BURNING FORESTS.

Immense Losses Caused by the Raging Flames.

MANY PEOPLE LEFT DESTITUTE.

Almost Certain That a Number of Lives Have Been Lost in Various Places.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 28.—A Spokesman-Review special from Kettle, says:

Losses so far reported from the awful forest fires raging throughout the mountains of this section aggregate about $125,000. The people of the Sinema district are left destitute without shelter or food. A relief party has gone there, but it is feared there will be great suffering before it justes its way through the burning forest. Fires had been burning around the district now for several days, but about noon a roaring gale swept down the mountain, lifting high in the air tops and limbs of standing trees and carrying them long distances as brands to start new fires in a thousand different places. Almost instantaneously a score fires were raging in Three Forks. The terror stricken people had no few for their lives, leaving everything behind them. The proprietor of a laundry and bath house and his wife jumped into the creek and rolled down stream until they reached a place of shelter. At Bear Lake, Mr. Mahoney, who ran a ferry, with his wife and two small children, waded out into the waters of the lake and remained there for hours.

It is almost certain that a number of lives have been lost among the prospectors.

The total loss at Three Forks is about $50,000; at Wallace about $20,000; at Bear Lake, $25,000.

It is feared that Callahan, telegraph operator at Wallace, and Frank Price, who was on the north fork of Carpenter creek, have perished. The fire is 25 miles long, and damage to valuable timber is enormous.

Buildings at the Tom O'Shanter mine and the Blue Bell have burned.

At Kaslo alarm is felt for the safety of the town. A big fire has been burning on the lake shore within a quarter of a mile of the town.

MONEY NOT CALLED FOR.

Large Sums Deposited with the Courts by Litigants.

CHICAGO, July 28.—It has been the custom of the courts in Cook county for years that whenever money is in dispute the money should be left in the hands of the clerk of the court pending the settlement of the question. In this way since a large amount of disputed money is never called for by the successful litigants there has accumulated in the hands of the clerks of courts a sum of over $200,000. This sum is regarded as a trust fund by the clerks and they regularly draw interest on it, and when their term of office expires turn it over to their successors. There are cases on record where more than $50,000 in one lump has been placed in the hands of the clerks of the court and never been called for afterwards.

In 1889 an action arose between the Pullman company and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and other companies as to the ownership of $35,000. According to the usual custom this amount was turned into the city court and placed in charge of Circuit Clerk Beal. In 1892 the attorneys stipulated that the sum should be placed in a bank and draw 2½ per cent interest. An order was entered therefor by Judge Horton to take effect and filed with the minute clerk of the court. The case has just been settled by the supreme court and now it is discovered that Circuit Court Clerk Frank Gaulter has no certificate of deposit, and did he or his predecessor, Mr. Beal, know anything about the order requiring the deposit to be made. In the meantime the money, with all others in custody of the clerk, had been on deposit drawing interest. The interested parties now claim that the difficult court clerk is liable for the 2½ per cent interest on the money. The attorney for one of the complainants has raised the point that it is no part of Mr. Gaulter's duty to act as custodian of such funds and that if he did so, it was merely in a personal and not an official capacity and he is entitled to compensation for his services.

The Condition at Bagdad.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—The U. S. consul at Bagdad, Mr. Stoudberg, in a report to the state department describes the terrible condition of the place from a hygienic point of view. He says that since the May floods began to subside a malignant fever has prevailed in the city and suburbs, more especially among the fellahs (tillers of the soil) down along the river. The casual rate the mortality has been very high and the misery beyond conception. The immigration of Persian Persians having just been received, it is a source of both revenue and pestilence. One arriving caravan was loaded with coffins containing corpses that had been dead for months, some perhaps for years. The plague which usually follows the floods is expected here next winter.

The Penalty for Murder.

CLAYTON, Mo., July 27.—Harrison Duncan, a negro, was hanged today for the murder of Policeman James Healy in St. Louis, October 9, 1892.

Many Idle Men.

CHICAGO, July 27.—There are now more idle men in the stock yards than at any time since the strike of 1886. From daylight until the noon of the afternoon every day the great slaughter houses are besieged by thousands of men in search of work. Nearly all of them are unskilled workmen and there is no work for them.

Killed in an Earthquake.

BELGRADE, July 27.—Earthquake shocks have been felt in Macedonia, the Servia and eastern Bulgaria. Many houses at Varida, Bulgaria, were damaged and a number of people killed.

Extradition Request Not Granted.

LANSING, Mich., July 27.—Governor Rich has refused to grant the requisition of the governor of California for the extradition of Alonzo Wellman, ex-senator from Wisconsin, charged with forgery. It was proven to the satisfaction of the governor that the signature alleged to have been forged by Wellman was genuine.

The City of Peking Afloat.

YOKOHAMA, July 27.—The American steamer, City of Peking, Captain Pearse, which went ashore in Yedjo Bay, Japan, has been floated. She sustained no damage.

Wellman All Right.

LONDON, July 27.—Information received here leaves no room for doubting that the Wellman Arctic expedition party is safe and well on their way south.

Collided With a Ferry Boat.

WARSAW, July 27.—The steamer Dectatis collided with a ferry boat at Gredno on the river Niemen. Fourteen people were killed and eleven injured.

The Worst Passed.

CHICAGO, July 27.—The heat wave today is central over Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, the temperature in many places running over 100 degrees. In Montana and the Dakotas the worst is passed. In Kansas and Nebraska growing crops sustained great damage.

Meeting of the Strike Commission.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The commissioner of labor, as ex-officio chairman of the strike commission appointed by the President, has called a meeting in this city on Monday.

To Be Reported Favorably.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The bill to create a national board of arbitration, introduced by Springer, which follows the recommendations of the President's message in 1887, will be reported to the House favorably by the commission of labor.

Another Strike Probable.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 27.—The Journal tomorrow morning will publish a story to the effect that the Anheuser, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad may be involved in another strike within forty-eight hours. This time the engineers, firemen and conductors will walk out.

The grievance is said to be caused by the reinstatement of a striker a week ago by the Santa Fe, in which it was stated all contracts would soon be abrogated. This the men take as a determination to reduce salaries, which, they say, they will never submit to.

SYMPATHY FOR CHINA.

The General Opinion in London Against Japan.

LONDON, July 27.—Mr. Burton, parliamentary secretary, said in the House of Commons today that cable messages received yesterday from the British envoy at Pekin and Tokio announce that the peace negotiations were continuing in spite of the outbreak of hostilities. The latter, Mr. Burton added, had not yet resulted in a formal declaration of war being made.

Chinese Representative Mathieson, when questioned upon the subject today by a representative of the Associated Press, said that he had expected that the war at the outset, would be favorable to Japan, as that country had long been preparing for this contest by drilling armies of men and manning and equipping warships.

Mr. Mathieson added that the Japanese was also a quicker-moving nation and, consequently, it would be natural that the first engagements between them and the slower-moving Chinese would result in victory for the armies of the Mikado. But eventually China would crush Japan. "Japan," said Mr. Mathieson, "is absolutely unable to pour out upon a current of men and material as China, which country can carry on the war for many years if necessary, and always with fresh troops.

"China, of recent years, has purchased large quantities of munitions of war, and is not so far behind in this respect as is generally believed."

The consensus of opinion in London is in sympathy with China. This is owing mainly to Russia's active wish to see Japan repulsed, and thus form a barrier to England's progress in the far east.

Some of the Anglo-Chinese traders of this city suggest doubt as to China's ability to cope with Japan, as it is known here that much of the Chinese war equipment, recently purchased in Europe, is bad. For instance, it is said, that 400 discarded Austrian rifles, with a large amount of ammunition for these weapons, which were recently sold to China, are not likely to prove very effective weapons in China in this emergency. The rifles referred to would not have been discarded had they been of much use, and it is reported that the cartridges sold with them are not fit to be used.

The Nicaragua Canal.

LONDON, July 27.—Considerable interest has been attached here to the report to the United States Congress by the committee of commerce, accompanying Congressman Maloney's Nicaragua canal bill, and the statement that the differences between the Nicaragua Canal company and the government of Nicaragua have been settled, industriously circulated in London financial circles.

In 1889 the group of men, headed by Colonel Noltz, which includes a large following in Liverpool, of which Messrs. W. and J. Lockett are the leading representatives, put on paper a financial plan and were prepared to find £9,000,000 in cash to help build the canal.

The most important member of this combination would have been Lord Rothschild, who sponsored a conference of the heads of the Brit. A Paris house, however, made such strenuous opposition to the Rothschilds being known in connection with Nicaragua, in view of the then approaching dissolution of the Panama company, that Lord Rothschild and H. F. Pelloux, of Messrs. Pelloux, Son & Pelloux, that he would still continue to the project, but that it must be so arranged that the late J. S. Morgan should, in his own name, represent the Rothschilds. The syndicate plan at that time went through swing to the disputes as to title between the Maucial and Buckner companies. Then the Maucial people succeeded in raising money in Glasgow from the Coates-Arthur group of Glasgow capitalists.

The matter is now again on the tapis in London. A certain mysterious American of the name of Hoel has arrived here and has split approaches the North group, Mr. Harvey and others. Mr. Hoel's plan, however, does not also at finding the capital for cutting the canal.

WELLMAN'S PARTY SAFE.

The Ragnvald Jarl Spoken in Latitude Eighty-four.

The Ship was All Right and the Explorers Had Started for the North Pole.

LONDON, July 27.—Carl Siewers, the Norwegian Arctic enthusiast, tonight received a telegram from the captain of the Earling, a Norwegian sealer, which arrived today at the Island of Tromoe, Finmarken, Norway.

The captain said in his dispatch that near Amsterdam, Lat. 84, in latitude 84 north and 6 longitude the Earling spoke the Ragnvald Jarl, the steamer which was conveying the Wellman Arctic expedition to the edge of the pack ice. The Ragnvald Jarl had been beset with pack ice, which had delayed her progress considerably, but Wellman and his party were then free of the pack ice and they should now be well on their way to the north pole.

The Jackson (English) expedition passed Tromoe yesterday.

FOREST FIRES.

Much Damage to Property Caused by the Flames.

ASHLAND, Wis., July 27.—Forest fires are producing great suffering and loss throughout this vicinity, and railroad companies have never before experienced such damage from fire. On the Wisconsin Central road it is impossible to move trains. Phillips, the headquarters of the Phillips R. Davis Lumber company, a manufacturing town of 2,500, is destroyed by fire and only a few buildings remain standing.

A dispatch just received from Fifield, a small station a few miles this side of Phillips, says 1000 men, women and children from Phillips are in the woods without shelter. They sent a request for food and supplies, as the supply at Fifield is very short.

Communications with Fifield is now shut off, and it is feared that town is also on fire. Along the Omaha line the fires are raging with terrible fierceness. Shorter's Crossing, a village eight miles west of Ashland, was destroyed this afternoon, not a building remaining standing. The homes and families were brought to Ashland. The refugees trains near there were delayed and at 4 o'clock this afternoon a fast Omaha freight train and sixteen loaded cars were entirely burned. Both the engineer and fireman were injured, and the brakemen are missing. Loss to cars and freight amounts to many thousands of dollars.

Morris, a small town south on the Omaha line, caught fire this evening. The White River company's mill with 40,000,000 feet of lumber in the yards was destroyed, and at 8 o'clock the latest report received here says the entire town is threatened.

The Omaha bridge across the White river at Mason is burned. Railroad officials say the loss at Mason is fully $1,000,000, with $250,000 insurance.

News from Hurley states that town has been enveloped in dense clouds of smoke all day with fires on nearly every side.

A TOWN BURNING.

KEOKUK, Ia., July 27.—At 11:30 p.m. the town of Bonapart, Ia., is burning up. Officials have just seived all from Keokuk. There are large woolen mills and clothing factories there.

DESTRUCTIVE PRAIRIE FIRES.

WASHINGTON, Ind., July 27.—Destructive prairie fires are raging between this city and Fort Wayne. For several days they have been burning over several thousand acres of wheat and oats. Whole families are out fighting the flames.

Convicts in a State of Mutiny.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 27.—The convicts at Tracy are in a state of mutiny, and as a result two men are dead and two others suffering from wounds. This afternoon the convicts loaded a pipe with explosives, placed it in a coal car and attached a slow fuse to it.

Deputy Warden Nelson and assistants were passing along another entry to bring the convicts out for the night, and when they arrived opposite the bomb it exploded. Nelson was instantly killed, and guards Terrell and Thurman slightly wounded.

A negro convict named Peter Hamilton was killed by a volley from the other guards. There were 115 convicts in the mine at the time, and all but seventy surrendered. Escape is probably the object of the mutineers.

Celebration at Copenhagen.

COPENHAGEN, July 27.—The silver wedding of the Crown Prince and Princess Frederick of Denmark is being celebrated today.

The French Anti-Anarchist Bill.

PARIS, July 27.—The Senate today passed the anti-anarchist bill adopted by the deputies yesterday. The vote was 225 to 34.

The radical and monarchial papers concur in the opinion that the bill was designed less with a view of crushing anarchism than with the purpose of abridging the freedom of the press.

Here's a Defaulter.

PARIS, July 27.—Dr. Cornelius Herz, the Panama lobbyist, was formally charged today with extorting 10,000,000 francs from the late Baron Reinach. As Dr. Herz did not appear, the tribunal declared him a defaulter and judgment was reserved.

Dr. Herz is understood to be still in England. His extradition has been repeatedly sought for, but under the plea of ill-health, etc., he has succeeded in avoiding appearing personally before a French court.

The Outlook of Gold.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Tomorrow's steamer from New York will carry $5,300,000 in gold.

DRAGGING ALONG.

The Examination of Strikers Charged With Murder, Etc.

WOODLAND, Cal., July 27.—The preliminary examination of the American Railway Union men, charged with train wrecking, murder and conspiracy, drags tediously along. Today nearly the entire session was devoted to the examination of two witnesses. The first was Joe Wallace, a striker who has since returned to work, who met the grievor Worden and a boy Johnny Shearburne near the trestle shortly after the train was dynamed, and rode back to Sacramento in their wagon.

Thomas Knight, assistant United States district attorney, was next called. Knight detailed the substance of conversations held with the prisoners during the strike and previous to the train wreck, and repeated what he considered seditious words.

A Meteor.

BERKELEY, Cal., July 27.—A peculiar luminous body fell from the sky in a southeasterly direction tonight at 7:30 o'clock this evening. It left a trail of light and heavy smoke behind it. The smoke was all that remained, only glowed in the sky for some moments. Nothing of the sort was ever observed here before.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 27.—At 7:30 o'clock tonight what appeared to be a meteor fell slowly from the sky near here. The body was large and luminous.

THE LIVER.

This organ plays a very important role in the drama of Digestion, making the performance either comedy or tragedy, according to whether it (the liver) is bright and active, or sluggish or torpid. The liver's duty is to secrete bile, help prepare the food for assimilation, and purify the blood. If it fails in these employments or performs them imperfectly, the entire system is soon at sixes and sevens. When the liver is not overworked, no organ in the entire body is more conscientious. But just give it a trifle too much to do, or present with improper food for manipulation, and it will soon utter a protest. If the stress is not speedily relieved, the organ becomes inflamed and irritated, and digestion disorganized, and the blood impure. Symptoms of the inflamed liver are dull headache, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, sick stomach, pain under the right shoulder blade, irregular constipation, dizziness, black spots before the eyes and shooting pains in the back. These symptoms do not all exist at the same time of course but enough of them will be present to prove that the sufferer needs the advice and treatment of some experienced and successful specialists. Drs. Shores & Shores are the most successful in both Lungs and Liver and their many cures of cases similar to the above is proof that you need not suffer, but go to them and be restored to health.

Note the Difference

Between the testimonials published by Drs. Shores & Shores and charlatan rare specialists, all the old residents, business and professional men even the public press endorse the treatment of these successful specialists.
