LEGISLATORS TODAY

Printing Committee Has a Bill and an Adverse Minority Report.

JOINT DEBTOR BILL PASSED.

Providing for Criminal Prosecutions—Court Seal—General Business of the Lawmakers.

"A light house" witnessed the legislative performance today, so far as spectators are concerned. The legislators were to their places, with the exception of a few who have been excused for sickness or pressing business calls.

SENATE.

President Geo. M. Cannon was detained for a short time after the opening hour, and the Senate was called to order by Glen Miller.

On substitute for H. B. 34, evidence in larceny cases, recommended that it be rejected.

The five stock committee reported H. B. 12, with a recommendation that it pass.

Zundel, of the printing committee, reported a bill for a State printer and fixing the prices to be paid.

Zundel presented a minority report objecting to arbitrarily fixing the prices, as being contrary to good policy in the State.

The engrossing committee reported that S. B. 16, preventing discrimination against female school teachers was ready for the President's signature.

McKay presented the report of the Capitol grounds commission.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Warner introduced S. B. 56, prescribing in criminal cases; committee on judiciary.

S. B. 48, on county and district court seals, was taken up. Chidester moved to amend, but the motion was lost. He then proposed an amendment that the secretary of State furnish seals for district courts instead of the counties. This was defeated and the bill passed 12 to 2.

S. B. 55, for a State printer, was taken up on the majority and minority reports. The consideration of the reports was in progress at the time the News went to press.

THE HOUSE.

In the House yesterday afternoon the committee on municipal corporations recommended that H. B. No. 35, for an act creating a board of park commissioners in certain cities and towns in the State of Utah, be not passed. Report adopted.

The livestock committee recommended certain amendments to H. B. No. 6, for an act to prevent the sale of stock under fraudulent pedigrees; the amendments were concurred in and the bill passed on a vote of 31 ayes, 9 nays, absent 3.

The committee on education recommended the passage of S. B. No. 4, incorporating the Utah School for the Deaf, and upon the report being adopted the bill was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The committee on enrollment reported that they had found H. B. No. 61, amending section 4, chapter 23 of the session laws of 1892, correct, and it was thereupon signed by the speaker in the presence of the House.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

H. B. No. 95, by Critchlow—An act repealing and extending the powers of the clerks of the district courts in matters pertaining to the estates of decedents, minors, insane and incompetent persons at times when there is a vacation or recess of the court, and when the judge thereof is absent from the county seat. Judiciary committee.

H. B. No. 97, by Hornsdale (by request)—An act making an appropriation of $8,000 for the use of the State Board of Agriculture. Committee on appropriations.

H. B. No. 98, by Egan—An act repealing railroad corporations to construct crossings over their respective lands where necessary for public or private purposes. This was temporarily withdrawn at the request of the author.

H. B. No. 99, by Wilson—An act repealing section 4 of chapter 18, laws of 1892, relating to an act giving the mayors of cities of the first and second class a qualified veto. Committee on municipal corporations.

H. B. No. 100, by Ferguson, of Carbon—An act for the protection of life and property from steam boiler explosions. Committee on municipal corporations.

The enrollment committee reported the correct enrollment of H. C. R. No. 4, relating to the purchase of postage stamps by the Legislature, and it was signed by the speaker.

At the opening of the House proceedings today, Cedar presided. A bond from Joseph Schmoll, presented to the Logan Chamber of Commerce, asking that representatives of the chamber be allowed a hearing on H. B. No. 45, with reference to the location of a transportation commission.

The petition recited that fears were entertained that if the measure came in as it now reads it would do a great and serious injustice to that section of the country. Referred to committee on railroads.

A petition to the same effect, signed by E. C. M. L., George M. Scott & Co., and the leading firms of this city, set forth the following:

The undersigned respectfully represent, that they are shippers and business men residing and doing business in Salt Lake City. That a bill for an act intended (among other things) to provide for a Railroad commission, is now pending before your honorable bodies, and that, in the opinion of the undersigned, and, as we believe, in the experience and opinion of nearly all business men, the appointment of such a commission to fix rates of transportation, is not desirable.

We believe it has been the experience in states where such commissions have been appointed, that no good results have followed, and that it is better to leave business affairs to the effect of competition, rather than to arbitrary judgment of any body or board. That with laws requiring reasonable charges, and against discrimination between persons and places or in charges for like service under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, no further legislation is needed.

This petition was also referred to the committee on railroads, together with one from Ogden business men, and one from Provo—all attacking Morrison's bill.

Notes.

Egan's bill for railway crossings is a step in the right direction.

Most of the legislative committees have their hands full of business.

The election contest proceedings came on this evening before the House.

Through Senator Allison's absence it is discovered that his presence gives tone to the proceedings of the Senate.

The new House bill relating to steam boilers seems to have more friends among legislators than did the other measure introduced.

Among the visitors to the Senate today was the Hon. Chas. W. Penrose, who, as a member of several successive bodies in the Territory, has had much to do with shaping Utah legislation in the past. He occupied a seat on the president's platform, and offered the opening prayer.

No member of the Legislature has shown sufficient local patriotism yet to introduce a measure opening the way for a semi-centennial celebration of Pioneer Day in 1897. That does not say, however, that the proposition will not receive enthusiastic support later on. It will require at least a year to get up a first class exhibition for the purpose.

MINOR MENTION.

After two years of duty well performed as clerk of the police court, John James will tomorrow step down and out. Mr. James retires with the good will of the members of the police department.

A runaway occurred on Second South between First and West Temple just before noon today. Fortunately it was a "tame" affair and there was no injury to person or damage to property.

National Guard Officers.

All officers of the national guard of Utah who may be in the city are requested to attend an important meeting to be held at 11 o'clock Sunday at the office of the adjutant general.

Remarkable Printing Press.

Boston Traveler: The University Press at Oxford is not only one of the most remarkable printing establishments in the world, but also one of the oldest. It makes its own type and its own ink, burns its own charcoal for making ink, makes its own paper and so on. The famous Oxford India paper is a marvel of compression and strength, and the secret of its manufacture is known only to three persons. From no printing press in the world are as many—1,000,000 of each—bibles and prayer books issued annually, and types are set up in 139 foreign languages and dialects.

Steel in his Arm Thirty Years.

Thirty years ago J. S. Gerlson of Plant City, Fla., a machinist, ran a small sliver of steel into his right hand at the base of his thumb. The wound was treated and finally healed, the doctor saying that the steel had been expelled. Last week pains became very acute in his right shoulder. He went to a doctor, another doctor drew from just under the skin of his shoulder the steel sliver that entered his hand in 1866.—Florida Times-Union.

Some of the native rulers of India are enormously wealthy, but millions of the common people are in a state of absolute starvation.

THE POLICE RAID.

Many Women Appeared in Court and Received Light Fines.

OTHERS FAIL TO RESPOND.

Captain Donovan's Case Set for Four O'clock this Afternoon—Judge McKay on Reform.

The police court was crowded this afternoon as never before in the remembrance of the present officials. Many of the women who were arrested yesterday appeared and were fined lightly. Others did not respond at all, some of them having left the city. Two men were fined and in the case of another, sentence was suspended for thirty days on a promise of good behavior. What actually transpired in the court room is told below.

With reference to the case of Captain Donovan, Judge McKay said, "I would like to have it set for four o'clock this afternoon and request that the witnesses be here at that hour.

Justice Wenger—Can the captain be here at that time—has he engaged counsel?

Judge McKay—I am informed so. I understand he will be represented by Powers, Straup and Lippman.

Justice Wenger—Then let the case be set for 4 o'clock.

This was agreed to after which the transaction of other business was continued but was immediately slide tracked for a speech by City Attorney McKay, who said:

"Before proceeding with the cases of these women I want to say something as to how they were brought here. There are, I believe, seven keepers and forty or more inmates. There has been much comment in this community yesterday and today by the people and press. I wish to say something as to whose instigation this raid was brought about. The police commission suggested a meeting with the Mayor and myself. It was held. Three members were present. When the question as to what should be done with the class of cases the board was informed simply to do that which was right and proper. There was no suggestion as to how and when it should be done. The Mayor and city attorney simply pointed to the ordinance and said that the enforcement thereof rested with them."

Continuing the city attorney said, "I stated that I didn't want these women herded up in the station like sheep and that I didn't want them to be arrested in the night time; I also suggested that a good way to eradicate the evil would be to proceed against the property owners. But I wanted all this to be done in a legitimate way. There appears to have been an effort on the part of the police department to inundate the city attorney with business—to put him in a hole. I just want to say that the attorney will get out from under the load alright and I want to put in any hole, either.

"It has not been a very nice exhibition the police department has made yesterday and today. My opinion is that these women, that Sunday saloon keepers and gamblers ought to be notified in advance of the intention to enforce the ordinances. It is known to every one, great and small, men and women, old and young that these evils are not suppressed. Saloons are made to close today and allowed to open tomorrow. These women and gamblers are brought up here for another reason in God's world than to make revenue. Nobody has ever yet been able to convince me that my ideas about these things were wrong. There can be no regulation of these evils; they must be stopped. I propose to enforce the law in these cases. I am not going to be put in a hole; neither is the Mayor or anyone else if I can help it."

Justice Wenger in reply said he would, so far as he was concerned, endeavor to see that fairness was meted out to all classes. He hoped there would be a cessation of the bad feeling that existed in the department. He trusted that every officer would be perfectly fair to every user officer. If not he would perhaps have occasion to censure and even punish some one.

Several madams then stepped forward in answer to their names and were fined $20 each. The inmates of the houses escaped with the light punishment of $10 each.

AN OFFER OF GOOD HOMES.

Several ladies engaged in charitable and reform work were present and in their behalf Judge Wenger announced that if any of the girls who had been arrested desired to reform these ladies would give them good homes and every opportunity to return to virtuous lives but there were no responses.

In the case of two of the male offenders they were fined $20 each and one young man was allowed to go on a promise of good behavior.

New Clothing Company.

The Cushain Clothing Co. filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk this afternoon. The capital stock of the company is placed at $20,000, divided into shares of $10 each taken by each of the incorporators as follows: Charles Cushain 15,000 shares, Sig Simon, M. E. Mulvey, Bruce E. Knox and Jacob Bergeman one share each. The officers are: Charles Cushain, president; M. E. Mulvey, vice president, and Sig Simon secretary and treasurer.

Like White Men's Customs.

The Alaska Indians, after learning many of the vices of white men, soon begin to live like them as far as possible and convenient. Their one story huts soon give way to two and three story structures, and instead of building heller-skelter, wherever there's a clearing, they erect their dwellings in straight rows, carefully observing the building line.

When an Indian who came back from the States spread the news that the houses of the white men in big cities were all numbered, the fashion of numbering their own houses spread like wildfire. The Indian would pay no attention to the numerical values, but would select some number that pleased the eye.

The first house in the Indian quarter at Sitka is numbered 200, while the one next door is 400, the third is 8888, and then 600 and 1900. The numbers which are most generally popular are those which end in the two naughts.—Exchange.

MINING EXCHANGE.

declared a dividend, but will probably do so soon. It may pay quarterly. Daly-West's new mill is doing good work and the properties are in first-class shape. Ecko is pushing development work.

Mill work is to be resumed at the Gypsyr without delay, the water troubles having been adjusted. Horn Silver is working away on the same old lines. Shipments of ore and concentrates about hold their own.

Mammoth was in demand, but not at holders' figures. The annual meeting of the company was deferred for twenty days. Morgan (Mesera) is developing and making some shipments. The Mercur company will declare its usual monthly dividend of $15,000 on the 10th and pay on the 20th. Extensive development work is now in hand and the showing in the properties never was so satisfactory as at present. The mill increases will not be made before the spring months. The stock was held very strongly, holding being active and sales were made at $7 and even above.

Ontario was very strong and held so firmly that few sales were made but those went in at advanced figures. Silver is looking well and a strike of amazing ore down on the flat is recorded. Great ore bodies have been blocked out. Its neighbor, the Gold Dust, is prosecuting development work vigorously and has a splendid showing.

Silver King pays its monthly dividend of $37,500 today, making a total of $525,000. The stock is held very strongly above $15. Sunbeam will probably increase its mill capacity in 300 tons without much delay. The plant is doing splendid work and the properties look very well. Utah will probably pay its usual dividend of $1,000 on the 10th.

The Reliable.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk this afternoon by the Reliable Gold and Silver Mining company. The capital stock is placed at $1,500,000, divided into 150,000 shares at the par value of $10 each, taken by the following incorporators: James Gendhuing, A. Hemsley, Andrew T. Lawrence, Jacob Bergeman, J. R. Middleton, H. Penrose, F. Heneman and James Moffat. The officers of the company are: W. H. Penrose, president; James Gendhuing, vice-president; J. R. Middleton, treasurer; James Moffat, secretary and Andrew T. Lawrence, general manager.

Dips and Spurs.

Kenneth Donnellan wants it distinctly understood that it is he who plays on the xylophone, and not his father, Colonel John W.

Stock Broker Richard L. Colburn has been so entirely engaged in business this week, that an issuance of his usual weekly letter was an impossibility.

Herman Hill is strictly attentive to business, as is evidenced by the fact that whenever the caller on the exchange makes a mistake, Herman is invariably the first one to notice it and make the correction.

It was reported yesterday that 10,000 shares of Mercur had been sold to Mr. F. J. Cleaver, at $7, but information received from reliable parties today, classes the rumor as entirely without foundation.

After years of unceasing toil and energy in trying to gain for himself a livelihood from the hidden treasures, it is reported that Joe Appleby has struck it rich in the discovery of a four-inch ore body in the face of his 200-foot tunnel in Dry Canyon, Ophir, which is said to assay from 6,000 to 8,000 ounces in silver to the ton.

A letter was read at the mining exchange today announcing a round trip rate of $64 from Denver to New York over the Burlington road to those who are desirous of attending the opening of the New York mining exchange. The present rate from Salt Lake to Denver over the Rio Grande Western is $30, thus making a rate of $94 to Salt Lakers who contemplate going. Tickets are good for 30 days.

Gave the Same Treatment to Her Pup.

A gentleman of Mount Lebanon, La., owns a fine Newfoundland dog called Kate. Something like a year ago last spring Kate was very badly afflicted with mange, and her master had her taken to the neighboring tanyard and thrown into a vat filled with dye made from red oak bark, which is possessed of healing properties. The dog got well, and in the course of the year had a litter of five puppies, all except two of which were drowned.

A few days ago Kate discovered what she evidently considered sure symptoms of mange in one of the pups, so, holding it fellow, she made a beeline for the old tanyard, followed at some distance by the pups. Arrived at the well-remembered vat, which had formed the scene of her own affliction, she seized her afflicted pup by the nape of the neck and calmly gave it a good bath, in spite of its yelping yelps and struggles. As a reward for her foresight and maternal care the pup recovered, and is now as frisky and healthy as any mother could desire.—Philadelphia Times.

Ministers Should Use Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

THERE IS NO PROFESSION, where failure so severely tax the nervous system, as that of the ministry. The derangement of the nerve centers of the brain by over work, frequently brings on attacks of heart trouble, and nervous prostration.

Rev. J. F. Kruler, R. D., Pastor C. E. church, London Mills, Ill., himself a physician, writes Feb. 21, 1895: "Heart affection and nervous prostration had become so serious that full time work in the pulpit would so completely prostrate me that it seemed certain I must relinquish the work of the ministry entirely. Heart palpitation became so bad that my brethren would see me if I did not have heart disease. Last November I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure alternately with Dr. Miles' Nervine and derived the greatest possible benefit. I have just closed revival work of 10 weeks, preaching nearly every night and talking to the brethren. I can speak for hours without suffering as I formerly did. Heart working ministers should keep Dr. Miles' great remedies on hand."

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on guarantee, first bottle will benefit or money refunded.
