REPORT OF SUPT. CAINE.

Work of the Waterworks Department for 1898.

Superintendent of Waterworks John T. Caine has filed with Mayor Clark a report for the year 1898. Referring to the scarcity of water during the past summer Mr. Caine says: "An absolutely new source of supply must be secured. Salt Lake must have an increased water supply to meet the growing demands."

The total expenditures for the year were $98,741.09 against $99,783.64 for 1897, a difference of $1,042.

The expenditures are classed as follows:

Maintenance	$35,311.99
Construction	1,661.10
Improvements	1,000.00
Department accounts	1,749.49
Individuals and companies	1,175.50
Miscellaneous	1,162.40

Mr. Caine gives a description of the city's three sources of water supply, viz., City creek, Emigration springs and Parley's canyon.

Under the head of suggestions and recommendations, Mr. Caine discusses the question of more adequate water supply. He says: "If an adequate supply cannot be obtained from new sources, it will be necessary to construct in which to store the surplus water which runs to waste in the spring and summer months. The excavation for a reservoir situated above the high line tanks in City Creek canyon and that on Third street could easily be utilized to good advantage, and at no very great cost."

The superintendent does not favor the use of water from the systems for street sprinkling, and offers a recommendation for the erection of sound pipes with connections to the city canal in all streets having sufficient fall. It is also recommended that all large water users be required to put in meters and pay for the water consumed, thereby running a saving in the supply.

The department receipts and disbursements, as shown by the city auditor's annual report, are as follows:

By water rates, 1897-8	14,641.15

The office was located at Second street, Twelfth South. Lewis Ward, president; Donald A. Lowe, secretary, and H. H. Peard, treasurer. The capital stock was $25,000, with shares of the par value of $100 each.

BISHOP KESLER'S BIRTHDAY.

The Sixteenth ward assembly room was beautifully decorated with flowers, bunting and appropriate legends, last night, and apparently the whole ward assembled to show the love and respect in which Bishop F. Kesler is held by his people, the occasion being the 82nd anniversary of his birthday. An impromptu program, with music and dancing was enjoyed by about 300 people.

A beautiful bouquet of flowers was presented to the Bishop in a neat little speech by Elder William Newman, in which the veteran made a brief and touching response. Attendance Simery and Lucetta were the principal promoters of the pleasant affair and everything passed off happily.

BUSHHAMMERING GOES ON.

But Only on the Sidewalks That Will Stand It.

A meeting of the board of public works and the City Council committee on streets was held today, at which there was a free discussion of the question of repairing the cement sidewalks in the city. The outcome was an understanding that roughening by bushhammering will be continued on those sidewalks that will stand the process, while those that are too brittle will be roughened by putting on a coat of cement and sand, which is a better process than that of the latter that is found in the smooth walks.

MOORE MINING COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation of the Moore Mining and Milling company were filed with the county clerk today.
