SCHOOL BOND MASS MEETING

Citizens to Discuss Question Before Voters in High School Building, Tonight.

DISINFECTING SCHOOL BLDGS.

Trial Jurors for March Term of Court—Valuable Dogs Poisoned—Wedding—News Briefs.

Ogden, Feb. 19.—The mass meeting called for tonight at the Ogden high school building is of much importance to the people of Ogden, and should be well attended, as the question of bonding the city for $90,000 for the purpose of building a modern, large high school building, interests all taxpayers.

It is less than a week before the people of Ogden will have an opportunity to vote on the question, and all should understand the proposition thoroughly before they cast their vote next Monday for or against the movement. Much interest has been aroused during the past week among all classes, some favoring the issuance of the bonds, while others are opposed. The board of education desires to issue the bonds, realizing the present crowded condition of the high school, as well as the grammar grade school buildings all over the city, and assert that by erecting a suitable high school building the present high school building can be used as a grammar grade school, thus relieving the crowded situation in all the schools.

At tonight's meeting all the phases of the question will be discussed, so that all who attend will be fully advised on the subject. The bonds are to be issued for 20 years, drawing 4 per cent interest annually.

SCHOOL SANITATION.

Buildings to be Cleaned With Disinfectants to Ward Off Contagion.

Ogden, Feb. 19.—The ideas suggested by Dr. Beatty of the state board of health concerning sanitation in the public school buildings, were discussed yesterday at a meeting of the principals of the city schools and janitors. The rooms are to be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, and the sandiest to be used in sweeping the rooms is to be mixed with a good disinfectant. By these methods the school officials hope to be able to improve the health of the students and keep down contagion.

DOGS POISONED.

The poisoning of valuable dogs in Ogden has been going on for a long time past, but the police have been unable to get and trace of the fiend who places the poisoned meat where the dogs can get it. Dennis A. Smyth has a valuable kennel of hounds, worth several hundred dollars. The dogs were turned out yesterday for a run at the rear of the stores near the European hotel. In a short time two of the best hounds were writhing in the agonies of death, having eaten some poisoned meat. The police are working on some clues and hope to get the culprit.

WEDDING PERMIT.

A marriage license was granted by the county clerk to Thomas J. Wilson, Jr., of Wilson, Weber county and Miss Elizabeth Hunter of West Weber.

BRIEFS AND PERSONALS.

PLAYHOUSES PUBLIC MENACE

Report of Fire Dept. and Building Inspector to City Council.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., Feb. 18.—The city council met in regular session Monday night and transacted much routine business.

The report of the committee on fire department and the building inspector in respect to the condition of public halls and places of amusement showed a deplorable condition of some of them and caused some surprise. The building inspector was instructed to notify the managements of the opera house, Electric and Grand theaters to comply with the ordinances providing for the safety of the public, to put in more exits, to clean up and make conditions better and safer for their patrons and employees.

A communication was received from Acting Mayor Andrew Knudsen recommending that some measure be taken to get work out of the transient element now swarming the city. The marshals will by instruction commence today and place those who are in jail, who are kept there for the night, on the streets to earn the food that they eat. The matter of purchasing a rock crusher and road roller and grader was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

CHANGES IN WARD AFFAIRS.

Milk Factory Making Big Improvements—Epidemic of Measles.

Special Correspondence.

Richmond, Cache Co., Feb. 17.—The funeral services over the remains of little Allen Cason, who died of a complication of measles and heart trouble, were held in the ward meetinghouse on Saturday, Feb. 15. The speakers were Elders N. H. Lewis, Geo. M. Thompson, J. McCarty, J. W. Funk, and Bishop T. H. Merrill. During the services her little schoolmates rendered several selections.

This ward held its regular annual conference on Sunday. President Wm. Waddoups of the stake presidency was present. The reports given were very satisfactory and showed the ward to be in excellent condition. Chas. E. Merrill was released as ward clerk and Rhoda L. Hendricks was sustained in his stead. Mary J. Harrison, who has served as president of the Y. L. M. I. association for 24 years, was released on account of being called to labor in the stake Relief society. The following organization was sustained: Mrs. Lydia Woodland, president; Mrs. Tena Thomas and Edith Hendricks, assistants; Ada Peart, secretary.

The ward choir tendered a surprise party on one of its members, John Stoddard, on Monday night. A program of music with picnic comprised the entertainment of the evening. He was for a mission to the Sandwich Islands on Thursday. Parley Merrill, Jr., leaves the same day on a mission to California.

The city fathers are progressing slowly with the installation of a city water system. They have secured an option of purchase from the Rocky Ridge Waterworks Co. The Richmond Waterworks Co. meets on Tuesday night to consider the matter. Then the bond issue question will be considered.

The Utah Condensed Milk Co., which made such an excellent showing this year, contemplates erecting a new office, two new houses for use of its employees, a new reservoir and purchase of a new retort and boiler. Messrs. J. W. Hendricks, Newell Bullen and T. H. Merrill are the committee of the board having the matter in charge.

The town has been experiencing a siege of measles. Fifty families are now under quarantine.

occupied most of the time in each session discussing points of school interest, principally along the lines of nature study, and their talks were thoroughly appreciated.

A week ago the professors of the Agricultural college were here and held a very interesting two-day farmers' institute. Fruitgrowing and stockraising were the principal subjects discussed.

ROBERTS'

DEFENSE OF THE FAITH AND THE SAINTS

IT IS A CHOICE COLLECTION from Elder Roberts' discourses, magazine articles, and public lectures during the last twenty years of his public ministry. Every young man who would make himself familiar with the controversies in which the church has been involved in consequence of the assaults made upon her faith and people should read this book.

READ The presentation of the Mormon Faith to the World's Parliament of Religions.

READ The review of Harry Leon Wilson's Book, "The Lions of the Lord."

READ The Overwhelming Answer to Senator Thomas Kearns' Speech Arraigning the Mormon Church on the Floor of the United States Senate.

READ The Church and State Papers.

READ The Articles in Defense of the Book of Mormon; and Elder Roberts' Exposition of the Manner of Translating the Book of Mormon.

READ The Doctrinal and Historical Articles: "The Lord's Day," "Anglican Orders," "Revolution or Reformation," "Revelation and Inspiration."

These are but a few of the papers in the very valuable collection, and yet they indicate something of the large scope covered by the book.

No man, young or old, interested in Mormonism can afford to be without this latest, and in many respects, Elder Roberts' most interesting book. It will make a most acceptable present for your son or daughter at home. For your son on a mission. For your non-Mormon friend, and neighbor. For your non-Mormon friend in the East, or West, or North, or South. Mail Them a Copy.

MRS. EDDY'S NEW HOME NEAR BOSTON.

The new home of Mrs. Eddy is an imposing, roomy mansion built in 1880. It was known as the Dupee estate, is situated at No. 334 Beacon street, Brookline, and is one of the landmarks of the neighborhood. R. Ashton Lawrence made his home there until his untimely death in a railroad accident three years ago. The estate was purchased last year by Robert P. Walker, a wealthy Chicago real estate dealer and a Christian Science leader in his home city. Residents of Chestnut Hill understood that the mansion was to be used as a country seat by Mr. Walker.

Within a short time of the transfer of deed, workmen began transforming the house into a structure twice its former size. Day and night shifts were employed to speed the work, and orders were given that no expense be spared. The price of the estate was $190,000, and an equal sum has been spent for repairs and alterations. Additional land was acquired until the estate now contains about 12 acres.

The newly modeled house contains about 34 rooms. Of the nine rooms on the first floor two are finely appointed parlors on either side of the front hall, and a third is a brilliantly furnished diningroom.

Leading from the hall is a wide staircase of steel, on which are landings at the second and third floors. Built into the walls at each landing is a huge vault of steel. It is believed that valuable papers formerly deposited in Pleasant View will henceforth be guarded in these vaults.

The house stands back from Beacon street about 1,000 yards. There is a deep semi-circular driveway skirting the lawn, and the mansion is shaded by magnificent trees. Mrs. Eddy's private apartments are richly decorated. They are situated on the southeastern corner of the mansion. Directly in front of her boudoir is a noiseless electric elevator on which she will be carried to and from the dining-rooms and parlors on the first floor and to the third floor if occasion requires.
