Bearing on the Eureka Townsite case, Pending in the Local Land Office.

The subjoined communication bearing on the Eureka townsite case, has been received from Washington, by the Register and Receiver of the local land office:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GENERAL LAND OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27, 1892.

Register and Receiver, Salt Lake City, Utah:

SIRS—I am in receipt of your letter of February 5, 1892, transmitting petition of the Judge of the First Judicial District of an order of the court enclosed in the application for the Eureka townsite and referred to the W. W. C. application included in M. E. No. 1631.

Your statement of the facts involved in the above application you are referred to letter 'M' of September 25, 1891, requiring the hearing therein ordered to be suspended.

While it is well established principle that an agency service which may implied from the authority to perform all such acts within the scope of the agency as may be necessary for the beneficial exercise of such agency, and while it is expressly provided by statutory enactment that a District Judge may, in his application and entry of a townsite in accordance with provisions for such townsites and provided, such officer is not authorized an agent to relinquish a section of a townsite for which application has been made, and in the absence of express authority can it be presumed that the general scope of his agency extends to the performance of such act, or to use the exercise which an authority is a beneficial exercise of the authority accompanying such agency. Therefore, in order to render this relinquishment effective, it must be conclusively shown that Judge Bischoff was expressly authorized to execute it. It must also be shown that no private interests had been acquired from the townsite application in question, or if such interests had acquired that they too have been waived or relinquished in favor of the public claimants.

I would suggest and recommend as the simplest and most effective way of doing the case that all interested parties be authorized to appear and assert their right of hearing before your office, and the conclusion therein be extended to determine the rights of all parties in the case of the townsite.

Nearly papers in interest thereof.

Very respectfully,
THOS. H. CARTER, Commissioner.

UTAH LEGISLATURE.

COUNCIL.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

The bill providing for the leasing of school lands passed.

The natural gas bill, labeled C. F. 89, creating the office of natural gas supervisor, and providing for the regulation of the appliances and machinery in connection therewith, was taken up.

Clendenning moved to strike out the enacting clause.

McCallister was opposed to it. He said that if drastic measures were taken they would become "dead" and thereby lose trade. He also expressed great solicitude for storekeepers in the rural districts who dispensed herbs, powders and liquids without the aid of a pharmacist's certificate. They did not make any more mistakes than did the dealers in drugs in the cities, "and were they killed one man they owed a close to." (Laughter.)

The motion to strike out failed to carry and the bill passed.

A message was received from the governor announcing his approval of the Territorial Board of equalization bill.

H. F. 91, relating to the selection by the city treasurer of a bank in which to deposit the city's funds, was killed by a vote of 8 to 2.

H. F. 47, in relation to justices of the peace in cities, came up on third reading and passed.

It provides that the Council shall have the power to designate, in case one or more justices of the peace are elected, one to act as police judge, thus doing away with the contention which has existed among the justices of Zion.

The House amended the bill that it had refused to concur in the Council amendment to H. F. 1, relating to elections and tenure of office, and asked that a conference committee be appointed. Messrs. Evans and Melville were appointed as conferees.

A private communication to President King from E. H. Bailhache, of the Tintic Mear, was laid before the Council stating that the people of Eureka were talking of incorporating, and asking for information as to whether or not they could incorporate now, or would have to wait until February, 1893. Referred.

A resolution passed by the City Council of Provo, on February 15th, to tender the Territory a site for the Capitol building and grounds, was received by President King, together with another passed on the 22nd of the same month, limiting the signers to 242 the sum set opposite their names for the purpose of purchasing lands, etc., adjacent to the proposed site. The subscribers are: S. S. Jones, $2500; C. D. Lowe, $1000; Don R. Carey, $500; Frank J. Knight, $500; Don H. Eldredge, $1000; H. M. Tyler, $500; H. Horner, $500; William H. King, $500; Ben Redman, $1000; C. A. Oliver, $500; total $7,000.

The first document, signed by about fifty Provoites, relates that in consideration of the seat of government being removed to Provo they therefore pledge themselves and guarantee to the Territory that they will furnish fifteen acres of ground free of all incumbrances upon the bench overlooking Provo City and Utah Lake, together with abundant water right, and that they will reimburse the Territory with all moneys that have been expended on the Capitol Grounds in Salt Lake.

The matter was referred to the committee on Capitol Grounds.

Adjourned until 2 p.m. Thursday.

HOUSE.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Cunningham undertook to show that the Lehi sugar factory would get from the government and Territory bounty about 125 per cent, on the their investment.

W. H. Irvine said he was glad to learn that the factory has been able to pay a dividend, and that showed the Territory has been the gainer by it. A gentleman had handed him a statement showing that on the starting of this factory the California sugar men reduced the price so as to give the Territory a reduction of saving of $13,000 on what sugar was shipped here, while the Territory had been benefited $60,000 besides the benefits to the building and operating of this factory. He was in favor of home manufactures and hence for the bill.

Snow said that Cache county owes about 90 per cent. of the stock of the sugar factory and that it was distributed among all classes. In his county a meeting had been held lately for organizing a company where all are Democrats. They expressed themselves in favor of exemption from taxation certain factories, but were not in favor of a sugar bounty.

Arnett said he had stretched his liberal a little in favor of iron factories only in the bill, still reserving his opposition to bounties.

Pike signed the bill as class legislation. He had money invested in iron and a cannery, neither of which had been successful.

Morris signed that the members should lay aside their Democratic principles and work for the good of the Territory, for which they are here.

The bill failed on a vote of 12 yea to 10 nays.

The vote was: Ayes—Adams, Allen, Colton, J. D. Irvine, Kimball, Lawrence, Montgomery, Morris, Pierce, Snow, Stoker. Nays—Arnett, Cunningham, W. H. Irvine, Mackay, Marshall, Nebeker, Olsen, Pike, Sargent, Stoker, Tuttle, Wright—15.

On $25,000 proposition: Ayes—Adams, Arnett, Cunningham, J. D. Irvine, Montgomery, Mackay, Marshall, Nebeker, Olsen, Pike, Stoker, Tuttle, Wright—13. Nays—Allen, Colton, W. H. Irvine, Kimball, Lawrence, Morris, Pierce, Snow—8.

Mr. Sargent offered an amendment striking out of the bill after the enacting clause, and substituting sections to appropriate money to be paid by special taxes on various properties for two years, including mines, the amount to be one-fourth of a mill for each of the years 1892-3. He was opposed to bonding the Territory for the fair. He did not like it to be thrown up to the outside counties that the cities are paying the expenses of the Territory and keeping up the public schools. He brought up the question of the Governor's power of appointing commissioners to spend the money. Sargent's amendment was voted down.

A motion to defer action failed.

The bill was passed on a vote of 15 ayes to 9 nays.

A message from the Governor gave notice of his approval of H. J. M. 3, relative to Birdseye's township, H. H. 85, attorney's fees; H. F. 36, notary public, to place date of commission on certificate; H. F. 89, relative to marshals and sheriffs, and H. F. 97, to invalidate certain evidence.

Several bills came in from the Council and were appropriately referred.

The Illinois State Exposition Board has set apart $40,000 as a special fund for the encouragement of live stock exhibits at the fair.

The Bureau of Music has issued letters of invitation to all the important choral societies in the larger cities asking them to co-operate in forming the grand chorus of 2500 voices, which will render classical concerts of the most remarkable delicacy of the exposition buildings.

A Berlin dispatch states that Emperor William is greatly interested in Germany making a fine exhibit at the exposition, and that he has personally urged Krupp, the noted gun-maker, and Schichau, manager of the shipbuilding works at Stettin, to exhibit the latest and best products of their respective industries.

The Society for the Promotion of Physical Culture and Correct Dress has applied for 1000 square feet of floor space in the women's building to make an exhibit.

A British woman's committee has been selected to supervise the representation of the work of English women at the Exposition, and to operate with the board of lady managers. The committee has for its president Princess Christian, third daughter of Queen Victoria.

Horace Mitchell, secretary of the Polytechnic Institute, is in Chicago perfecting arrangements for 2,500 or 3,000 members of the institution visiting the exposition. They will be brought over at the rate of 100 a week in parties of 50 in charge of a conductor, and will spend two days in New York, two in Washington, one at Niagara Falls, and six in Chicago. The expense per individual for the entire trip will be about $115. The Polytechnic contracts similar parties to the Paris Exposition.

In the Washington State exhibit will be included a representation of the methods used by the Makah Indians in catching whales and other fish. The exhibit will include boats, nets, hooks and lines, harpoons, etc.

Members of the Farmers' Alliance in Kosciusko county, Ind., at a recent meeting in Warsaw, decided to assess themselves weekly to purchase a fund to defray their expenses for a visit to the World's Fair. About 100 farmers and their wives will compose the visiting party.

The Connecticut members of the Board of Lady Managers have undertaken to raise by contribution a fund with which to pay for a fine bust of Harriet Beecher Stowe. This will be their contribution towards the adornment of the walls of the Woman's Building. Colonel Mrs. Stowe's literary works will also be contributed.

A despatch states that a diversmith in Monterrey, Mexico, is engaged on a work in silver which when completed will be an exact reproduction of the Agricultural Building now being built on the Exposition grounds, Chicago. It will be eighteen feet wide, will contain a quantity of silver valued at tuition at $10,000, and when finished will be valued at $20,000.

It is now the intention to have in the Fisheries Building a restaurant devoted as far as possible to the exclusive serving of fish. Fish dinners, and fish, fresh and salt, served in every edible style, will be a popular feature, it is believed, and will give visitors an excellent opportunity to know the merits of fish as food.

It is reported from Argentine Republic that strong pressure is being brought upon that government to increase its World's Fair appropriation from $100,000 to $300,000.

A parade, participated in by 21,000 bicyclists, may be a sight at the Exposition. Efforts are being made to bring about this result.

New Hampshire, as a delightful place of summer resort, will be demonstrated by a portion of the exhibit made by that State at the Exposition.

A State World's Fair conference presided over by Commissioner Lindsey, was recently held at Louisville, Ky., with about 200 representatives of various interests from all parts of the State. (Correspondence of the DESERET NEWS.)

On February 20th our ward conference was held. The members of the Stake Presidency were present. A general meeting was called at 11:00, which various topics were touched upon. The fishing and dangerous were again sustained.

At 6:30 another meeting took place, this one being in the interest of the Sabbath school. The speakers were Bros. Wm. Fotheringham, Harris, and Griffiths, of Beaver Stake.

A report was made by our superintendent, showing the school to be in a somewhat unfavorable condition. There are plenty of children available to be taught, but no teacher. The stirring remarks made by the visiting brethren to the parents might usefully be spared an interest in so important a matter as the religious training of the children.

"Spring's delights are now returning." Beautiful weather prevails, and the health of the people is good.

A vein of good coal has been discovered into winter by John R. Cameron, to close probably in the town. And while we have an inexhaustible quantity of wood close by, this will save the chopping, and give us more time to devote to other matters.

JAMES W. WATSON.

DUGGALDS, Kane County, Utah, February 23, 1892.

HE MADE A DISCOVERY.

"The moral of this little tale which the Chicago Tribune tells is so evident that it needs no elaboration.

After dinner had been finished, the woman of fashion seated herself comfortably in an easy chair and said:

"Well, we have a quiet evening."

"No one expected?" asked her husband.

"Not a soul," replied the wife. "Every one is at the Browns, and I sent regrets, you know."

"Where are the children?" he asked.

"Upstairs in the nursery," she replied languidly.

"I'd like to see them," he said. "Suppose we let them come down."

"O, dear, no!" she exclaimed. "They're not dressed to come down in the parlor. They have their nursery clothes on, you know, and they'd want to play here and get everything topsy-turvy. It wouldn't do at all."

"But we can be expected," he protested.

"Yes, dear, but some one might drop in, and, besides, we mustn't let them in the habit of coming down here when they are not properly dressed and prepared to behave themselves as well-trained children should."

"When they are so pretty," he suggested.

"Joseph!" she said sharply, "don't talk like that! They have a nurse and a room to themselves, and you certainly can't expect me to let them come down here except when they have been properly attired. Besides, they enjoy themselves more in the nursery."

"I presume they do," he said quietly.

"If you had seen what I saw today," she went on, "you would understand. I called on Mrs. Norwood, and when I went in, the floor of the library was just covered with blocks and toys, and her two children were playing on the floor. Why, she had to have the folding doors shut when she came into the reception room, and then some of the blocks and toys were left on our side of the door, and we could hear the children laughing and talking all the time I was there. Why it looked——"

"It must have looked like a home and not one of the parlors of a fashionable hotel," he interrupted as he got up from his chair. "Perhaps she went a little too much to one extreme, but it is better than going too much to one——" He noticed a glitter in his wife's eye and stopped. "Never mind," he said, "I'm going to the nursery."

But an hour later, when his wife sent for him to see a caller, the servant found him sitting on the floor and building blocks houses.

"Say I'm engaged," he said; "and tell her confidentially," he added, "that we've got a couple of mighty bright and interesting children. I never had a chance to find it out before, and may be she doesn't know it."

Vocality of Adjutants.

I had been told that Mr. R. had seen an adjutant walk quietly along a wall to a sleeping cat, which it pounced on and then carried up in the air and caught in its mouth.

But I recently met Mr. R. and he tells me that he did not see the adjutant swallow the cat, but that his friend Mr. S. said that he had seen an adjutant pick up and swallow a live kitten. Now that is a very dry forest thing, and it may be likely to be true than the story about the cat for a kitten may be about the same size as a rat, and I have often seen the adjutants catch and swallow live rats. Cured in Twenty Minutes.
"I have just received from a sister and aunt of the girl this year," says Mr. Jos. O. Jones, of the firm of Jones, Leader, Mexia, Texas. "In the latter case I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and I think with considerable success, only being in bed a little over two days, against ten days for the first attack. The second attack I am satisfied would have been equally as bad as the first but for the use of this remedy, so I had to go to bed in about six hours after being 'struck' with it, while in the first case I was able to attend to business about two days before getting 'down.'" 50 cent bottles for sale by E.
