LOCAL BRIEFS.

Mr. G. G. Burton, former agent for Harpers Brothers' educational publications is in this city looking after the interests of some mining property here. He leaves tomorrow.

The prize-winners at last night's hard-time party in the Fifth ward meeting house, were Miss Lillie Winkless and Mr. Parley Wright. The ball was crowded and the affair was a grand success in every respect.

Another letter was received by the family of Hon. Francis Armstrong today stating that he was feeling very much better, that he continues to improve daily and that he expects to leave San Francisco for home on April 15.

The funeral of Antonio Magny, the aged Bingham miner, who died in this city on Wednesday last, will be conducted from O'Donnell's undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will take place at Mt. Calvary, the Catholic cemetery.

Mrs. L. C. Miller has been officiating at the organ during the revival services at the Congregational church, taking the place of Prof. Radcliffe, who is temporarily absent from the city. Mrs. Miller's work has been admirably done and has won warm praises for her from those in attendance.

Mrs. James Ray, and Miss Josephine Lindberg, formerly of Tooele, died suddenly after a very brief illness at her residence, 152 north First West street, last evening. The deceased was widely known in this city and had many friends who will mourn with sorrow the tidings of her death. She was 55 years of age.

A committee, of which Spencer Clawson is chairman, has been appointed by the Utah Historical society to obtain a convenient place in which to exhibit some of the valuable relics that were displayed during the Pioneer Jubilee. It has been suggested that space might be secured in the library rooms at the city and county building, as the rooms will be open to the public at all reasonable hours.

A serious accident happened yesterday afternoon at Tintic, when Charles Brown, a miner in the employ of the Grand Central, was injured quite badly. Some giant caps exploded, cutting his face and injuring one eye. It is believed that the eyesight is not destroyed. The wounded man was removed to the Knight hospital at Eureka, where he is receiving every attention. He was resting quietly at a late hour today.

An entertainment somewhat out of the ordinary is now running at the Riverside ward assembly hall, tonight will somewhat be the last, which has been very successful. The main features are, The Children's Opera, The Meeting of All Nations, the Japanese fan drill by 12 young ladies, living pictures, etc., the Marbella Quartette, by girls as a conclusion. The affair is under the management of the Y. L. M. I. A. and Parker's orchestra furnishes the music. Miss Maggie Livingstone accompanies.

Mr. F. M. Tingey of the civil service department at Washington, D. C., is today, in connection with Oscar Wilkins, secretary of the local board, holding an examination in the Federal court room of a considerable number of young ladies and gentlemen, who are anxious to enlist in the departmental and railway mail service. Quite a few ancient persons present to-day. Two are taking the railroad mail service examination; one is a compositor, four for department clerks; and three for stenography and typewriting. There are ladies among the number. Mr. Tingey is of the opinion that the examination will occupy a period of several days.

MOODY IS HERE AND PREACHING.

Came in This Afternoon, About Five Hours Late.

HIS TRAIN WAS DELAYED.

Immediately Driven to the Congregational Church, Where He Spoke to a Large Assembly.

There was one more interruption today in the plans connected with the revival of Light in Zion. Mr. Moody, the famous evangelist—he didn't come. This is he didn't come when the committee on reception went to the depot to meet him. Its truth was the honest fact. As a result there was complete disappointment among friends and advisers who confidently expected to meet and quietly chat with the great preacher during the day.

But Mr. Moody finally came. The Southern Pacific train on which he was belated connected with the Oregon Short Line at Ogden, reaching this city at 3:10. A carriage was in waiting for him at the depot and he was quickly driven to the Congregational Church on Fourth East and First South streets, where a large audience had assembled to hear him. Mr. Moody was in quite good shape and he delivered a stirring sermon.

Arrangements were made during the morning to have Mr. Moody remain over Sunday, on which day he will deliver two addresses. Monday morning he will remain in Salt Lake and Tuesday afternoon he will speak to the inmates of the State prison, and tomorrow night he will address the Congregational church, where Mr. Tinder, the Swedish evangelist, has been holding afternoon and evening services during pending the arrival of Mr. Moody.

CITY'S PAVING CONTRACT.

Council Committee on Streets Listens to Arguments Pro and Con.

The difference existing between the city and the Culmer-Jennings Paving company was settled before the Council committee on streets last night. There were present City Engineer Kelsey, representing the board of public works; City Attorney Hall, street superintendent Bedford, Inspector Chaney, H. L. A. and W. H. Culmer and Attorney Andrew Howat.

The question before the committee was the request of the board of public works that the City Council be asked to transfer the $6,000 retained as a guarantee fund for five years on the Culmer-Jennings pavement. The board of public works, in a communication to the Council said that the paving company had forfeited the sum retained, and made a proposition that the amount now be used in repairing defective sidewalks. To this proposition the Culmer company objected. After Chairman Morris had read the correspondence on the subject Mr. H. L. A. Culmer was given the privilege of saying something. He said that he expected his company, the first, had not received a square deal. But in spite of all this his company, he said, had lived up to its contract and completed the work on time.

Mr. Kelsey exhibited a number of photographs for the purpose of showing the defects and flaws in the pavement. The defective parts could not be removed by patching, but they would have to be taken up and relaid. Mr. Kelsey denied that there was any prejudice existing either in his department or by the members of the board of public works, towards the paving company. The company had not followed specifications and also refused to follow instructions. The only desire was to see that the contract was fulfilled to the letter and the paving company was lived up to.

There was considerable more talk and it was finally decided that an inspection be made of the pavements next Monday morning.

In the matter of the offer to compromise the policeman's salary suit, before taking an appeal, the municipal have consented to submit to the question to City Attorney Hall. The question of drafting an ordinance for the working of city prisoners was not considered.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. Charles A. Ellis and his famous opera company of 150 artists, arrive in this city, on their special train of 12 cars, tomorrow morning. This promises to be a desired event in the musical history of Salt Lake, and the Tabernacle observers night will be doubtless be thronged with people who have made this city famous throughout the country as a complete "Mecca of music" lovers. The advent of this organization, it is hoped, will meet with such a strong response that it will be enabled to give a brief season of grand opera here next season. It stated that if so received it will include the production of this year, he will more than likely do so. The notable principals, the great supporting cast and the chorus will make up a combination rarely heard here.

Ian McLaren's visit on Monday night at the Assembly Hall should not be overlooked by the multitude of theatrical and Tabernacle events.

Many applications for the Jessie Ridder-Warde season are being received from out-of-town places.

BRANCH CREAMERY AT PAYSON.

Special per Deseret Telegraph.

Payson, Utah Co., March 31.—Payson people had a joint stock creamery some years ago and it failed. Now they think of trying it again. For some time they have been sending their milk to neighboring companies. Two companies are now offering to put in a creamery plant called a skimmer or separator station. For two years meetings have been held this week to talk up the matter. The station for gathering cream will be operated in connection with the Farmers' Union in working order and a boom in the shipment of potatoes, straw, alfalfa and other farm products. The season (cidency) is made of all kinds makes the future look bright.

It is very hard to stand city by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dispatch tells of a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, the very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He then bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief to ill the doctor should arrive. In two hours he returned, saying the doctor had left word to the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Stark, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country.

ANIMALS AS PROTOTYPES.

The ill fated Empress Elizabeth of Austria has been called a "human swan" by one who loved and admired her. There was the long nose, wide at the nostrils; the beautiful brown eyes, showing little or nothing of the white; the long neck and the perfectly willowy form. In boat and the carriage. The Queen of Italy is bird-like, even in that little habit of manner with which the critics charge her, in the fetching and bending the fastness and want of repose, and the mouth that dwells in between the nose and chin. It is very curious, this resemblance of human beings to creatures of the air. The nose is a little accentuated in the bird, but it is more prominent than among the crowned heads of Europe. The race has been remarkable for it. The Bourbons with his arch nose, round, prominent eyes and full lips, and in the face of the Austrian Hapsburgs, we have traced resemblance of a hard, forbidding, especially in that portrait where he is taken with the shoulder of his coat, scarlet, heated expression. Of course, everyone knows that in the Marquis of Salisbury's face there is no opinion of a perfect English mastiff—a resemblance of which the great statesman and premier is said to be proud, as he is proud of his own character.—Boston Herald.

LOOKED LIKE A LUNATIC.

Brains come in all shapes of heads. There is resilience in all kinds of eyes. Manners often hide wisdom. I couldn't think of a crueler thing. Chaste and a friend were dining in the Revere House, Boston, sitting at the table next to a young Chinese gentleman who had a very small head in which were two squirrel eyes, positively expressive of nothing. The Chinaman had not been he gave off the man, who he imagined was an escaped lunatic. Chaste and his friend had ordered a dozen oysters, a considerable quantity of food, he found out and whispered to Chaste, "Who is the gentleman with the shaved head?" Chaste said, "Why, said Chaste, "that is the celebrated Lemuel Sharp, chief of the Boston Insane Asylum of Massachusetts."—New York Press.
