WANTS THE TICKET KEPT OFF.

An Ogden Voter Objects to Putting Names of Independent Republicans on the Australian Ballot.

A protest was filed at Ogden last evening which created quite a stir among the politicians. It attempts to keep the names of the Independent Silver Republicans from appearing on the Australian ballot. The protest is in the form of an affidavit sworn to by William J. Cluff, a voter, who subscribs to the petition filed with the clerk July 13, 1896, by M. A. Hendon and one hundred and four others. The latter petition certifies to the nomination of candidates on the Independent Republican ticket. The grounds of objection are as follows:

1.—Petition does not conform to law.

2.—Does not contain sufficient names of legal and qualified voters of Weber county, Utah, to constitute a nomination by certificate, petition or otherwise.

3.—The petition or certificate purports to contain the signatures of 105 legal and qualified voters of Weber county, Utah, while in truth and in fact not one of such persons signed said petition, or authorized the same. Further, the petition is signed by Thomas D. Lee, John D. Harper and George J. Kelly, who were not qualified or authorized to sign said petition. Due was chairman of the Democratic county convention on the 6th day of November, 1894, and as such a chairman, certified to the nomination of the Democratic ticket in Weber county, Utah, and in consequence, were chairman and secretary of the Republican county convention held in Ogden City, Weber county, Utah, on the 3rd day of October, 1895, and certified to the nomination of the Republican party for said county. John A. Tyler is not a competent organized person to sign such petition, as he is not a qualified or registered voter. Joseph Clark, T. D. Johnson, Valentine Gibbons, Joseph Parry, H. B. Goddard, A. G. Harper, George E. Hyde and Thomas D. Lee are not qualified or competent to sign the certificate of nomination for the reason that all participated in the Democratic county convention. H. A. Brown, A. D. Whipple, E. A. Lindsdell, F. W. Chambers, Joseph Richards, N. P. Hansbrough, V. C. Gunnell, George L. Tuss, A. B. Hayes, John E. Bagley, Charles Sheets, M. L. Tuss, M. J. Dolezalek, A. L. Tuss, John Parry, S. H. Cave, C. H. Brough, John D. Marshall, George E. Kelly and W. H. White, they or some of them are not qualified or competent persons to sign said petition for the reason that they and each of said persons participated in the Republican county convention as delegates, and as such officers of the convention, and in the petition, were certified to as being duly nominated by the Republican convention of Weber county, and the certificate of nomination was filed prior to the filing of the signatures of petition in which objection is made.

The oath which certifies that all the petitioners to the petition were in fact on the 13th day of July, 1896, to the best knowledge, belief and information of the affiant, to be, in fact, true none of the persons who signed said certificate of nomination cease to be the same on the 2nd day of October, 1896, that A. H. Parsons, who purports to be the notary public before whom said notice was sworn to, was not in Weber county, or Ogden city, State of Utah, during the whole or part of said 2nd day of October, 1896.

Finally it is urged that the candidates cannot be nominated by certificates or petitions, for we have their names placed upon the regular ticket at any party or under the original emblem of the regular party.

Every man and woman eligible for registration in the State should be named on the registration list. To-morrow, 17th, is the last chance for those not registered.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, OCT. 16, 1896.

Founder's Day.

Great preparations have been made for several days past, to make today, Brigham Young Academy Founder's day, a success. The Stake tabernacle has been nicely draped in national colors and the academy colors, white and blue, as has the large room of the academy. Arrangements have also been made for entertaining such visitors as may desire to remain over night. A salute of twenty-one guns, significant of the academy's twenty-first year, was given at sunrise. At 8 o'clock the students assembled at the academy.

At 9:30 the family and students with banners flying formed into line and with songs and class cheers marched to the depot, where they saluted the 2:45 M. L. the home of the academy for several years. At 9:30 the invited guests arrived and were received by the family and students; a procession was formed and march taken up for the old academy grounds, the first home of the academy, and standing thus upon the second march was made to the First National Bank building, and the Bank building, S. S. Jones Co.'s store and the meeting house, where the academy found shelter after the old academy burned in the early eighties. These buildings were saluted, and the visitors, family and students gathered at the Tabernacle, where the following program of exercises will be given:

Singing, God of Israel, vocal class.
Prayer.
Singing, Zion Prospers, vocal class.
Reading of Commencement Ode.
Founder's Day address, President George Q. Cannon.
Vocal solo, I Know that My Redeemer lives, Miss Ida Paterson.
Remarks by members of the board and visitors.
A Selection by ladies' quartette, Singing, Song of Praise, vocal class.
Benediction.

At the close of the exercises students and guests of the academy formed in line and marched to the academy building for dinner. Singing at 2:30 class exercises will be held for a short time illustrating the methods of the school.

This evening at 7:30 the students will meet the presidency and board and other church authorities in an informal reception at the academy building.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The grounds upon which the divorce is asked in the case are both adultery and language by defendant to his wife, he is now charged with taking the last born child from her father to live, but took it on all the evidence, was only done for a short time while he took the infant home and sowed to sole parents. The case was taken under advisement by the court.

Hoge for defendants and by A. B. Orde for plaintiff and taken under advisement.

NEW CASES FILED.

Wm. S. Pratt of this city has commenced suit against Alvira S. Curtis, asking judgment and way to answer claim for valuable Provo real estate which he alleges he conveyed to defendant, in trust and without consideration, on January 12, 1896, with the understanding that it should be reconveyed to him whenever he desired. He now alleges that defendant refuses to give him a deed for the property.

Grace A. Pyper of Provo has filed a suit against J. S. Page of Boise to collect $185 claimed to be due for medical services.

Notes and Personals.

Harry Hayes does not seem to care much about the decision of the supreme court which affirmed judgment of the lower court in his case. When the information was received here of the action of the supreme court, Jailor Wilkins removed a number of articles from Hayes's cell which had been accumulating there, such as bottles, etc. Hayes asked why he did so, and was told of the decision and informed that hereafter he would not be allowed to retain anything of the kind in his cell. He turned a trifle paler than usual and remarked that he did not know that he should want anything.

About two months ago Christian Wilkinson accidentally cut his leg severing the femoral artery, while at work on a threshing machine in Salt Lake county. The wound was not properly dressed and the limb swelled up to an enormous size. He has been placed under Dr. Allen's care, and a slice of hard bread about the size of a man's hand has been taken from above the knee where it had escaped from the artery, lodged and hardened.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Joseph W. Morgan and Agnes Anyon, both of Spanish Fork and each 21 years of age, and to Albert Lowrey, aged 23, of Payson, and Emma J. Cutlis, aged 17, of Salem.

Reed Smoot was in Eureka yesterday on mining business. While there he will inspect the Hamburg mine, owned by Jesse Knight and Sons of this city.

A number of Democratic ladies gave a Five Silver party last evening in the Opera house. It was well attended and a success in every way.

Mrs. James M. George gave a delightful reception at her home Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Crafts of Salt Lake.

Dr. K. G. Maeser came down yesterday to attend the Brigham Young Academy Founder's Day.

Professor Brigham's talented harper will appear at the Opera house this evening and tomorrow evening.

Hon. W. H. King was in this city yesterday. He left for Richfield, where he spoke last evening.

Miss Tina Smith was in the city yesterday, representing The Great Campaign.

Judge Dunnebrry has gone to Uintah county on political business.

The quarterly Stake conference commences tomorrow.

Judge Loofbourow is in the city on legal business.

FARMINGTON.

FARMINGTON, UTAH, OCT. 13, 1896.

The Ford Case.

The Ford case, which has been pending in the Second Judicial district since Judge Rolapp has Smith been seated. As before stated in the News, the case was one where the railway occupied the land and the court was to decide the amount to be paid for it. The case was closely contested by the attorneys who let no point pass their eye unnoticed.

The jury returned a sealed verdict awarding the defendant, John Ford, $100.40 for the land, $50 with interest at 8 per cent from April 20, 1890, to Joseph and Hyrum Ford $470.40 for the land and $200 damages with interest at 8 per cent from April 20, 1896.

The jury, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Smith, visited the land in dispute on the day in question in the preceding issue.

HOT SPRINGS NO. 4 HARRIS.

In the case of the State vs. C. A. & Hot Springs Railway company, vs. Thomas H. Harris, the following jury was empaneled: W. S. Hood, C. Lawton Jr., F. A. Mortensen, George O. Stevens, John Fox, John M. Bennett, Wm. Cottrell and Joseph W. Perkins.

Thomas H. Harris was the first witness examined. He was followed by A. B. Porter, John J. Smith and Geo. Smith for the defense. The prosecution presented the testimony of A. J. Hammon, E. A. Velie and Simon Bamberger.

The jury was instructed to return a sealed verdict. Harris was allowed $120 with interest from Nov. 21, 1893, amounting to $27.42.

SEE AGAINST WHITE.

Next followed the case of the same railway company vs. John S. White. The defendant valued his land at $200 per acre and claimed damages to the amount of $250.

E. J. B. Messing, E. A. Cottrel, Jas. H. Alton, Wm. Forby, Geo. A. Hess, Geo. V. Sherwood, John E. Bonneamont and John Parkins were the jurors in the case, and were under the charge of Deputy Sheriff Messing.

John S. White was examined by the defense, and testified as to the value of the land and the amount of damage suffered by the location of the railway company, not only to the tearing up of wheat, but also in the placing of wire fences through his premises. He was cross-examined by Mr. Critchlow.

Peter Christensen, Israel Call and Richard Withers were then placed on the stand and testified in behalf of the defense. Mr. Critchlow put each of the witnesses under a severe cross-examination and shook all that could be shaken. In rebuttal the testimony of Simon Bamberger, E. A. Sheed, Geo. Rogers and A. M. Lusby was given. The case was argued briefly by Le Grande Young for the defense, and E. D. Critchlow for the plaintiff.

His Honor, Judge Hatch, delivered the charge to the jury. He reviewed the case briefly and cast in a lucid manner with the instructions. The charge was duly given and the jurors after being out about thirty minutes delivered a sealed verdict in accordance with the instructions of the court, finding for the defendant, John S. White, the land occupied and $75 damages, with interest at eight per cent from March 18, 1892.

Court was then adjourned till today at 2 p. m.

There are several cases yet to be heard similar to those decided, but they will not be reached at this sitting. Court will be adjourned at the end of this week, owing to the very crowded condition of the criminal docket at Ogden, and will probably not be held here again until December and perhaps the other cases may go over till January next.

Court Calings.

Deputy Clerk Thomas has issued a marriage license to Chas. J. Merrill of Louisville, Fremont Co., Idaho, and Emeline Agnes of Harrisville, Weber Co., Utah.

J. Coulson a former resident of Kaysville—Fruitdale—was admitted to citizenship by Judge Rolapp.

Jurors John M. Chase, T. J. Barber and John Fife were excused for the remainder of the term, the former being an interested party in one of the suits now pending in the court.

Electricity for the Lagoon.

The work on the Lagoon is being pushed and the resort will present many new features for the fun-loving public of the coming season. The Lagoon has been enlarged by nearly one acre, and is now about seven acres in extent, with a half acre island in the northwestern part of the lake. The resort now covers twenty acres of ground. The work of the last few days has brought an additional 25m into the town.

The Pioneer Electric Power Co., who were recently granted a franchise by the county court, to run a line through Davis county, will furnish the Lagoon next year with electric lights. A number of our citizens are eagerly awaiting the advent of the new company, that they may dispense with the glim of oil lamps for the incandescent candles.

It is but a question of a short time until the "Dummy" line will be run by electricity. Perhaps the same kind of motor will be used as is now such a success on one of the branches of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad in Maryland.

Our Creamery.

Manager Hinckerd of the creamery distributed $700 among his Farmington patrons yesterday; that being the amount due for last month's milk supply. All milk is accepted to a tester fat test with a Babcock tester, and is not paid for by the pound as formerly. Under the new arrangement, the average price paid for the milk would be about 70 cents per 100 pounds. The creamery, although at present not very extensive, is voted by all to be a success as well as a blessing to the community.

Political Speaking.

Hon. Warren Foster, Populist nominee for Congress, spoke in Kaysville last night and will hold forth here tonight. He is well talked of as a speaker north of here, but as this town heretofore has not grown very enthusiastic over the 3 cents of Peffer, Simpson, Doolittle et al, it would be well determined a welcome now large an audience will meet him.

To Express Agents.

Sheriff Sanders is still away from home having gone with the posse in search of the now famous train robber. About the subject of leaving the News man heard of a most novel way of exporting train robbers. For the sake of the family names will be withheld. Speaking of the action or lack of action of the express messrs during the time the robber was drilling the safe, and the late superiors, the man suggests that all agents hereafter enter into a conversation with the robber or robbers and draw their attention from the safe at least, so a while as (or they) is under this psychic power, let the agent seize the pistol and—there you go!

Henry Reddish Dead.

Henry Reddish, a highly respected citizen of this place, died of paralysis on Tuesday last, at his home in North Farmington. He has been confined to his bed for over twelve months and has been a constant, though patient sufferer. He leaves a large family to mourn his loss, and a wide circle of friends will pay loving tribute to his memory.

The funeral will be held in Kaysville, his former home, and where the father has buried. He joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in England several years ago, and emigrated to Kaysville, from which place he moved to Farmington. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

Willie Was Perfect.

The minister, it was rumored, would spend the evening with the family, and Mrs. Williams was most anxious that her little boy should appear at his best. "Now, Willie," she said, "Mr. Smooth will ask you your name, and you must tell him it is 'Willie.' And he will say, 'Are you a good boy?' and then you must say, 'Yes.' And he will want to know where you are going to, and you must tell him, 'I am go to bed.' Do you understand?" Not content with a repetition once or twice, Mrs. Williams drilled him again and again in the answers.

Dr. Schultz came, and departed, and after a short conversation with the hostess, lifted the child on his knee and said: "Well, my little fellow, can you tell me your name?" Imagine the surprise of the reverend doctor when, like a flash, came the answer: "Willie, Five years old. Go to bed!"—London Figaro.

Regatta!—tomorrow, Saturday, is the last opportunity this year.
