LONDON WAS UNSETTLED.

This Caused an Irregular Movement in Wall Street Today.

Depression from Attack on Steel and Iron Stocks—Also Stock and Produce Stock.

New York, Nov. 15—Dealers afraid of the coming railroads were slightly irregular in sympathy with the unsettled tone of the London market. Sometime Reading was forced down to a low mark of 1.00 during trading from 10½ to 67½. Later rallied close was 67¾, fluctuation generally showed wider variations. Metropolitan street Railway losing 2½, and a number of fellows sustaining 1 to 2 points. Sugar was active and lower after the opening, the movement coming immediately from London. New York Central and Canadian Pacific were also lower, the latter was strong on the latest announcement of the Lake of the Woods and Atlantic and Pacific. The Boston and Albany movement was also lower, and the market showed considerable weakness. Rumors of a lock of the iron and steel trade in Europe and the great strike in Belgium caused further decline in the tobacco and copper, leaders, Brooklyn Transit, recovered the most, and General Electric, Lead, Tobacco and Leather preferred showed fractional gains. The general market was blanketed, but the weakness was more marked in the K&P preferred issues.

Slight changes either way occurred in Louisville and Nashville, Wabash preferred and Chicago Gas.

A number of speculative issues were active, notably Sugar, Tennessee Coal and Iron, Brooklyn Transit, Metropolitan Street Railway, Reading, Tobacco and Leather preferred, Lead and General Electric, Lead, Tobacco and Leather preferred, Lead and Tobacco and Leather preferred, Lead and Tobacco and Leather preferred, Lead and
