Issued Mondays and Thursdays and Contains All the Cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Took Greek to New York—Immigration Inspector Longley returned last night from New York, where he took a Greek for deportation.

Retires from Seattle—Miss Bertha Mayle, who recently returned from Seattle, has accepted a position with the Keith-O'Brien company of this city.

Needed—Improvement—The long, muddy ally west of Main street on Third South, is being equipped with asphalt paving—an improvement long very much needed.

Guest of N. G. G.—John A. Drane, chairman of the executive committee of the National Guard association, will be in this city today in the interest of rifle practice. The local officers of the N. G. G. will entertain him.

Chosen to Membership—The following resident college men were chosen to the National Guard association Saturday evening: F. T. D'Ferri, B. A. Princeton, G. L. Lytleton Prince, E. M. Colorado School of Mines, 1906.

Retires From the Big Ditch—T. C. Calister, secretary of the state land board, has returned from a trip of inspection in the southern part of the state. In that portion of the state nearly $1,000,000 is being expended on his irrigation projects by private interests under the watchful eye of the state.

Wants $12,000 Bonus—The Manufacturers and Merchants' association is in receipt of a query from G. S. Butterfield of Boston, as to the chance of getting a bonus for the recent Saturday evening: F. T. D'Ferri, B. A. Princeton, G. L. Lytleton Prince, E. M. Colorado School of Mines, 1906.

Interest Falling Off—The idea of a military organization at Boundout seems to have been given up, much to the regret of gunsmiths in this city. There seems to be a falling off in interest, and gunsmiths in most all over the country. In New York so many names have crept in that the system is receiving an overhauling at the instance of the governor.

Council Could Not Meet—Owing to the presence of electric and the prevalence in the city of Fritz Scheff, the members of the council were unable to be present in the council chamber last night. Much business was filed with the recorder, but it will lay over until the council meets to overcome the effects of last night and today's results at the voting machine.

Mrs. A. P. Miller Dead—Infolior, 30th floor of A. P. Miller's building, Ninth East street, died at her home Sunday after a lingering illness. She was a native of Newark, having been born there June 2, 1848. She came to Utah with her husband in 1882 and made her home with him in Sanpete county. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the trolley, Otto Rydberg officiating.

Health Inspector Dies—Dr. Clarke, inspector of the state board of health, will leave Wednesday to visit southern towns in the interest of good health. There may be reported 51 cases of typhoid fever at Springfield, 28 cases of scarlet fever at Mt. Pleasant, and considerable trouble elsewhere in that section. As 18 cases of scarlet fever are reported at Garland, the inspector will visit that part of the state on his return.

Civil Service Jobs—There will be civil service examinations in this city, Nov. 27, for monotone machinist, at the government printing office, at Washington, at 24 per day; also, for monogapher operator in the government printing office, at 24 per day; also, for laboratory assistant, bureau of standards, Washington, at $1,000 and $1,200 per annum; also, for civil engineer, Philadelphia service, at $1,100 per annum.

Retailing Wall Finished—The heavy, handsome red sandstone retaining wall built fronting the Brigham street entrance of Park Farmworth, just beyond the Brigham field apartment, has been finished, work having been begun last May. The wall is 118 feet long, five feet two inches high, and cost about $5,000, with the rock from the Park City quarry. The delay in the work was caused by the difficulty in quarrying the size of stone desired. O. Nelson was the contractor.

Strike Losing Out—The news from Montana that four labor unions have withdrawn their strike from the state federation, on account of harsh treatment by the Bell Telephone company, has received with interest in this city. The Cooks and Waiters' union, one of the four, notified the cooks and waiters of a Helena hotel during the strike that if that hotel used the Bell telephone, they were all to quit work, so that proprietor had to yield for the time. But now, the cooks and waiters are ranged on the other side.

Grand—The Choir Singer at the Grand has proven to be one of the season's best offerings at the popular priced playhouses, and it is receiving a hearty welcome each evening. Miss Nellie Holland, the star of the cast, easily wins first honors with the audience for her work as the adventures of the 9 o'clock curfew whistle, but there certainly is none about the way the whistle disrupts the acts often in the very climax of a well developed bit of music or song. Last night in the Orpheum it was the turn of Makemuri, violin virtuoso, to be disturbed so badly that his best work was a failure, the audience taking the better portions of the offering and a scaring blast from the signal that disconcerted both artist and hearers. But the curfew is indispensible and the theater must grin and bear it.

The bill this week can hardly be judged by last night's showing, as two of the acts were absent, but of those that appeared there are enough worth while to insure a pleasant evening.

In the absence of Miss Holland, the great lady bicyclist in the world, the Golden Grace opened the bill, repeating their success of last week. Makemuri had a difficult task in attempting to make himself acceptable on the violin with no accompaniment and the memory of his distinguished predecessor of last week in the minds of his hearers.

Ing. Macmillan and Clarence Oliver, a pair of artful trick performers, a racy talk and a bracelet from India that gives its wearer power to compel his wishes to come true. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Marry & Co. do something really good in "Honest Corner." It is an act that draws the laughter in irrepressible volume, and in itself makes the bill worth seeing. The Eight Vass sisters, four of whom are musical act, will be here next week, and are able to be up and well. Mr. See and Mr. Sold by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept., 112 and 114 South Main St.

ALWAYS WAS SICK.

When a man says he always was sick—what would you think? If he still was a failure, the audience takes the 9 o'clock curfew whistle, but there certainly is none about the way the whistle disrupts the acts often in the very climax of a well developed bit of music or song. Last night in the Orpheum it was the turn of Makemuri, violin virtuoso, to be disturbed so badly that his best work was a failure, the audience taking the better portions of the offering and a scaring blast from the signal that disconcerted both artist and hearers. TAKING TESTIMONY.

Prof. Joseph A. Taff, chief coal geologist, was the solitary witness called in the fuel cases started before S. H. Morris, master in chancery yesterday.

These are the cases against the Club Fuel company, allied concerns and attaches, charged with circumventing the law in the acquisition of coal lands.

Thousands of acres of coal lands were taken up—the government alleges unlawfully inasmuch as it was filed upon before the mineral claim was filed.

and the record of each of those flourishing States in mining, agriculture, stock raising and all other branches of trade and finance will be brought down to date.

CHRISTMAS NEWS PRIZES

In conformity with its custom in the past, which has proved so popular with the public the Deseret News announces the following prizes for its Christmas issue:

First—A prize of $50 cash for the best Christmas story submitted, not to exceed 8,000 words, about seven columns, or one page of the Deseret News.

Second—A prize of $25 cash for the best Christmas poem, not to exceed 1,200 words.

The competition will close on Nov. 15, 1907. All stories and poems submitted must be addressed to the Deseret News, Christmas Department, Salt Lake City, Utah. They must be signed with a nom de plume, or a fictitious name and a separate envelope must be forwarded containing the real name of the author.

Manuscripts not accepted will be returned on receipt of postage.

AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—There was small suggestion of financial stringency at the Salt Lake Theater last night. With prices advanced 100 per cent the piece was packed from top to bottom, and a more fashionable and brilliant audience has not assembled since the appearance of the Savage Opera company in "Madam Butterfly." The evening was one of rare delight through Fritz Scheff himself is a comic opera star of the first magnitude and she twinkles with a brilliancy very reminiscent of Almee in her best days. Her voice, and her methods, and especially her dresses, are Parisian from the ground up. Miss Scheff is the embodiment of all that is comprised in the word "show," she has some brilliant soprano notes, and some that might be more brilliant if she used less of the vibrato. Her gowns are superb, of sumptuous fabrics, and children for several years and like it very much. I think it is the only remedy for crowd and can highly recommend it, for sale by all druggists.

A Reliable Remedy for Crowd.

Deputy Marshal Prevented by Death From Serving Two Summons.

In the long experience of Capt. L. H. Smyth, chief deputy to United States Marshal William Smyth, there occasionally comes something new. His trip south last week brought out two new circumstances that are somewhat unique in his career as one of Uncle Sam's minions of the law. While he was on his way to serve a subpoena, his passage through a country street was stopped for a few moments by a funeral procession. Deputy Smyth was on the way to serve a subpoena at the time and as the cortego passed him, he incurred the wrath of a small boy, of which there are many in the particular part of the country in which Mr. Smyth was traveling, whose funeral it was. The boy answered the name of the very man upon whom Deputy Smyth was about to serve court papers.

He hastened on to another town and upon reaching the home of the man upon whom he wished to make service, he found that he, too, was dead. The advance of the funeral train was the cause of his delay.

CURES WINTER COUGH.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and then to have all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Honey Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubled her, two or three drops of the syrup would quiet it.
