Ovation Given the Tabernacle Choir in San Francisco.

THE WALLACE, IDAHO, TRAGEDY.

Fished Up a Body—Cattle Situation in Arizona—The Gospel Army Incorporated.

John Mah committed suicide in San Francisco on Saturday by drowning himself. He was out of funds, having lost his money by gambling.

James E. Turner, a pioneer, while in an intoxicated condition Saturday afternoon wandered into the basement of the Oregonian building at Portland, Ore., where he was caught in a revolving wheel and was crushed to death.

Grandpa Nelson, living at Roseburg, Klamath county, Ore., who is 100 years old next January. When he was 81 he made homestead entry on a piece of land near Roseburg, and seven years later proved up on it. Despite his 99 years of life, he is yet hale and hearty. He has a son 79 years of age.

The Alaska Mining Record says that two parties have gone to explore the route between Take Iniel and Lake Teslin, which is the source of the Lewis branch of the Yukon river. The distance is about sixty miles, and the pass is one of the lowest, if not the lowest, on the east range in Alaska.

At San Jose, Cal., Mr. Rae Kramer has sued Frank Kramer for a divorce. According to her story her husband has sued her as a punching bag and a football whenever he was in need of a little gymnastic exercise, and she has grown tired of it. She therefore asks for a separation on the ground of cruelty.

At Walla Walla, Wash., one day last week, a number of logs were floating in Mill Creek. One of the boys tied his neck cords on some object at the bottom of the creek. Giving a hard jerk he brought out a large pasteboard box, somewhat torn and broken by the water. Opening the box the boy and his companions were horrified to see the dry form of a baby, entirely nude.

The cattle situation throughout Arizona is at present gloomy. Even in the Verde, a range considered the best in the territory, grass is short and the prospects threatened for the back of feed. Grass in Tonto is much the same, while all over southern Arizona the water holes are drying up and the cattle are beginning to a considerable extent more restless among grounds.

The American Gospel Army was incorporated at San Francisco Saturday for charitable and religious work in all parts of the United States. The incorporators are Ferdinand Levin von Lindenthal, Martha F. L. von Lindenthal, Christabel von Lindenthal, Eugene Duffy and Marie Louise. The institution has no capital stock, and the management is to be composed of the great officers of the army.

The family of J. E. Perry, who killed his mother with a hatchet at Wallace, Idaho, on Saturday morning, previously to a fiend recently, interested at Inland, mother, wife and baby of the murderer. Henry Zeiers, a milkman, went to the house to deliver milk and when Mrs. Perry went to the door Perry caught his mother, struggled with her on the floor and then knocked her down. Approaching with a hatchet he ordered Zeiers to leave. Zeiers hurried away for help, but when he returned the woman was lying on the floor, hacked to pieces. After murdering his mother Perry picked up his baby and walked quietly out of town, he said it to his wife and die. The shed and city marshal overtook the murderer about a mile from the house, and he immediately drew a revolver and fired three shots at the officers. There was a lively struggle, but they overpowered him and brought him back to jail. It is learned that Perry has long been subject to fits and has never been in an asylum. But at Pueblo, Col., and later at Montana Lake, Wash., at times when young Perry was suffering from his disease he was inclined to quarrel with his father. Saturday morning it was evident that another attack was coming on, so his father went away. Young Perry is about 24 years old and was married in Utah in 1892.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Sunday says: A genuine ovation was accorded the Mormon Tabernacle choir last evening. To say that it was that richly deserved is but faint praise for the work of this chorus, which is thoroughly equipped to render the best from all the masters. At no time in any register is the volume of tone marred by the slightest tremolo. Further, their appearance is imposing, sitting or standing, the grouping of the ladies presents a unique picture. As all are gowned in white and seated as closely as possible, the effect is that of nearly one hundred faces appearing through a fleecy white cloud. The program was essentially that given on Thursday evening. On account of the unsatisfactory condition of the organ the organ sol—wedding music from Lohengrin—had to be omitted. The rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus was full compensation for the absence. Although the boy who was to sing for last evening, he sang Angels, Ever Bright and Fair, instead of the encore demanded by the audience from Lucia. Enthusiasm was at its height when the choir gave the Star Spangled Banner as an encore to the last number, the finale of act 2, La Traviata. Although half the audience was standing, an encore was again accorded the singers and they gave their best Sabbath song, and no word brings out so fully that full volume of tone as the Tabernacle in Utah. This evening will be, as they term it, a "good-by" concert. The selections on the regular program are varied and the extra numbers are a medley—the Hallelujah chorus (Faust) and the Hallelujah in the Messiah. Concrete Pass, the boy alto, will sing The Christ's Dream of Heaven (Nevin) by Cora. A 20 cents service will be held today at 12 o'clock noon at the Tabernacle. Elders will speak. An invitation was extended to all friends to be present.
