A GIGANTIC WHIRLPOOL.

Lives Lost by the Bursting of a Lake Casing In.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 13.—Prof. E. F. Coffey, of this city, has received a letter from Lake Chapala, state of Jalisco, Mexico, which says that a few days ago bulletins of one of the most remarkable meteors ever the western end of Lake Chapala were terrified to see a gigantic whirlpool raging far out on the water. The water rose in great spasmodic movements and from all directions rushed towards a common center. Where a vast cavity seemed to exist. At the same time a heavy rumbling was heard, apparently in the bowels of the earth. The whirlpool was followed by the sudden sinking of a large portion of the lake's bottom. The subsidence continued for twenty minutes and leaves it subsided it is said that several pleasure boats were drawn into the pool and disappeared with their occupants. It is estimated that a score of lives were lost.

Committed Him to the Stocks.

NEWCASTLE, Pa., Jan. 13.—Charged by a poor, Harry Jordan, a negro deputy, wanted for murder—only assaulting Dr. J. N. Cloud, took things in an uncongenial house near Ambia yesterday afternoon. The negro terrorized the place and swore he would kill the first man who attempted to enter. The posse poured volley after volley into the house without injuring Jordan, who returned the fire with his Winchester. The torch was applied but Jordan made no effort to escape. He stood in the center of a burning building and fired his Winchester in a vain effort to kill some of the possess. The roof of the building fell in and he was buried by blazing debris. He boasted that no white man could take him alive.

A Practical Joke and a Murder.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 13.—Albert Johnson, aged 25, a street railroad motorman, upon returning to his boarding house Sunday morning, put the cold hands down the back of C. H. R. Holmes, aged 27, a fellow boarder. A fight followed and Holmes went to his room, secured a revolver and returning fired five times at Johnson, killing him instantly. He then gave himself up to the police. Holmes is a civil engineer and came here recently to accept a position in a large machine shop.

FOR THE CAUSE OF SILVER.

Senator Jones Anxious to Bring It Up (With the Tariff Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—It is understood about the Senate that Senator Jones, of Nevada, is quite anxious to move the cause of silver in connection with the tariff bill as he is to promote the sugar interest. Many of the silver men are of the opinion that the plan of the silverites Republicans is to get the House tariff bill through both houses and have it sent to the President by whom they think it will be vetoed. This would raise the tariff question and have a tendency to make it the sole issue in the approaching campaign. The silver Republicans expect that this is the wish of their anti silver colleagues and some of the latter class are deliberating if possible, to prevent the consummation of this scheme. They think they can do so by getting a free coinage amendment on the tariff bill and it is also rather probable that an effort will be made in that direction. It is considered more than probable that Senator Jones would cooperate heartily with his Republican silver friends in this direction. He is acting as a Populist and it is remembered in this connection that the Populists in Nebraska a few weeks since dictated for a silver amendment to the tariff as well as the sound bill. It is also considered good tactics in the fight for the silver side and to hold the tariff bill in suspense for the present.

THE MILLENNIUM AT HAND.

A Prominent Evangelist's Views on the Signs of the Times.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 13.—The Rev. Dr. R. M. Wheaton, prominent as an evangelist, thinks the millennium is close at hand. In a sermon on "The war in Europe and what they mean," he said in part: "Christ is coming again. It will be a personal coming. He cannot come again as Kingmaker reconstructed, but will call the righteous dead from their graves and the righteous still alive will be called together. I believe that the Christian men and women will disappear suddenly from the streets, and the world will know nothing about it. Men will go on with business as before.

"I cannot prophesy as to the time of his coming, but according to my belief it looks as if this is just about the time. Look at the signs. The Gospel has been preached to all nations; there is a general falling away among Christians from the Father; there is great suffering, a martyrdom such as the world never saw, for Christ's sake; great earthquakes and war alarms and war talk more portentous than ever before. These facts are signs which portend the coming of the king."

A Vessel Ashore.

CAPE HENRY, Va., Jan. 13.—The steamer (reported) ashore last night at New Inlet, N. C., proves to be the American steamer James Woodall, with a cargo of sugar and molasses, from New Orleans for Baltimore. The vessel is now full of water. The crew of two men were saved by the life saves.

THE TRANSVAAL AFFAIRS.

Boers Much Incensed and Difficult to Control.

No Leniency to Be Expected for the Ring Leaders of the Disturbances.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—A dispatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Capetown published today, says the latest advices from Pretoria state that hail has been refused the ring leaders of the recent disturbances at Johannesburg and that the other people arrested in the same connection each has been liberated on $500 bail.

The dispatch adds that it is expected severe measures will be taken against the leaders of the uprising, in spite of the fact that it is apparent they were deceived and taken by surprise by Dr. Jameson's incursion. Sir Hercules Robinson, governor of Cape Colony, is expected, has made every effort to secure leniency for the prisoners; but the extreme section of Boers are much incensed and very difficult to control.

The new ministry for Cape Colony is regarded as a device to shield ex-Premier Cecil Rhodes, and Sir Hercules Robinson, Rhodes. It is also said, is in very bad health. Advice from Johannesburg says the Uitlanders are expecting the Boers to make a house to house search for arms and it is stated the Germans have been holding meetings and passing resolutions telling Emperor William to mind his own business. Dr. Jameson and lieutenants, so far as known, are still at Pretoria.

The Times says officials of the British South Africa company deny that Dr. Jameson was deposed from the post of administrator, on recommendation of their company.

A Murderous Clerk.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 13.—In the dry goods house of L. S. Ayres & Co. this morning, Miss Ruth Gordon, clerk, fired two shots at Harry Purviance, the floor walker. One shot made an abrasion to Purviance's side. The second shot failed to take effect. Purviance overpowered him and before she could fire again. Miss Gordon charged Purviance with ungentlemanly conduct toward her. Purviance is married.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Westminster Gazette this afternoon, touching upon the misunderstanding between Great Britain and the United States, says it sees a distinct break in the clouds, and hopes that a settlement satisfactory to Great Britain and the United States will be effected with Venezuela direct and intimates that the Venezuela matter is closely identified with the latest proposed solution of this controversy.

SATURDAY'S CABINET COUNCIL.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—It was learned this afternoon that the cabinet council on Saturday considered the question of re-establishing the diplomatic relation with Venezuela, but that no definite conclusion was arrived at.

Regarding the alleged statement by the foreign office that Canada had not agreed to the Herring-Chauncey treaty, the foreign office had never made any such statement, adding: "The matter is in the way of being entirely settled, and it is possible that within a few days, Sir Julian Pauncefote and Secretary Olney will reach a complete and explicit understanding."

Inauguration of Governor Bushnell.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 13.—The inaugural ceremonies inducting Asa S. Bushnell into the office of governor began at 11 a. m., when Governor McKinley and staff and the joint legislative and citizens committee met him at the hotel and escorted by Troop A of the Cleveland and Fourteenth regiment O. N. G., proceeded to the State house, where Governor McKinley, addressing the multitude in the rotunda, received and bade farewell to the occasion, presented his successor with his commission and introduced him as Governor Bushnell. Governor Bushnell made an extended address, concluding:

"All the most fitting of all times, it gives me the greatest and most sincere pleasure to congratulate you upon the honesty, dignity and wisdom of the administration of Hon. William McKinley as chief executive of the state. Ohio has been honored by him, even as he has been honored by Ohio. May his destiny lead him to a pathway where he can give for the American people the same excellent service he has bestowed upon his fellow citizens of Ohio."

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Today being the second Monday of the month, was, under the rules, set aside for consideration of business relating to the District of Columbia. Before Chairman Hitchcock claimed the day, Morse (Rep., Mass.) presented the following resolution for reference to the committee on foreign affairs:

Whereas, the most mournful tragedy of the nineteenth century has been acted in now being enacted, under the apparent direction of the sultan of Turkey, by which hundreds of thousands of Armenians are being ruthlessly slaughtered in cold blood, women being driven into captivity worse than death, and the inhabitants who have fled to the mountains are dying of cold and starvation;

Whereas, The blood of these martyred dead cry to Heaven for justice;

Resolved, That the committee on foreign affairs consider the expediency of reporting forthwith some expression by this government in condemnation of these atrocities, and if they find that we as a nation are powerless to act, that we invoke the cooperation of the allied powers to wipe the Turkish government off the face of the earth and secure the freedom and independence of the subjects.

The resolution was referred.

The House then entered upon the consideration of District business.

Two unimportant bills were reported after which the House went into committee of the whole for the consideration of the pension appropriation bill.

THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Vice President today laid before the Senate a letter from the secretary of the treasury, in reply to a resolution of enquiry presented by Peffer as to whether a hundred million coins in gold had at any time been set apart from other funds. The secretary states that this had never been done, there being no provision in the law authorizing it.

Call (Dem., Fla.) submitted a number of petitions regarding Cuba and asked that they be printed. Objection was made by Platt (Rep., Conn.).

The controversy between Mr. Hill and the North Carolina senators occupied the Senate till 5 o'clock, when the free silver measure was advocated by Morgan, of Alabama.

Killed the Whole Family.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Peter Hoogsard, believed to have been insane, killed himself, wife and five children last night.

Hoogsard was a Dane, living at 241 Sixty-first street. He went to a friend yesterday telling him what he was going to do and some of diamonds the police would find by his side when they enter the house. The letter was received by Hoogsard's friend today. He immediately informed the police. The police forced Hoogsard's house. They were almost overcome by fumes of gas. Upstairs they discovered seven corpses. The jets of every gas fixture in the house had been opened and death evidently came on all the family but the husband and father, while they were asleep.

Favorable Report Agreed On.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—The Senate committee on judiciary today decided to report favorably the nomination of Charles H. Stimson, to be district attorney of the western district of Tennessee. This appointment was opposed by Senator Harris and charges filed but they were not regarded sufficient by the judiciary committee.

TO SAVE HAMMOND.

Efforts in Behalf of An American Arrested in Transvaal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Senator Perkins and White, of California, called at the state department today to urge Secretary Olney to take such steps as necessary to secure the proper treatment of John Hays Hammond, the American mining engineer reported to have been arrested by Boer officers at Johannesburg, on a charge of treason, in connection with the recent rising of the Uitlanders in Transvaal.

Secretary Olney informed his callers that he had cabled Mr. Malcom, the United States consul resident at Johannesburg, to do everything proper for the protection of all American citizens in Transvaal.

Ambassador Bayard was cabled by Secretary Olney to secure from the foreign affairs office in London direction to the British representative in South Africa to use their good offices to protect the American citizens.

The secretary assured the California senators that the American citizens of Transvaal cannot be tried for treason, as Hammond's life is not in danger. The most that can be done, it is said, is to fine or imprison him, but it is probable that this will be avoided.

Senators White and Perkins express satisfaction at what has been done in Hammond's behalf by the state department.

Sufferings of Sailors.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Jan. 13.—Several members of the crew of the Janet Cowan, which was wrecked off the coast of Vancouver Island on January 1, attribute the loss of the ship to the incompetency of Captain Thompson. The captain is said to have been intoxicated when the ship struck a hidden rock and went to the bottom.

Seven of the crew, including the captain, lost their lives. Captain Thompson and two other men died of hunger and exposure after landing on Vancouver Island.

Bankers and the Bond Issue.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The World's Washington special says: A conference of the leading bankers from the great cities will be held in Washington today to settle upon a plan by which the available gold in the sinking funds can be computed and an understanding reached under which they will have a reasonable chance of securing an allotment of the four per cent bonds. Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis banks will be represented at the meeting. It is said the bankers of the country have taken hold of the bond issue in earnest.

A COREAN ROMANCE.

The Conspiracy and the Alleged Murder of the Queen.

THE ROYAL LADY SAID TO BE ALIVE

Although Several Persons Have Been Executed for Having Assassinated Her.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—A dispatch to the Herald from Shanghai says:

A romance equalling anything which Rider Haggard ever wrote comes from Seoul, the capital of Corea, relating to the conspiracy which broke out there last November.

The facts are known only to a few persons, and all have the strongest motives for concealment.

It will be remembered on Nov. 29 an unsuccessful plot culminated in an attack on the palace by a number of Coreans belonging to the queen's party. M. Waeber, the Russian chargé d'affaires, Drs. Allen and Underwood and other Americans were accused of apparently good grounds of being privy to the plot. They were, in fact, said to have been on the spot simultaneously with the abortive attempt. They, however, denied all complicity. The king and the Japanese, being warned beforehand, posted extra guards and foiled the conspiracy. Your correspondent's information now shows that M. Weber and the English consul shared the secret, the object being to seize the ministers, expel the Japanese, free the King from the traitor's influence and restore the queen who was reported to be dead but who was in reality alive. The Russian secretary of legation was the leading spirit in the conspiracy and was deputed to conduct the queen from her place of hiding to the palace. The failure of the attempt necessitated the keeping of the secret of the queen being in existence which is now for first time divulged. When, in October, the Coreans and Japanese broke into the palace, the queen standing dishevelled, boldly, without speaking to her women, in an minute outhouse, saw the leaders of her rallies in waiting dragged to the pyre prepared for them outside, and watched the completion of the tragedy from her hiding place. The queen was concealed for an hour and a half, every moment expecting discovery. She fled at last through a secret passage to the old palace and thence, after changing her dress, made her escape outside the walls of the city, where she reached a place of safety. When the Japanese and Chinese examined the charred bodies of the women who had been burned, the king and some others shrewdly pointed out they had discovered the identity of the queen in one of the victims, but a search should reveal her whereabouts and lead to her murder. The Japanese accepted the accounts of the queen's death as true. M. Waeber and Hillier, the latter being the German consul, must have been privy to the secret, which was, however, well kept. Three Coreans were strangled last week as the queen's murderers while the trial of Viscount Miura and other Japanese officials is proceeding at Hiroshima for the murder of a woman who still lives. Li Han Shita, the leader of the last abortive plot, is in hiding here. An American friend who came here on the Russian cruiser Ovyalay, says that Russia is using the supposed murder of the queen as a weapon against the Japanese although well knowing its falsity. The queen has been killed by rumor twice before.

Northern Pacific Receiver Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The lawyers of the Northern Pacific railroad case have made an engagement with Justice Harlan, Field and Brewer of the Supreme court for the presentation of facts in those cases tomorrow. They will ask to have the road either placed under one receiver, or under one set of receivers, who will have charge of the road as an entirety instead of the present plan with numerous independent receivers. The circuit of each of these judges covers a portion of the road.

LOOKOMER.

Celebration at Holden.

HOLDEN, Millard Co., January 7, 1896.

Statehood day is written upon the mind and memory of scores of little tots, who as gray haired dames and grandsires will tell the generations yet to be born the story of this day of joy.

When Holden makes up its mind to do a thing, it generally does it well, and on this occasion it exceeded the hopes of the most sanguine. There is here a coterie of ladies always on the alert to "catch the breeze" of innocent pleasure and diffuse it through the whole gathering. It was the beginning of their day, and they asserted their privileges by being out early in the morning with a procession all their own. They paraded the town with about fifteen sleighs, the bannners, motion, direction and decoration being all managed without a masculine assistant. Later the grand parade took place, led by the Silver band, in the midst of which was the giant form of the largest man in the State, A. S. Harmon, Esq., whose pleasant smile added sunshine to the sun. The greater portion of the males carried firearms, and every youngster that could find an old pistol was prepared to make a noise, and give notice to John Bull to stand back. But the climax of novelty lay with the committee in charge, headed by George Nixon, Esq. These determined to cast an ox whole, and they did it—they roasted two. Bakers were sent around to gather up the necessary loaves of bread, and for a day and a night all who could eat were furnished with cutlets, roast, and coffee. Some had scruples at first about the cooking but these vanished and between every dance, both youth and age refreshed themselves, and "laughed and grew fat" amid the teeming joy of the first gathering under Utah's risen star.

The exercises of the day were especially well rendered. The inaugural address was by special invitation delivered by Judge Greenwood and was worthy of the great occasion. We were close observers and failed to observe that but little escaped our observation, and we testify that during all this exhibitance of joy, both in the dance and out of dance, we neither saw nor saw the slightest evidence of one drop of intoxicating drink. Every heart and effort seemed bent to make happy all associated, in reverence to our dear Utah, goal of our pilgrimage, redeemer of our hopes, made sacred by our poverty and toil, and sanctified by the graves of our loved ones. In the dark night, by faith we have watched for the rising of the star, and have seen it surely glide in the orbit of truth until fixed upon the throne, there to constitute forever, a new inspiration to the world. We look up to thee with full hearts, and know, consecrate our hours and our lives to thy defense.

Old Folks Honored.

SPANISH FORK, Jan. 11th, 1896.

To the Editor:

Permit me to report an item of interest which occurred here on the 9th inst.—the occasion of a reunion of the old folks (including the widows and poor, who are never forgotten.) who were invited to attend a well prepared feast at 1 o'clock p.m., in the opera house. The building was filled to the brim, leaving a happy people—each having been prepared to bring them together. After a happy greeting all concerned were seated around the tiers of tables, weighted down with the good things provided by the committee of arrangements, made and remade, to whom too much praise cannot be given for their energetic labors in furnishing and preparing the feast for the honored ones. After a blessing was pronounced by Bishop James A. Allred upon the people and refreshments, all proceeded to the work before them. After the tables were cleared audition people comfortably seated, the program was further carried out by a speech from the Bishop, in which he referred to the pleasant time enjoyed a year ago as well as the present; said he was glad to see those things the Lord had forbidden were not indulged in—no tea or coffee being served—and he hoped that at the dance that was to follow no one would call for a waltz (which I was glad to see was not done). The rest of the afternoon was spent in speeches and songs. As the music, true to the late style of not coming until the evening is half gone, did not appear, the time from 8:30 p. m. until towards 9 was taken up in more songs and speeches, in which our minds were refreshed by congratulations on the glorious event of Statehood and our elevation, male and female, to full citizenship. The music now being here, all, old, older, oldest, went merrily into the dance until midnight, when all went to their homes well satisfied.

Respectfully,
RANDOLPH N. ALLRED.

The Supreme court met in regular session in their new quarters in the joint city and county building today, all members being present. The official appointment of Clerk Palmer was announced and a number of minor motions entertained and orders made.

The handle, which shows very beautifully the markings of the wood, is in one piece, the body of the cane is another, and the two sections are separated by a ring of mountain mahogany, which was taken from the wood prepared for the floor of the house room in the Salt Lake Temple. The main part of the cane itself is made from osage orange; the tree from which it was taken having been planted by one of the Pioneers, Hon. A. O. Smoot, in Sugar House ward, soon after the arrival of the Pioneers in this valley.

A Bicyclist Peddles Into an Open Gate and Has a Bad Tumble.

On Saturday evening a wheelman of about seventeen summers and as many winters, who gave his name as Tompkins, and his residence as being on Sixth West street, at 7 o'clock was peddling down Second South at a lively rate, and when near the county jail, between First and Second West, his speeding was brought to a sudden stop, and a moment later the wheel and its rider were split over the concreted pavement.

A brother wheelman happened along a few moments later, and after helping the unfortunate cyclist to his feet, made enquiries as to the cause of his fall, and learned that the rider had steered into a large gate that resides far out onto the sidewalk. After injury was told that the gate was not damaged and the wheel could be repaired at a very little cost, the unfortunate wheelman said he did not care how great the damage was to the gate, wheel, or himself, just so long as he could be up and around on the morrow and be able to go and see his best girl. When last seen he was limping towards his home, and the prospects were that a sweetheart in the Fifteenth ward would be looking in vain for her lover on the morrow, as the wheelman had received some severe bruises.

The New Commissioners.

It is not unlikely that the question of naming two new police and fire commissioners will come up before the City Council tomorrow night. Other candidates than the two mentioned in the News a few evenings ago—J. W. Whitehead Jr. and Louis Cohn—are now being talked of in the parents of Colonel Nicholas Trweek and Thomas Mulloy. It is understood that Mayor Glassmann and friends would be well pleased with the appointment of the two last named gentlemen.

Nursing a Very Sore Toe.

Lieutenant McCarthy, of the fire department, is nursing a badly crushed and partly missing big toe as the result of an accident sustained on Saturday night. The apparatus had been called out to extinguish an incipient blaze on West Temple street, and McCarthy, in order that he might lose no time, stepped on to the hub of one of the wagons while the wheel was revolving. He was dropped to the ground and the wheel passed over the toe portion of one of his shoes with the result stated.
