H. ROBERTS TELLS SOME FACTS

Congressman Exposes the Perfidy of His Assailants.

HE HAS KEPT COMPACT.

Ticket Made to the Union to Bury—The Falsehood of the Anti-Roberts Agitation.

New York, Nov. 19.—The Times to-morrow publishes a three-column article by Congressman Brigham H. Roberts, in which he adjusts himself to the charges made against him by the Herald. He says:

I was asked to work out on a public platform against the Representative from Utah, either that he be not allowed to take his seat, to which to his knowledge he was legally elected, or that he be expelled if he should be allowed to take his seat. I was asked to do this by the Christian people of the country, by the ministers, especially Methodists, by the educational institutions of the country, by the political parties of Utah, by the Gentiles of Utah, by the Mormons of Utah, and there was not a single person who asked me to do this who was not of the people who had voted for me for Congressman.

In the first place it must be remembered that the Mormon Church is entirely separate from the Church of the United States in its organization. That is, it is a political organization, and the people of the Mormon Church are represented in the House of Representatives by a Delegate, who is not a member of the Church. Moreover, the Mormon Church and the government of the United States are at variance in regard to the practice of polygamy. The government of the United States has prohibited the practice of polygamy, and the people of the Mormon Church are represented in the House of Representatives by a Delegate who is not a member of the Church, and who is not a polygamist. Polygamists are not allowed to come into the United States to live with their families, and the people of the Mormon Church are represented in the House of Representatives by a Delegate who is not a member of the Church, who is not a polygamist, who does not live with his family in Utah, but who comes to Washington and lives with the United States. The Mormon Church has not been in harmony with the United States. The Mormon Church has not been in harmony with the government of the United States. The government of the United States has attempted to get rid of the influence of the Church in the government of the United States. The Congressman to Congress from Utah represents the Church, and the people of the United States have attempted to get rid of the influence of the Church in the government of the United States. When the Utah Delegate comes to Congress he represents the Church, and the people of the United States have attempted to get rid of the influence of the Church in the government of the United States.
