WAR NOT POSSIBLE.

That is the View Hon. A. J. Balfour Takes of the Situation.

ENGLAND PREPARED TO FIGHT.

But the Common Sense of the Anglo-Saxon Race Will Settle the Dispute Without Bloodshed.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Hon. A. J. Balfour, First lord of the treasury, speaking at Manchester tonight, said it was not in human nature that the present condition of things in the Transvaal should continue. Therefore he was sanguine that President Kruger would recognize the importance of giving the long-promised reforms of the constitution. Whether it was called suzerainty or not, there could be no mistake that we controlled the external relations of the Transvaal and would insist on foreign interference, and he believed he foreign country was prepared to dispute that doctrine.

Having highly complimented Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, he turned to Venezuela, and said nobody here wanted to run contrary to the Monroe doctrine. In fact, he continued, if Venezuela had offered herself for annexation to Great Britain, any British statesman would decline such an insult. Therefore he failed to understand what the quarrel was about. It would be hard, indeed, if the common sense of the Anglo-Saxon race was unable to settle the dispute without become to war. He did not believe there was a possibility of war, but there was never a moment in the history of the country when it possessed a better fighting machine.

Mr. Balfour asserted that the British government had heartily concurred in the Monroe doctrine seventy years ago, and he believed if they were to remark England, search the most private documents in the foreign office from time, examine the ministers and the military public, or even the House, it would be impossible to find a single individual who ever desired to use what would be called a forward policy adopted by Great Britain in either North or South America.

THE BOND ISSUE.

Secretary Carlisle Issues Another Circular of Instructions.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 15.—Secretary Carlisle tonight made public the following circular modifying the conditions for payment on the advertised bond issue:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Office of the Secretary,
Washington, D. C.

Accepted bidders who pay the whole amount at the time of the first installment, or any date thereafter, as above provided, will be entitled to receive at the date of the payment, the whole amount of bonds awarded to them, and accepted bidders who pay by installments will be entitled to receive, at the dates of such payments, the amount of bonds paid for.

J. G. CARLISLE,
Secretary.

THE VENEZUELAN MATTER.

New Information Obtained on the Boundary Question.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—New and important information on the Venezuelan question, having direct bearing upon the possibilities of a settlement of the boundary dispute by the two interested governments without the assistance of any other powers, and seemingly discounting the probability of such an outing to the controversy, was today placed out by Mr. Boutwell of Minnesota, a member of the House committee on foreign affairs.

The British government, according to the most recent and apparently the agreed utterances of its semi-official organs, has turned to the policy of bringing about a resumption of diplomatic relations with the South American republic, then to proceed to direct negotiations with the republic to determine the boundary, as the most feasible path by which it can emerge from its present position without a practical retraction of Lord Salisbury's refusal to arbitrate.

Mr. Boutwell, who has given some attention to the Venezuelan question, has procured a copy of an important document published in 1892 for the government of Venezuela, embracing all the correspondence between its representatives and those of Great Britain upon diplomatic matters between the two governments from the year 1841 to 1887, when the most active efforts to reach a determination of the boundary line were under way. In this correspondence Venezuela repeatedly affirms that it is impossible for her to compromise the boundary claim by any treaty or convention manner of the terms of her national constitution.

AGAINST CAMPOS.

The Spaniards on Cuba Talk of Kicking the Governor.

NEW YORK, Jan 16.—A special to the Herald from Key West, Fla., says: According to private advices from Havana there was great excitement on the exchange there yesterday (Wednesday), where much seditious talk was indulged in. Several colonels and officers of volunteers who were present made speeches against Captain-General Campos and a general protest was expressed against his military inactivity and overcautious policy. One major of the volunteers proposed that Campos be seized forced to indorse to be lynched and the speech was met by cheers from various Spanish merchants.

The majority of the representatives of Spanish business houses present signed a petition to close the exchange and many favored closing the stores as a protest against Campos's permissiveness on the island.

A delegation from the volunteer corps officers was named to wait on Campos and insist that Pando be called and given full military command and that Campos either federally change his political policy or resign the governorship.

The Spanish sentiment against him is increasing hourly and trouble is feared. Several foreign vessels in the port, by direction of their consignees, have just suspended the discharge of their cargoes awaiting the outcome of the affair.

Asserting the American Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—At the meeting of the Senate committee on foreign relations today the resolution prepared by Senator Davis defining the legislative action and attitude of the country toward foreign governments in the western hemisphere, in accordance with the Monroe doctrine, was discussed, but final consideration postponed until Friday. While the committee are almost unanimous in the advisability of such a declaration, there seems to be hesitancy, especially on the part of Senator Gray, who expressed the opinion that unless the declaration was modified in some particular it might lead to complications which might be avoided with proper care. The text of the resolution was not given out, but it is understood it is a strong and concise declaration, asserting the American doctrine in no uncertain terms.

Arizona Admission Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—The Arizona territory admission bill was taken up for consideration by the House committee on territories today. Delegate Murphy presented in detail the reasons why the territory should be admitted. The bill will be further considered Saturday.

The Gold Supply.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—At the half-yearly meeting today of the Union bank of London, the new governor of that institution, F. O. Sumner, said the prevailing impression that the large increase in the stock of gold was due to increased production was only partially true. Gold was from the United States, he added, mainly that the increase was obtained. The imports from the United States, continued Mr. Schuster, were due to the currency troubles and the want of confidence arising therefrom. But, in his opinion the troubles would not continue much longer, and when these difficulties were overcome, as he could not but hope they would be sooner or later, the tide might turn the current into the opposite direction, and it might set in with great rapidity and force.

Arbitration not on the Program.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A dispatch to the World from London says: It would not seem from the Times leader on Venezuela that recent efforts toward arbitration have found much favor in Downing street. If there exists any inclination in the prse of Lord Salisbury's disposition in this matter, it is to be found in the columns of the Times. That paper has from the beginning of the controversy seemed to be inspired by the premier. It, therefore, it speaks by authority, any material results from arbitration seem as remote as possible.

Confirmed by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—The Senate today confirmed the following nominations:

B. L. Bennett, of Washington, to be United States attorney, district of Alaska.

A. E. Delaney, of Alaska, to be United States district judge, district of Alaska.

A. E. Marion, of Louisiana, to be consul at Belize, British Honduras.

Postmasters—Colorado, H. S. McDowell at Highlands; C. J. Hill at Buena Vista; C. A. Crane at Colorado City; F. W. Brush at Salida; Jason Weil at Las Animas; A. Van Duzen at Lamar.

Utah—A. J. McPhee at Eureka; C. H. Barrett at Salt Lake City.

California—G. S. Trently at Arcata; C. F. Livingston at Wheitley; V. Cantor at South River.

Arizona—T. A. Fleming at Williams; T. J. Wylie at Nogales.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15.—To-day's statement of the condition of the treasury shows: Available cash balance, $179,127,425; gold reserve, $65,704,797.

Fire in a Kansas Hotel.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 16.—At 3:45 a.m. fire broke out in the dining room of the Midland hotel, one of the largest and best known hotels in the West. The fire was caused by a crossed electric light wire and was soon under control. The place was well filled with guests. Loss estimated at $1,000.

DEATH IN VENEZUELA.

Impossible for White Men to Live in Lower Parts of the Country.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A meeting of the committee of the chamber of commerce on the Venezuelan matter was held last night behind closed doors. Ex-Mayor Hewitt, who acted as chairman, refused to allude to what passed at the meeting. He volunteered the following statement, however:

It is generally understood among people interested in mining enterprises that Venezuela is extremely unhealthy. At the mines in the squier and a very great portion of it is swamp. Great rats swamp regions are miasmatic exhalations which make it impossible for white men to live there at all and even for the native very dangerous. Every year there are innumerable and wholesale of the fever and the swamps become a veritable sea of grass. No white man can work in the mines for three days without taking fever and it is a region no one should desire to own but which everybody should desire to get rid of. I would consider it criminal to organize a company to work those gold fields. The white men would turn the mines into a vast mausoleum.

The Unfortunate Hoagaard Family.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Horrors also composed the funeral procession which yesterday conveyed to their last rest the remains of the seven members of the Hoagaard family, asphyxiated by gas Monday night. Neither the father nor the wife and children whom he smothered to death seem to have had any sympathetic close enough to attend the funeral. It now appears that Hoagaard or Hansen, was more unfortunate than criminal. Danish consul Petersen says that the stories of Hansen's extensive robberies were falsehoods. Hansen was a man of education and good birth. He ran a commission house at Nyborg, Denmark, and was regarded as one of the most prosperous men of the territory, but he got behind in his accounts, and instead of trying to settle with his creditors ran away to America with his wife and family. Here sharpers including attorneys whom he trusted appear to have flowed him out of what little money he had left after a double of a shady business venture in Chicago.

CHILE IN ARMS.

On Account of the Boundary Dispute with Argentina.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A special to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says: The Tribune, General Roca's organ, says that as Chile still maintains the theory advanced by her commissioner in the boundary treaty of 1893, Argentina should declare herself and take measures to bring about a speedy solution of the long standing dispute over the limits of the two republics.

Barros Arana, the boundary commissioner for Chile, declares that the limits of the two countries could only be defined by conceding that all territorial excess of the waters in the region concerned should be bounded by a curved line over the Andes ridge.

Argentina declares that the highest peaks of the Andes are the guiding points in a survey by which a straight line is to be drawn, dividing the republics.

The Tribune goes on to say that Chile is still strong in spite of peaceful protestations; that she has saved enough to carry really strong claims to arrange the boundary dispute; that her people are swayed, in fact ruled by the ideas of Dr. Arana, and that judging from recent occurrences the pacific speeches and protestations which were so plentiful at the time of the Archbishop Casanova were merely superficial.

FALSE RUMORS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A dispatch to the World from Valparaiso, Chile, says:

The report which reached here today from Lima, Peru, to the effect that Chilean troops had been ordered to occupy the passages of the Andes leading to the frontier of Argentina is false. The governor of the province in which any hostile demonstration against Argentina would naturally take up positions, denies the report, and I have private information which confirms his denial.

A counsel of the state has sanctioned a bill to be presented to congress for the purchase of the Cocquimbo railway.

General Pavez, the president of the senate, is one of the newly nominated candidates for the presidency.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.: Your favor received. When I commenced taking your medicine I was very sick. I had no appetite at all for anything, and was so weak I could not walk was a helpless invalid. I was troubled by pain in my side, and had terrible fainting spells. At last I had a relapse and was so low I was given up to die. Fortunately I had your medicine with me, and when I did, and after taking one bottle I felt better. I continued, and I would advise all ladies suffering as I did to try "Favorite Prescription."

"DR. MILES,

Through His Nervine Is a Benefactor to Thousands."

A WIDELY known Wisconsin publisher, who resides at Green Bay, writes March 6th, 1895, as follows:

"Two years ago I became so nervous that mental work was a burden. I could not rest at night on account of sleeplessness. My attention was called to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, and I commenced to use it with the very best effect. Since then I have kept a bottle in my home and can honestly say it never became exhausted, and always its use gave good results. My son also became very nervous from overwork, and I gave him a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It has worked wonders for him. I have recommended it to many and it never fails to give good results. All who suffer from nerve trouble should try it. It is free from narcotics, perfectly harmless, and yet soothes and strengthens. Dr. Miles, through his Nervine is a benefactor to thousands."
