Indians Create the Latest Sensation in the Senate.

PELIGRINI CAPTURED BY REBELS.

On the Track of a Wholesale Will Murderer—A City Wiped Out by Fire.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 26.—When the Senate met this morning the usual men were caught napping by Stewart, who observed that there was no quorum and questioned the propriety of the Senate proceeding.

Harris, Tennessee, an absent silver man, presided in the absence of Vice President Stevenson, who is attending a Democratic meeting in Pennsylvania.

The President pro tem promptly ordered roll call, although the journal was not yet read. Only thirty-five senators responded, less than a quorum. Stay of proceedings was necessary until the senators could be rounded up, one by one, to a sufficient number to constitute a quorum.

Stewart then presented the resolutions adopted at a mass meeting held at Cleveland, Ohio, favoring investigation to ascertain whether senators were interested in national banks, railroads and other special interests favored or helped by legislation. He expressed the hope that the investigation would be had and the rumor prevalent for so long that national bank stocks had anything to do with the demonetization of silver.

Dubois, Rep., Idaho, created a sensation by offering the following, which went over till tomorrow:

Whereas, Several sovereign states are without full representation in the Senate, to which they are entitled; be it

Resolved, That the consideration of legislation relating to the federal revenue laws, tariff and financial matters, materially affecting the partially unrepresented states be postponed to the Senate until Monday, January 15, 1894, to enable the states of Washington, Montana and Wyoming to have the influence and protection in the Senate guaranteed each sovereign state by the Constitution of the United States.

The resolution was laid on the table—yeas 27, nays 19.

The report bill was then taken up. Stewart, who was recognized, said he would yield to Dubois, of Idaho, who had been notice of his intention to speak today.

Dubois yielded to Perkins, who said: "We have been bold in clear, courageous issues that all our existing laws, including the tariff law, have been enacted to the recent days of prosperity.

"It is absurd to say that our colored silver has caused, or is causing, the present lack of confidence. I am a sincere believer in the use and coinage of both gold and silver, and I don't think it wise to demonetize silver. I would have it by the agency of a force bill. If we commit this country to gold standard alone, we inevitably increase the burdens of the mass of our people and unjustly enrich a select number or class of investors at the general expense of the people. The Sherman purchasing clause and declare by legislative enactment the unlimiting purpose of the United States to adjust and maintain a monetary system upon the double standard, with equality between the two units of value and their multiples; then open the mines to coinage of silver, repeal Sherman purchase clause, give our manufacturing and producing interests the assurances that tariff shall not be altered to disregard to their reasonable claims of protection, then with one regard for the greatest good to the two all number, and your contemplated repeal of the objectionable clause of the Sherman act will have new force and meaning from Maine to California."

In response to a resolution of inquiry the secretary of the interior sent the Senate a statement of the discontinuance of consolidation of land offices, showing the following: Consolidations: Independence with Visalia, Reno with Carson City, Wyo, Lander with Buffalo. Discontinued: Bellefonte, Pa., Sioux City, Iowa. Consolidations were the consequence of the appropriation act to prevent deficiency.

At the conclusion of Perkins's speech Stewart resumed the floor. He read from a paper an article on the President's alleged denial to the Sickles.

Palmer, Dem., Ill., asked whether it was consistent with the proper relations between the Senate and President to send to the Senate the charge against the Executive, for which he (Stewart) would not be responsible. Stewart said it was the proper thing for a Senator to defend the senate, when the press said the President was rebuking the Senate and calling the senators criminals. "Not at his request, but he has used passages to counsel legislation," said Stewart; "let them make it clear how the sentiment of Congress has been changed and how an overwhelming majority in favor of free coinage in Congress has been changed to a gold monometallist majority."

THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—A two weeks' debate on the bill to repeal the federal election laws was opened in the House this morning. The galleries were well filled. An unusual number of ladies were present, showing their interest in the question.

Tucker, Virginia, the author of the bill, opened for the Democrats. He began by pointing out that the right to vote was not given by the United States but by the Constitution to the states. He held that if the powers of supervisors and deputy marshals permit them to permit votes not granted in the Constitution, then the law that creates them is unconstitutional. The states alone can make conditions of suffrage. That being the case the United States could not step in and make conditions. It involved the question of the federal government's power to enforce the suffrage in the states.

Tucker then proceeded to pay his respects to Judge J. Hubert Jones, whose name, he said, were more infamous than those of the czars of Russia. "The repeal of these laws," said Tucker in conclusion, "will swept away the statutes that have caused clashing between the federal government and the states for thirty years."

On the Charge of Wife Murder.

ANDERSON, Sept. 26.—The police of this city on the 20th inst. arrested a man named Hendricks by name, on the charge of wife murder. It appears that last June he married Sarah Jewett, a young English girl, who soon disappeared. In August he married the pretty daughter of a local innkeeper, who also soon disappeared.

This coming finally to the ears of the police led to a investigation and the arrest of DeJong. It is believed that he is guilty of a series of wife murders similar to those of DeJong. The united Anderson wife murders and searches of remains have been begun both in Holland and England without result till today, when the body of Sarah Jewett was found in the woods forty miles from here, giving evidence of having been murdered. A general search in both countries has been ordered. It is believed there are numerous victims.

The police now deny that the body is that of Sarah Jewett.

The adjourned session of the Independent Citizens' convention was called to order by Chairman Hugh Sherman, P. J. Daly acting as secretary. The report of the committee on credentials was read by H. S. Laney and adopted.

The committee on permanent organization reported as follows:

For President—E. W. Tarbet, Geo. Ellingbiton, Jos. McNeil, Ed. Ward and the same; Frank H. Smith, H. S. Laney.

Second President—Frank H. Smith, P. J. Daly, T. R. Cummings, H. D. Fulton, G. H. Beeman.

Third President—E. A. Smith, R. H. Hill, John E. Hemes, Herbert Pembroke, W. A. Cooper.

Fourth President—Arthur Pratt, D. H. Dunbar, Joseph M. Cohen, W. F. Jennings, H. G. McMillan.

Fifth President—Hugh Sherman, A. G. Nurse, A. Hemes Jr., J. G. Midgley, J. W. Wallstead Jr.

The committee of twenty-five met in caucus after the adjournment of the convention and appointed a sub-committee of three to draft a letter and proposition to the committee of fifty as regards an amicable settlement of differences between them. The committee then adjourned until 8 o'clock this morning.

Today's Developments.

The Citizens' committee of fifty met in the Walker House parlors at 10 o'clock this morning but did not get a quorum until nearly an hour later. At that time Chairman Wells called the meeting to order saying:

"We have met here today for the purpose of nominating a municipal ticket. There are now a number of vacancies in our ranks that should receive prompt attention."

The resignations of James H. Moyle, J. M. Rickards, Jr., and Owen Jones and F. Auerbach were then accepted unanimously and without discussion.

James Devine moved the appointment of a committee of five to fill the precinct to nominate the tickets. This motion was defeated, P. R. Lannan and some other members only voting in the affirmative. The following letter was then read by the secretary, Heber M. Wells:

To the Hon. Elijah Sells, Chairman Citizens' Committee of Fifty:

Dear Sir—The independent citizens' convention of its session last evening unanimously resolved to propose permanent committees with a committee from each of your honorable body. To this end an adjournment was taken until 7:30 p.m. today and a committee of twenty-five was appointed to confer with a committee from your organization to consider the advisability of merging the two movements into one combined independent citizens action.

The undersigned respectfully ask the appointment of such committee, be on your part and await an early response we are required to report to our convention at the earliest possible hour this morning.

We are with great respect,

HUGH SHERMAN,
Chairman.
D. C. DUNCAN,
Secretary.

We appeared here with a recommendation of a committee which we submit for your consideration:

Proposition of the Independent citizens' committee to the citizens' committee of fifty.

The Independent citizens' convention is disposed to consult the desires of the citizens' committee of fifty in the matter of naming a mayor, recorder, treasurer, assessor, marshal and justice of the peace to complete the municipal ticket which has already been named as far as it relates to the precinct nominations, and also to respect the filling vacancies in the nominations City Council made necessary by the withdrawal of candidates. We would seem eminently fair and proper that with these singles offered by minor consent and concessions the ticket so far as it has been made should be left for endorsement and ratification of the citizens' committee.

A committee of three consisting of Judge Stanton W. M. Dickson and Elias Morris were then appointed to notify the committee of twenty-five that they would be heard on their proposition in the Walker House parlors in the rooms of the Business Men's security and sign arrives.

Hugh Sherman Jr., chairman of the committee of twenty-five reported progress and was dismissed with unanimous attention.

Judge Marshall said he did not see how the committee of twenty-five could act the committee of fifty is empowered only the nominations they have made.

Hugh Sherman Jr.—It appears to me that our proposition is in every way a fair one, but if a conciliatory proposition is required I will meet with any committee and see if we can do better than we have done. But before we take such action we would like to know whether any concessions from the other side would be accepted or considered in the spirit in which it would be tendered.

E. W. Tarbet said the people had had in consultation in the various precincts and nominated a ticket. In one precinct Lorenzo Young, E. P. Newhall and H. S. Laney were nominated for the same office and had declined to act so far as he knew.

H. W. Lawrence—Please tell me the political party of these gentlemen.

Mr. Tarbet—Mesrs. Young and Newell are Democrats and Mr. Hardy, I believe, is a Republican.

In response to questions as to what precinct had declined Mr. Sherman replied: "We have formal resignations from Messrs. I. A. Benton and W. F. Jennings of the Second precinct; B. W. Young and Spencer Clawson of the Fourth, George A. Lowe of the Fifth and possibly Mr. Armstong of the same precinct.

The joint committee then dissolved and each went into caucus from which the report was then endorsed. It was determined they would have a further conference at 8 o'clock this afternoon.

Later the committee of twenty-five reported to their convention in the Walker hall where it had been in session from 10 o'clock until noon and reported progress and asked for further time. This was granted and the convention adjourned until this evening.

FALSE SWEARING.

A News reporter was informed at the registration office this morning that the deputies had evidence previous that no less than a dozen men had perjured themselves in taking the oath yesterday. Most of them are reported to be from the Fifth precinct and all of them are said to be Liberals of the hobo variety. It was also stated that these men would be arrested and prosecuted for perjury.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

It is claimed that Judge Lochhurst has prevailed upon his Liberal friends to "stand aside" and allow him to resign the presidency of the city council.

Judge Powers, as chairman of the Liberal city committee, has issued one of his patriotic antiquated addresses, in which he berates everything not Liberal.

S. H. Cassity denies it to be known that there are two of his name figuring in local politics, and the one spoken of as "an absent Republican" is not himself. In his letter he specifications above draws the line long, wide and deep—he is a Democrat.

J. R. Walden will have an opportunity to explain tonight at 8 o'clock why he struck Judge Powers in the office yesterday afternoon, he having been arrested on a charge of assault and battery. The case comes up before Justice Whitehorne and it is stated that Powers will make things lively.

According to arrangements entered into between the citizens' committee of fifty and the Independent citizens' committee of twenty-five, the former should have received the independent committee at 3 and on this afternoon, but as 5:30 they were still in caucusing and had not opened the doors of their parlors at that time, it is to be hoped that the independents are paying the cordiales of the Walker House.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

The Morning's Work of Chief Justice Zane and a Jury.

The Utah Slaughtering Company's Offense—The Grantsville Tragedy—The Park City Manslaughter—Miscellaneous.

The "Conference case," the trial of which began yesterday, occupied nearly all the whole time of the Third district court till noon today, and to some extent throw the criminal calendar in arrear.

AT THE TERRITORY'S EXPENSE.

Colonel Montgomery, counsel for the defendants Hyrum Mellvin and John Benson, who stand indicted for the murder of Dr. Elliott, of Grantsville, Tooele county, and who are now awaiting trial, made an application to the court that the following witnesses be subpoenaed at the expense of the territory, on account of the defendants' impecuniarity: Swen Nelson, Nancy J. Poulet, Josephine Nourtine, Wm. F. Young, J. C. Peterson, Dr. C. L. Davidson, Christian Peterson and Zachariah Lawborn, all of Fairview, Sanpete Co., Willard Carter and May Carter, Salt Lake County; W. J. Robinson, Glen Harris, and Orrin Harris, of Grantsville; W. Judge Zane—Let the order be made.

THE PARK CITY MANSLAUGHTER.

In the case of the People vs Tom O'Neill, on the trial of whom for manslaughter at Park City the jury recently disagreed, and whose third trial was set for Tuesday next, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Howat and himself agreed that the matter go over for the term. The case was continued, that should anything occur by which either side failed to bring any of the witnesses who had already testified here, now attached, another trial could be had without fear from the disappointed witnesses.

Judge Zane assented to this arrangement.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.

Henry John Grimes, an English man, and Nicie B. Maiers, a Dane, both residents of this city, were admitted to citizenship.

A DISTANCE CHARGED.

The trial of the case in which the Utah Slaughtering company sues the Union Pacific railroad company for damages by the alleged injury "and killing" a thousand of their prime steers between the Hot Springs and Worm Springs, was resumed, having begun yesterday morning. Some additional testimony was adduced on behalf of the defendants, after which the legal arguments were made by Assistant District Attorney Howat on the part of the prosecution and by Attorneys Arthur Brown and Lorenzo Young on behalf of the defendant company.

At noon the jury retired to consider their verdict, which was given as "guilty," after a short deliberation. The date of sentence was not set.

Just and Here.

Charles Just is on trial before Judge Zane and a jury this afternoon in the Third district court upon a charge of adultery. The woman, Mrs. Anna Here, will be heard of at the conclusion of Just's case.

A MORNING FIRE.

Several Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Goes Up in Smoke.

NARROW ESCAPE OF AN OLD MAN.

Two Horses Burned to Death—Origin of the Fire Not Positively Known.

A small blaze burst forth in the planing mill of H. M. Cutlatt, on Third West between Ninth Temple and First Ninth streets, at 4:30 this morning. In a remarkably short time it spread throughout the entire building, which adjoined the Sierra-Nevada lumber yard on the south and several piles of lumber were ignited. The fire department was called and, as it happened, at this time was a vigorous blowing of hornets, engine and working whistles. A stiff breeze was coming in from the southeast and carried the flames into the yard and barns and a two-story dwelling owned by John L. and Mrs. M. J. Hardin, at 375 west south Temple street. The buildings were all lumber and burned like tinder boxes. At the rear of the premises an upper room was an old man named Hardin, eighty-two years of age, asleep in his bed. His room was completely enveloped in flames and it was only the heroic work of the fire laddies and two or three other persons that prevented him from being burned alive.

Several horses in the barn were removed from their stalls in the stable where they were preacing about in a most frantic manner. One of them, on being taken out by Captain Mike Doherty, became more frightened than ever when he saw the red glare of fire and excitement ensued and rushed back into the barn where he perished in the flames. All but two of the horses were saved.

The Hardin residence with all of its contents was destroyed as was also the planing mill and machinery, as the house, barns and sheds adjoining. The Hardin residence was from insured, though the merchandise suffered considerable from smoke and some it by from water. The Whitemore motel across the street south from the Union Pacific hotel was slightly damaged by all accounts and for a time seemed doomed to destruction, the being of brick it withstood the work of the fire-fiend remarkably well and sustained little damage beyond that done by smoke and water.

The planing mill was built and owned by H. M. Cutlatt at a cost of $1500, while the machinery was put in at a cost of $750 and was owned by Nathan Sears. The two combined were insured for $1200. Mr. Hardin's loss amounts to probably $1000 and other losses will foot up to a couple of thousand more.

As to the origin of the fire, while it is not positively known, it is believed to have been started by a tramp who was sleeping in a pile of shavings at the rear of the mill. A newly individuals in the vicinity of Cutlatt's was observed to emerge from the premises early after the alarm was turned in. Later he was seen by Detective Hodges on the street watching the progress of the fire.

A Sad Bereavement.

The numerous friends and acquaintances of Ranch S. Kimball will regretted to learn that he died away early this morning, at his home in the Sixth ward, after an illness of only one week. He complained at first of rheumatic pains in his neck and shoulders, which proved the forerunner of a severe attack of typhoid fever and which ended suddenly in heart failure. He was the son of William H. Kimball and Melissa C. Kimball, and was born at Farley's Park, December 20th, 1861.

The deceased had been connected with the Deseret National Bank for nearly five years, and was one of the most respected bank-keepers. He was a very faithful and energetic young man in the various ecclesiastical positions he was called on to occupy. For several years he has been an efficient Sunday School missionary. For the past two years he acted as first counselor to the president of the Sixth Ward Y. M. M. I. A., and just recently he was called to be second counselor to the presidency of an Elders' quorum. In all these positions he was very faithful, kind and energetic. He was a general favorite with all who came in contact with, and his death will leave a place in many hearts it will be hard to fill. He leaves a wife and three children. May the Divine God be a father to them in this their hour of trouble.

The funeral services will be held in the Fifteenth Ward meeting house, on Thursday, Sept. 28, at 2 o'clock p. m. A general invitation is extended to the friends of the bereaved family.

AT THE FAIR.

The Odd Fellows Celebrate a Three Days' Celebration.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—The Odd Fellows began a three days' celebration at the World's Fair today. It will be their endeavor to eclipse any event of a similar character yet held at the Exposition. It is estimated that over 25,000 of them will come in from all parts of the country and Canada passed the turnstiles before noon. The day's exercises began with prize drills of the uniformed ranks in the dock pavilion, with an immense attendance, brass parades, individual drills, etc. on the administration plaza followed. The grand lodge met at the national convention rooms. With appropriate public exercises they were welcomed on behalf of the city and state.
