BUSINESS AND MINES.

The Financial Pressure is Gradually Growing Lighter.

GOLD FIELDS IN BEAVER COUNTY.

Congratulatory Telegrams to the Choir. —Want to Hang a Mine Boss.—Coalville Contest.—Other News.

The financial outlook at the opening of the present week is more assuring than it has been at any time during the past three months. The doubts that appeared to be attaching a week ago have been swept away, and the local financial market is stronger and better all around. With this improved condition there is a feeling of greater confidence, as the realization comes that there is no occasion for alarm. The banks report that times are "better in every way," and while with mercantile houses the volume of business has been comparatively small, yet its tendency has been decidedly encouraging.

CONGRATULATING THE CHOIR.

On Saturday afternoon the Business Men's association of this city sent the following congratulatory telegram to Chicago, where it was doubtless received in due season, though no response has yet reached here:

Hon. C. W. West, Utah Building, World's Fair, Chicago:

We extend congratulations to Professor Stephens and the choir in securing a prize in the musical contest of the world.
THE BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.
WILLIAM [illegible], President,
S. T. [illegible], Secretary.

THE BEAVER GOLD FIELDS.

Things are quiet in the gold fields in Beaver county, but it is anticipated that before long there will be plenty of activity there. Mining men of that section are in a state of hopeful anxiety regarding the result of the twenty days' run now being made by the mill at the Bob Roy mine. That it will prove conclusively that the quartz there will pay well for working is the general anticipation. The comparatives made figure out that the profits will be big, and the present run will be a practical demonstration of what can be done. When the clean up is made at the close of this month, the Bob Roy people will know just how much gold they can get in the practical test and precisely what it has cost them.

On the ascertaining of these facts the future of the district largely depends. If the Bob Roy pays, there are scores of mines in the Indian Creek district that are equally as good prospects, and will be opened up at once. In the Sheep mining district, which joins the Indian Creek district on the south, a similar condition exists. In fact, in the latter district the Ruby McGregor is claimed to be even a richer mine than is the Bob Roy. It has quartz going as high as $27 in gold and $5 in silver to the ton. A rush to the Indian Creek district means a like movement in the sheep district, and Beaver [illegible] are confident that this will be inaugurated ere another month has passed.

TO LEAVE OR BE HANGED.

The employes in the Union Pacific coal mines at Hanna, Wyoming, are very tired of what they designate the tyrannical and unfair treatment they have received from the pit boss, Archibald Hale. Mr. Sweeney, superintendent of the mines, received a letter last week, signed by nearly all the men, asking for Hale's discharge. Sweeney refused, and on Friday a committee from the men waited on Hale and informed him that unless he left town at once the men would hang him. Hale evidently believed he was so obnoxious to the men that they would carry out their threat, so he went into hiding, but not until he had gone to Rawlins and, in connection with Superintendent Sweeney, sworn out warrants for the arrest of the committee which had waited on him, and who are now in jail awaiting an examination, which was set for this afternoon.

THE CHEROKEE BOOMERS.

About fifty persons have departed from this city for the Cherokee strip. Some of them are real estate men who, of course, expect to make business. All are said to be well provided for the purpose of taking up land and remaining the required time to make a settlement. They will be on the ground in ample time to make the rush on Saturday next. The Cherokee strip that is to be thrown open embraces about 6,000,000 acres of land, and a host of boomers has crowded in already. To afford a chance for all, a strip of land 100 feet wide, on the rim of the reservation, is available for camping ground for intending settlers. The task of preserving the peace is placed in the hands of the military in order to prevent, if possible, a recurrence of the lawless scenes of the opening of Oklahoma. It is estimated that by Saturday next at least 50,000 intending settlers will be encamped on the rim of the strip, prepared for the grand rush, and it is possible that before the sun goes down on that day that the whole area of land available will have passed into private hands.

CONTEST WITH COALVILLE.

The Coalville city council has repealed the franchise granted Seldon I. Clawson, of Salt Lake, for an electric light plant. On Thursday afternoon the employes of Mr. Clawson began the erection of poles in the streets on the ground that he had not received notification of the repeal of the franchise. Five or six poles were erected and the next morning Marshal Salmon, acting under the direction of the mayor, removed the poles. A warrant of arrest was also served on Mr. Clawson for placing obstructions in the street, and a hearing was given in the justice's court. The city claimed that the ordinance, granting a franchise, was not in effect and that Mr. Clawson had placed the poles in the street contrary to another ordinance prohibiting it. Mr. Clawson relied upon the franchise granted him and claimed that he had his right. The justice ruled in accordance with the opinion of the city and fined Mr. Clawson $1 and the costs. [illegible] There is considerable excitement created by the affair, says the Coalville Chronicle, and various opinions are expressed. The matter will doubtless be carried to a higher court.

BINGHAM "EXCELSIOR" HITS.

The workings [illegible] Petro mine was increased several [illegible] this week. Tom Mayne's teams are still engaged in hauling timbers to the Stewart No. 1 mine.

A two-carload shipment was sent in from the Niagara mine the latter part of last week.

An average of two carloads of ore per day is now being shipped from the Dalton and Lark mine.

P. E. Rooney is now engaged in sinking a shaft for bedrock on M. Hays' placer property in the lower part of the canyon.

The gold hunters are still busily at work on the placers below the depot, and are meeting with very encouraging success in accumulating their gold pans and buckets.

The workmen at the Northern Chief mine were down to the business center Thursday evening, and reported that it had snowed in that vicinity that morning. This is the first snow of the season.

Bourgard & McBurney have been grading a wagon trail to their property at the head of Markham gulch this week. As soon as the road is completed they will begin shipping their fine carbonate ore. There will be about two carloads in the loads in the lot.

A. Koppenstine and partners are quite jubilant over a new strike in the Eighteen Eighty-nine mine. The new encounter was made Friday and is a two-foot body of gray copper ore. This property is daily developing into one of the most valuable producers of its locality.

Another new and valuable strike has been made in the U. & I. mine this week, being a large body of carbonate ore. This property has a "world" of ore in sight, and is undoubtedly destined to be one of the most valuable producers in the camp.

TIMBER CUTTING.

The Boise Statesman says that the six Utah men who were arrested for cutting Idaho timber and were indicted therefor plead guilty and were fined $2.50 each on Friday. It seems the men had unintentionally violated the law. They had appropriated but little timber, but the case was pushed to a great measure for the purpose of having a court construction placed upon the law covering timber depredations. The law, as laid down in this case, is that non-residents of a state cannot cut timber in the state for any purpose, and that in case of violation of the law a non-resident violator cannot claim immunity under any of the exemptions permitted to citizens of the state.

PARK "RECORD" ITEMS.

The Ontario company shipped this week 41 bars of bullion containing 22,[illegible] fine ounces of silver.

Ben and James Mayne and Henry [illegible], fully equipped for a six weeks' trip in the mountains, left Tuesday last for a prospecting trip into the northeast corner of the Territory. The boys have some information concerning rich float found in that section, and are going to make a thorough investigation. Another party, headed by Martin McGrath, are making preparations to take the trail for nearly the same portion of the country, and gold is the incentive that attracts them.

W. S. Doles and C. H. Gilson left on Tuesday last for a several days' prospecting trip to the headwaters of the Bear river. Mr. Gilson was over in that section some ten years ago, and at the short time he had at his disposal then he found enough indication of gold to convince him that the precious metal could be found in paying quantities if thorough prospecting could be done. Many men here will await the return of the gentlemen with eager expectancy, as a favorable report from them would be accepted as proof that there really was something there, and a stampede would undoubtedly be the result. It is about eighty miles from here to where they have gone by way of Chalk creek canyon.

Morris Donnellan, superintendent of the Comstock mine, located in Thaynes' canyon, came into the Record office Tuesday morning and displayed a cigar box full of ore, the looks of which would cure the sore eyes of silver was only what it should be. It is really fine ore, and an assay certificate shows it to run over 250 ounces in silver and $11.28 in gold. Mr. Donnellan says the ore is from a vein crossed in the old workings of the property, but which was never followed. He has had several men at work for some time opening up the vein, and today in the bottom of a drift run on the same the vein shows a width of nearly four feet and it is loaded with clean ore, there being very little waste. He feels highly encouraged and thinks the Comstock company, which has recently been reorganized and placed on a strong footing, is in a fair way to open up another bonanza like the Crescent was in its earliest days, and is positive that the vein he has opened up will prove strong and go to the deep.

LIBERAL JOBBERY.

Men Discharged Because They Are Not "Our Kind" of Voters.

FIVE MEN ARE DISCHARGED.

Foreman Sherill Says "I Can't Help It, Boys, but I Have Been Ordered to Lay You Off."

That the Liberal gang are determined to leave no stone unturned to carry out their schemes at the coming election is evident from the fact that a few days ago William Price, William Carlisle, William Marshall and two other employes employed on the inter-city and county building under Foreman John Sherill were discharged on the quiet for the reason that in some way leaked out that the men were not Liberal voters.

Their services were dispensed with at 9 o'clock in the morning, soon after they had commenced work, and Charles Friday, James Ballantyne, William Lewis and two other [illegible] Liberals were given their places. [illegible] of Foreman Sherill when he [illegible] by the removal and its claims he replied: "I can't help it, boys, but I have got to discharge you. I have been ordered to lay you off." More than this he would not say regarding the matter.

The men who had been so suddenly removed on account of their political faith then repaired to the office of Superintendent Willard and asked for their pay.

"You can't get it until Wednesday or Saturday," was the response.

"But we must have it today," said the men. "If we don't get it we will shut down the works. You know that under the rules of our association we can do that."

"Well, you can't get it today," again said Willard.

"We will give you just four hours in which to change your mind," said the men.

At the expiration of that time the money was not forthcoming and according to the rules governing the Journeymen Stonecutters' union the men went out, thirty-five of the workmen were laid off. Saturday, however, the five discharged men received their wages in cash, refusing to accept any part of them in warrants.

Mr. Price said he took Salesman Bamberger to task about the matter, and that the latter said it would have been all right "if you had only been our kind of voters, but as you were not you had to go."

From different sources the information comes that every man whose politics is not in according to the tenets of the joint building combine, a Liberal admitted to a News reporter this afternoon that the above story was correct in every detail, but he declared that the bouncing business is all the work of the American element who have practical control of the work.

The program will consist of a few welcoming songs, and will not supplant or in any way interfere with a general public reception, such as the [illegible] should receive upon their arrival home.

If the schedule time is observed the choir will arrive here Wednesday morning at 1:30. But it is expected that the singers will remain at Glenwood Springs for several hours tomorrow and in that event will not reach here until Wednesday at 9 or 10 a. m.

Hotel Laundry Burned.

A small frame building at the rear of the Tellurite block on Third South street and used for laundry purposes by the management of the St. James Hotel was burned last night shortly before 10 o'clock. At 1:15 this morning the fire department was called to the spot a second time by a blaze bursting forth from the smouldering ruins. A small stream of water soon extinguished the flames.

The Mexican Mission Conference.

The quarterly conference of the Mexican mission convened in the Juarez school house at 10 a. m. on Saturday, August 26, 1893, with a fair representation from all the wards in Mexico, the Diaz Saints having to travel forty miles farther on account of high waters to get there.

President George Teasdale presided. After the usual exercises Elder Teasdale read section 86, page 305, from the Doctrine and Covenants, [illegible] and extended a hearty welcome to all the visitors in attendance. The speakers during the 26th and 27th were as follows: Patriarch W. R. R. Stowell, H. N. Curtis, Bishop Winslow Farr, Elders A. M. Peterson, J. H. Hardy, Bishop G. W. Sevey, Bishop J. N. Smith Jr., Elders J. W. Pewee, H. Pratt, Franklin Spencer, Peter Gillman and Patriarch Henry Lunt. The concluding address was delivered by Elder George Teasdale. The speakers dwelt upon various subjects in a spirited manner, and the Saints all seemed blessed and encouraged in listening to those who addressed them.

The [illegible] and Sunday schools held their usual conferences, all of which were attended by President Teasdale, who is assisting in the labors for the benefit of the mission.

We have had abundance of rain this summer and the outlook for the future is encouraging. There is more wheat than for three years past, and the owners are jubilant.
