

BREVITIES.

The Chinese have 80,000 Gods.

Teacher—"T-h-a-t spells what?"
Bright Scholar—"Does it?" I thought it spelled that!

There is a new process for drying eggs, by which they can be kept fresh several years. Why not dry the hen, in person?

The Parisian theatres are all closed. Many artists are seeking engagements in England and America.

Josh Billings says: "Give the devil his dues," reads well enough in a proverb, but what will become of you and me if this arrangement is carried out?"

In Lafayette, Indiana, recently, a Spiritualist and a minister settled their little differences in a knock down.

If the cradle is a woman's ballot box, there ought to be a law against "repeating." A woman in Indiana, lately, cast three votes at one domestic election.

General Grant is in favor of Horace Greely for Governor of New York. Eighty thousand majority of the people of the State, however, are in favor of somebody else.

The snow in the mountains west of Carson city, Nevada, has entirely disappeared, for the first time in several years.

Senator Trumbull, of Illinois, recently said of the European war: "It can be of no possible benefit to this country. It is a fight of despots, and the people of both Germany and France will be the losers."

For big jaw in horses.—Make a liniment of gum camphor and alcohol, rub it well in, warm it a little first. Rub frequently and persistently—rub—rub—rub—this will stimulate circulation, and produce healthy action in the part affected.

A newspaper says a spoon with the name of Columbus on it has lately been found. Let it be sent to that national collection of the same article now in possession of that handsome archaeologist—Ben. Dutler.

A little girl, looking at the picture of Eve in a Boston gallery, exclaimed: "Oh, mother, I should think that woman would be afraid of grasshoppers."

Some sharp Yankee has recently been swindling the innocent farmers in Vermont by selling them policies of the "Canadian Lightning Rod Insurance Company," an institution, which it is needless to say, has no existence.

A wealthy citizen of a certain town in Maine died recently, and his last words to his heirs were: "Plant me as soon as I am cold, and don't cart me around for a side show. Remember Peabody." He was buried according to his request.

A Pittsfield, Mass., man, whose benevolent heart would not allow his cat to die of a fish bone in its throat, hit it over the head with a hammer, and not hitting hard enough, only knocked the bone out, the cat now being as active and musical as of yore.

The ladies who ride in cars out of New York ought to be careful not to keep their heads too close to the windows next the platforms at the railroad depot. A fashionable lady board for Saratoga, while thus situated recently, had a valuable diamond earring torn from her ear by a thief.

At one of the stations on a certain railway, recently, an anxious inquirer came up to the door of the baggage car and said: "Is there anything for me?" After some search among boxes and trunks, the baggageman pulled out a keg of whiskey. "Anything more?" asked the wet traveler. "Yes," said the baggageman, "there's a grave stone that goes with that liquor."

The rapidity with which water evaporates depends upon the rapidity with which the air that is saturated with vapor is removed, and its place supplied with fresh air. By fanning ourselves we produce a current of fresh air which, even although it be warmer than our bodies, will cool us by the evaporation that it causes.—Technology.

A few days ago a New Bedford lady, who lives near a church in that city, was sitting by the window listening to the organ, which was loudly chirping, the music from the choir rehearsal being faintly audible, when a gentleman dropped in familiarly who had just passed the church, and had the organ in his mind. "What a noise they are making to-night!" said he. "Yes," replied the lady, "and it is said they do it with their hind legs!"

Rip Van Winkle's home has been found. Orange, N. J., is the place. The New York newspaper penetrated there, and the sleepy citizens complained against the loud cries of "Extra, all about the war!" and the authorities drove the boys from town. They were informed that, if they came again, they would be arrested and be made to pay $10 for a pedlar's license.

Fanny Lewald, a German girl, writes to her country women, through the Cologne Gazette, in this warlike style: "Will you, while your sons stand before French cannon, and thousands among them, shed their noble young blood for the independence of Germany, will you still run about wearing towering, insane looking French gignons, and will you still allow your gignons to be made according to bold French fashions?"

This was the hottest summer for ninety-two years. They have been overhauling the records of Yale College. From July 10 to August 15, 1870, the mean daily temperature was at New Haven 85 degrees, and no season, at least since 1778, saw so many consecutive hot days. Our highest temperature this summer (July 27) noted at 98 degrees, and this has been exceeded only four times during the period above indicated, at New Haven, the thermometer rising to 100 degrees one day in each year in 1794, 1800 and 1845.
