5 O'clock ~EDITION.~

TRUTH AND LIBERTY.

NO. 206 FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1895, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH. VOL. XXVIII.

SIGNAL FIRES.

Indian Messages Blazing on the Mountains.

SALT LAKERS GO HOME.

A Bad Band of Bannocks Gone to the Scene of Trouble.

THE HOSTILES DEFY THE POLICE.

A Disastrous Conflict May Occur at Any Moment—The Situation Not Improving.

Special Dispatch to the NEWS.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 26.—Signal fires are lighted on the mountains. The Indians send ponies back for more bucks.

SALT LAKERS RETURN.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 26.—Hoyt Sherman's family and other Salt Lake people who are sojourning in this section for pleasure will return home on account of the Indian scare.

NO IMPROVEMENT IN THE SITUATION.

By Associated Press.

POCATELLO, Idaho, July 26.—The situation in northwestern Wyoming, where the Indians are on the warpath, is not improved today.

Adjutant General Stitzer, Wyoming, is hourly expecting to hear that a conflict has occurred between the settlers and Indians in Jackson Hole valley.

A band of Bannock Indians, under the leadership of Jim Ballard, has started north toward the seat of trouble. If they reach the belligerents in Fall River valley before troops get there, and they undoubtedly will, the result may be disastrous. Ballard's band is composed of the worst element of the Bannock tribe.

HOSTILES DEFY THE POLICE.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Indian Agent Teter, of Fort Hall, Idaho, Indian reservation, today wired Commissioner Browning that the policemen sent after the Indians positively refuse to return to the reservation. The agent asks permission to accompany the United States troops to the scene of the disturbance. The authority has been granted.

SETTLERS WELL ARMED.

HELENA, Mont., July 26.—General Brooke, commander of the department of the Platte, is in Helena today.

T. E. Crawford, a ranchman, just from Jackson Hole, says the settlers are well armed and able to resist the Indians until the troops arrive. Crawford says the treaty allowing the Indians to hunt applies only to Shoshones.

Susan B. Anthony Taken Sick.

LAKE SIDE, Ohio, July 26.—Susan B. Anthony had an attack of heart failure after speaking this morning.

The Ball Broke a Rib.

CHICAGO, July 26.—In the game with Philadelphia a week ago Wednesday, Allen was hit with a ball by Pitcher Taylor. He was struck just over the heart, and for several days afterward was so sore that he could barely move his arms. Last evening he consulted a doctor and found that one of his ribs was broken. The injury has been a very painful one and has interfered considerably with his playing.

Arrests in Ecuador.

NEW YORK, July 26.—A Herald dispatch from Panama says:

"A correspondent in Guayaquil, Ecuador, telegraphs that the press and citizens, having demanded with great insistence the arrest of certain members of General Alfaro's administration, the provisional president has been compelled to order the arrest of more than twenty leading men of the opposition, although contrary to his policy. The men arrested were caught conspiring to bring about a counter revolution, of which the former dictator Vasconcillo, was the leader.

Yale-Harvard Football Match.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 26.—Arthur B. Foote, manager of the Yale football eleven, passed through this city on his way to Southampton, where he will participate in the annual tennis tournament. He was asked about the recently published story regarding a Yale-Harvard football match and a general athletic reconciliation, he said:

"There is no truth in it so far as I know. I have seen George Adee and other Yale athletic advisers, and they also say that they know nothing of them. I do not believe that Yale and Harvard will play football together this fall."

Bridge Washed Away.

SYRACUSE, Kas., July 26.—The bridge across the Arkansas river here was washed away by a sudden rise of the river last night.

Attempted to Kill Her Children.

TACOMA, Wn., July 26.—Mrs. Elizabeth Wing ur, of Lake Bay made a desperate attempt last night to murder her two daughters, aged 7 and 10 years respectively. While the children were sleeping the mother went to their bedside and attacked them with a hatchet, cutting and hacking them with the strength born of insanity. The children struggled for their lives and succeeded in escaping out of doors. With gashes in their heads, arms and bodies, with blood flowing from the wounds and with nothing but their night clothes to cover them, they sought refuge at the house of a neighbor a mile away. Mrs. Willgraw will probably be sent to an asylum, as it has been known for some time that she was insane.

Mexicans Seize British Property.

MOBILE, Ala., July 26.—A newspaper from Belize, British Honduras, brings the first news of the seizure on Bacalar lagoon, Hondo river, the dividing line between Honduras and Yucatan, of two logwood boats and a quantity of logwood belonging to British subjects. The seizure was made by a Mexican war vessel for alleged violations of police regulations. In leaving those waters on July 13 the war vessel passed between two islands belonging to Great Britain and therefore passed through British territorial waters. The question raised is whether this act can be justified. It will be brought to the attention of the home government.

NOT BONES OF PAUPERS.

Trying to Account for the Skeletons in the Holmes' "Castle."

The Latest Developments in the Celebrated Murder Case.

CHICAGO, July 26.—Thomas Freeman, agent for the Chicago Demonstrators' association, said last night that in his opinion the bones found in the Holmes' "castle," in Englewood, were those of bodies that had been shipped to Chicago. He said all the bodies of pauper dead in the county passed through his hands, and that it would have been impossible for Holmes to have obtained a cadaver without his knowledge.

Quinlan and Owens had another "sweat box" experience last night and when they left the Central station they were under guard of two police officers. Chief Badenoch and Inspector Fitzpatrick, both insist that the men are not under arrest, but it was noticed that extra precautions had been taken to prevent their escape and also to keep anyone from conversing with them. Both men were nervous and ill at ease, and plainly showed that they are beginning to appreciate the position in which recent developments in the Holmes case have placed them. Both have given the police new information and while the officers admit that it is of importance, they say that it is of such a nature that it cannot be made known at present. The two men will be questioned further today, and they will remain in custody until the police are satisfied that they have told all they know.

The human bones and other articles, including a gold watch chain identified by Jeweler Davis as one worn by Minnie Williams, found a few days ago in the stove in Holmes's office, No. 701 Sixty-third street, have been turned over to Detective Sergeant Fitzpatrick, by Manager Gary of the Fidelity Insurance company. In the box which was locked in the vault in Inspector Fitzpatrick's private office there are twelve or fifteen bones of a human skeleton. The company is the same that Holmes swindled out of $10,000 when he is supposed to have murdered Pietzel. In the stove were found also two dozen tintypes, but all traces of the portraits which they bore have been destroyed by fire. Several hooks and eyes, such as are used in women's clothes were also found.

THE WILLIAMS GIRLS' PROPERTY.

William Capps, of the legal firm of Capps & Canley, of Fort Worth, Texas, is in Chicago in the interest of the heirs of the Williams sisters. He has obtained copies of the deeds by which they transferred their property, and he claims that their names were forged. Evidence has been collected he says, which will prove conclusively that the girls were murdered before July 12, the date appended to the deeds. He thinks they were put out of the way about July 4. He has been investigating the property at Willamette, and says it is still in the name of Minnie Williams. Residents of that suburb are considerably aroused by a rumor that Mrs. Holmes is about to move away from Willamette. It was reported that a load of boxes had been carted away from the house about daybreak. Another rumor revives interest in the Wheeler tragedy that has never been fully explained. After the murder of Wheeler's mother-in-law the suspicion ran directly toward the Holmes residence and that house is now connected with the killing of Mrs. Graw.

ONE OF THE VICTIMS.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 26.—Emeline Cigrande, a reported victim of Holmes, is well known here. She went to Dwight, Ill., in 1891, where she was a stenographer. Later friends were informed by her that she was with the A. B. C. Copying company of Sixty-fifth street, Chicago, and was soon to marry the manager, Robert E. Phelps. This marriage, according to cards received here, took place in December, 1892. Since then, her Lafayette friends have had no trace of her.

A BENCH WITH BLOOD STAINS.

CHICAGO, July 26.—One of the important finds made by the police today in the search of the Holmes "castle" was a bench covered with blood stains. It was found in a vacant store room next to the apartment in which Pat Quinlan slept.

It is believed Holmes used the bench as an operating table on which he dismembered the victims before disposing of their bodies.

THE TRINIDAD AFFAIR.

Brazilians Much Excited and Refuse to Abandon the Island.

NEW YORK, July 26.—A Herald special from Buenos Ayres says: A correspondent in Rio Janeiro telegraphs that the people of Brazil are greatly excited because of the occupation of the island of Trinidad by the British. It is alleged that the reply of the British minister to the Brazilian government relative to the Trinidad affair was couched in insolent terms. It declares that Trinidad will be held by the British and that England intends to prevent any other nation possessing the island, which she needs for a coaling station.

The Brazilian minister of foreign affairs replied that he regarded this note as offensive. He declared that Brazil would never abandon her right to the island.

Meetings of civilians and officers of the army and navy are being held, and are calling upon the government to make an immediate protest against Great Britain's act.

The Herald's correspondent in Montevideo sends word that Uruguay intends to post a military guard on the island of Gorilla, off the port of Maldonado, which has been long deserted, in order to prevent its occupation by the British. Gorilla lies in the route of the proposed cable from Madeira, via Trinidad, to the river Plate.

The Russian consul general says that neither the government nor Argentina has any concern relative to the Baron Hirsch Jewish colonies. He says the colonists are treated with every kindness by the Argentine officials.

The only discord among the colonists is due to the course of a Lutheran [illegible] the dismissal of the chief manager. They have no complaints to make against Argentina.

REBEL HEADQUARTERS.

Cuban Patriots Establish Offices in New York.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The Cuban patriots now have a national headquarters in New York. In the past the headquarters of the revolutionary party in this country has not been a settled one. The Fifth Avenue hotel, where General Rafael de Quesada lives, was one favorite gathering place. After the election of Senor Palma as national delegate, his home at Central Valley was a Mecca for the faithful. Then Senor Palma came to the city and made his headquarters at the Hotel America. Last night new and permanent headquarters were opened at No. 66 Broadway. This is to be Delegate Palma's office. Senor Palma says:

"The opening of headquarters is no intimation of the neutrality laws. We are not carrying on any intrigue, enlisting men or raising money. The idea is to systematize the work and give it an air of business. There is such an enormous amount of correspondence and also so many inquiries to be answered that it is better to have some known headquarters. The war is now in Cuba fairly. The island is in an uproar from end to end, and we want to help all we can with our moral support."

Dallas is the Place.

DALLAS, Tex., July 26.—The final settling upon Dallas as the place of the fight is the theme on all tongues today. The contract for the coliseum will be let today and work begun on it as soon as material begins to arrive from the east Texas saw mills. There is not enough lumber in town to build it, and hence one or two saw mills will have to be called into service. The Florida Athletic club has received a letter from a New York bank president for seats for a party of twenty Wall street operators. Another letter asks for fifty seats for members of the Chicago board of trade.

Colorado, Wyoming and Utah Railway.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 26.—The Colorado, Wyoming and Utah Railway company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The capital stock is $5,000,000.

Banks Must Pay License.

CHICAGO, July 26.—City Collector Moss has found a way to make banks help support the city government. The way lies through an old ordinance which has never been enforced. Among those compelled to pay license fees to the city for the privilege of doing business it specifies "banks, brokers, commission merchants, grain and produce dealers, real estate and insurance agents."

National banks are exempt, but notices have gone to all the others. The fee is $25 a year. This means an additional revenue of $25,000.

Killed by a Mine Explosion.

BOCHUM, Westphalia, July 26.—An explosion occurred yesterday in the Prince Von Curson mine. The bodies of thirty-two victims have already been recovered. A number of persons are still missing. Search parties are experiencing much difficulty in exploring the mine. In addition to the killed, nine men were severely burned.

PERSIANS IN ARMS.

Sanguinary Conflicts With Turks Reported from Constantinople.

PARIS, July 26.—A dispatch from Constantinople says sanguinary conflicts have taken place between Turks and Persians on the Persian frontier.

Republican National Convention.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 26.—Joseph H. Manley, discussing the report that the Republican National committee would meet in Washington early in November to decide the time and place of the next Republican National convention, said he had heard nothing. He prefers to hold the convention on the Pacific coast, as a trip across the continent would be educative. He expressed himself in favor of holding a convention after the Democratic convention. "The Democratic party is now in power and should be the first to announce its platform and candidates," he added.

Con. Sullivan Pardoned.

DENVER, July 26.—Con. Sullivan, alias A. B. Henderson, who killed Clarence Barr, a Chinatown guide in San Francisco, served nearly ten years in the Colorado penitentiary for shooting Jack Lessit through the hand at Granite. He was pardoned just before his sentence expired.

Racing Across the Atlantic.

SOUTHAMPTON, July 26.—The United States cruiser Columbia sailed for New York at 12:20 on a speed test across the Atlantic.

Lady Charged with Forgery.

LONDON, July 26.—Lady Francis Rose Gunning, widow of Rev. Sir Henry Gunning, fourth baronet of that name, who died in 1885, was charged today with forging a bill of exchange, using the name of her father, William Henry Spencer.

REBELLION IN CHINA.

Surmises as to the Future of the Vast Asiatic Empire.

LI HUNG CHANG'S DAYS NUMBERED

Story of a Prophetic Book—Discontent and Superstition Among the Masses.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 26.—Ho Tong, a Chinese banker of Hong Kong who figured in the unsuccessful negotiations in England to float the Chinese war loan, arrived from the Orient on the steamer City of Pekin and is en route to New York and London. In discussing the effects of the war, he says the official days of Li Hung Chang are numbered and inclines to the belief that the country may be engulfed in a revolution. He cases his prediction of internal strife not only upon the general discontent of the people but upon the superstition of the masses.

"If a revolution does arise," he said, "I think a little book published about 400 years ago will be one of the causes in an indirect way. For centuries the book has been prohibited publication or circulation, and yet a great many people know its contents. Lau Pak Wong, a prophet and a grand secretary under the Ming dynasty, the one that immediately preceded the existing Ching dynasty, was the author of the book and he wrote it in answer to a question put to him by the first emperor of the present dynasty. Familiar with history and having faith in its lessons, he thought that as other dynasties had arisen, flourished and then disappeared from the scene of political life in China his also would some day follow the same course. So he asked the professor how long his dynasty would live. It was in answer to this question that the book was written. It contained prophecies and hints of what the future would bring forth and among other things predicted that the dynasty would disappear during this century. Some prophecies in the book have practically come to pass, a fact that has impressed itself on many a superstitious mind. It is for this reason the book may have a great influence at this late day upon the masses, if circumstances are propitious at the time of any incipient uprising. Still I would be surprised to hear of a revolution. The best thought of the nation desires to rehabilitate the country and its interests in a peaceful manner under the Ching dynasty."

Li Hung Chang's enormous wealth, Ho Tung says, has much to do with the great viceroy's declining popularity. Besides this is a stain on the honor of the family, as the viceroy's brother was compelled to resign from office on account of a general belief that he was corrupt. The Chinese believe Li Hung Chang is the richest man in the world and that his wealth has much to do with his tenacious grip on office. Expressed in American money he is supposed to be worth $500,000,000. He is the owner of great rice fields and innumerable pawnshops, the latter being considered good and very profitable investments. They are licensed by the government and are numbered by the thousands. There are, as a matter of fact, in the nature of great banking institutions with an enormous percentage of profit.

Ho Tung says that John W. Foster, who was one of China's representatives in the recent treaty negotiations with Japan, was paid $100,000 for his services by Li Hung Chang.

Cuban Insurgents Again Defeated.

HAVANA, July 26.—Lieutenant Colonel Tejeda, of the guerilla forces, routed the insurgents near San Luis province of Santiago de Cuba. The insurgents left fourteen dead, and retired with the wounded. The troops lost three killed, nine wounded and captured some ammunition.

Lieutenant Colonel Tejada, with a detachment of the antiquary battalion and a body of Guerillas while returning to Santa Barbara met the insurgents, commanded by Quintin Bader. The Spanish commander attacked the insurgents and after a sharp engagement dispersed them in all directions with a loss of forty killed and wounded. On the side of the troops, Major Franco and Captain Lopez were wounded, and five privates killed, and seven wounded. The guerilla forces have had a brush with the insurgents in the Rio Seco district. As a result the latter lost two killed.

A Negro Mafia.

CINCINNATI, July 26.—In investigating the poisoning of George Washington Christopher Columbus Bell, who died Friday soon after eating a piece of watermelon, detectives have unearthed facts which lead them to believe there is a negro Mafia here, the object of which is to put out of the way persons who incur the ill will of members. Witnesses at the inquest uniformly showed a desire to conceal whatever they knew about the case.

Deluged by Oil.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 26.—One of the deepest oil wells in the city, located at the corner of Hobart and West State streets, has suddenly started "gushing" oil at such a rate that it cannot be kept under control. It has overrun the neighborhood and is still flowing. The output is estimated by experts to be about 300 barrels per day. A number of owners of wells in the vicinity whose property has been yielding fair returns have decided to stop operations and dig deeper.

Body of a Missing Girl Found.

BOSTON, July 26.—The body of Alberta Stewart, a 15-year-old school girl who disappeared from her home, 29 Myrtle street, yesterday afternoon, was found in the Charles river today. Medical Examiner Harris found evidence that she was criminally assaulted, it is believed she was thrown into the water while unconscious.

The Stillwell Murder Case.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Hannibal, Mo., says: When Dick Stillwell and wife, accompanied by Mrs. Susie Hayward, arrived from Chicago yesterday, it was generally understood that Mrs. Hayward would testify before the grand jury in the Stillwell murder case. A subpoena was issued today for Mrs. Hayward. She was examined by Prosecuting Attorney H. Clay Heather over two hours. It is thought she made some startling revelations.

It is not known how many more witnesses are to be examined.

Prosecuting Attorney Heather said: "There is evidence that the grand jury can obtain, which never has been brought to the attention of any former jury and which was not brought out in the depositions recently taken in the libel suit."

Corbett's Divorce Case.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The hearing of the Corbett divorce case was resumed today before Referee James Jay. H. Wilson, a member of the dramatic company of which the pugilist was the star, testified that the woman known as Vera traveled with the company as Mrs. Corbett. He also swore Corbett and Vera occupied the same rooms at the Burnett house, Cincinnati, Palace hotel, Medina, Wis., and Hotel La Crosse, Wis. This closed the case for the plaintiff. A motion by counsel for Corbett to dismiss the suit, alleging that plaintiff's allegations had not been sustained by the evidence was overruled by the referee.

California Fruit in London.

LONDON, July 26.—Sixteen hundred cases of California fruit which arrived in Southampton from New York by the steamship St. Louis at 3:15 yesterday, were sold at auction at Covent Garden, fetching prices half below those of last week. Plums averaged 2s 10d a case; peaches 2s pence 11s 7c. There was a large crowd of buyers. The auctioneer first sold 33 cases of plums packed by a fruit company in San Jose, and was obliged to use a great deal of labor to sell them at 2s 9d a case. He explained that the last lot of fruit came over in the refrigerator compartments of the steamer Paris and, as a consequence, turned dark when exposed to the air. The present goods, he assured the prospective buyers, were in better shape. The second lot of plums sold at 3s 9d a case.

Crawford peaches, packed by the National Fruit company, Riverside, sold readily at 4s 9d. Here the sale languished, but the auctioneer urged the crowd to buy, saying the last lot of fruit was picked too soon and the present lot was of better size.

Under that stimulus, White sold 150 cases of pears, which brought 9s a case. Then he auctioned off a lot of pears that brought 13s a case.

St. Louis Democrats Disagree.

ST. LOUIS, July 26.—The Democratic city central committee has split on the question of primaries for the selection of delegates to the state silver convention at Pertle Springs, August 6th. Ten committeemen refuse to participate in the primaries on the ground that the convention is not called as a Democratic convention, but for the avowed purpose of promoting unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

Fighting in Salvador.

NEW YORK, July 26.—A World dispatch from San Salvador says: Troops have been hurriedly sent to Sonsonate, as fighting began there again on Monday, and continues.

The rebels have forced the garrison to abandon the town and go to Acajutla to prevent the report of the landing of a revolutionary expedition.

Killed in His Own House.

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 26.—After a battle of three quarters of an hour, during which he stood off three officers trying to arrest him last night for beating his wife, John Spelley, of Union Hill, was killed in his own house. Spelley was the most desperate man in New Jersey.

Divorce Proceedings and Business.

TRENTON, N. J., July 26.—Mrs. Augusta Colgate today began proceedings for divorce from M. H. Colgate, member of the New York banking and brokerage firm of Nesslage, Colgate & Co. Mrs. Colgate alleges her husband is living in New York with Belle Bassell. The firm has been dissolved because of the divorce proceedings.

AMONG THE CITY SPORTS.

Another Lively Athletic Exhibition on the Tapis—Jim Williams After Reddy Gallagher.

The Salt Lake Athletic club managers are quietly and earnestly endeavoring to present their patrons with another interesting exhibition in the near future. That they will succeed is reasonably certain. But as to who they will be instrumental in getting together is not at this time so certain. However, Harry Taylor, whose pugilistic superiority over the Black Prince was recently proved, it is understood has been approached and as a consequence is regarded as one of the possibilities. Now what is particularly wanted is complete negotiations is some man who is clever enough to make it tropical for him.

A great deal of talk has been indulged in by some of the fraternity as to the super excellence of Sam Clark as a "coming man." But it is not likely that there will be as much of it hereafter in consequence of the altogether clumsy and unscientific showing made at the last exhibition of the club when he ran up against Collins, the erstwhile Missouri middle weight champion who promised to give him $50 providing he would "stay" four rounds. The prompt action of the management in calling the affair off will probably teach the young man that pugilism for purses are not a part of the bill of fare offered by the Salt Lake Athletic club.

It is claimed for Henry Williams that he has fought his last fight and that hereafter he will allow his brother Jim to defend the family reputation in that regard. That conclusion was arrived at a week before he met Dan Cree. He announced that no matter which way the affair ended he would quit the business and if there was any wavering at that time it is said to have entirely disappeared now. The outcome was very much of a surprise to all of his friends and especially so to his brother Jim. Cree's victory was complete. In this connection there is a strong desire which will probably be followed up by an effort to have Ben Thompson return to Salt Lake and meet the little man from the north. If that is done the latter may depend upon it that he will have the battle of his life.

There was a very discernable anxiety manifest in certain quarters which were not considered friendly to Jim Williams some time ago to have him meet Collins, the Missouri-California colored man, in a finish contest. But that anxiety has apparently been dissipated, the last vestige of it having disappeared with the Utah man's victory over Maxima Poco. While Collins is larger than Jim and has proved himself to be anything but a novice, it seems that his backing has gone never to return. Under these circumstances there is a strong feeling abroad, to have Williams' matched with another brought here to meet the Utah champion as it is claimed he is a man that a certain element would be extraordinarily glad to see if they could bring about his defeat.

In the meantime Williams is looking around for game himself and having failed in his attempt to get Billy Woods to meet him has issued a challenge to Reddy Gallagher of Denver, as the following from a newspaper of that city over his signature shows: "To the Denver Times—I hereby challenge Reddy Gallagher to meet me in a contest, limited rounds or to a finish, for any side bet that he may want to put up, and before the club offering the largest purse. If he does not care to meet me in this way, I will meet in an exhibition with him before his own club. If he doesn't want to meet me under any circumstances, let him come out and say so.

JIM WILLIAMS."

Thatcher's Record Stands.

PHILADELPHIA, July 26.—Chairman Gideon of the L. A. W. racing board in his weekly racing bulletin issued today, states that the racing board has accepted these records:

One-third mile, class B, standing start, unpaced—By Frank Thatcher, Salt Lake City: 41 3-5.

Competition records made by W. F. Sims at Manhattan Beach, June 11, 1895, three miles, 8:03 2-5; four miles, 10:57; five miles, 13:47 2-5; six miles, 16:36 1-5; eight miles, 17:17 3-5; nine miles, 19:36 2-5.

ON THE MONEY QUESTION

Hon. J. L. Rawlins Speaks to the University Summer School on That Subject.

Last evening Hon. J. L. Rawlins addressed the University summer school, his theme being the money question.

He said that money was the great medium of exchange necessary to those who were united in society and were interested in the advancement of civilization. Without it all progression would be stayed. There are two great questions which confront us in the selection of our exchange. How are we to determine the quality, and how regulate the quantity to conform to the increasing demands of the people? Two general systems have been in vogue in supplying this medium of exchange. They were the fiat and the automatic systems. Legislation is the chief factor involved in the fiat system, which consists in the issuance of money which would only be of value, so long as the government which issued it, lasts. The automatic system consists in making money from the natural products of the earth, such as gold and silver, which has always been regarded as the most lasting and salient medium of exchange. The value of money is regulated by its purchasing power. Prices are made to conform to the quantity of money in circulation. The prosperity of nations has greatly depended upon the amount of gold and silver available. The necessity of studying and becoming acquainted with that which so greatly concerns our welfare, was impressed upon those assembled, after which he brought his remarks to a close.

Commissioner T. B. Lewis will deliver the next lecture of the series, on Thursday evening, Aug. 1st, his subject being, "The Duty of the Teacher to the State."

COUNTY SHORT BITS.

Another Good and Deep Well Driven—Preparing Tax Notices—Other Matters.

A. M. Anderson, the successful well-driver, reports that he has finished driving his third well for the county. This was driven on the corner of West Temple and Eleventh South. It is 2½ inch pipe and is down to the depth of 500 feet and the flow obtained is 30 gallons per minute. A watering trough will be placed there for the convenience of travelers very soon.

Today the county clerk issued a marriage license to a couple from Oakley, Cassia county, Idaho. The parties are Thomas Henry Tollis, aged 22, and Ella A. Shields, aged 19.

On the first Saturday in August and on every Saturday following the county offices will close at 3 o'clock. This is done that the departments may better finish the week's work.

The county collector has began to prepare the tax notices for the present year and they will be sent out during the latter part of next month.

Utah Lake Survey.

The party of surveyors who were going to Utah Lake this week to fix the exact edge of the lake and also to run the original government survey line, will not begin at present. If the city council accepts the compromise as the committee on municipal laws recommends, the survey will not be necessary.

DOCTORS IN COURT.

Restraining Order Asked Against the Medical Board,

BY THE "HUMAN MAGNET" CHIEF.

Arguments Made Before the Chief Justice Today—Other Legal Items.

The attendance of half a score of the leading physicians in town upon Chief Justice Merritt's court today was not owing to any physical ailment of the chief justice, who was slightly indisposed a short time since, but now is in better health. The reason for the medical men being out in force was a summons issued in the case of Robert W. Renwick vs the Utah board of medical examiners, composed of Drs. Allen Fowler, C. C. Bellnick, J. M. Dart, Joseph M. Richards, M. N. Graves, J. D. Cunningham and Samuel H. Allen.

The occasion of all the trouble was the making of an order by the medical board that Dr. Renwick appear and show cause why his license as a physician should not be revoked because of alleged unprofessional and dishonorable conduct. Dr. Renwick is chief of the Human Magnet company, members of which have been arrested for practicing medicine without a license, but who were acquitted by the jury when the case came to trial. It is stated that the unfavorable and unprofessional conduct complained against the defendant Renwick is the alleged fact contained in the glowing advertisements of the Magnets.

The case was argued today by Messrs. Waldo Murphy and Chas. C. Dey, the former insisting that an injunction to prevent the revocation of Dr. Renwick's license would be unlawful, and Mr. Dey urging with equal vehemence that a failure to grant an injunction would work a serious effect in the irreparable injury it would do the Magnets' chief representative.

The matter was taken under advisement by Judge Merritt.

OTHER COURT ITEMS.

The American Loan and Trust company has filed a petition to set aside the appointment, made by Judge Merritt on July 10, of Oliver Ames, second, and Edwin F. Atkins, to succeed A. O. Russell and H. S. Eldredge, deceased, as trustees of the mortgage on the Utah Central railway. The basis of the petition is that the Loan company is the owner of 993 bonds under the mortgage.

Caroline Chapman asks a divorce from Joseph Chapman on the ground of brutal treatment. The couple have seven children. The court issued an order forbidding the defendant to dispose of his property pending the suit.

THE EISTEDDFOD BOOMING.

Denver will Send a Choir of 100 Voices and Rock Springs a Band of 75 Pieces.

Secretary James, of the Cambrian association of Utah and adjacent states and territories, under whose auspices the big Eisteddfod contest and celebration is to be given in the Salt Lake Tabernacle on October 3rd and 4th, this morning received a telegram from H. J. Thomas, at Denver, to the effect that that city would send a choir of one hundred picked voices here to compete with other similar organizations for the prizes offered. He also asked that one hundred copies of the Song of Freedom and the Vale of Deseret be forwarded by mail at once as the Denver singers desire to commence learning the music without delay. The request was promptly attended to. The Denver choir will come here under the leadership of Professor Houseley, the Stephens of the Colorado metropolis.

The information has also been received that Rock Springs, Wyoming, proposes to be heard from as it will be represented at the great musical contest by a band of seventy-five pieces under the directorship of Professor John Young. A consolidated choir of one hundred voices will come from Evanston and Almy.

Pleasant Lady Teachers.

A party of pleasant lady teachers were escorted to the editorial sanctum of the NEWS today. They are a few of the many visiting pedagogues that have profited by a sojourn in Salt Lake on their trip across the continent during the summer vacation. The party was made of the following, all of whom expressed themselves as being highly delighted with this city, its beautiful surroundings and numerous resources: Dr. Sara J. Coe, Miss Minnie Austin, Miss L. Dougherty, Miss Lottie Holles and Miss Jennie Hannah. All of them came from Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania, and were former friends of Miss Robbins, who for the last few years has been connected with the Salt Lake City schools, and who accompanied them on their rounds about the city today. The ladies have a high appreciation of western life and adventure, and notwithstanding the reports of Indian depredations and slaughter of whites, will leave for the Yellowstone country on this evening's train.

Carnival Day.

On the evening of "Carnival Day," Wednesday, July 31, there will be a grand masquerade ball, at which, it is understood, $100 will be given away in prizes. Ellason, the well known prestidigitator, promises to present a new mystery in the afternoon and the correct solution of a doll puzzle will be shown.
