BONDING BILL.

It Proposes an Issue of $350,000 at 5 Per Cent.

ABOUT THE SPECIAL MESSAGE.

The Populistic Legislator Calls It "Political Buncombe."—Business Done Today.

Powers's bill providing for a further increase of the bonded indebtedness of the city parishes for an issue of a quarter of a million, at five per cent, payable in twenty years. The author stated that a bond paper has already bid $1.02 in case the issue is made, and he thinks $1.07 could be obtained. It was intended that the bill should provide that $125,000 of the proceeds of the bonds should be devoted to the erection of a wing of the Capitol, in pursuance of the recommendation of the Governor's message, but legal reasons gave rise to an amendment of the bill so that the cost of the wing of the Capitol will be met as a deficit in the general expenditures.

The special message transmitted to the Assembly yesterday by the Governor has been meeting with severe criticism. It is held that the specifications of facts accompanying the gloomy portrayal contained in the message do not justify such a representation of existing conditions. One member pronounced it "political buncombe." Another said it had no appropriation for a Capitol building, in spite of how large the sum, would not affect material relief to the unemployed (in this city, no doubt a small number of men could be employed, and these would have to be street sweepers. There was very little work on such a building that would be performed by common laborers. Powers is in favor of action by the Legislature in relation to the special message, but Tolton is emphatically opposed to sending the Territory on any errand whatever. The special message has not produced the impression on the Legislature which was evidently intended by it.

The following bill was introduced by Carlson, and passed by the House today under a suspension of the rules:

> Be it enacted by the Governor and Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Utah:
>
> Section 1. That all school districts that failed to hold a special school tax during the year 1892, for the purpose of building, or other school purposes, may levy such tax for the year 1893, in the manner provided by law, if levied before the 15th day of April 1893, and such tax shall be assessed and collected at the same time and in the same manner as if it had been levied in the year 1892.
>
> Sec. 2. This act shall take effect upon its approval.

The following was introduced by Waner in the House this afternoon:

"Resolution authorizing the leasing of the military school property at Ogden and removing to the institution the inmates of the reform school and placing the school of the deaf mute and blind in the building now occupied by the reform school.

"Whereas, the citizens of Ogden have made a proposal to lease to the Territory of Utah the military barracks with all its fixtures and appurtenances, at an annual rental of $2,000, also giving the Territory the option to assume the conveyance of twenty thousand ($20,000) dollars, upon which a title in fee simple (subject to said incumbrance) will be made to the Territory; also in the event of said assumption the city of Ogden will convey their contingent interest in the reform school grounds, to the Territory, and

"Whereas, the deaf mute petitioned the legislature to remove them to Ogden, for sundry sufficient reasons, and

"Whereas, some action is necessary for the school for the blind, under the law recently enacted, therefore

"Be it resolved that the Governor of the Territory of Utah be and he is hereby authorized and empowered to contract, agree, bind and perfect all arrangements for such removal, upon the part of Utah Territory upon such conditions to be provided as he may deem just and equitable, and in the best interests of the purpose sought to be accomplished.

"That when he shall have closed the contracts, received the conveyance, lease and promises as herein suggested, the said schools shall immediately be removed to the quarters herein designated; and the proportion of money provided by the general appropriation for said institutions shall be set apart to the independent use of said schools, notwithstanding it be merged with the funds of any other institution.

This resolution shall take effect on its approval.

C. B. 69, amending certain sections of the law relating to private corporations, was filed for third reading.

Warner offered a concurrent resolution in relation to the reform school and deaf mute, etc., which is given above in full. It went to the committee on reform school.

H. B. 119, to change the boundary line between Garfield and Wayne counties, was lost, pursuant to the adverse report of the committee.

H. B. 146, providing for the inspection of illuminating oils, came up as special order, and passed.

C. B. 31, relating to special statutes, was lost by a tie vote on the adverse report of the judiciary committee.

HOUSE.

After the close of the report yesterday a special message from the Governor was read, urging commencement of work on the capitol building, in order to provide employment for needy men. The message and accompanying documents were given to the News in full.

H. B. 101, amending the school law, was concurred and passed.

H. B. 99, amending the law creating a territorial board of equalization and defining its duties, came up. The principal object of it is to provide for taking railroad grant lands. A discussion was had as to the right of the Territory to assess lands not patented, it was shown that the bill did not necessarily apply to such. It passed.

H. B. 37, to encourage the production of sugar cane, etc., Tolton offered an amendment providing for the appointment of a board of three persons, to select and have cultivated to the sugar plant, a tract of five acres of land in Washington county, in order to make a thorough experiment for the future information of the Legislature. Varian asked how long it he would wait for the bill if the amendment were adopted, and the Major said, "Four Hundred (laughter) revive the bill, and Powers said he (Powers) would not be the tenderfoot about, will be war quite to stay with the bill to the end. Bill as favored Tolton's amendment.

Clark opposed the amendment and Monson said he was willing to wait the end of an experiment to see if it would pay to raise sugar.

Beatty spoke at some length on the national industry and to expatiate the bill. He opposed the amendment for the reason that the Territory would pay out so many and practical results were obtained.

Morris made an argument in favor of Tolton's amendment. Many members spoke upon the amendment and the discussion lasted with the usual.

The amendment was lost on a viva voce vote. The bill then passed, Powers being the only Democratic voter for it.

H. B. 110, leading a site to the museum of Brigham Young Academy, passed.

C. J. R. 1, authorizing the auditor to pay no warrants on the Weber Fire school, in default previous Jan. 1, 1891, and drawing interest at 6 per cent since April 1st, 1891, was passed. Adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATRE LAST NIGHT.—A very good audience, though not what could be called a full one, assembled at the Theatre last evening to welcome the Home Dramatic Club back to the boards and to laugh over the merry spoof of the "Crimson Scarf." The performance was a complete success—the audience between the acts and at the close of the play being strong and emphatic. The cast was strong, which is a good deal more than a Superior relief. Many, in some respects, is good work as any the Home club has ever done, and that is saying as little. Mr. Wells's person was simply and unmistakable. His realistic acting was as vivid as ever to be expected. He was in his humor better than all his talent from the part of the deserted father, for whom the entertainment was brief. Edith Thayer as Dorothy was as graceful and charming as in our old days, and as free from affectation from the hearty too. And her note of her natural charm of manner. Mr. Young, Mrs. Young, Mr. Charles Young and Mr. Woodruff gave good work and excellent support, while Mr. Clawson looked the gentleman to perfection rather than he acted it. The child, Margaret Wallace, for one so very young, gave an exhibition of intelligent acting that was marvelous. The parts have been reviewed, some by the News, but it only seems to be said and said that it is impossible all to please everyone with the acting and manner of being done on a large stage. Mr. Spencer, even though he did not be himself and so he has before done, essay playing the bigger bit of the career as Rosencrantz. Mr. Young has improved on his part since his first performance, and he seemed to be Mr. Dr. Jr. has some stage presence and he beautiful singing was Florence Bell, lovely, so, so, was the character in the play. His acting showed many improvements, and which improve still more if it would repeat some of a recording. Edith is perfect. Mr. Woodruff was a good Jones, and throughout his role was better than he has yet been seen here. Mr. Clawson's small part was handled well. As for the author, may over the scenes of shining and was many scenes. Thanks to their musical accompaniment, we were entertained for an hour and a half, and we hope they will be seen frequently hereafter. We were entertained for an hour and a half, and we hope they will be seen frequently hereafter. We were entertained for an hour and a half, and we hope they will be seen frequently hereafter. Miss Wilcox's grandest little song and dance was the most hearty music. The overtures, under Mr. Kenny, are now charming work in the opera, especially in accompanying Mrs. Wheeler and Mr. Dyer's solos, though it is a pity it was a little heavy on the Bohm venue. The orchestra, Mr. Tullidge, conducted by Mr. Wells, and Haymes, covered by Mr. Kenny, were enthusiastically applauded.

The Crimson Scarf shows to very unusual extent in the new Opera house as Mother Goose showed in the old Theatre. The stage is not yet ready for the audience, and the audience is invited to go to Mr. Harper, the manager.

WALKER AND JAMES sale begins at the Deseret this evening. Despite the severe weather in other parts of the country, the season in this city will be a very fashionable success.

Mr. Bagnall Here.

G. W. Bagnall, of the Union Pacific, arrived in this city this morning on his way to Omaha from the coast.

THE BULLION-BECK DISPUTE.

A Meeting on This Afternoon With a View to Settlement.

The two factions of the Bullion-Beck mine were holding a meeting at the office of the company this afternoon. Mr. Ketterson having returned from the West, was present. Each side was represented by its attorneys and it was stated that an attempt would be made to settle all differences out of the legal arena, at least so far as the courts are concerned, and that at the end of the session an adjustment would probably be made which would be satisfactory to all.

Given Forty-five Days.

The case of J. J. Girard, the man arrested yesterday for stealing blankets, came up for hearing before Justice Smith this afternoon. After hearing the testimony of the witnesses and his own statement, the Judge sentenced Girard to forty-five days' imprisonment in the city jail.

Imprisoned for Stealing Blankets.

This morning James J. Dunn, a tough looking character, was arraigned before Justice Smith on a charge of petit larceny. The offense consisted in stealing four pairs of blankets from Zobel's store, No. 217 south East Temple street yesterday afternoon. The defendant was sentenced to ninety days' imprisonment, with the understanding that if he was brought up again for a second offense, he would be sentenced to the penitentiary. It is stated that he has been serving a term in jail for stealing coal, having been released only a few days ago.

Birthday Anniversary.

A large number of friends of Sister Maria Cronin met at the residence of Thomas Varley in the Nineteenth ward last night and celebrated the 80th anniversary of that respected lady. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation, song and story. It was a matter of wonder to many of those present that the good old lady had retained all of her faculties to the extent that she has been apparently so strong, bright and healthy as she was twenty years ago. Her friends trust that these meetings may be continued yet for as long as she selects among them which time they are anxious to have extended as long as it shall be wise and well.

Charged With Stealing a Guitar

Charlie King, a colored barber who owns a shop on Commercial street, was arrested this afternoon by Police Officer Hampel, on the charge of stealing a guitar. According to the information of the officer it appears that King was observed coming out of an alleyway at the back of O'Neal's block on West Temple street, carrying with him the guitar. The officer questioned him as to how he came in possession of it, and not being able to give a satisfactory answer, he was taken to the city jail, where a charge of petit larceny was booked against him. The case came up for hearing in Police Justice Rolich's court this afternoon and King entered a plea of not guilty. He claimed to have had the guitar in his possession for over a year, having purchased the same of [illegible] and said that he could prove it.

"Very well," said the court, "when will you be ready for the trial?" "I am ready right now," was his answer. As the officer making the arrest could not be present before Tuesday morning the case was continued until that time.

SALT LAKE STAKE

Its Three Days' Conference Commences This Morning.

Reports From Various Wards and Stakes—Interesting Discourses and Instructions.

The conference and quarterly meeting of the Salt Lake Stake opened in the Assembly Hall at 10 a. m. today, Elder Angus M. Cannon, stake president, presiding.

Opening exercises:

Singing: Come, ye saints.

Prayer, offered by Elder Amos G. Holbrook.

Singing: [illegible]

Roll was called and the following was the attendance of officers: Elders Angus M. Cannon, Joseph E. Taylor and Charles W. Penrose, the stake presidency; Seven High Councilors, five Patriarchs, seventeen presidents of Seventies, fourteen bishops and twenty representatives of all wards in the Stake except [illegible] Dell, South Cottonwood, Draper, Riverside, Bluff Dale and Rockmont, and of the Fifty, Seventy, Ninth, Twelfth, Sixteenth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Fifteenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth and Twenty-second quorums of Elders, a good representation of the local Priesthood, and the officers of the Relief Society, Sunday schools and Mutual Improvement Associations.

On the recommendation of their respective bishops, twenty-four young men received certificates, constituting their ordination to the office of Elder, on condition of satisfactorily fulfilling performances of duties.

The following bishops presented reports of their wards: Wm. A. Hill of South Jordan; Joseph Wallace of First ward; L. G. Haley of Second ward; and Cornelius John T. Smith of Third ward.

In general the reports of the wards and their bishops represented a very favorable condition. Few cases of sickness were reported, and the saints were spoken of as faithful in the performance of their duties. In some instances reported themselves as pleased with affairs as at present existing, and anxious to see such conditions continue. The poor are well provided for and children are attending the being prompted to greater faithfulness.

Elders Rich, W. Davis and James Mattis, presidents of the First and Second quorums of Elders respectively, reported their quorums in good condition, the members manifesting great improvement in the performance of their duties. In some instances, however, there has been a lack of faithfulness in fulfilling the obligations which the Elders have taken upon themselves.

Elder Angus M. Cannon, president of the Stake, laid great stress on the necessity of receiving all instructions through the channel of the Priesthood, something the people should. Confusion is liable to result from any other course than this. Elder Cannon stated that revelations had been sent to the Bishops of the wards to which will there was no hesitation in submitting to the Priesthood, and not all receive great blessings thereby. Unless we together, refusing, and permitting to the priests as a unit, in the case of revelation, according to the instructions of President Woodruff, we might be turned in revelation or changes by the inventions of the world "for the sake of your salvation." These instructions are to be followed by men effecting to the Priesthood, who are not to exercise their own interpretation of the revelations received. The bishops indulged in fervency in the Gospel, were spoken of and appointed by Elder Cannon, and all were exhorted to search revelation, and humanities, praised faithfulness to the discharge of their responsibilities, from the presence of God to Hell. If a people, were sometimes turn from their ways, subject and also exhaustion and promises in relation with their great responsibility.

The afternoon session:

Singing: [illegible]

Prayer by Elder A. W. Winberg.

Singing: [illegible]

The report of the stake organization of the Y. M. M. I. A. was read, and showed a marked decrease in the work of Improvement Era. Elder Mary A. Freeze, then presented the Y. L. M. I. A. report to be laid before a fellowship and sustaining in the usual manner, as established in Conference. Many sentiments were given on the subject, and it was decided that it be left to the presidency of the Stake.

Sister M. Isabella Horne, Stake president of the Relief Society, presented a satisfactory report of this organization, calling attention to the work done in the direction of relieving the wants of the poor, the liberality of its members, through donations of money, as it made their wants known. The visits were spoken of as receiving great blessing through the instrumentality of the Church and Relief Society, and the Church and Relief Society, who thus are to meet on a Sunday and become valuable assistants to the ward authorities.
