NAMING OF SCHOOLS.

Baldwin moved that the name of the Uintah school building be changed to Poplar Grove. Lost.

Doody moved that the new school in the south be named Emerson. Lost.

Then came motions for various names by different members but all were lost after which the rules were suspended and the school named Emerson. The board then adjourned for two weeks.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

A Heavy Rainstorm Which Wrought Great Havoc around Wasatch.

The heaviest rain ever witnessed by the people of this valley occurred Sunday afternoon, says the Wasatch Nail Creeper. Bridges were destroyed, chickens drowned, bridges swept away and traveling made impossible for a time. The storm passed along the foothills on the east of the valley, Heber escaping with only a sprinkle—not enough to lay the dust. It lasted about an hour and a half and the rain came down in torrents. Down each ravine came a rushing, roaring river that swept everything before it. On Daniels' creek the road was washed full of gravel in places, the culvert was filled with debris and middlebrook grain was damaged. J. J. Row had one of his acres of grain washed down and buried up in sand and gravel. He also lost a good many chickens. At Center creek the storm was worse. Upon Daniels creek, Mack grain was washed away and many chickens were drowned. It is reported that Joseph Hawkins lost two acres of grain. The water rushed through Palmer's house nearly knee deep. Lewis Swat lost quite a number of turkeys but saved his gobbler by plunging into the water waist deep. Judge W[illegible] a wagon load of people, m[illegible] and children, were cut in D[illegible] canyon, and coming [illegible] swamped in Center creek. [illegible] was swept away, his wagon demolished and the team nearly drowned. Lucille [illegible] one was cut and a gentleman had the unlucky experience to be swept in a hay wagon. Just south of Heber the bridge was carried away and the people from the south found it difficult to getting home.

The Millard Progress is pleased to record the fact that Hon. Charles Crane, of Kanosh, is still to remain one of the substantial citizens of Millard county, and that he only contemplates removing to Salt Lake for the winter, in order to look after the education of his children, who have been attending St. Mary's academy and the Collegiate Institute of the metropolis for the past three years, and who will continue in the latter institution for two or three years yet.

Marti, remark: the Sanitarian, has another follower of Blackstone in the person of Joseph Harris. Mr. Harris is a native of Monroe and has just completed a course at Ann Arbor, Michigan, from which institution he graduated with the usual record of a Utah boy. Mr. Harris deserves and he could will receive the support of the people of Sanpete county, and we extend him a hearty welcome.

AN OPINION GIVEN.

Recently Mr. J. D. Tonner, of North Dakota, visited the Shenandoah Valley, Virginia, and after carefully examining the country, located at Winchester, he writes to Mr. V. Riebards, Land and Immigration Agent, Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, Baltimore, Maryland, as follows: "I have been in nearly every state and territory in the United States, and was much in my opinion that this valley surpasses all other sections in the Union. The lands are low in price, and produce profitable crops. I thank you for directing me here, and will do some settling pleasant and profitable home in locale in this country."
