LOCAL BRIEFS.

Next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock Elder David McKenzie will deliver the first of a series of lectures on Bible evidences, at the Templeton. All are invited.

The clerks in the office of the street department, board of health, and recorder have been busy the past week in going over old records for the purpose of classifying them.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Susannah Mary Stones will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock, at the residence of her daughter, Grace Tyler, 112 Fifth South. The remains may be viewed from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m. Friends are kindly invited.

A lady whose name was not learned fell in a fit yesterday afternoon on the sidewalk of Dinwoodey's store on First South. She was taken into the store by several of the salesmen, and was soon able to continue her way unattended.

Sinnet, the farrier, this morning was the center of the attention of sidewalk loungers. He was busily engaged in packing three splendid deer heads that will be forwarded to the home of Mr. H. C. Munger, a tourist who resides at Birmingham, Alabama.

The Second ward M. I. A. will give an entertainment in the meeting house next Tuesday evening, which promises to be a unique affair. Among the features, etc., will be the introduction of the Bellamy dance, a contest for the Bellamy cake, and a valentine postoffice.

Mrs. Haney of this city enjoys the distinction of having three sons with the army at Manila—J. W. Evans belongs to company K, First Montana volunteers. He enlisted while at Montana. D. C. Evans belongs to the Third U. S. artillery, and Willard Evans belongs to battery H, Utah volunteers.

Attorney General Bishop handed down an opinion last evening in answer to County Attorney McGregor of Iron county. The opinion is to the effect that the salary voted to a county treasurer covers all duties, and that the treasurer is not entitled to extra compensation for the handling of the school funds.

Frank McBride, who was convicted of embezzling funds belonging to the postoffice here, while acting as assistant postmaster, has received a bond for $1,000 before United States Commissioner Toomey, to be seen in the United States court of sureties on an application for his release until the determination of the appeal now pending before that court.

The semi-annual statement of county claims from January county, which has been received by State Auditor Morris, amounts to $201,85, one-half of which is to be paid by the State. It includes bounties on 7 bears, 5 mountain lions, 115 coyotes, 39 wildcats, 19 foxes, 35 muskrats, 11 minks, 3,878 gophers, 9,475 dozen sparrow's eggs and 4,294 sparrows.

There are three bolts of factory swatting on center at police headquarters. They were picked up on East Temple street at an early hour this morning, by Officer Hemple. As the dropsoda have a ticket attached bearing the information in bold letters, "Yard wide 2½ cents," possibly some absent-minded clerk will have a bad time of it on the carpet in a back office.

The Congregational church will be perfectly heated tomorrow and University students in attending the Lincoln memorial services of the Delta Phi fraternity in the evening will not receive the cold reception they received at school last Monday. The failure of the heating of the church last Monday, it is said, was due to the weak pressure of water in the mains, due to the unusual demand in the canyon, which is not liable to occur again.

The record book of the waterworks department shows that on Thursday last there were reported to the office seven cases of the bursting of water pipes; on Friday, nine cases, and this forenoon, three. All were pipes either within the house or within the lots of residents. There were many other cases of water pipes bursting which were not reported to the office. The main pipes in the streets have been exceptionally free from the effects of cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pett entertained the Pett family Monday evening, the event being the anniversary of the birth of N. H. Pett, deceased, and his third son, John H. The evening was spent in a social way, interspersed with reminiscences of the early life in the valleys of the Salt Lake, by Jos. H. Pett, contrasting the many advantages of today with the privations and shortrations of the 40's. Musical selections were rendered by Miss Leslie Greene and Ethel Pett. Delicious refreshments were served and enjoyed by those present.

CROWING FISH FOR PROFIT.

Mr. Sherlock Says it Beats the Poultry Business.

An Inkling of How the Process of Piscatorial Production is Conducted—A Baby Trout.

A few years ago many people used to "swear" by chickens, but today fowl running hard pay to take a back seat. Fish culture is the latest Richmond to the fore.

Immediately opposite the gates of Calder's park is situated the latest money producer. Some six years ago Mr. J. E. Sherlock went to Plymouth, Mass., for 1,000 trout eggs; these he placed in the window of his uptown store, and as the process of hatching took place, over 900 eggs were successfully hatched out; from this start he has now regular breeding ponds, hatcheries and buildings. At the present time there are over 110,000 fish alive at Mill Creek, and last week Mr. Sherlock filled a Colorado order for 15,000 young trout.

Fish breeding, Mr. Sherlock says, is much more interesting and a less expensive pastime than a chicken ranch. When the fish are old enough to feed they get a regular diet of cow's liver and shorts. Taken all in all, 5,000 full grown trout in one company do not consume as 100 fowls do in the same space of time.

The average individual has very hazy ideas regarding the way the piscatorial tribe makes its initial entry into its native element. This morning a "News" man called into a pen of water that the breeder solemnly affirmed contained young fish, but not a trout arose; all that the scribe could see were some little round, greenish globules resting on the bottom of the pen. Taking a common broken fountain pen-filler, Mr. Sherlock proceeded to capture one of these peculiarly notable fish. On holding the tube up to the light a monstrosity was plainly visible in the form of a big pale red eyed with a transparent tail attached. The eye were further hardened down with a bag of gelatine; from this saw the young spawn obtains the nourishment for some thirty days, until the same is absorbed, when the fish rises to the surface and proceeds to lead a new existence and make for the open food that does Mother nature set the young trout up in life.

Trout begin spawning in the month of November and continue until about February. The deposits of eggs take anywhere from thirty to eighty days to hatch out, according to the temperature of the water. After that a thermometer and careful attention is all that is needed.

Mr. Sherlock is enthusiastic over the future of the industry, which he says is an assured success.

PREST. CANNON'S LECTURE.

It is Listened to by a Large Audience, Which is Deeply Interested in the Subject.

A large audience assembled in the Thirteenth Ward hall last evening to listen to a lecture by President Angus M. Cannon, on the Exposition from Nauvoo. The lecture was particularly interesting from the fact that the speaker participated, as a boy, in the events narrated.

He commenced by giving a description of the beautiful situation of Nauvoo, and detailing its advantages and prospects. The troubles between the citizens of Nauvoo and the other inhabitants of the state were related and explained as also the action from Nauvoo and the travels of the people across Iowa to Winter Quarters in 1846, including the call for the Mormon Battalion. The lecturer, who was a boy of 16 at the time, was small remnant that remained in Nauvoo until September, 1846, and the troubles they experienced at the hands of the mob. These included acts of assault, cases of kidnapping, attempted arrests, etc. In these matters the "Anti-Mormons" are frankly described as were called were treated almost as harshly as the Saints themselves.

Elder Cannon gave a vivid account of the battle of Nauvoo, between the mob possse and the militia under Clifford. Personal reminiscences were introduced, adding greatly to the interest of the narrative. He also treated the terms of evacuation arranged between the mob and the citizens, and showed that many of these terms were ruthlessly disregarded by the mobs, attempting being taken of the helpless condition of the people to massacre the citizens when, in accordance with the agreement, they left their dwellings and dwellings outlined for the people after reaching the Iowa side of the river, were grandly harrowing. The speaker manifesting deep emotion over the recollection of those events.

The third lecture of the series, on the Mormon Battalion, will be delivered next Friday evening at the same place, by Elder Willard Done, with personal reminiscences by a number of the battalion. Bishop Thomas Ashworth will render a tenor solo.

THE OVERDUE ANCHORIA.

Vessel Should Have Arrived on Tuesday—Utah People on Board.

The Anchor line Anchoria, which sailed from Glasgow on January 30th, for New York, according to the Associated Press dispatches, is included in the list of seafaring craft that are some days overdue, owing to the severe storms which have been raging on the Atlantic during the last three weeks.

In the ordinary course of events the steamer should have been at the dock side on or about last Tuesday morning. Among her list of passengers are the following: Amos F. Keeler of Salt Lake City, G. A. Brandt of Spanish Fork, and J. C. Tomber of Montpelier, Idaho.

The Anchoria is a staunch ship, and doubtless will come through all right. The fact that she is the slowest of the Anchor line's passenger fleet will make delay on her part according to the storm all the more probable.

FIFTY BELOW ZERO.

A private letter received at the President's office from Woodruff, Bear River valley, Rich county, is responsible for the statement that during the recent Arctic snap the thermometer in that thriving little settlement dropped to fifty degrees below zero.
