HOME OF MRS. A. P. HIBBS ROBBED

Bold Daylight Marauder Gets Valuable Papers, Purse and Money.

OGDEN, Oct. 20.—Tuesday morning, about 11 o'clock, Mrs. A. P. Hibbs of 241 Twenty-seventh street, observed a stranger leaving her house and, calling to him, she enquired what he was doing at her place. He said he was looking for a man by the name of Jones and that he was an employe of the Southern Pacific company. She thought no more of the incident until later in the day when she went for her purse to pay a small bill and failed to find it. It was a carved leather hand purse and contained a number of dollars and some valuable papers. Mrs. Hibbs says that she does not mind missing the money but that the purse and the papers are quite valuable and she hopes the police will be able to locate them.

Music was rendered by the ward choir. The speakers were Joseph Bidwell, Bishop Jardine, William Burton, Nathan Hawks, Sr., Alexander Ritchie, John Martin, Jr., and Nathan Hawks, Jr. All paid very high tribute to the benevolence and goodness of the deceased and felt that the community had lost one of its stanchest and best citizens. Interment was made in the Ogden city cemetery.

STREET CAR DERAILED.

OGDEN, Oct. 20.—As a Washington avenue car, going south, neared the corner of Thirty-second street, Monday evening, it came into contact with a number of old ties which had been piled on the track by a crowd of boys. The car was derailed but nobody was hurt. The motorman did not see the ties until too late, as an automobile with a very powerful light was headed in his direction and for a few minutes it was impossible to see the track.

POLICE COURT.

OGDEN, Oct. 20.—William Webster and J. H. Brown both plead guilty to being drunk and were sentenced to five days in the city jail or a fine of $5 each. Jess Doe Chase, charged with vagrancy, was sentenced to 20 days in jail. The case of C. P. Scarbery, charged with being drunk, was again continued until all the witnesses in the case are called into court. He claims he was not drunk but the officers say that he had a "lighting jag" on and it was only after considerable persuasion that he was placed in a cell. Eli Sprague of Ogden valley was arraigned on the charge of having in his possession and attempting to sell 10 pounds of trout at the Oaks resort on Oct. 9. The defendant plead not guilty and his hearing was indefinitely postponed. Mr. Sprague was released on his own recognizance.

SENATOR TAYLOR'S LECTURE.

OGDEN, Oct. 20.—It was a very large and appreciative audience that greeted Senator Robert L. Taylor at the Weber academy last evening and which was spell-bound for nearly two hours, listening to the old time stories of the south. The senator chose the subject "Happy Valley" for the evening's entertainment, that being the name of the little homely spot up in the mountains of Tennessee where he was born and where he spent the happy days of childhood and youth. Beautiful pictures of nature were drawn and the never-to-be-forgotten days of childhood recalled. Old southern stories and melodies, intermingled with a deep, tender pathos and rare fun, which caused bursts of applause and laughter, were recited by Mr. Taylor. His philosophy is deep, yet sparkling and his advice to parents and children equally profitable. The entire lecture was like a burst of sunshine glittering through leaves and flowers; in his own words, "a few soap bubbles and air castles."

DOMINANT PARTIES FAIL TO FUSE AT PROVO

Republicans Are Obdurate—Friends Of Saloon Happy Over Division Of Reform Forces.

(Special Correspondence.)

PROVO, Oct. 20.—It now seems certain that there will be no fusion of the Republican and Democratic tickets in this city against the Independents who are in favor of the liquor traffic. The committees of the two parties have been working on the fusion question for a week or 10 days. Last night it was decided to throw a coin to determine which of the two mayoralty candidates, S. P. Eggertsen, Republican, or C. F. Decker, Democratic, should remain on the ticket. This was done and Mr. Decker won. Then an adjournment was taken and the subcommittee to which had been delegated the authority to effect the fusion met again later to fuse the rest of the ticket. Then the announcement was made that some of the Republican members had not agreed and were opposed to the coin throwing method and objected to Mr. Eggertsen's withdrawing from the ticket and this attitude spoiled the whole effort to consolidate. The situation is greatly enjoyed by the Independents, who now feel sure of winning.

CITY COUNCIL BUSINESS.

PROVO, Oct. 20.—A petition from citizens was presented at the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, asking that the water mains be extended west on Center street from Seventh to Eleventh West; referred to the committee on waterworks.

Justice Noon presented his report for July, August and September, showing 22 cases heard; $46.50 collected in fines, and 137 days imprisonment imposed.

Chairman Giles of the committee on waterworks reported that the committee had agreed to pay 40 per cent of the cost of repairing the dugway in Provo canyon up to $400, the repairs being protective to the city waterworks pipe line; report accepted.

Six hundred dollars was appropriated to pay Smith & Brown of Springville for a team of horses for city work.

CHARLES STEWART SENTENCED

PROVO, Oct. 20.—Chas. Stewart, who on Monday entered a plea of guilty to voluntary manslaughter was sentenced to five years in the state prison, Tuesday, by Judge Booth. He was taken to the state prison in the afternoon by Sheriff Judd. There is a great deal of sympathy for Stewart among his former employers and associates. He is spoken of as an honorable, industrious and kindly man, and the unpleasant position in which he now finds himself is apparently chargeable to drink and the bad associates which follow in its wake.

PROCTER ACADEMY GROWING.

PROVO, Oct. 20.—The Procter academy has purchased the W. S. Pratt property on the north of the present school property, and will use the building now on the ground for class rooms. The rest of the ground will serve to enlarge the campus until other buildings needed for the growth of the school can be erected.

GYM AND LIBRARY MOVEMENT.

RICHFIELD, Oct. 16.—Sevier county teachers closed a very interesting and profitable two days' institute here this afternoon. The sessions were held in the high school building, County Supt. Greenwood conducting the exercises. Prof. Howard R. Driggs of the University of Utah was present and delivered two very able lectures on the subject of "Reading." He also spoke at a public meeting held in the tabernacle last evening on the subject of "The Library-Gymnasium Movement."

Our leading citizens were not many hours in catching the enthusiasm with which Prof. Driggs delivered his lecture and as a consequence a legal petition with the requisite 50 signers has been prepared and presented asking for a levy of a 1 mill tax for the maintenance of a free public library and the same for the support of a gymnasium.

This small levy will be the ground work and will start the movement which it is thought will be reinforced from other sources a little later on. Put Richfield on the list for a library-gymnasium in the very near future.

He was a bright and promising boy and well respected by all who knew him. The funeral was held yesterday at the family residence, Bishop G. W. Coons of the Third ward conducting the exercises.

SPEAKER CANNON DENIES TAMMANY STORY

Elgin, Ill., Oct. 19.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon tonight attacked the Republican insurgents in Congress and defended himself against various attacks in a vehement two-hour address before the Illinois Mayors' association.

Speaker Cannon vigorously denied that his election as speaker was brought about through a deal with Tammany hall. The speaker also asserted that Representative Fowler of New Jersey was dropped as chairman of the house committee on currency and banking because of his refusal to report to the house any emergency currency measure.

"I was over in Iowa last week," he said, "and found that it is an open secret there that Senator Cummins not only purposes to join hands with Bryan but says the agitation will not stop and that he will appeal to the people until the tariff is revised according to his notions."

MURDERED THEN BODIES BURNED

Such Fate of the Captain and the Crew of the Trading Ketch Rabaul

VESSEL LOOTED, SET ON FIRE

Captain Went Ashore Off New Britain To Secure Labor; Natives Killed Him Then Men on Ship.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 19.—Further details of the massacre in New Britain early last month, briefly reported in Sydney cables, received by the steamer Marama today are to the effect that Capt. Lindsay of the ketch Rabaul and 10 of the crew were murdered and burned and the trading vessel looted and set fire, the bodies of some of the victims thrown into the flames.

The steamer Lanecog, which returned to Sydney from New Britain group, an island under German control just north of Australia shortly before the Marama sailed, reported the occurrence. Her officers and Capt. Lindsay, owner and master of the vessel, and who was prominent in the New Britain trade, were off the east coast of New Britain about 200 miles from Hebertshone, recruiting labor, and that about sundown, when he anchored his ship for the night, a swarm of native canoes came off and the blacks asked that he come ashore as plenty of men were ready to sign on as laborers. Capt. Lindsay went ashore and was escorted to a big native house where about a hundred blacks were gathered.

As soon as he stepped in he was struck down from behind with a spear and the blacks sprang upon him with knives. He fell bleeding from scores of wounds and was hacked to death. The body was then dragged out to the beach by the heels and burned. The flotilla of canoes then went off to the Rabaul and the natives swarmed aboard. One after another the 10 men of the crew were slaughtered. Then while they lay, some dead, some mortally wounded, on the deck, a raid was made on the stores and kerosene poured over the deck and in the holds, making the ship a funeral pyre for the murdered men. Ship and victims were completely destroyed.

Some natives reported the occurrences to the Lanecog, which at once steamed for Hebershone and reported it. A German punitive expedition was being prepared when the Lanecog left the islands.

A report was also brought from the islands that the French recruiting ketch Gaudeloupe of 40 tons, was attacked and wrecked by blacks in the New Hebrides at the same time at Maillecle and the French captain and native crew of eight massacred but no confirmation had been received.

A wireless communication from H. M. S. Prometheus stated that some of the natives of the Guadeloupe had been killed but the captain and others were said to have escaped.
