He was knocked down and one wheel of the machine ran over his arm. Halberg was taken to the police station where his injuries were attended to by the police surgeon. police surgeon.

Memorial Service—There was a memorial service held in the First Baptist church yesterday morning, in honor of the late Mrs. L. D. Lee, who died last month, during the absence of the pastor, Rev. D. A. Brown, Mrs. Lee had been a member of the First church for 16 years. There was a special musical service, after which Mr. Brown paid a high tribute to. Mr. Brown paid a high tribute to the deceased lady, who was of estim-able Christian character and a true and noble woman.

They Will be Followed by Striking Telegraphers of Local No. 30,

A few years ago organized labor representatives made a guess that the men who serve in the different crafts would prefer to enjoy themselves at Lagoon rather than parade the streets and the annual parade slipped a year

But this season the reversion to the old order will occur with what will probably be the largest labor demonstration the city has seen. The past year has been an eventful one for labor. Early in the spring a decisive battle was fought by the street car employes, in which laboring men in general looked on with acute sympathy, regarding the strike as one to make a valuable precedent for gen-eral ue. The victorious result started make a valuable precedent for gen-eral ue. The victorious result started a rapid move for organization in al-most every other line of employed la-bor, not already well organized. Then began the summer crop of strikes. Louis Lynn, in close touch with the car men during the excit-ing days of their trouble began to speak in frish brogue of "negotia-tions," "successive referendum votes," "decisions of the executive commit-tee," "conference with the company tee," "conference with the company officials" and other diplomatic lan-grage, which he negotiated with un-counted difficulties of pronouncla-

ONE SMALL STRIKE.

He called his men out finally, some of them now say because he couldn't stand the pressure of the big strike stand the pressure of the big strike alongside. They are still out, al-though the strike is seldom heard from, and the men are nearly all em-ployed in other work. Louis, how-ever, is no more. He met a lady, and thereby hangs a tale of a disappear-ance, an auditing committee, and a vote that cast him down and out of office.

office. But some of the strikes were real-ly important. The street car men hold the place of honor in this par-ade, possibly because of the esteem in which they are held on account of their successful strike, possibly in part on account of the fact that they have a band which was used with such effect in their daily street par-ades this spring. Behind them come the telegraphers, given a place of honor to assure them of the moral support extended by other organiza-tions. The electrical workers follow, each man probably coming in from tions. The electrical workers follow, each man probably coming in from some job other than that passed up with the telephone companies. The rest of the parade includes 40 local unions, among which are num-bered the millmen who conducted the only losing fight of the summer. It was for the closed shop instead of higher wages and failed to secure public approval. The Bingham Junc-tion and Murray strikes were among foreigners not represented in the parfereigners not represented in the par

New York Attorney Arrives in Salt Lake to Proceed Against Rio Grande.

Atty. Joseph Martin of New York is at the Wilson hotel, having come west to enter suit for foreclosure of a second mortgage given in 1880 against the Bingham branch of the Rio Grande road. It was then the Wasatch & Jordan Valley road, and two mortgages were given to secure separate issue of bonds. The first mortgage was bought in by the Rio Grande Western on fore-closure. But it is claimed that the holders of the second mortgage were not made parties to the suit, so that this bond against the company re-mains unsatisfied. One year ago indg this bond against the company re-mains unsatisfied. One year ago, judg-ment was secured in the Salt Lake courts against the Wasatch road in $1,780,000 with Russell Sage Raphael of New York as the judgment credi-tor, who is represented by Mr. Martin,
