WEIGHTY—The reasons for adding marble dust, alum, starch, flour, etc., to baking powders, are to make them weighty, and thus add to profit. It would be well for housekeepers to know that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is free from these adulterants, hence the purest and most economical. As two teaspoonfuls go as far as three teaspoonfuls of the heavy kinds, and as baking powders are used by teaspoonfuls and not by weight, the saving in this direction is no small item.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder and his True Flavors and Extracts are beyond all question the best and most perfect of anything in the market. To insure certainty, buy Dr. Price's Powder only in cans.

IMPORTANT TO THE TRAVELING PUBLIC.

It is the duty of all persons before starting on a journey to ascertain by what route they can reach their destination with the least trouble, and if there are two or more roads leading to the same point, to decide which is the safest and most pleasant to travel.

We take pleasure in stating that the CHICAGO & NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY is the oldest, and several miles the shortest, route between Omaha and Chicago. Within the past two years the road has been put in admirable condition, and almost the entire line has been re-laid with steel rails.

The Depot in Chicago is centrally located, and as their trains arrive there thirty minutes in advance of all other lines, passengers can always be sure of making Eastern connections.

Close connections are made at Chicago with the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago, Kansas City, Line and Pan Handle Routes, at all points EAST and SOUTH-EAST.

If you are going to Chicago, or East, you should by all means purchase your tickets by the Old Pioneer Route—

The Chicago and North-Western.

You will find on all through trains Pullman Sleepers, new and magnificent Day Coaches, and the best Smoking and Second Class Cars now on any route in the United States.

Particular information with maps, time tables, etc., may be had at any of the Through Ticket Offices in the West, or upon personal or written application to J. W. Irons, Ticket Agent, Salt Lake City, A. H. Earl, Ticket Agent at Ogden, or to J. H. Mountain, Western Traveling Agent, Omaha, Neb., or to W. H. Stennett, General Passenger Agent, Chicago. d154

Benefit of Miss Della Clawson.—The Theatre will be open on Saturday evening for the benefit of Miss Della Clawson. This talented, intelligent and accomplished young lady is one of the most promising members of the dramatic company. Having trod the stage from a tender age, she has acquired an ease on the boards and a familiarity with dramatic matters which become like second nature. She is a rising young actress and is perfectly at home on the stage. Moreover, she has manifested great willingness to play for the benefit of others, and has many friends in the company as well as among the general public, who will all be eager to muster in force to honor her on Saturday evening.

Nearly Drowned.—On Sunday a number of children were crossing City Creek, which is now considerably swollen, immediately after President Young's saw-mill, on a narrow plank. One of the little ones, an eight-year old daughter of Mr. Olf Hammer, fell into the stream and was carried down by the swift current. Fortunately Mr. W. D. Williams happened to be near by, heard the child scream, and ran to her rescue. He succeeded in extricating her from her perilous position. He was just in time, for when he reached her only her toes were visible above water, and when taken out she was insensible, but was subsequently resuscitated.

Parents should be careful not to allow their children to play near City Creek, as there is danger in it.

That Jubilee.—We understand that arrangements have been made to convey the Sunday School children of the various churches of Utah County to American Fork, on June 1st, on the occasion of the proposed grand jubilee to be held there in honor of the birthday of President Brigham Young.

We understand also that special arrangements have been made whereby a limited number can be conveyed to American Fork on that interesting occasion from this city, but all desirous of availing themselves of the opportunity, so far as the special arrangements are concerned, must make early application to George Goddard, Assistant Superintendent Sunday School Union.

Silk Culture.—A few gentlemen and ladies interested in this important industry have recently taken the preliminary steps towards the organization of a sericultural society in this Territory, the leading object of which will be the diffusion of information on the subject. The projectors of the proposed association intend encouraging the raising of silkworms and the reeling of silk here, instead of merely producing and exporting the eggs.

A meeting, of notice of which will be given, of parties interested in sericulture will be held in about a couple of weeks from now, when it is probable a permanent organization will be effected.

There is a number of practical silk-reelers in this Territory, and in the meantime it is desirable that those capable of operating in that branch should report themselves to Mr. Paul A. Schettler, of this city, who is temporary secretary for the association.

A Beaily Outrage.—Mrs. Heath, eighty-two years old, and Mrs. Rance and family live in the same house, in different rooms, in the 10th Ward. About midnight last night, Mrs. Rance heard the old lady screaming for help, and opened the door of her room, which communicated with that occupied by Mrs. Heath. "What is the matter?" said Mrs. Rance. "There is a man here," was the answer, and, sure enough, a man jumped from the bed and rushed to the door, which Mrs. Rance held open. The latter jammed the door to, to prevent him gaining ingress to her room, but the fellow succeeded in getting one leg in, which prevented the door being closed. Then a fierce struggle commenced between the two, the lady trying to hold the door so as to prevent the scoundrel getting into the room, and he to gain an entrance. The fellow had the advantage and the brave little woman had to give way. After this, the scoundrel entered the room, seized hold of Mrs. Rance, who must have exercised almost superhuman strength. She tore his clothing and fought with him most desperately. He placed his knee upon her side and hurt her considerably.

Seeing their mother thus attacked, Mrs. Rance's children, one a brave little fellow of six years, and a girl nine years old, flew at the beastly scoundrel and fought and tore at him. He knocked the little girl down, and she received an injury in one of her arms by the fall.

The fellow, finding that he had met with a brave woman who had the ability and determination to protect herself, and finding that he was unable to accomplish his brutal purpose, finally left.

The screams of Mrs. Rance were heard by James Woods and Thos. Shreve, who were on guard, and they immediately hastened toward the spot whence the sound proceeded, when they met a man at the corner of the block, bare-headed and with his clothing torn, disarranged and open. Thomas Shreve, who reached him first, commanded him to hold up his hands, at the same moment catching him with a pistol, when Mr. Woods darted forward and collared him. The fellow protested that he had not been doing anything wrong, but the guard took him back with them to the scene of the outrage, when the scoundrel, whose name is Nephri Vaughan, was identified by Mrs. Rance as the villain who made the attack upon Mrs. Heath and herself.

The guard who made the arrest found, on their arrival at the scene of the outrage, that Dr. F. D. Benedict and a couple of young men, named respectively Wilson and Ritter, had reached there before them, they also being on guard in another part of the Ward, and hearing the screams had immediately run to discover what was the matter.

Old Mrs. Heath was so excited and nervous over the affair that the guard subsequently found her on the streets wrapped in a sheet, afraid to remain in her room, and it was with some difficulty that she was prevailed upon to re-enter it.

The prisoner was brought to the City Hall by Dr. Benedict and his two companions, and he was placed in jail to await his examination.

Since the foregoing was written, the investigation of the case was held, this afternoon, before Justice Pyper, when the circumstances above narrated were substantiated, the proof against the accused, who is a low, ignorant, brutal looking fellow, was most conclusive, and Justice Pyper decided that he be held in $1,500 bonds, and in default that he be committed to jail, to await the action of the grand jury.

During the examination Mrs. Rance produced a piece of the prisoner's coat, which she had torn off in the struggle with him, and his cap was subsequently found in Mrs. Heath's bed.

The worst kind of a fate is no better than such a fellow deserves, and had he been caught at his brutal work a dose from a shotgun would have been in order.

This and other such circumstances should be sufficient to put citizens upon their guard against such characters without it being necessary for us to reiterate the advice we have previously given on the subject.

General Holiday.—Next Monday, day after Decoration Day, bids fair for being observed as a general holiday. The stores of Z. C. M. I., Walker Brothers, Jennings, Sons and Sadler, Taylor & Cutler, Lewis Cohn, Day & Co., G. W. Davis and nearly all other leading places of business will be closed.

Silk.—Justice Pyper takes much interest in the subject of silk raising, and has a cocoonery, which is under the management of his son, who has produced this season 30,000 worms of the very best quality, which are doing well, and are from the fourth year's eggs.

Ports of Entry and Exportation.—A Sankey Rock discovered.

WASHINGTON, 25.—The Secretary of the Treasury directs that the ports of Port Huron and Detroit, Mich., and Duluth, Minnesota, shall be and the same are designated as ports at which combined entries for transportation and exportation of goods and merchandise arriving at those ports and destined for Victoria, Vancouver's Island, via San Francisco, under the forms and conditions specified in chapter 1874, with this modification, however, that in connection with such entries, such an examination of the goods in the manufacture of such goods as shipped shall be had as will insure the accurate identification of their contents, and afford a proper basis for fixing the penalties of transportation and export bonds. These precautions are deemed necessary on account of the impracticability of transporting such goods from either of the above ports of departure to San Francisco in a sealed car without removing the seal and breaking bulk.

The Secretary of the Treasury decides that under the act admitting free duty machinery for use in the manufacture of jute and flax, on and after July 1st, 1875, only such machinery as is admitted in the U. S. on and after July 1st can be delivered free of duty, and this does not include machinery admitted in the U. S. before that date, and then remaining in the custody of the customs officers.

Gen. Sherman Bradford, assistant of the U. S. coast survey, reports the discovery, in the side of Blunt's Reef, of Cape Mendocino, Cal., of a sunken rock, with six feet of it at most low water. There is no help about it, and its summit is only from two to three feet in diameter, soundings almost invariably descending to nine and fifteen fathoms on all sides. This rock lies one and seven-tenths miles S. W., and three-quarters of a mile west from the Cape Mendocino. It is named after the sugar loaf Rock, half way between the summit and base, which is the lighthouse and point of land at Centerville showing half way between a small rock inside of the false cape rock and the point and land at the outer edge of the woods on the point of land at Centerville. The character of this danger, with others, is described and the possibility that more may exist, renders navigation between Blunt's Reef and Cape Mendocino extremely hazardous, and it should not be attempted unless in charge of a skilful local pilot. Vessels bound around Cape Mendocino should pass two miles to the westward of Blunt's Reef. The dangers of Cape Mendocino are characteristic of several points on the coast of California and Oregon, and until full surveys are made and sailing directions given, vessels should not attempt the passage inside of the outlying rocks, and should give these latter a good berth.
