CONTRACT STANDS.

The Mayor Objects to the Light Agreement But Does Not Veto It.

IS EFFECTIVE WITHOUT APPROVAL

Harrigan Wants His Check—Offer to Extend Main Street—Site for Government Building.

The City Council met last night and did in a hurry what business there was to be done. There was no unnecessary delay in the proceedings and an early adjournment was taken.

The Mayor sent in a communication stating his objections to the street lighting contract as follows:

"Having failed to execute or return to the Council with my objections the street lighting contract within five days after it was presented to me, it is now by force of the statute a subsisting contract.

"I seem to proper at this time to call your attention to the fact that recent developments have put conditions my opinion expressed to the Council in my message of May 25, 1896, that $102 per lamp per year is, for moonlight nonexclusive service, an excessive price. Under the present contract the Big Cottonwood Power company is to receive $28,182 for 270 2,000-candle-power arc lamps for one year. That company furnishes the energy for these lamps which, with the poles and wire, are owned by the Salt Lake and Ogden Gas and Electric Light company.

"The latter company, for the use and maintenance of said lamps, poles and wire for one year, receive from the Big Cottonwood company the sum of $24,582.84, which leaves for the Big Cottonwood company the sum of $3,599.16.

"If the same 1,000 lamps were one year ago to be furnished at a price of the same $3,599.16 it is not difficult to demonstrate that the street lighting for Salt Lake City is a monopoly whereby some to ordinary consumers $102 per lamp per year cannot exist.

"I trust the Council will now see the wisdom of putting the contract in force in regard to municipal consumers, in the sure that we may be prepared with in a reasonable time to set bids for matter of street lighting with the perfect intelligence and less influence from parties interested in the present street light companies. It is my conviction to do that we should be willing to pay $5 per year more for street lighting than it can be properly furnished for."

PAVING ORDINANCE AMENDED.

Mayor Goodwin sent in a communication veiling the paving ordinance for Second South between West Temple and First West. The objection to the ordinance was that section 2 did not sufficiently provide that the five-inch layers of the paving material should be 10 per cent heavier after compacted.

The veto was sustained and the ordinance amended as suggested to the satisfaction and with patch.

WANTS HIS CHECK.

Frank Harrigan asked that the city treasurer be directed to return to him the check of $50 deposited with him and for the W. H. Dee case on the sewers. He has decided to sign the contract because half of City creek has been turned into his gravelly sewer and in consequence the work was under water. On suggestion of Chairman Simmons the matter was referred to the board of public works.

TO EXTEND MAIN STREET.

An offer was made by J. H. Walker and others to dedicate to the city a sufficient amount of land to extend East Temple street from Ninth South to Tenth South streets, provided that the street be used only as a boulevard and that no business interests be given to any steam or steam railway. The parties desired no compensation but asked the sum of $4,000 to reimburse them for having prepared the land for the street, allowing them to take up the amount in payment of city taxes. The matter was referred to the street committee.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

The sanitary inspector's complaint that many irrigating ditches were in an unsanitary condition was referred to the committees on Jordan canal, irrigation and streets, with power to act.

The board of public works reported a contract with Mr. D. H. Griffin for gutter construction in the sum of $2,784.

The finance committee recommended the payment of $10 each to mounted policemen for horse feed, and the recommendation was adopted.

F. Auerbach & Bro., on recommendations of the street committee, were given the privilege of erecting a scaffold in front of their store for carnival decoration purposes.

John H. O'Reilly was granted a license as merchant in City Creek canyon for a period of three months.

The board of public works was authorized to modify the plan for the new fire house and advertise twelve days for bids. One bid had been received, but that was above the amount allowed today.

The fire and police board will be requested to detail an officer from the regular force to act as mounted policeman in Liberty Park.

LaPronon, Hayward and Rockie were appointed a committee to confer with the county committee on decorations of the joint building.

Mr. Allen introduced a resolution instructing the city engineer to report whether the construction of the surplus canal to the Lake would afford relief from floods in the west part of town; also as to the probable cost of such extension.

By resolution by Mr. Dale the Mayor will correspond with government officers at Washington, for the purpose of ascertaining if the city's lot on the corner of State and First South streets will be suitable for the government building.

The purchase of transformers, etc., to be used in lighting the city's half of the joint building grounds, was referred to the improvement committee with power to act, when an adjournment for one week was taken.

THE NEW ELEVATOR.

A Neat and Efficient Machine With Electric Power.

A look over the new elevator in the county's portion of the joint building reveals the fact that a first-class machine is being put in. The installation is being made by the Sprague company of New York under the mechanical supervision of Mr. Rosenbusch, who comes here from the company's works.

The machine is a high-speed screw elevator with a lifting capacity of 2,500 pounds at the rate of 500 feet per minute.

The main features of the elevator are an electric motor coupled directly to a screw with a returning speed of 325 per minute. The screw has on it a frictionless ball-bearing head nut, which in turn carries a crosshead to which is attached a set of ordinary sheaves, giving the necessary multiplication—in this case 10 to 1, or in other words, when the crosshead travels one foot the car will have gone ten. On descending, the friction in the ball-bearing nut is so slight that the weight of the car causes the screw to turn and runs the armature as a dynamo on a circuit of variable resistance, making it act as a dynamic brake.

The feature of control is that of a pilot motor operated from the car by two buttons, by which the motor runs in one or the other direction. The normal position of the button, however, keeps the car at a standstill, so that if the operator is forced away from his position there is no danger of the elevator "running away," because it will automatically stop.

As regards safety, the machine has underneath the car a centrifugal governor, which, when the car's speed becomes excessive, strikes a trigger which releases a strong spring causing powerful jaws to grasp the steel rails with a pressure of upwards of 12,000 pounds.

Economy in space is also a great feature, there being no boilers, pumps, etc. The elevator can be used where any external power is obtainable. The driving motor only takes as much power as the load requires. The coal consumed in generating the power for this elevator is but three-fifths that of hydraulic types.

The machine reflects credit on the enterprise of Salt Lake, as it is the only one of its kind between Chicago and San Francisco.

Cornell Law Students Home.

Messrs. J. F. Grover, D. O. Willey, C. S. Price and A. R. Sawyer have just returned from Cornell. Mr. Grover will soon hang out his shingle as attorney-at-law in Nephi. The other three gentlemen will return to Cornell in September. Messrs. J. D. Call and P. P. Christensen remained at the university. They expect to do some extra work in law during the summer. Miss J. D. Call enjoys life in New York. She has now many friends and enjoys herself socially while her husband studies law.
