ON HIS DAUGHTER'S GRAVE.

That was the Spot an Old Man Selected to Commit Suicide.

Coroner Taylor took formal charge of his office yesterday and soon after held an inquest over the remains of Gustav Syberg, an old man who ended his earthly existence over his daughter's grave on Friday last by severing his windpipe with a razor.

Twenty-one years ago the suicide came to this Territory with his family consisting of a wife and two daughters. A few years later an estrangement took place in the family. One daughter went with the mother and the other, Freda, remained with her father to whom she was devotedly attached.

The breaking up of Syberg's family proved heavily upon his mind and he became subject to periodical spells of melancholia. But Freda was all she could to drive sorrow from their home. A year ago, however, she died. Since that time her father's life was exceedingly wretched one. He refused to be comforted in his loneliness and sorrow deepened to the end of his career.

On Friday afternoon last Syberg wrote the following letter to Sheriff Allen to his daughter in Center street and sent it by the city messenger who he was found dead on Sunday on the mound that covered his daughter's remains:

Mr. Carlson—Please sent a letter to my brother, F. F. Syberg in Sweden, either him that I have left this world. He had enough to take care of what property I have left. Tell him that I can't stand it. Give the son to my sister wife, Mrs. Boldt. I have long thought of dissolving, and am sorry I did not carry it out before. I am no able to do anything. G. SYBERG.

We will see my body on Freda's grave.

The deceased had a good education, was an expert engraver and designer and was seventy years of age. His second daughter was the wife of E. Kelting, the architect. Funeral services were held from Reeves undertaking parlors this afternoon.

THE FOURTH CALENDAR.

Settlings and References.—Hiram Wright's Sentence.—The Alexander and Davis Matters Come Up.

Almost the entire session of the Third district court this morning was devoted to a further settling and reference of cases. This brought together a full attendance of members of the bar, most of whom remained until the volume business had been completed, shortly before 12 o'clock.

THE BIGGEST BOTCH.

In the matter of the appointment of a receiver in the Davis Furniture and Carpet Co. case, which was argued on Saturday afternoon and taken under advisement by the court, Judge Zane announced today that he did not find sufficient in the cause of complaint to warrant him in granting the request for a receiver. Attorney Dey, by whom the motion had been made, asked for leave to withdraw the motion for the appointment of a receiver and for the filing of a complaint so as to enable him to make another application to the Court, on other grounds.

DE BE ALEXANDER & CO.

It had been expected that Master Mekay would present his report this morning in reference to the Alexander suits, but it is not yet ready, and will not be submitted until Friday next.

CONFESSION OF JUDGMENTS.

A confession of judgment was entered this morning in the Third District Court in the case of J. C. Ketchum and W. Rosenfeld (of Chicago), vs. the State Furniture & Carpet company for the sum of $[illegible].

HIS SECOND DEFENDMENT.

Hiram Wright was arraigned and plead guilty to a charge of unlawful cohabitation. He said he had taken one wife, who is very poor, and that he had not the means to pay a fine. Judge Zane sentenced him to be confined in the penitentiary for six months and to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Attorney De Groot Young called the judge's attention to the fact that the defendant was in very bad health and asked that he be indulged that, and appealed to his honor to modify the punishment just imposed. Wright was quite ready to obey the law in future.

Judge Zane said that he would reconsider the matter, but for the present the sentence could stand.

Court adjourned till 2 p.m.

ORDER HAPPENINGS.

Wyoming and Utah Railway Company.—The New Board of Education.—The Battle in Purple Shape.

(Upon Another Subject.)

Tonight the new board of education will organize and probably transact any business of importance which there may be on the table. For the first week of the board there are no numerous applicants. Considerable talk has been indulged in regarding the chance of there being a vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Hart, the member-elect from the First, to qualify.

Superintendent S. W. Kemp of the Southern Pacific, and Mr. Knapp, interested in money matters from Rawlins, where the superintendent went to meet our council with the local officials to arrange for getting the coal now to be needed in Ogden by the Southern Pacific.

The legal of the Grand Opera house were yesterday morning turned over to the owners by all, flows and the house was closed, in which condition it will remain until the much talked opening of the future management has been settled with the money dragon of certainty.

It was said last night late that A. H. Harris would be the business tonight in Long's stockings.

The Ogden Natural Gas company people are putting down another twenty-inch pipe for water near the well-derricks which have been erected in Wilcox's lane, the flow from which will be utilized by the boilers when operations are commenced. The machinery has been on the road several weeks and is now long past due, immediately upon its arrival, we look for a big day, it will be placed in position at the derricks and drilling will be commenced.

Pen Magazine, chief of the mining and engineering department of the World's Fair, will leave for Ogden this morning. He expects to come into Salt Lake in the vicinity of the bridge where many miners have been operated.

On Sunday evening Judge A. C. Bilhiemer received his mail for the winter of information from the Wyoming and Utah Railway company, officially. Mr. Kennedy of Salt Lake of Wyoming, yesterday was a visitor to the offices with the End with the city today. The incorporators are Orlando A. Simpson of Iowa, Albert G. Sabin of Illinois, Moses, Greenbaum Hunter of Philadelphia, Pa., Isaac Van Horne of Illinois, Nathan Bachman of Illinois, Nathan Bachman of Illinois, Edward S. Cranbery of Illinois, these gentlemen together with Moses Greenbaum, W. Hewell and Albert L. Bernstein, form the board of directors. The capital stock is placed at $[illegible] and the life of the company is fifty years. The offices provide that the company is formed for the purpose of building and operating a railway from a point in Wyoming and Utah and that the terminal of the main line shall be at Casper, Natrona county, Wyoming, and will now extending south from a point in Fremont county to the town of Lander, Wyoming.

This morning L. A. Hanagan, Fred Thatchwell and a party of experienced miners and prospectors will leave for the San Juan placers, going via Rio Grande Western to Durango, Colorado, where they will procure conveyances and take the route via Moab and Bluff City.

INTERESTING OCCASION.

The Union Meeting House Dedicated with Appropriate Ceremonies.

On Sunday, January 1st, the new meeting house at Union, Salt Lake county, was dedicated for public worship. Bishop Jedediah Phelps presiding. There were present of the First Presidency, George Q. Cannon and Joseph F. Smith, also Apostle Abraham H. Cannon of the Presidency of the Seventies, Angus M. Cannon and Joseph E. Taylor, besides a number of Bishops and other leading men from the surrounding wards. There above mentioned and Elder H. W. Naisbitt were speakers, who gave much encouragement and offered congratulations to the Saints in the ward for their efforts for completing so nice a house to which to meet on Sundays. They also gave valuable instructions in regard to the duties of Latter-day Saints.

The preliminary prayer was offered at the beginning of the afternoon service by President George Q. Cannon.

The clerk of the aforementioned incorporation read a short statement of the time of beginning and end of the house, and stating that the building was entirely free from debt of any kind.

The singing by the ward choir, as aided by the Morris band, was very closely rendered, the principal pieces being an anthem composed by the conductor, Joseph F. Rees, and a dedication hymn composed by H. W. Naisbitt.

SUGGESTIONS WORTH NOTING.

Mr. Silver Discusses with Force and Logic the Income Tax Question.

Editor Deseret News:

Your explanation of the meaning of the evidence referred to in discussing the income question is perfectly clear, although to the juryfactor of a better plant it might seem to have somewhat of a Pickwickian character.

Your position, however, in relation to income tax is well taken and it is probably the only solution of the problem which will reach every one either large or small unless contribution be opposed to the whole body of smoke which seems so objectionable to the parties concerned. The smoke from small tax is not, it seems to me, so much of a satisfaction as does the smoke from people of a large property, but my experience and observation led me to the conclusion that the amount of smoke from the income turnpoint one cent in any equitable equals of contributing for school purposes as the smoke from one income burning ten times.

Government as a means of collecting and into gas for the enlightenment of man the ordinary gas with which we gas is primarily composed of 1000 but it was not discovered in 1000 but it was not discovered in 1000 but it was not discovered in the Elizabethan period on the Fourth Elizabeth. Gas was first discovered in the year 1000 but it was not discovered in the year 1000 but it was not discovered in the year 1000 but it was not