Old Folks.

We learn from Brother C. R. Savage that the photographic people have arrived at the Old Folks at their next outing to Provo in that pleasant town, where they will be made welcome in their rough "Mormon" style. Also that the Rio Grande Western road has relented, with its usual generosity, to furnish transportation. It is probable that both offers will be gratefully accepted and that Springville will be the spot for the Old Folks' summer excursion.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

The Defendant Now on Trial in the First District Court at Provo.

THE CASE AN INTERESTING ONE.

A Large Number of Witnesses to Be Examined.

In the Provo division of the First district court yesterday, Donald McPherson, the slayer of L. C. Palmer, was placed on trial before Judge Blackburn.

The defendant is thirty-seven years of age, of fine and pleasing deportment, dark complexion, wears a full and manly hair. He maintained an easy bearing as he was brought before the bar. There was a large array of witnesses and a considerable number of spectators in the court room, who manifested a great amount of interest in the case.

The indictment charges the defendant with having committed the murder on Sunday, March 15, 1891, at Binghamfield, Summit county, Utah, by shooting the deceased, Mr. Palmer. A full statement of the case was given publicity at the time of the murder and the public is familiar with what was reported to be the facts. J. M. Zane appears for the prosecution and A. G. Gallaher for the defendant. After a statement of the case was made by Mr. Zane, the witnesses for the prosecution, numbering fourteen, were sworn. There were no witnesses for the defense, except Mrs. Jones, who was not present.

Dr. Henry Nell took the stand and testified—Have been a physician thirteen years, and have had experience with gunshot wounds. Knew L. C. Palmer. Was called to see him on the evening of March 15, at Mr. Jones' house. Palmer was suffering from a gunshot wound. There was a wound in the epigastric region. I observed the bullet has passed through the body just below the breast bone. I made a thorough examination of the patient who was suffering a great deal of pain, the next day. The ball came out of the body just below the shoulder blade. The liver was injured as was the upper portion of the bowels. Palmer died seven days and two hours after the shot, and died at Jones' house in Redfield, on March 22.

Cross-examined by Sutherland—I probed for the bullet, but did not find it. I found the course of the bullet. Twenty eight hours elapsed between the time I made the first examination and the time I made a second examination and discovered the place where the bullet came out of the body.

Case in progress.

OTHER CASES.

The following business was disposed of before Judge Miner, at Ogden:

The People vs. Warren Richardson; surrender of defendant by his bondsmen; order committing him to the custody of the United States marshal in default of $2000 bail. Trial set for May 26, 1891.

The People, etc., vs. Warren Richardson; order setting aside former order forfeiting bail and relenting bail and exonerating bondsmen.

Charles Geisler et al. vs. Bertha Geisler et al.; order appointing Alma N. Perkins guardian ad litem for the minor defendants.

E. R. Chase et al. vs. H. H. Jones et al.; order granting plaintiff leave to amend by April 30 to file and serve statement on motion for a new trial.

F. J. Reed & Co. vs. Union Mercantile company; order granting plaintiff judgment on the pleadings according to admission of the answer.

E. W. Mateer et al. vs. Union Mercantile Co.; order granting judgment on pleading according to the terms of the answer.

F. J. Kessler et vs. Ogden Stable bank et al.; order dismissing cause at plaintiff's costs.

Amusements.

Milton Nobles' early professional training was in the West. In 1860, then a mere lad, he was a member of a little band of strolling Thespians playing in the mining camps of Colorado, Nevada and California. There are scenes, incidents and character studies in his play "From Rise to Son" indicating unmistakably that even at that early period he was a close student of men. In 1869 Nobles met Mr. Morgan, a handsome fellow of about thirty-five, tall, graceful and polished. He was a son of a New England clergyman and a Harvard graduate. He was a great reader, a recluse out of "business" hours, and a woman-hater. In the first act of "From Rise to Son" Mr. Nobles wears a counterpart of the suit in which he first met the famous gambler Morgan could have been seen during the sixties on the streets of Carson, Reno and Virginia city.

At "Wonderland" tomorrow will be souvenir day. Each lady will be presented with a handsome souvenir. The bill so issued is varied and entertaining.

UNEXPECTED DEAISE.

Major Byron Died Suddenly at His Residence This Morning.

Major E. M. Byron, died suddenly and unexpectedly at his residence, 555 east Third South street this morning. The immediate cause of his demise was apoplexy, with which he was stricken on Tuesday evening. He sank into unconsciousness shortly afterward and died without regaining sensibility.

His family consists of two sons, John J., his private secretary, and William H., an employe in the United States marshal's office.

The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania. He served as a Union soldier in the War of the Rebellion and was promoted to the rank of major.

Shortly after the close of the war he became engaged in the labor movement in his native State, where he visited the labor Tribune at Pittsburg. He subsequently came west and finally settled in Utah, where he resided until the time of his death. Mr. Byron was also connected with the labor movement in this Territory and was a member of the Federated Trades Union.

The funeral service will be held on Sunday next, under the auspices of the G. A. R., of which the deceased was a member.

SERIOUS RAILWAY WRECK.

Several Travelers Badly Injured on the Park City Passenger Train.

Shortly after 5 o'clock last evening, a serious accident occurred on the Utah Central railway, about one mile east of the station over which the road passes to Park City. No lives were lost, but a number of passengers had a narrow escape from a fearful death. Several of them, however, were seriously hurt.

The accident was caused by the rear coach and baggage car jumping from the rough and unevenly-graded track. The passenger car was hurled with violent force against a bank adjoining the track. The passengers were thrown into a heap in the lower end of the car. All succeeded in escaping through the rear door, except Major J. R. Bailey, paster secretary of the Rio Grande Western office, who was badly bruised and shocked by the accident.

While half an hour the wreck was cleared away and the passengers placed in another car and brought to this city. Mr. Bailey was taken to his room at the Valley House, where he will probably be confined for some days.

Mr. Knowles, his stenographer, received a severe scratch over the left eye, and is now suffering from the wound painfully. Dr. Neff dressed it at the hand, however, and the unfortunate sufferer will undoubtedly recover in a few days.

C. S. Gerell, of Clarksfield, Minn., was badly bruised about the lower limbs.

R. H. and E. O. Neder, two other travelers from Minnesota, received slight injuries.

Sunday School Union.

The officers and teachers of the Sunday Schools of the Salt Lake Stake will hold their regular meeting in the Fourteenth Ward assembly rooms on Monday evening, May 4th, at 7:30 o'clock.

Elder David McKenzie will continue his interesting lecture on "Moral Government." The Second ward Sunday school will render the singing exercises, and the Ashworth Guitar and Mandolin club will give one of their specialties.

Elder William Bradford will deliver a fifteen-minute address on "The Art of Questioning as Applied to Sunday School Class Work."

All Sunday school workers are invited to be present.

J. H. PARRY, Secy.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Fifty Dollars for the Loss of a Horse—A Quarrel Between Sheepherders.

Judge Anderson sat for three-quarters of an hour this morning and then adjourned till 2 p.m.

A SEALED VERDICT.

In the case of J. D. Shaffer vs. F. A. Mitchell et al., heard yesterday, in which the plaintiff sued to recover the sum of $250 on account of the death of a mare, alleged to have been caused through the negligence of the defendants' servants during the time she was pasturing on the Church farm, the jury this morning handed in a sealed verdict, assessing the damages at $50.

THE COURT SHOWS MERCY.

John H. Jacklit, a Swiss, about 20 years of age—indicted for shooting at a young man named Mulliner, with intent to murder—was brought into court for trial, but the witnesses for the defense not having arrived, Attorney Harlow Ferguson asked for a continuance, and that the defendant be released on his own recognizance, as he had been in jail, awaiting trial, three months already.

U. S. Assistant District Attorney Stephens objected to the defendant being out at liberty on the terms mentioned by Mr. Ferguson, who, a little later, advised the defendant to withdraw his former plea and now plead guilty. This Jacklit did, waived time, and stood up for sentence.

Mr. Ferguson said that the defendant and Mulliner were both shepherders at the same place in Tooele County, and a quarrel arose between them over their respective herds. The defendant took up a gun and fired in the direction of the other man, simply with the intention of scaring him, but unfortunately the charge struck his arm, which he has, in consequence, lost. The defendant, who is at present in a very sickly condition said counsel, had borne a good character up to this occurrence. He asked the court to exercise clemency.

Mr. Stephens stated he did not think this was a case calling for the enforcement of the law to the fullest extent of law. He did not regard the defendant as an abandoned criminal by any means, though he certainly needed a lesson, in order that he might understand that what he had done was wrong.

In answer to the Court, Jacklit (who seems to be somewhat mentally as well as physically weak) stated that he had no intention of hurting Mulliner when he fired. Mulliner had "worried" him time after time, and he wanted to scare him off.

Judge Anderson pointed out the serious nature of the offense, but taking all the circumstances into consideration, he imposed the lightest sentence allowed by law—one year in the penitentiary.

Thomas Verrard vs. Frank Hoffman et al.; hearing on order to show cause why injunction should issue; by consent until May 9th, and same time allowed to answer.

Owen H. Pettit vs. E. H. Parsons; defendant was allowed to file an amended answer.

Several civil cases were on the docket for hearing, but matter parties were not ready in any of them, a recess was taken at 11:45 until 2 p. m.

Before Judge Zane yesterday afternoon, in the case of J. H. Lloyd vs. Salt Lake City, which was decided on Tuesday in favor of the defendant, his honor allowed the plaintiff twenty days in which to file a bill of exceptions.

In the case of William Diamond, the slayer of Edward Scott, who was recently sentenced to three years' imprisonment, the defendant was allowed until May 15th to file a bill of exceptions.

S. Thomas vs. G. S. Holmes; plaintiff was allowed ten days in which to amend his complaint.

LOST AND FOUND.

An Escaped Prisoner Recaptured After Enjoying Twelve Months' Liberty.

A notorious jail bird who escaped from his cage in the United States commissioner's office just over twelve months ago has been re-arrested and brought back to Salt Lake. His name is Charles Leland. He, in company with another young crook, broke into the Union Pacific depot in the month of February, 1890, and they managed to get away with a substantial sum of money. Leland was caught soon after the occurrence, but the other inferior who relished in the sobriquet of "Hippy Jack"—gave the police the slip, and it is still at large.

Having been convicted by a jury in the Third District Court on the charge of burglary and grand larceny, Leland was brought down to the United States marshal's office, where he was lodged in Marshal Parsons' cage, awaiting the Court's pleasure, the prisoner escaped by climbing through the transom. All of this happened a year ago, but the slippered heels of his whose heels having been gripped until recently, when he was arrested at Portland, Oregon, for theft. The Salt Lake authorities learned of his arrest, and Deputy Marshal Doyle, armed with the necessary papers, proceeded to work after him. The end of it all was that Mr. Doyle returned to this city last night with the fugitive in his custody, and Leland has been lodged in the penitentiary pending the necessary arrangements for finally disposing of him.

Leland is described by those acquainted with his past career as a counterfeiter of the highest kind, and it is said that he is "wanted" by the police at Denver for the part he is alleged to have taken in the murder of a officer there prior to his burglarious exploit on the U. P. premises.

Notes from Winter Quarters.

A correspondent writing from Winter Quarters, near Stofield, Emery County, says: The snow is rapidly disappearing from the hillsides and valley. Outdoor work is being resumed about the coal mines, some of which are located at an altitude of 9,000 feet above sea level.

Social enjoyments have been freely participated in during the dreary winter months.

The amateur dramatic association have rendered very creditably, a number of choice selections, and were liberally patronized by the enterprising residents of that place.

Good health and general prosperity prevails.

Estate of Albert Hodges; decree of due and legal notice to creditors.

Retired From Business.

Mr. M. H. Beardley, the well-known proprietor of the Palmer House, at Green River, has retired from the hotel business which he has so long and successfully followed. For many years Mr. Beardley was one of the most popular "mine hosts" to be found in the west. His Ogden houses were always well kept and hospitable, and travelers will regret to learn of his retirement from business.

Mr. Beardley and his amiable wife are now settled in an elegant home in this city, where they propose to remain permanently.

Returned Missionaries.

Elder H. M. Hansen, of Fremont, Piute county, Utah, who left his home August 6th, 1889, for a mission to Scandinavia, returned last night, Wednesday, April 29th. He has been laboring in Norway, presiding over the Drammen branch, until released on account of sickness.

Elder Alf Erickson, of Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete county, has also been laboring in Norway, principally in Bergen, Tranhjelm and Lerwig. He left on April 9th, 1889, and returned last night, April 29th.

The work in Norway is reported as being in a prosperous condition in several places. There is at present no persecution beyond an occasional effort through the press, and not few are going to investigate the principles of the Gospel.

Tooele Stake Conference.

Sunday morning, ten o'clock. There were present on the stand Apostle John W. Taylor, President H. S. Gowans and Counselor Patriarch George W. Harrison and a number of the Bishops and leading men of the Stake.

The conference was addressed by Elders A. J. Stookey, Peter A. Dorius, James Kirk and Davis Powell, testifying to the truth of the Gospel revealed through Joseph Smith, establishing their proofs by the Bible and Book of Mormon, also gave some reminiscences of their experiences and of the power of God made manifest through faith.

Two o'clock p. m. The general authorities of the Church were presented by President Gowans and unanimous vote sustained.

Apostle Taylor gave faithful and wise counsel, showing the necessity of utilizing our time and talents profitably in the improvement of good order and decorum in all our meetings, whether of a social, political or religious character, observing proper behavior and conduct in the house of God, preserving the rights and property of others from injury; the elected under the law of God and constitutional rights; called the youth to magnify their faith that they be not unequally yoked with unbelievers, etc.

Monday, April 20th, 10 o'clock a. m. The local officers of the Stake were presented by President Gowans and fully sustained.

The Grantsville, Vernon, Tooele and Clover wards were represented by their Bishops to be in good standing. An address by Elder Jesse Udall corresponding good works was plainly manifest. President Gowans and Counselor C. L. Anderson spoke of the duties incumbent on the Bishops and advised the saints in their duties. Elders David Brandon and Richard Watson bore testimony to the establishment of the latter day work and its future destiny.

At 2 o'clock p. m. the Batesville, Lake Point, St. John and Lakeview wards were reported by their presiding officers to be in a very satisfactory condition. Counselor George H. Hulbert offered some encouraging remarks to the saints. Apostle Taylor gave a brief geographical sketch and outline of the country so located and occupied by the Latter-day saints, their character and facilities, the accessibility of each locality and the greatness of the work before us in labouring these places towards our people settling amongst them. Invariably the Lord has abundantly blessed His people and fulfilled their faithfulness and assistance. He portrayed some of the advantages enjoyed by members of this Stake and pronounced the blessing of the Lord on the assembled multitude.

The Tooele choir performed well their part in the exercises of the conference.

H. S. Gowans presiding.

GEO. ATKIN, Clerk.

Action for Damages.

Suit was brought in the Third district court this afternoon by Marie and Leonie Bouffleur against J. W. Mason, the real estate man of this city.

The action is brought to have judgment against defendant for $3000 and costs of suit, alleged to be due, or damages sustained by plaintiffs through the fraudulent acts and representations of the defendants by inducing them to purchase a certain lot in Salt Lake, Mont., that was under mortgage.

J. A. Williams is attorney for the plaintiffs.

OBITUARY.

BENNETT—William Collin Bennett, son of Hiram S. Bennett and Elizabeth Collin, died at the residence of his father in this city, and was born January 3, 1852, in Rockingham County, Pennsylvania. His parents accepted the Gospel in 1861, and in 1862 removed to Jackson County, Iowa, where they remained for a time in the pursuits and drudgery of the farm. He was baptized in March in the spring of 1863 by Elder Gustavus Rogers, and was ordained a seventy at Farmington in 1865, by Elder Thomas S. Smith. He married Eliza Jane Chaney on October 16th, 1872, in the house of his father. Bennett was moved on a roof mission to the Eastern States. He was ordained a High Priest and set apart as First Counselor to Bishop Taylor, of Harrison county, Iowa, by Apostle Orson F. D. Smith. The position he held until the Harrisville ward was divided, and on December 9th, 1888, he was set apart by President L. W. Shurtliff as First Counselor to Bishop Taylor of Fort Ward ward.

He leaves a widow, seven children and aged parents to mourn.

At the funeral services on the 25th inst. President C. F. Middleton bore a high testimony to the character of the deceased and expressed deep sympathy with the family in their bereavement. Brother Bennett, in such, had fired the life of a faithful Latter-day Saint, and was a member of the Church.

Bishop Robert McQuarrie said he was good to bear, knew such a man, and Elder Joseph Perry, said he knew the departed brother for many nine years, and Brother Bennett had always during that time led the life of a righteous man. Night and he was honorable. One bottle Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Sleepers, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running ulcer on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg; doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. 24

Specimen Cures.

S. H. Clifford, New Canaan, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was hardly recovered in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edward Sleepers, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running ulcer on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg; doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. 24
