Twenty-five stations of 84 lambs were shipped from Fort Collins, Colo., to Chicago last week.

Twin calves on the range about Los Angeles, Calif., are said to be quite common this season.

The agricultural acreage of the Pecos valley in New Mexico county will be increased by over 1,000 acres of productive land this year.

The Bass stand in Arizona, containing nearly 100,000 acres, was sold for taxes last week. The amount due was $12,000.

Cut worms have made their appearance in Long Prairie county (Ore.) vineyards and are doing considerable damage. One vineyardist says he only took to go through his vines and gather the pests.

A Placer county hobbie visited Sacramento last week to see the sights. He met Dr. "Squab" Galloway, who caught him a brick. The Placer hobbie thought it was a brick, and he said he knew it was not long as 50 cents for money he has.

Grasshoppers are hatching out near Downey, Utah, and are said to be quite lively of late. The Weber county farmers are covering the bees and peach trees which was used to effectively on last year.

Pat Foley, employed on the Midland terminal railroad between Ouray and Sapinero, Colo., was instantly killed at an early hour on Monday morning. He was attempting a step in a flight of jumping when it slipped. The body was horribly mangled.

Last year Delta county, Colo., produced 8,101 bushels of apples, 6,000 pounds of peaches, 317 bushels of pears, which was experienced to crop out from of the peach crop of the state, over one-third of the pear crop and one-fifth of the apple crop.

Daniel Mahoney, an ex-convict and all-round bad character, was shot and quickly killed on Monday morning by Fred Beach, an ex-policeman and proprietor of a saloon in San Francisco. The killing was in self-defense and took place in the saloon.

A Los Angeles man entered his home the other evening and found a burglar. "What are you doing here?" he demanded of the man. "I am looking for my" man replied the intruder, and he commenced to point a pistol, clubs and other articles which he had taken from a value.

Fred Beecher, of Cherry creek, receives the Wells Fargo (SAN) Mail, reports that several dollies, the property of ex-Governor Adams, made their way to the mountains at Gardner's hot springs. Several days have been found, but the foals on their legs being washed up the hot water in the springs, they had to be killed. The governor's men have secured the band south on that Gods will be no more danger. This is the first time that stock has been known to perish at these springs.

Paul Ewell has filed a complaint in a suit for $5,000 damages against the Southern Pacific company, at Los Angeles, in which he alleges a crime that he was unlawfully ejected from a train while on his way to California from St. Louis. Plaintiff claims to have ridden all the way from St. Louis in very good humor, and he had paid for his ticket the same price and Sacramento ticket was refused by the conductor in lieu of here and Ewell was compelled to buy other tickets at an expense of $10 in order to accomplish his trip.

An important amusement enterprise is being arranged for Los Angeles, Calif., by parties who have had wide experience in the business. It is to be a zoological circus, says the Express, something like the Bonnie Woodward circus, as San Francisco and the smaller resorts of Cincinnati and other western cities. It is proposed to secure 40 acres of ground and have an amphitheatre that will be so constructed as to please everybody. The location is not definitely fixed upon yet, but several are under consideration and will be within a few minutes' ride by street car. It is said the enterprise is backed up ample capital and an agent has already been retained to negotiate for animals.

George Fox, of Angel's Camp, Calaveras county, Cal., has a two-year-old colt which is to a certain extent a natural curiosity, says the Independent. For some months past the colt has had a tender spot near its right ear, and recently it resulted in an open wound. After trying in vain to heal it he then called in the best veterinary in a dozen of Stockton to have the wound healed. The doctor after a careful examination made an incision with his scalpel, and taking a pair of strong forceps in his hand, he drew from the place a well-formed molar tooth, the entire shape and about exactly like those in the colt's mouth. The colt improved at once and the wound is healing.

Judge Cornell's court in Walkerville was the scene of an incident recently which served to bring the majesty of the judicial office into disrepute. Charles Butts (Slim), City Marshal, Dunkin of Uncle Sam's mountains, and Mr. Hillsmith, the plaintiff, was called. She could not give tickets and the court indicated the propriety of her being taken into the county bastile to assist him. The marshal was proceeding to execute the order of the judge, but Mr. Nelson interfered. He told the marshal he was not quite enough to take her to the city jail. When he expressed her to the reports to her with her said, "What do I care if the old man wants to go the last and I'll make it hot for you." The minutes of the law would not be carry was dead, for in the meantime the spectator clerk and the constable was found after the situation of the case certain terms. Finally Slim said he was using him as a judicial object. Really the was so [illegible]

GIVE US WORK

To enable us to put some idle men to work, we have decided to clear good profits and lay Bon-Gray Asphaltum work at delivery, which is very much better than the real article. We have the same price and Sacramento ticket was refused by the conductor in lieu of here and Ewell was compelled to buy other tickets at an expense of $10 in order to accomplish his trip.

Good work, on a equally low prices. Our Asphaltum is not sticky or winey, does not hurt the eyes in summer, and is far superior to the best cement work ever laid.

We hope everyone will fill their orders with us at once for all they can stand to do, and while using money for themselves, help to furnish labor for the people.

We will take part of the pay in street pay, that our workmen can use on a cash basis.
