"BRITON OR BOER?"

In his preface to "Briton or Boer?" the author, George Griffith, says:

"The majority in the force in this day honestly believe that they have fought and battled for the British Empire, and they just as honestly believe that they could do it again. For my own part, I doubt very much if they could. I have seen and learned in South Africa enough me to know that they have a better chance of being in that than they ever had before.

"The Transvaal and the Free State could indeed not be taken by a well-armed, well-led force like that at Modder River, and that, too, in a country which is covered with natural forts. Suppose, if a few hundred Chartered Britons could do the trick—for to my mind they undoubtedly would do it—Lang's Nek and Amajuba Hill, what could three thousand well-armed, well-led men do with the Boer mountains that modern science has produced?

"To the British who have the courage to look at the facts squarely in the face, it is only too truth to see that at the present moment, without the slightest difficulty, exactly what they are contemplating as being to do this work.

MARKETS ARE SHIFTING.

Wall Street Stocks Show Losses for Well as Gains.

Trading Listless and Fluctuating—Prices are Irregular—Live Stock and Produce Steady.

New York, Oct. 12—The majority of stocks dished some gains at the outset. These were some important issues, especially among the industrials. Sugar appeared to be withdrawn temporarily from the local issues and sharp declines occurred, with Brooklyn transit most affected. Fractions of importance also were made in a number of the active issues. Sales in Brooklyn were not large. The selling movements appeared hard rather it prices and the stock followed suit. Sugar and the Chicago operating issues caused substantial recoveries in a few stocks. Western Union was a feature and had a point. The General market became easier for hardened again at noon. The trading was listless and fluctuating.

Bonds were dull and irregular.

Brooklyn Union gas found steadily downward at a cheaper price. Some members of the Pneumatic group strengthened. New York air brake made an advance of 5 points. Metropolitan street railway fell 2½ and Sterling preferred 1 point. The railroad stocks declined but a little.

CONTROL OF THE GREAT DALY-WEST

It is Secured by the Kearns-Keith Syndicate.

MAY KEEP THE PROPERTY.

Notwithstanding the Report that They Bought for the Guggleheims—Morning Star Group Sold.

Regarding the alleged sale of the balance of the Hanauer-Heard interest in the great Daly West to representatives of the Guggleheims at $1.50 a share, which would be on a basis of $2,000,000 for the mine, both Keith and Kearns yesterday denied.

R. C. Chambers is in San Francisco, David Keith, W. S. McCornick and J. R. Jamieson are in the East and Thomas Kearns at Park City, so that it left plenty of room for guessing. It seems certain likely, however, that the stock has been sold to Mr. Hanauer for his associates, Kearns, Keith and McCornick, who with the holdings they already hold, would thus be able to control over to the Guggleheims. It is the latter group that is mentioned. Keith and Kearns have for some time desired to obtain sufficient stock to addition to their holdings to get control, and, as Mr. Kearns stated to the Herald some time ago, a bid of less than $3 a share could not be considered. Mr. Hagenbarth had not been accepted. The bid was raised to $1.25 per share and the Hanauer-Heard interest is now understood that the purchasers will not operate the mine themselves, instead of selling it to a local syndicate. Should this be true, it will strengthen the local market.

BIG BINGHAM DEAL.

It Was Closed Up Last Night and Is Valued at $700,000.

The last big piece of valuable "open ground" at Bingham has been taken in. W. C. B. Allen having sold his option on the Bingham Consolidated, Keith and Kearns have for some time desired to obtain sufficient stock in addition to their holdings to get control, and, as Mr. Kearns stated to the Herald some time ago, a bid of less than $3 a share could not be considered. Mr. Hagenbarth had not been accepted. The bid was raised to $1.25 per share and the Hanauer-Heard interest is now understood that the purchasers will not operate the mine themselves, instead of selling it to a local syndicate. Should this be true, it will strengthen the local market.

ELDORADO DEVELOPMENT

Will be Carried On Extensively—Showing in Good—Extra Mining News.

Special Correspondence.

Eureka, Oct. 12—Captain George Bridges, the veteran prospector, returned yesterday from a trip to the Eldorado mine in Pioneer canyon, and said today that he had made arrangements for an access tunnel to the Eldorado, which work is to be commenced. While in that district he started three men at work in the tunnel and expects to have the entire work in a few days. Mr. Bridges also stated that he has nearly completed negotiations for the Dewey claim, which are situated in the eastern part of Tintic district, with Eldorado, and are approximate. This property, which consists of the Dewey No. 1, Dewey No. 2 and Dewey No. 3 claims, belongs to and adjoining the E. O. W. association. Mr. Harry B. Cox of Salt Lake City and Mr. Chase are each interested in the Dewey claims, which are situated in the eastern part of Tintic district, with Eldorado
