The resolution attacked the press, Archbishop Corrigan and Mgr. Satolli.

Father Zurcher, of Buffalo, presented a minority report. The main portion of his report was the same as the majority report, but he attacked St. Vincent stout and the Catholics generally for making beer. "That's the darky behind the fence in my report," said Zurcher.

Rev. Father Ward moved that the majority report be received and that Father Zurcher's reference to St. Vincent's stout be incorporated therein. Father Zurcher said the people of America would respect the Catholics more if they took a bold stand on this question.

Delegate McGhee, of Minnesota, a colored man, was vociferously cheered. "The darky," said he, "had been smoked out of the wood pile and crossed the fence. It seems to him that this disgrace has been tolerated too long! In his state they were told, 'you can drink St. Vincent beer, it is holy and would do you any harm.'" He urged the passage of the minority report.

Father Doyle, in reading the resolution, asked the delegates if they were willing to say that religious men and clergy were managing and encouraging the liquor business. There was a prompt "no."

Nearly Killed by a Rooster.

WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 9.—A 10-year-old Waterbury girl named Emma met with a peculiar accident last evening in which she nearly lost her life. The child was bleeding to death when the physician arrived and stopped the flow of blood.

COWARDLY REVENGE

Murder Committed by a Prominent Lawyer and His Friends.

RESULT OF A SCANDALOUS STORY.

The Killing Strongly Condemned—The Parties Surrender to the Authorities.

BRANDON, Miss., Aug. 9.—At 8 a.m. today Dabney Marshall, a prominent lawyer and member of the state legislature from Vicksburg, and two of his friends, shot and killed R. T. Dinkens, agent of the Austin Road Machine company. While standing on the platform of the depot, Dinkens was approached by Marshall and two companions, H. H. Coleman and O. P. Fox, of Vicksburg. Marshall said, "This is Mr. Dinkens," and placing a pistol at Dinkens's stomach, discharged the weapon. Dinkens grabbed the pistol just as it was fired, and possibly the first shot did not take effect. As Dinkens backed away from Marshall, there was a fusillade from Marshall's companions. It is thought Dinkens fired Marshall's pistol at the latter, as it was found in his hand when dead. Marshall, Coleman, Fox and Marshall's law partner, Valens, surrendered.

Two weeks ago, Dinkens and Marshall occupied the same room but different beds, at a house in Raymond. Next morning Dinkens said Marshall was guilty of an unnatural crime. When the story came to the ears of Marshall, he announced it as a [illegible] through the press. Dinkens, however, maintained the story was true.

Marshall was the Democratic nominee for senator for Warren and Issaquena counties. The killing is strongly condemned.

Thurman today in an interview says: "Three hundred of the five hundred elected delegates are silver men and propose to nominate James Kilbourn of Columbus for governor and fight to the last ditch in the convention [illegible]."

Valuable Lumber Destroyed.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Early this morning fire started in the lumber piles of Skillings, Whitney & Barnes Lumber Company. The local fire department was inadequate to cope with the flames and at 5 o'clock the department from Prescott, Ont., arrived in response to appeals for assistance. About 12,000,000 feet of pine lumber, valued at $200,000, was destroyed. If the favorable winds continue the firemen will save the elevator, which, with contents, is valued at a million dollars.

The wharves, freight and manufacturing buildings and coal pits, near central Vermont depot, are also believed to be safe. This is the largest fire that ever visited Ogdensburg.

Yacht Races.

COWES, Aug. 9.—The chief event of the yacht racing today under the auspices of the royal yacht squadron was the competition for the Meteor challenge cup around the Isle of Wight. A fresh southeast breeze was blowing when the Ailsa, Britannia and Iverna started at 9:30 a.m. The Ailsa got the lead at the start and increased as the race progressed. Iverna had no possible chance of winning and only started because three competitors were necessary. She was not expected to finish. Ailsa today allowed the Britannia 29 seconds.

The Luna, Isolde, Niagara and Stephanie started in the race for the private sweepstakes. The two American yachts Isolde and Niagara soon passed the Luna.

The Luna eventually pulled away from the competitors and won a good race with Isolde second. Luna 1 30:31; Isolde 1 46:00; Niagara 1 49.54.

The Britannia won in the Meteor cup. Times—Britannia 3 35.34; Ailsa 3 38.01. Consequently the Britannia won by 3 minutes 27 seconds.

HUNGRY CATS IN COURT.

The Howling Felines Were Strong Elements in a Neighborhood Row—Other Police Matters.

This morning was the time for sentence of O. S. Booker. The fine of $10 was imposed, but on motion of the prosecution sentence was suspended.

Albert Dern pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy and his case will come up tomorrow.

The cases against Mrs. Ford for disturbing the peace and Mr. Lynch for assault and battery were resumed this morning. Lena Lynch, the twelve-year-old daughter of the defendant, testified that Mrs. Lynch did not feed her cats and Mrs. Ford, whom she came over to their house, had attempted to strike her mother and has bitten his hand when he held her. Mrs. Ford had two witnesses, her daughter and a neighbor, Mrs. Rawlins, who had seen the affair from a window. They testified that Mr. Lynch had struck Mrs. Ford.

During the testimony of Mrs. Rawlins, Mrs. Lynch arose and told the court that she had said several times that if those cats were not fed she would inform the health department. Both defendants were found guilty and fined $2 or two days.

Mrs. Ford had no money with her, and said she would get it if they would let her go. This request was refused by the officers and she was taken toward the jail bringing tightly to her eight-year daughter, Mary, and both were sobbing bitterly. Two officers held her and walked in the rear of the little train of prisoners who were passing into the jail door. As they approached the opening to the dark old place through which prostitutes, drunkards and vagrants had just passed, Jack Reese, a drunken sot, turned and stood in the door looking at her with his bloodshot eyes. She shrieked and beseeched the officers not to take her in. They turned and led her back unable to force her, with her little child, to go into that gruesome place.

Maud Miller forfeited $7 for keeping a house of ill-fame, and Bay Miller, Minnie Miller, Lillie Miller and Ethel Lowe forfeited $6.50 for prostitution.

Mrs. Cowan was fined $12 for soliciting prostitution.

James Donnelly was fined $5 for drunkenness.

Mr. Midgley recommends that $[illegible] less than that amount be allowed. The majority recommendation is only about one-third of the amount claimed by Farrell & Co., the remainder being for plumbing and heating apparatus and electric light wiring not [illegible] in the report. A Bicycle Fiend.

Today about noon a young man riding a bicycle came down the grade on State between South Temple and First South streets at a great rate of speed. Just as he reached the Theater corner a little girl began to pass over the street. She had a parasol in her hand and held it over and slightly in front of her. She had no time to get out of the way and the rider passed so close to her as to strike and break the parasol. The fellow looked over his shoulder but rode on without stopping to make good the injury he had done.

Don't Telephone.

The city registration office, in the Galena block on State street, was today provided with a telephone. Registrar Wilson wants it distinctly understood that the phone is not placed there for the use of people wishing to register or to make inquiries as to whether or not their names are on the registration list. All such must confer with the [illegible] police or make a personal call at the office.

A TERRIBLE DEATH.

A Hapless Chinaman Slowly Dying of Cancer and Starvation,

SHUNNED BY HIS COUNTRYMEN,

And Uncared for in a Community Which is Proud of Its Civilization and Charitable, Progressive Spirit.

A NEWS representative this afternoon accompanied one of the city's leading medical men to perhaps the foulest spot in the slums of Salt Lake. It is situated on an alley that lies between State and Commercial streets, and exhibits the strongest possible evidence of the necessity of an occasional visit from the sanitary inspector and garbage collector.

The object of the visit was to inquire into the condition of the hapless Chinaman, whose suffering was called to the attention of the public several weeks ago. During the last day of 1894 it was rumored that he was afflicted with the terrible disease of leprosy, and since then he has been examined by a large number of the most prominent physicians of the city. Among them is Dr. Wright, whose duty it is to look after county cases. All are unanimously agreed that the Mongolian's ailment is not troubles with leprosy but that he has a cancerous growth which so far as he is concerned is just as bad as leprosy can be.

The News man expected, from reports, to find a very bad state of affairs, but was not prepared for the shocking disclosure which followed. The most careful inquiry brought out the information that the victim is forty years of age, that he came to America when but fifteen; that for the past six years he has lived in Utah, the most of that time in Bingham; that four months ago he was stricken with his present affliction. Since it came upon him he has been a creature of horror in the eyes of his countrymen. For a time, under the direction of the city physician he was meagerly provided for. But he has neither relatives, friends or money, and as the tools of the cancer crept through his body he gradually became so weak that he could not go for the little food that under other circumstances he could have secured possession of.

At present he is a most pitiable object, being reduced in flesh until he is little more than a skeleton. He has been ejected from the apartments occupied by the rest of the Chinamen, in fact driven from their quarters altogether. His only place of repose is a vacant spot on the sandy side of a brick building amidst decaying vegetation, foul smelling bones of dead chickens and fish.

It is said that he is only a Chinaman and that death is but a short time off at most and that it makes but little difference. The first two parts of the proposition are true, but the latter is not. The fact that he is a Chinaman does not deprive him of the right to receive assistance through the proper official channels. He is whatever else, is a human being and as such should be cared for either by the city or county for the remainder of his days just as readily as though he were the proudest Caucasian in the land. When the doctor and a few policemen left he had been provided with money enough to allay the pangs of hunger which he said were gnawing at his vitals in an awful manner. He speaks very good English and said that he had had nothing to eat for several days with the exception of five cents worth of cake and four small crackers which he freely admitted that he stole yesterday afternoon when he pulled himself into a Chinese apartment during the temporary absence of its regular inmates.

This is one of the cases over which city and county officials wrangle as to the expense to be incurred. But there should be no such shameful exhibition repeated. Action should either be taken by one of the other or jointly, and if there is to be any disgraceful quarreling done then let it come after the poor Chinaman has received attention.

HARD LIQUOR.

IT WAS TOO MUCH FOR EVEN A KENTUCKIAN'S HEAD.

The warden of the Frankfort (Ky.) penitentiary was much mystified a few days ago to discover one of his prisoners, a big mountaineer, in his cell dead drunk. The convict was known to be penniless and without friends. He did not get sober enough to talk for several days, and he confessed he knew how to make whisky, and when he got the assistance of a negro convict in the cook room all was plain sailing. The negro took molasses, stole corn bread and rain water. This mixture was secreted in a barrel and allowed to stand as mash for eight days. It was then put in a teapot and boiled and was run from the improvised still into a big iron pot. Three drippings were taken to the mountaineer, who says they fixed exactly. For fear some one would discover the liquor in his cell, he says he drank it all, something like three quarts.

The Violinist Rivarde.

R. E. Johnston and Joseph Arthur have secured Mons. Achille Rivarde, a superb violinist, for fifty concerts in this country. He will open in New York City at the first Philharmonic concert, November 15th. Rivarde is a schoolmate of Ysaye, and is 26 years of age. Mr. Johnston heard him at the London Philharmonic, where he played the Beethoven Concerto with marked success.

Madam Sembrich.

A letter from Johnston & Arthur (who are both in Europe) dated at Paris, July 11th, announces the fact that they have just completed an arrangement with Messrs. Abbey & Grau, by which they shall be the managers for all of the concerts given in this country this coming season by Madam Sembrich.
