THE COUNTY TEACHERS.

Charity Ball.—Proposed Course of Study.—Arbor Day April 7th.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Salt Lake County Teachers' Institute was held today, at 11:15 o'clock, in the University building. Superintendent D. R. Allen called the meeting to order, and announced as the opening exercise the singing of the national anthem, America, in which all heartily joined. The chairman announced that President Kingsbury was unable to address the association at heretofore stated, by reason of press of duties. The committee appointed for the purpose of making arrangements for a ball in the interests of charity, stated that it will take place at Haynes' hall, Murray, Saturday evening, March 24th. A resolution was then passed extending an invitation to the teachers of the city to join in making the entertainment a success.

The committee appointed to formulate a course of study for the first eight grades of the schools of the county, reported that it had not completed its labors as yet. It is designed that the course of study be so arranged as that it shall be adopted as a course for the district schools of the Territory. The course contemplates commencement exercises for graduates throughout the Territory in June, each year. The scheme does not include those of the first and second class.

Prof. Allen then called attention to the fact that he desired that the schools of the county should observe Arbor Day, April 7th, with appropriate programs of exercises. Attention was also called to the announcement made by the students of the Summer school to be held at Provo the coming summer.

Miss Hobbs then took up the subject of number work in the public schools. The two points to be considered are development and drill, the latter to be strongly emphasized. Teacher to present the work in a satisfactory way, the manner of the teacher and variety of exercise in teaching are of prime importance. Exercises varied in character must be given by the active teacher, in order that the activities of the pupil may be brought into full play. Accuracy, neatness, variety, reasoning, interest, practical application are all necessary essentials to the development of number work in the primary grades. The quick, prompt pupil in getting results is, as a rule, the accurate one; the slow pupil is the inaccurate one. Pupils should be required to be neat also in all work. A method of developing facility in adding single digits or to place a combination of numbers on the board and require pupils to state the result before the teacher can erase the numbers. Objects outlined upon a paper may be held before the pupil and immediately removed, and the result required. One will be encouraged at the facility acquired in such methods. The following schedule was given for a drill lesson: (1) Rapid drill, (2) review of special points; (3) drill upon the special points; (4) general drill. As to the points to be covered, drill the following are to be considered: (1) Rapid drill; (2) general review; (3) correction of work; (4) special 1 or higher grades. Between these lessons would be: (1) Rapid drill; (2) review to turn back to new work; (3) development, drill on work developed. During the time of the presenting of the paper, points involved were fully and freely discussed.

Choir Entertainment.

The Twenty-second Ward Choir will give an entertainment on Friday evening next for the benefit of the ward organ fund. All who attend will enjoy a rare treat, as the program to be rendered is no excellent one.

TERRITORIAL TOPICS.

Items of Interest Gathered From Local Exchanges.

Mount Pleasant (Pyramid) Sugar beets will be hand cultivated for the coming season. The labor of growing beets has been greatly lessened during recent years, the planting of the seed, covering and making of the rows now being done by seed drills. With the appliances in use a field of beets can be grown as easily as a small patch by former methods.

Among those appointed by the governor and confirmed by the Council as directors of the territorial insane asylum, says the Mount Pleasant Pyramid, is Dr. W. W. Wheeling, of this city. The doctor's many friends will be pleased to learn of this recognition, and all are confident that he will fill the position so honorably and creditably as any of the other members of the board.

Mount Pleasant Pyramid Mountain fire incendiaries are becoming so common as to lose for their interest. Last week it was reported that one was seen prowling around in the bottoms, and several young citizens went out to dispatch his township, but so far he remains undispatched and unseen. Although one was recently killed in the Immortale vicinity of Chester the presence of another is reported.

Frank J. Moran, who has been assistant general passenger agent of the Sanpete Ry., Wednesday tendered in his resignation to the general manager of the road, says the Nephi Courier. Frank refused work at the proposed reduced to wages. Chas. V. Chipman has been assigned to fill the vacancy as agent at Manti and Chas. Adams, the popular conductor on the S. P. V., has secured his old job in consequence.

With the opening of spring, says the Eureka Leader, Indy promises to develop more actively than for any season past. Tankersly Mesars. Campbell and Whitman commenced excavating for their new building on Main street and will soon commence erecting a handsome brick structure.

A correspondent writes to the Box Elder Tribune as follows:

Mr. W. H. Rowe, the energetic receiver of the Bear River Canal company, is in the east, presumably arranging for the improvements contemplated in the system and the development operations in the village of large tracts of land into fruit orchards and alfalfa farms. The reduction of the water rent to $1 per acre, and the "clean knife" of all objections to settlement on the irrigated lands, and liberal conditions of the reduction and remove liens from the canal company, Mr. Rowe has let several hundred acres of plowing to settlers in the valley, and has due an advance of home industries that although it offers a contract at $1.75 per acre from outside parties for the breaking of the 1,000 acres to be owned by this company, he prefers to let the work to the people of the neighborhood, at $2.25 per acre. Such an act is of the right ring and a sure evangel of success.

AS TO MEXICAN MAIL.

Other Causes Than Poor Addresses Must Explain the Shortage.

Editor Deseret News:

I have perused the letter written by Miles P. Romney, of Colonia Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, of the 27th ult. and published in the last issue of the EVENING NEWS, and for one I do not think the statement altogether correct, that "if people in Utah will be more particular in writing correctly the addresses on their letters there will not be so much complaint about the loss of letters in Mexico." There are other and more serious charges than this.

For the past three years I have endeavored to keep up a correspondence at the above mentioned place. Occasionally a letter has found its way there, but mostly failed to reach their destination, and not for want of being properly directed, where, letters containing money, sent at the time so many were in destitute circumstances, never reached those to whom they were sent, and I but express the statements of others, not before known, containing money, have failed, (in packages of more or less value, a few sheets of note paper, valuable almanacs, calendars, flower seeds, etc., etc.) have failed to reach them, and each time the usual United States postage has been paid at the mailing office. I am not alone in the matter. I know of others who (because she had money sent them, and otherwise) their letters failed to reach Juarez, but when those friends lived in Utah Dale the letters reached them every time. The offices were quite plain for Cook's postmasters. Now comes the question, What other causes are there that so much mail matter from Utah to Mexico fails to reach them? If such a leakage was practiced in Utah the postoffice department at Washington would soon find it and stop it. The following was taken from a Montreal paper, and may explain the matter a little further:

PORTEMOUTH IN MEXICO.

Speaking of postoffices, if you go into one almost anywhere in the land of "Dust of Liberty" and ask for Kingston's letters, the obliging postmaster or one of his deputies will rake out the whole room addressed to foreign names, whether it be a pack or a basket, and allow you to select for yourself, quite a little way to wealth or you confine yourself to your own or other people's mail. Although my secretaryship are proverbially honest, that is allowing rather for much latitude, as has sometimes transpired, both in matters of love and money. I believe they never do that way with any foreigners' letters, the Mexicans themselves being more carefully served from pigeon-hole alphabetically arranged. Whether this distinction is made because they are according to fable extra thanks for "outside barbarians," or because they know to well their own little peculiarities, is a matter of conjecture. The laws against opening their people's letters are even more severe in Mexico than in the United States, but they are enforced only upon those of Mexican birth, and Americans need expect no redress here for wrongs of any kind, no matter how serious.

Alas! Mr. Editor, must the oft-repeated statement still hang on, "Your cause is just but we can do nothing for you?" Yours very respectfully, JOHN L. HERON.

MANTI, Utah, March 15, 1894.

Republican Club Meeting.

At the meeting of the Republican Central club held in the G. A. R. hall last night the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, A petition was read at the last regular session of the City Council, containing many hundred signatures of working men, representing the representative of the working men of Salt Lake City; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, members of the Workingmen's Central Republican club of Salt Lake city, respectfully request the honorable politicians and members of the board of public works, that if any change is necessary in the labor of delivering the work and money (already in the hands of a committee), that a committee of ten men, one person, who are men and home men, be appointed by your honorable body, whose duties it shall be to see that men work in order and equal, and to make reports to said committee as the work shall be given out to weekly workingmen of the city.

The Last Indictments.

The grand jury this morning reported having found one indictment under the laws of the United States and eight under the territorial statutes.

An Ogden Railroad.

The articles of incorporation of the Ogden & Brigham City Railway company, says the Ogden Standard, were yesterday filed with the county clerk of Weber county. The place of business of the new company will be at Ogden, and the object of the corporation will be the building and operation of railroads for carrying passengers, freight, etc. The motive power to be used by the company will be steam or electricity. The capital stock of the company is $100,000, divided into shares of the value of $100 each, one-half of which has been subscribed.

Railway Accidents.

The Pocatello (Idaho) Tribune tells of a terrible accident which occurred on the Union Pacific railway on Medicine hill last Tuesday evening, in which three men were killed and a number of others more or less seriously injured. The accident was caused by the passenger train colliding into a locomotive. The engine left the track and the mail car was piled on top of the engineer and fireman both being caught under the overturned engine. The passenger cars left the track on the side and were not overturned, and none of the inmates were injured. This heavy loss in this section has caused considerable damage to the railroads. Another near Portneuf, caused by a rock falling onto the track, resulted in the death of the engineer, fireman and a trainman.

Suits Filed Today.

In the Third district court this afternoon Leo Brosnihoey Jr., aged fourteen, by his guardian, Leo Brosnihoey, sr., brought suit against Salt Lake City to recover $5,000 damages for personal injuries. The action arises out of an accident to the lad by reason of his being injured in an a team in which he was riding with his father along North Temple street, in February of the present year. The lad, it is averred, was unusually unfortunate at the time with price of unguentine rock and earth, and it was by coming in contact with one of these that the wagon was upset. The complaint states that the boy is permanently disabled. Frank Pierce is the plaintiff's attorney.

Brigham E. West brought suit for divorce this afternoon from Minnie West on the ground of desertion; and Daniel J. Quinlan is seeking a divorce from Rosie Quinlan for the same reason.

OBITUARY NOTES.

LOUIS BRONCK.

OGDEN, Nevada, March 5, 1894.—A shadow was cast over our little town on the morning of March 5, 1894, at 4 o'clock, by the death of Louis Louis Bronck, the stepson of Jacob Bronck, who was for hundred years here some six years before, thus being seven months old. Mr. Bronck died on the 5th, and was getting along nicely until the day before his death, when she was taken with a chill and grew worse every night and her death, which was caused by heart disease. Her husband being some eight or nine years her senior, she was left in the world to mourn her loss. Her husband died here three years ago, the news was taken to her as soon as possible, and he did not come in knowing of her death. Sister Bronck was 27 years, 7 months and 11 days old. Just the prime of life, but alas, her season was filled so that work and she was called away. The sorrow is felt by all who knew her, as she was quite popular, and is taking along nicely. Brother Bronck has the sincere sympathy of the people in general in the loss of his and brother's mother. This is the second death we have had here for nine years. The bonds of the people is genuinely good.
