General C. S. Burton expresses regret at the prospects of a mustering out of the battery, as he says that that branch of the service is one of the most useful as well as one of the most showy of any of the departments. To be sure, the lack of trained horses is a good deal of a handicap, but in times past it has been found profitable to give the battery boys a practical drill by having them incorporated right among the regulars at the post in their evolutions. This makes practically recruits of the militiamen, and they learn a great deal.

GOSPEL SERMON BY DR. TALMAGE.

Comprehensive Discourse Delivered in the Tabernacle Sunday Afternoon.

THE SERMON ON THE MOUNT.

Christ's Teachings and Their Relationship to the Mosaic Law Clearly Defined.

The services at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were presided over by President Joseph F. Smith, while the speaker was Elder James E. Talmage, who delivered a comprehensive Gospel sermon to a large assemblage, among them Gov. Macdonald and party of Colorado, who occupied seats in the east gallery.

The choir sang the hymn:

All hail the glorious day,
By prophets long foretold.

Prayer was offered by Elder Joseph E. Taylor.

The choir further sang:

Prayer is the soul's sincere desire,
Uttered or unexpressed.

Elder James E. Talmage was the speaker. He began by reading from the "Mormon" Bible which, he said, was none other than the book containing the Old and New Testaments and known almost universally as the King James' version of the Holy Scriptures. The speaker read from the 5th chapter of St. Matthew a portion of Christ's Sermon on the Mount. The passages cited made plain the duty of man to himself, his neighbor and his God, and comprehended the cardinal principle of truth as contained in the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Alluding to the practise of "Mormon" Elders to solicit an interest in the faith and prayers of those assembled, Elder Talmage said he was a believer in the potency of prayer, whether uttered or unexpressed. He had come to know that prayer was a wonderful agency in directing the course of humankind, and personally he had received a testimony that God lived and that He answered the petitions of those who sought Him in faith, nothing doubting. In this connection the speaker said he might be regarded as a believer in psychic phenomena, as he was fully persuaded that a noble heart could exert a remarkable influence for good, as he believed also that the machinations of the wicked exerted a great and powerful influence for evil. He said he believed in Darwinism so far as its teachings harmonized with truth; also in spiritism so far as truth would warrant what is therein professed.

Referring to the passages read from Holy Writ Elder Talmage emphasized the newness of the teachings enunciated by the Redeemer. The Savior said He had not come to destroy the law, but to fulfil it. Then He proceeded to do so by adding to it the Gospel of Jesus Christ. His was an education of development and progression. The people had been under the teachings of the Mosaic law for centuries; they had learned, the law of retaliation and cherished it. But the Savior sought to teach unto them something better; to have them believe in higher principles and to gradually adopt that system of salvation which He had been specially authorized to introduce.

The relation of the Mosaic law to the Gospel of Jesus Christ, was compared to the relation of the state prison to the law itself. The latter might be done away but the prison remained. So was it with the Mosaic law. It was given as a schoolmaster to lead them unto Christ, but when Christ came it was fulfilled by the introduction of a more perfect, more complete plan.

The Savior taught the principles of love, forgiveness, charity, gentleness and of doing good to all men. It was a radical departure from the system then in vogue, but it was merely a development of the old, a rounding of the whole, a perfection of that which obtained before. Thus it was that the Savior closed with the admonition, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect." By many this expression is regarded as a figure of speech, a metaphor, a simile or something of that kind. But it was not so. The Savior meant exactly what He said. The perfection referred to was that of each after his kind; that man, if he so desired, might attain the rank of Godship; that as God is, man may be. This was the evolution of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and it was no heresy to so reckon man's possible advancement.

The speaker said the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints taught the doctrine of evolution in its truest and fullest sense. It was a Church led by modern revelation; it was "connected up" with headquarters, and its principles were fully up to the times, emanating as they did from the Source of all life and light. The God that the Latter-day Saints worshipped was a God who heard and answered prayers. He was not dumb as was the God of the world, neither was He deaf as many had been led to believe Him to be.

The choir sang the anthem, "Rouse O ye mortals," and the benediction was pronounced by Elder John M. Knight.

Pure Food Laws are Good. No pure food board ever questioned the absolute purity of BURNETT'S VANILLA.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

Bartender Held Up and Relieved of a Watch and Three Dollars.

A bartender named Harry Hilton reported to the police Saturday evening that he had been attacked by two thugs and robbed of a watch and about $3 in cash. According to Hilton he was assaulted about 7 o'clock in the evening near the corner of Fifth West and Second South. He declares that two men rushed upon him, and one dealt him a stunning blow with a sandbag. While he lay on the ground he was searched and the property mentioned taken. After the robbery the thugs boarded an outgoing train and escaped.

HEALTH IN SCHOOLS.

State Board Urges a Thorough Cleaning Before Opening.

The state board of health has issued a circular relating to schools in which it says:

"It is important that all schools and school premises in the state shall be carefully prepared for occupancy before the convening of schools next month, and the accomplishment of this object may be greatly promoted by health officers. Those in charge of schools should be urged to secure their thorough cleaning and ventilation, and in cases where contagious diseases prevailed during the last term, disinfection of the school buildings should be performed. Attention is called to the law recently enacted requiring the use of dry-earth closets in connection with schools and preparations should at this time be made to comply with the law. In all cases the vaults formerly used should be thoroughly disinfected and filled in."
