SILVER MEN CONFER.

Doings at Yesterday's Secret Session in Washington.

A NEW NATIONAL PARTY.

A Probable Effort to Unite the Various Labor Organizations.—A Plan of Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The possibilities of a new political party, with free silver coinage as the sole plank of the platform, was among the developments of the day's secret session of the silver leaders. The day was devoted to expressions of opinion of representatives of the different states. They were uniformly to the effect that the working people and farmers were dissatisfied with the course of Congress in repealing the purchase clause of the Sherman act. Senators Jones and Stewart, Master Workman Sovereign of the Knights of Labor and National Lecturer Wakefield were among the speakers of the afternoon.

During the address of Senator Jones an interesting colloquy occurred between him and Master Workman Sovereign. The latter suggested that when the labor party had united toward securing free silver there should be reciprocity, by which the silver leaders would assist in securing labor reforms.

Jones contended that all the labor questions were merged in the money question, and its solution would settle them all. Sovereign and the senator at last met on common ground in agreeing that the silver question should be made the paramount issue of all the labor and industrial organizations.

Frequent references were made during the afternoon today to the necessity of organizing a silver party, made up of the sixteen hundred gathered under the standards of the Populists, National Grange, Knights of Labor, Farmers' Alliance, etc. The tendency of the conference is towards this new organization.

The probability is that the first effort of the united forces will be exerted to carry the congressional elections next fall. It is undecided whether this is to be done by nominating independent silver candidates for Congress, or by endorsing such candidates of the parties who have shown by their actions that they favor silver.

Senator Teller said at the close of the conference that the new national party was among the strong probabilities of the meeting.

A U. P. Agreement.

OMAHA, Dec. 15.—At a conference today between Receiver Trumbull of the Union Pacific, Denver & Gulf, and Receiver Audenson and General Manager Dickinson of the Union Pacific, the Union Pacific granted the use of tracks between Valentine and Lincoln, the cut-off between Omaha and Denver, and the Gulf secured a lease of the Union depot at Cheyenne. The question of ownership of the shops at Denver is under discussion.

A Big Blaze.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—A fire which broke out in the furniture and upholstery ware-room building of Henry Haven & Bro., 143d avenue and Fortieth street, destroyed nearly $600,000 worth of property in less than an hour from the time of its discovery. The fire, besides destroying the upholstery building, also buffed out Nos. 801, 803 and 805 Third avenue, Nos. 219 and 221 East Forty-ninth street, the basement house in Bingham alley in Beekman place, occupied by forty-eight Italian families, numbering over 200 people, the stables and manure yard of Samuel Adler and his stable adjoining, in which ten horses perished in the flames.

A Bad Wreck.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Dec. 15.—About 7 o'clock tonight a bad wreck occurred of the New York & Pennsylvania boat here, resulting in eight deaths and many injuries. A trestle, weakened by rain, gave way, precipitating the baggage and smoker into the creek.

The Portland Conspiracy Trial.

PORTLAND, Dec. 15.—In the conspiracy trial Blum testified that about March 1st last, he paid Collector Lotan and Special Agent Malley $300. Last July Blum, Lotan and others met and agreed to try and handle the members of the grand jury so as to prevent indictments.

When arrested in September Blum told the United States district attorney that his associates had abandoned him and left him in jail, expecting that he would be sent to the penitentiary and they escape. The district attorney did not promise him any immunity in return for his evidence. The cross-examination failed to shake Blum's testimony.

J. S. McGregor, special treasury agent, identified Malley's handwriting to the letters written to Blum. W. B. Jenking, engineer of the steamer Wilmington, corroborated Blum's testimony.

Death Notices.

BOSTON, Dec. 15.—Professor Henry W. Torrey, one of the oldest professors of Harvard, is dead.

MRS. PORTER'S FUNERAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15.—The funeral of Mrs. Porter, wife of the late Admiral Porter, took place today. Interment was by the side of her husband at Arlington.

MORRILL'S BUILDER.

NORWICH, Dec. 15.—John L. Porter, formerly chief naval constructor of the United States navy, and projector and builder of the famous two-deck ram Virginia (Merrimac), died at Portsmouth last night, aged eighty.

The Nicaragua Canal.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The House committee on judiciary and foreign commerce, after listening to arguments by Senators Morgan of Alabama and Frye of Maine, reported favorably the joint resolution of Representative Dunville of Washington, for the appointment of a joint commission, consisting of three senators and six members to investigate the present status of the Nicaragua canal project.

Senator Morgan replied at length to the past history of the enterprise and its struggle to obtain government recognition. He thought the time had come when they should decide whether the United States would aid the project or abandon it altogether. He declared that the world is determined to have a canal, and if the United States should not build it some other nation would. He pointed out the advantages of control of the canal by the United States and earnestly hoped the resolution would be adopted.

Senator Frye also spoke warmly in favor of the resolution. He said the government which controls the Nicaragua canal would also control the Hawaiian islands, and that it would be useless for this country to assess those islands unless control of the canal was secured.

GOT NO ANSWER.

Ex-Minister Stevens Asked in Vain for Instructions.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—There was published this morning a Honolulu cablegram by Minister Stevens from Honolulu to Secretary Blaine, dated March 8, 1892, in which Stevens asks for instructions in the event of a revolution movement. The dispatch referred to is entirely different in substance from the one which has been effected.

STEVENS EXPLAINS.

BOSTON, Dec. 15.—Ex-Minister John L. Stevens made the following explanatory statement tonight:

Regarding the dispatch to Secretary Blaine, signed by me and published by the Associated Press yesterday morning, probably no answer was ever received by me and probably none was ever written. Doubtless Blaine thought the standing instructions in regard of the legation, of which I then had course, especially Secretary Bayard's dispatch to Minister Merrill of July 13, 1887, were sufficient for my guidance, thus throwing on the American representative at Honolulu the responsibility of dealing with facts and emergencies as to which they should judge more accurately than the Washington officials. All official dispatches received by me during my residence in Honolulu are now in Boston and on file in the legation at Honolulu.

JOHN L. STEVENS.

THAT LITTLE BARRY CONFESSES.

The Jewelry Found Estimated at About $2000.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—Easton made a full confession of how he came in possession of the valuables. He said: "About three weeks ago I met another colored man at San Francisco. He planned the burglary, and it wasn't Johnson or Butler either was colored. I did not care to take part in the burglary, but was threatened with death unless I did so. The sight of the burglary I attempted to take out, but my accomplice made me get through a window as the point of a revolver. Once out in the house I remarked almost every room in it. I got through the window to escape, but my accomplice was nowhere to be found. Having the jewelry and precious stones in my possession, I immediately left San Francisco, coming directly to Chicago.

As expert jeweler and diamond dealer pronounced the property worth at least $5,000. One ring, four diamonds, in white metal $1,500. Among the other valuables taken from Eaglin was a woman's gold watch and chain, valued at $350; three opals, $250 each; two diamond shirt studs, $300 each; pair of cuff buttons made of $5 gold pieces; two gold nuggets weighing ten and a half ounces each; a pair of moonstone ear rings; a pair of pearl ear rings; three gold wedding rings four solid gold watches and twenty other pieces of jewelry and valuable stones were found on him, all of which Easton said he got from a residence in San Francisco. The authorities of San Francisco were notified of Easton's arrest.

Thurston Goes Home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Among the passengers who left on the steamer Alameda today for Honolulu were H. A. Thurston, Hawaiian minister to the United States, and J. Mott Smith, wife and daughter. Smith was succeeded by Thurston when the provisional government went into power.

Tariff Corner Postponed.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Chairman Holman of the Democratic caucus said this afternoon that probably the caucus on the tariff bill will not be held until after the holiday recess.

A Storm of Shot and Shell.

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—The Herald's Buenos Ayres special: The Herald's correspondent at Rosario says that on the night of Dec. 10th, the city was thrown into a storm of shot and shell which lasted fifty minutes. The bombardment came from the Hill and began firing guns of Colmer range, and fell all over the city, but especially in Carlotta, Pavarotti and Traves streets, and on other points where the theatres are situated. The playhouses were just being emptied of throngs of patrons and terrified women, children, Barrel Women Bed, shrieking, in wonder. This was the result of the attack made from the shore upon the vessel by Peixoto's troops, in which Blanco's heavy batteries were slow to respond. The notes of the water bomb were much enlarged by the leaden showers, but the number of casualties is unknown. It is thought the startling losses of Peixoto's men suffered heavy losses, as his and the island garrison, his admiral figures could not be procured.

MINERS SUIT.

Verdict for Defendant, Contrary to the Judge's Instructions.

BUTTE, Dec. 15.—A suit of considerable importance to that class of mining men who lease property was decided by a jury in the district court here this morning, but the verdict was contrary to the instructions of Judge Speer, being rendered in favor of the defendant.

The question involved in the suit is that a lease of the character in ever created a community of interest, and that the rights of the lessor were to be equally protected with those of the lessee, and that the equity orders of the court, as relating to the lease, could not be withdrawn to the personal advantage of the lessee because the profits of an individual enterprise such as the smelter.

The case was that of James A. Murray, a prominent owner, against P. Alexander Heinze, who had taken out in the mining and smelting business now about two years ago. About a year ago Murray leased the Little Mike, a property rich in copper and silver, the stipulations of the agreement being that Murray should receive 35 per cent of the net proceeds of the mine with copper at five cents per pound, and 90 per cent of the silver, based on the market value. Heinze was to perform certain work in and about the mine and Murray was to pay him $12 a day for superintending the ore.

Heinze worked the property seven months, getting water, time he estimated $12,000 worth of the ore, not by commencing the waste ore or further recovery in bringing Murray out to settle in less two months out of the work and giving him only a small margin, netting the other five months. Heinze had a year's lease on the property, but when Murray discovered the kind of a deal he was getting he brought suit to annul the lease, serve an injunction to prevent Heinze from mining, strike West in the mine, and not any with with another and be [illegible] damages. The latter is yet to be decided. The suit to annul the lease lasted seventeen days and was throughout fought by both sides tooth and claws to the finish.

C. S. Hutchinson of Colorado was among the expert witnesses for the defense. He has worked several leases in the district, the owners claim, in the same manner as he has the Murray mine.

A FOREIGN NEWS BUDGET.

Anti-Anarchist Measures by the French Legislators.

French Spies Scattered in Germany.—"The Sun Quarter of the Monarch Dynasty."

PARIS, Dec. 15.—The chamber of deputies adopted the executive bill and the anarchist bill, both anti-anarchist measures, by sweeping majorities. Aner, a socialist deputy, protested against what he aimed at "throttling discussion," and other socialist deputies denounced the alleged indecent haste with which the measures were pushed through. Flachs demanded the projects be held over for discussion for an indefinite period, but proposed to send the amendment back to committee, but this was rejected by a vote of 405 to 132 and the bill adopted by a vote of 404 to 39.

Spies Scattered in Germany.

LEIPZIG, Dec. 15.—At the trial of Deuing and Delgay, alleged French spies, the prisoners confessed that they intended to forward the results of their sketches of German fortifications to the French governments. The prosecutor said, in view of the present extensive espionage on the part of France, Russia, which resides in the large number of secret agents upon German defense works, he must ask sentences of four and five years respectively. This was the sentence imposed.

Vaillant's Confession.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—The Liberte says Vaillant has confessed he was given a hundred francs by well-to-do anarchists in order to make a big bomb. Vaillant is quoted as saying that he used the money to purchase explosives, etc., with which he made the bomb that connected the latter in a Bachelet wine belt. Still, according to the Liberte, Vaillant intended to harangue the deputies after the explosion, but was choked with smoke.

THE GERMAN REICHSTAG.

Herbert Bismarck Receives a Couple of Epithets.

BERLIN, Dec. 15.—The Reichstag today sounded the Spanish, Roumanian and Servian treaties, and defeated the motion of Herr Jaeits, that they should remain in operation for one year only.

Count Herbert Bismarck's speech, advising dissolution of the parliament and appeal to the voters, was received with shouts and hisses. Herr Rosner called him "the weakling of the Bismarck dynasty," and Fischer dubbed him "Don Quixote."

The Reichstag adjourned to January 9th.

Count Schwerin, German ambassador to Italy, has resigned, owing to private reasons. It is reported that Herr Von Radowitz, German ambassador at Madrid, will succeed Count Schwerin.
