TABERNACLE SERVICES.

Elders Miles and Taylor and Bishop Preach the Speakers.

Religious services of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were held in the Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, on the day, April 21, 1895, commencing at 2 o'clock, Elder Joseph E. Taylor and Charles W. Penrose of the Presidency of the Seventies, presiding.

The choir sang:

"Praise the Lord with Cheerful Voices."

Prayer was offered by Elder Abraham Hale.

Singing by the choir:

"Lord, Thy mercy and Thy love."

Elder Taylor said: It has been the first pleasure, in the course of his life, to be with the Saints on this occasion, in the Church, and which occasion is added the singing of one of a few minutes. They go to hold it would be difficult for him to speak the English language to an audience. This day is, and the third day, the last occasion of this kind, which we shall have in this place, and we have been blessed with the presence of our friends, and we have had a good time. We have enjoyed ourselves very much in the spirit of our calling, and we have had a good time. We have had a good time, and we have had a good time. We have had a good time, and we have had a good time. We have had a good time
