NELLIE DAVIS TRIED

For the Alleged Robbery of Hornsby Bellers in a Saloon.

IT IS A DISSENTING CASE.

The Board of Equalization Voting Through Application — Jules Forked Up in the Office.

Hot Bellers Hornsby recent the result of the prosecution of Nellie Davis for grand larceny case wind-bowed. He filed and consulted counsel in the law of the 1891 which brings the defendant in the case of the day before Judge Hiles sitting in a school on June 17, last. The testimony, even of the prosecution witness, was very damaging to herself, in a novel way to say the least.

Bellers Hornsby testified that some Officers Sheets and James, the Jules Nearly of the county jail and Sarah Bennett, were testified in the case. Bellers's own story was a tale of continuous dissipation for ten days after to the day of the alleged robbery. His testimony was interpreted by Robert Nordlinger and was not "crazy" for publication.

The jury in the case was composed of the following gentlemen: Geo. Carley, A. W. Harvey, W. S. Cannon, Wm. Cooper, G. Parker Norton, Chas. Gibson, I. J. Hardock and Harry S. Margolis. Mr. Nye for the prosecution, delivered the closing argument for the State, and as the News report closed Judge Hiles commenced his charge to the jury.

Taxes Abated.

The board of equalization is getting at its work very rapidly, this morning having made abatements in the following cases:
