VIGOROUS ATTACKS FROM TWO PULPITS

Ministers Arraign Party of Broken Promises and Renounce Their Support.

SLOT MACHINES ARE EXAMPLE

"We Need the Money," Otherwise Known as "Americanites," Weak Excuse Offered by Bosses.

Because of the operation of a city's government for loot instead of for the city's good, and because of the effort to fasten the "American" party campaign barrel so firmly to the city treasury that the public money will carry the expense of keeping the party in power, an undertone of serious complaint is arising, and it is entirely outside of the circles in which opposition to the "Amercan" party as a party has centered.

In two of the city's churches yesterday congregations listened to arraignments of the spoils system in government, and the warning that retribution soon must follow upon disloyalty, as Rev. E. I. Goshen put it of officials "to their oath of office, to their manhood, and to their God."

The police department which confessedly is wrecked on the justification that what has occurred "is politics;" the fact that the city is paying for the training of green firemen, while old and experienced men with long and faithful records are turning to other avocations, and the further fact that the treasury has many leaks that keep it empty beyond all hope of the income to gain on them, are what cause the present outburst of protest.

REV. E. L. GOSHEN.

"Be ye faithful, even unto death," was the Rev. E. I. Goshen's opening sentiment at the First Congregational church. "And," he continued while speaking of examples of disloyalty, "I am not going out of my own city to find them."

The sermon was preached to a large assembly of people and before he had finished the Rev. Mr. Goshen had promised at a future meeting to handle the theme in a more specific manner giving names and dates.

"There are men in the city service," he said, "whom I regard with the highest respect, and there are others in the city for whom I have nothing but contempt, men who are abasing themselves for petty gain and are not faithful to their oath, to their manhood, nor to their God." He prophesied for them the fruits of dishonored lives in the curse of ruined sons, and the lasting condemnation of their fellowmen.

"Disloyalty to the home," he said, "makes shipwreck of lives, disloyalty to the pulpit makes a religion a mockery, disloyalty to the pew makes the pulpit fail." Manhood with loyalty for its inspiration was eulogized as the highest product of Christianity, while Benedict Arnold was instanced as an example that a traitor cannot live and win, for he sold his loyalty at too low a figure, and reaped a dishonored name in history as the result.

Further, he said, "Loyalty to the laws of music made Beethoven fill the world with melody. Loyalty to language, to country and to God enbaled Gladstone to glorify an empire. Loyalty to conscience helped the Puritans plant a nation which shall stand in blessing until time shall be no more.

"And disloyalty to manhood, to the spirit of the age, to the laws of God drove the nation into war, and when the land was dotted with graves, when Lincoln lay in his winding sheet, the awful price disloyalty had cost was fully understood. He quoted the lines:

"Truth forever on the scaffold,
Wrong forever on the throne—
But that scaffold sways the future
And behind the grim unknown
Standeth God, who keepeth
Watch above His own!"

The value of loyalty in little things was clearly set forth. Rev. Mr. Goshen urged the young men to believe his solemn asservation that unfaithfulness does not pay; that being faithful even unto death, wins the only reward worth having.

REV. B. F. SHORT.

At the First Methodist church, Rev. B. F. Short went more specifically into the case of the "American" party, in an address upon slot machines and their influence upon morals. "The American party is responsible for the fact that slot machines are allowed to run," he declared, "and it cannot hope for the support of purity loving people at the next election unless it abolishes them at once."

Rev. Mr. Short took as his theme "Because We Need the Money," taking up some of the things which are tolerated with that justification, and considering especially the matter of slot machines, and their relationship to the "American" party's broken pledges.

"When the 'Americans' asked for our support last fall they promised that they would suppress gambling in Salt Lake," he said. "In a way they have done so, but these nefarious devices are still allowed to run, and I for one will not support a party that cannot keep its word.

BLAME WHERE IT BELONGS.

"I know that this is an unpopular thing to do—to denounce the party now in power," he declared, "but I want to place the blame where it belongs, and it belongs with the 'American' party. The council could easily pass an ordinance making these machines illegal, but that body will not do it, and the chairman of the license committee says that the city needs the money exacted from the machines every month."

"The miserable, mean, niggardly duplicity which actuates the 'American' party in collecting this license and allowing these machiens to run is so contemptible that I hate to mention it," declared Mr. Short. "Here is a body of men, sworn to do their duty by the people, and yet they allow these machines to run, to the everlasting detriment of the youth of the city, in order that the city may secure a few miserable, dirty dollars for letting men corrupt its youths. Just think of this, friends, and then go to your councilmen and protest against this outrage against the decency of this city of the saints."

"The newspapers have been uniform in their wish to abolish this evil. All of them see the necessity of doing away with this vicious system, and they have urged prohibitive licenses, which seems a very good way to settle the difficulty."

The speaker referred to Judge Diehl's decision as one case which did not cover the slot machines that were really objectionable, since it affected only the shoe-lace and chewing gum machines. His sermon was listened to by a large congregation.

WOMEN ON THE JOB

Organize a Fire Company in Short Order and Win Against Odds.

A fire in the home of Mrs. Harrison Sperry, in Third East street between Tenth and Eleventh South streets, Saturday, afforded an occasion for the exercise of quick wit, presence of mind and physical prowess. Three women were equal to the occasion and a bucket brigade formed of Mrs. Sperry, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Hand, all neighbors, was quickly organized, and after a spirited fight with the flames they succeeded in controlling the fire. Had it not been for their prompt work, the home would have been destroyed, but as it is the damage is slight.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

TO CONVENE MAY 6.

In a general appeal to organized labor to assist in forming a permanent state federation of labor for Utah, a call is included for a convention to meet May 6 at Federation of Labor hall. The object of the convention is to ratify action already taken at a convention held in April, and to name a date in the fall for another convention when a regular session date can be decided upon. At the May meeting a constitution and by-laws will be adopted, a charter unveiled, and rules of the order adopted.

W. F. M. MAY 5.

The Utah State union, Western Federation of Miners, will meet in semi-annual convention at Salt Lake May 5. Delegatese from local unions throughout the state will be present, and an effort will be made to bring local unions into closer contact with each other. The Western Federation of Miners is now an independent organization, being allied formally neither with the American Federation of Labor nor the Industrial Workers of the World.

"ONE TOUCH OF NATURE MAKES THE WHOLE WORLD KIN."
When a rooster finds a big fat worm he calls all the hens in the farm yard to come and share it. A similar trait of human nature is to be observed when a man discovers something exceptionally good—he wants all his friends and neighbors to share the benefits of his discovery. This is the touch of nature that makes the whole world kin. This explains why people who have been cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy write letters to the manufacturers for publication, that others similarly ailing my also use it and obtain relief. Behind every one of these letters is a warm hearted wish of the writer to be of use to someone else. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

FUNERAL OF GEO. HOLMES.

Impressive funeral services were accorded George Holmes yesterday. Under the auspices of the uniformed rank of the Modern Woodmen, the Women of Woodcraft and the Royal Neighbors, a cortege led by the band of the Fifteenth infantry from Fort Douglas marched from the mortuary chapel of Eber W. Hall and then through Main street to South Temple street and then to State street, where the party boarded a funeral car for the cemetery. Mr. Holmes died at his late residence, 964 Rice street, Monday night, at the age of 41 years.

THE LAW RELATING TO THE DIVISION OF PROPERTY.

We have prepared for free distribution a book containing a digest of the Laws of Utah governing the descent and distribution of property after a person's death. We would be pleased to have you call and get a copy of this book.

The laws of any State are necessarily general and establish inflexible rules for the division of the estates of persons who die leaving no will. Of course, the personality of the heirs cannot be considered in the making of such laws. The incompetent, the undeserving, the wasteful spendthrift, each has equal right with the deserving. That is why most people find that a general law does not apply to their individual cases, and they prefer to dispose of the property by making a will.

Then, too, many persons make a will for no other reason than to select and name an executor or agency to handle and settle their affairs. The Utah Savings & Trust company is authorized by law and qualified by long experience to give any estate the very best service and to handle and settle it in the shortest space of time and at the least possible cost. If you desire, you can profit by its counsel and advice in the making of your will.

In addition to the book described above, we have for distribution blank forms suitable for simple wills. Come in and get one.
