CATTLEMEN AND RUSTLERS.

Full Particulars About the Fight Received.

EVANSTON, Wyo., April 12.—Full particulars of the fight at the T A ranch are just received. The first intention of the intended invasion by the cattlemen was a message saying that a train of stock had mounted men, was unloaded at Casper. The rustlers had small cattle on and this time to prepare for retreat, and the cattlemen arrived each after, and at once attacked the T C ranch. A gang of rustlers were sent to the house, out where they arrived, the cattlemen had done their work and left. The house was in flames. Four men were found in the house. Nate Champion and Nick Ray were found in the house. Nick Ray, the unknown cowboy from Texas, arrived at the K C ranch during the progress of the battle and helped to run the gauntlet. The cattlemen captured his team with his brand. Leaving the K C ranch, the cattlemen started for Buffalo, and the rustlers organized and went to meet them. The cattlemen met the rustlers at the T A ranch, which the cattlemen surrounded, and at daylight Monday the battle began. Shots were exchanged all day, but the number of casualties reported cannot at present be ascertained. One of the cattlemen escaped from the ranch, presumably to get reinforcements. Reports of killed and wounded on both sides are circulated, but the time are not yet known. George Jones was brought to Buffalo yesterday badly wounded, something like an inch long and nearly half an inch deep in his side. He was one of the cattlemen's pickets during the fight. The rustlers are burning the country of sympathetic men, by which are rapidly growing up.

The acting mayor of Buffalo has called on the governor for the Fifth cavalry to assist the sheriff in quelling the disturbance.

ELECTION EXCITEMENT

Column Ballot Boxes Seized by "Knowing Ones" Politics.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The Herald special from Dunkirk, N. Y., says: The election will be decided here, for some of the ballot boxes were seized by a gang of couple from Troy, who were supposed to be the "knowing ones." The city is in the wildest state of excitement. Everything was quiet until the time came for the polling the polls in the Fourth ward, which is heavily Republican. Then the Troy operatives rushed a new and twenty other people, policemen ordered to and seized the ballot boxes, and they are now in the police station in an hour.

In other words they are being held back. The Troy men claimed a similar situation, and are now holding in jail forcing to leave the city. The ballot boxes in the police station, the police say, are safe, and after the excitement they will allow a fair representation of all parties to count the ballots. The candidates for mayor are Democrat Hall, Republican Bond, Greenback Hill (Democrat) and Strong (Independent). When the ballot boxes were seized by the special police an army man happened to be passing back to the regular police. At the police station the officers attempted to remove the boxes, but were offset down by the men, who were armed with rifles. The column boxes were seized by the men and a barrender shot a man through the arm. When Inspector Leary, was the man who said, "we pointed out to two Troy operatives they claim to be revolvers and forced him to give a check for the boxes, was taken to the police station, for what purpose is not known.

The Fourth ward is heavily Republican. Democrats from the First ward are heavily Democratic, are kept back in the last hour.

The officials refuse to allow the ballots to be counted in the Fourth ward, on the ground that it is illegal, and another ballot box was brought in. Hall, the Democrat, is ahead in the contest. The indications are that the Democrat will carry the city.

SILVER AND COINAGE.

Senator Stewart's Resolution in Relation to Purchase and Coinage of Silver.

THE AMOUNT OF GOLD IN THE TREASURY.

For the Relief of the Sufferers From the "Twelve Mile" Inundation.

CONGRESS.

Senator Stewart Speaks on Silver—Business Transacted by the House.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—In the Senate, yesterday in relation to the purchase and coinage of the monthly of silver dollars was taken up. After an amendment by Senator Stewart, it was provided that "there shall be coined a sufficient amount of the silver bullion purchased each day." Senator Stewart addressed the Senate on the subject. Previous to the resolution offered by Senator Morgan, calling for information in regard to the silver bullion to be temporarily with Germany and Holland, was agreed to.

Senator Morgan said that Senator Stewart, that he had transferred the last monthly statement of the Treasury Department so to the financial committee at the Treasury.

Senator Stewart said that these figures as set forth in the April statement, he inferred that the entire amount of gold in the treasury, in excess of the outstanding gold certificates, was but four millions of the silver and paper of which a million and a half was in the silver dollars. Senator Stewart gave the amount of gold in the treasury as $61,000,000 and said that if the gold standard was maintained in the silver act of 1890 would have to be repealed, and the secretary of the treasury would have to be authorized to put bullion in order to give silver dollars. He said that the silver dollar would have to be used equally as valuable as gold. During the last session of the Senate and House, the commission, and modified, so as to provide for the coinage of the silver bullion in excess of the monthly purchase, and coined in the treasury, and the silver dollars, and the increasing price. Whether this was wise, he would be shown, he said, when the secretary of the treasury should report the result of the operations. He contended he doubted that the people of the United States would stop the silver authorized by the act of 1890 which silver was reduced to the value which it occupied previous to the act of March, 1873.

The resolution went over until tomorrow, Senator Morgan expressing the intention to speak upon it for a brief period.

The public resolution introduced yesterday by Palmer, proposing a constitutional amendment for the election of United States senators by the people, was taken up and Senator Chandler moved to substitute the Senate in opposition. The time might come, he said, when he would be convinced that such proposition was right, but the time was not current and he is at the present time. He would therefore state some of the reasons for his opposition.

Senator Chandler said he did not propose to amend the Fifteenth Amendment by voting for a constitutional amendment which he thought there was no occasion. He would do the evil it comes, and argued that the present system of electing senators was the best system. He said he was criticised Senator Palmer's allusion to General Logan's election to the Senate as a trick.

Senator Palmer disclaimed any intention of reflecting on Senator Logan, and gave the history of Logan's election.

Senator Chandler argued that another objection would to present to the degraded condition of suffrage in the United States.

Senator Palmer replied to Senator Chandler's allusions to the political minority, and said he felt the Republican party which he felt to be the patriotic and humane party. He had no fear of the popular vote while the Republican party was entitled to the confidence of the people. He was devoted to the cause by which it was made, so grateful to under party existed. It was only after it fell into the hands of men who used it for the advancement of private interests that it became the foe to the country, which it was.

Senator Carlisle asserted that the Republican party had carried Logan's last election in the Senate.

The joint resolution was referred to the committee on privileges and elections, and after passing a number of bills on the calendar, the Senate adjourned.

SAW BOXES.

In the House the senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill were non-concurred in.

Mr. Allen (Miss.) asked unanimous consent for the present consideration of the joint resolution reported yesterday for the purchase and distribution of subscription copies to the sufferers from the flood of the Tombigbee River and its tributaries.

Kilgore (Tex.) objected and the resolution was referred.

Cayton (Ind.) made a personal explanation relative to the testimony taken by the House investigating committee. He concluded with continuous applause, and the Speaker finally said that the gentleman's remarks were addressed more to assuring House than to answer any charge made against him.

Meers, Peel, Allen and Wilson (Wash.) were appointed as referees on the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Cox (Tenn.) called up the signal deficiency appropriation bill.

In consideration of the whole, Bland (Mo.) took advantage of the error of the minority to bring up his silver question, by having read Senator Palmer's letter to a Chicago paper, declaring that the Bland bill was not a free coinage measure.

The committee now, not the bill, which appropriation deficiency was passed.

The House went into committee of the whole on the naval appropriation bill, but, without action, the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

To Settle a Reunion.

DENVER, April 12.—The Rocky Mountain News publishes a dispatch from Boulder, saying that a plot has been discovered to capture the Madison at Boulder to prevent a picnic of Morgan. It is supposed that the British have the assistance of the Indians to assist in carrying their contraband over Canada.
