Victoria, E. C., March 3.-The Ger-man dredge Fruhling, the first dredger to cross the Pacific, reached port last night from Kiel by way of Algiers, Sa-bang and Moji, where calls were made for coal on the world-circling cruise, bound to the Fraser river to be de-livered by Capt. H. K. Lausen to the Canadian government, which pur-chased the auction dredger at a cost of $250,000 to deepen the Fraser river to 20 feet between New Westminster and the gulf.

Dr. J. L. Howard Says He Was Of-

arrested about 10 years ago on an embezzlemene charge which was after-ward dismissed. Goodwin told the police that he was kept in an intoxicated condition for many days. He believed that several of his checks signed during this time had been raised in value and collected and that he had been entineed into signing numerous papers, the con-tents of which he was ignorant. In proof of this the police have secured a duly attested power of attorney whereby Goodwin appoints O'Loane his attorney in fact empowering him to sell any or all property: and also a paper empowering O'Loan to nego-tiate loans on Goodwin's mining pro-perties. Goodwin and that these were signed while he was drunk. Mrs. Edith O'Loane, wife of one of the alleged conspirators, says she knew nothing of any plot, and was innocent of any wrong intention. She was ex-cluded from the room, she asserts, when the power of attorney was signed.

when the power of attorney tas signed. Notwithstanding her protestations of innocence, Mrs. O'Loane was placed under screet this afternoon, the dectec-tives being convinced that she had not told all she knows of the affair. The two men asked the landlady of the house where they lived, Miss Esther Gode, for a key to the old miner's room on Saturday, saying they wanted to lock him in. She refused to do so until her suspicions were allayed by the statement that they feared he might wander away while under the influence of liquor. STORY SUBSTANTIATED.
