NEWS OF THE WEST.

A Married Couple—Whites and Germans—In a Quandary.

MISHAP TO A DENVER DETECTIVE.

Another Dark Chapter in Mr. Weil's History—The Romans and the Forests—An Electrical Scientist.

Alfred Savage, employed on A. C. Weil's stock farm at Seattle, Wash., was fatally gored by a bull on that farm Tuesday. In the last four years the bull has gored four men to death.

John Sparks, the well known cattle king, says the Texas (Denver) Steer, who believes range on a thousand hills in Nevada, Idaho and Texas, expresses the opinion that beef will be scarce next spring and that it will pay to feed beef cattle this winter. This opinion is based on the fact that stocks are scarce in the country.

An Indian ninety-six years old named Soboba has just died at Fresno, Cal. He was a native of Old Mexico. He used to be a scout in the Mexican army and as such came to California before the state passed into the hands of the United States. For the last forty years he has lived in the country, and a few days before his death walked to Fresno, a distance of forty miles.

The female case of mistaken sex of Mrs. D. J. Johnson in Laramie in 1890, has been decided in that city by a jury. The verdict was in favor of the plaintiff and her damages were placed at $1. This, says the Cheyenne Sun, throws the seal of the trial upon the defendant and vindicates her claim. This is the general verdict in such cases. The jury thinks that the man in the case can pay the costs and though the woman was not entitled to any money, yet she was wronged to some extent, and the assessing of the costs against the man will be sufficient to teach him a lesson for the future.

Quite a sensation was created here on Wednesday morning, says the Helena correspondent of the Laramie Boomerang, by the elopement of Miss Mamie Coulson and Harry Hamilton. The parents of Miss Mamie seriously objected to Mr. Shannon, and to put a stop to the young people from speaking to each other at all, tell the young lady that if she kept up her attentions, and Tuesday evening she had gone to see to spend the evening with some friends, as she had her every, but instead of that, Mr. Shannon had a carriage in waiting and they drove immediately to Cedar and Lock No. 7 for the east. Wednesday afternoon Mr. Weil received a telegram from Sidney, Nebraska, saying they had gone to Chicago. They will be back in about two weeks and go housekeeping.

Detective Cook of Denver was badly hurt on Tuesday while relieving an attempt to escape on the part of John Grimes, a desperate young burglar, whom he had arrested and was removing to headquarters in an express wagon. As the wagon reached Fourteenth street the prisoner suddenly sprang to the ground and started to run. His capot instantly clung to him, and to spite of Eye Sat that Grimes is at least thirty years younger and exceedingly powerful was scattering him when the big caught in a wheel of the wagon and snatched a serious and exceedingly painful death. Before the officer could draw his gun, the prisoner was off down the alley toward Cherry creek. A police sergeant happened to be passing and after an exciting chase succeeded, with the assistance of City Electrician Leach, in overtaking the fugitive.

On Tuesday night a woman appeared in front of E. Gerhardt's restaurant, at Los Angeles, armed with a revolver. She had some trouble with one of Gerhardt's customers, and Mr. Gerhardt fearing the disturbance stopped outside, but lost no time in getting under cover when the shots began to fly. The woman fired two shots at him. She ascended down Washington street and took up a position at the entrance of St. Vincent's college. She had not been there long when Rev. Hoover came out. When he got within ten feet of the woman she presented the gun and ordered the startled gentleman to "git." He complied with the request and got about twenty feet away when she sent two heavy missiles after him. Quite a crowd gathered, and some person under the influence of liquor impersonated himself as a deputy constable and got possession of the revolver. In the meantime Rev. H. H. Dooley of St. Vincent's rolled to an appearance, and believing the drunken deputy was a pal of the woman's attempted to take the revolver from him. The woman skipped behind Dooley and with a pistol held him on the beat. Officer Monroe put in an appearance and took the woman in charge. At the police station she gave the name of Margaret Moore. This morning she told the magistrate she is a resident of Los Angeles, was married three her husband, and had just returned from a trip to Europe. Some two years ago the Wonsh and her husband made an assault upon a boarder at Verdugo, and only the timely interference would have killed him. She is looked upon as a most dangerous person when under the influence of liquor.

Dr. Eugene F. West, who is now in jail awaiting trial for the murder of Addie Orimand, the unfortunate young woman whose dead was found in a wire bag in the bay of Sausalito, Cal., and the remainder of whose mutilated remains were discovered in coal in cans and other receptacles at different points on the bay shore, has been sued by his wife, Amelia F. West, for a divorce, alimony and a division of the community property, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Mrs. West is the woman frequently referred to as the doctor's mistress Mrs. Kennedy. It is now whose visit to the city of Mexico is regarded the interest in human affairs. It appears that while she was keeping a hotel at Santa Cruz she formed the acquaintance of West, and they afterwards returned together as man and wife. Later the doctor attempted to sever herself and formed a matrimonial alliance with Amelia Blanty, the woman whom he afterward married in jail, presumably to seal her mouth so to the many indelicate communications by him, and indirectly as to the murdering of poor Addie Orimand's boy, of which she is supposed to have full and complete knowledge. Evidently Mrs. Amelia F. West, the divorced wife, is a woman of excellent able spirit and she not easily to be cast aside and deprived of her home rights, although she may have submitted patiently to the ridiculous treatment of her husband prior to his disappearance, yet the woman whose part as a witness against him he sought to legally get through a form of marriage, Mrs. West, Mrs. Kennedy, has brought suit for divorce by her attorney and the charge of the complainant refuge to deal with another dark chapter in the local career of the prisoner.

Under the California laws, says the San Francisco Chronicle, it does not cost a dough-nut and Mrs. David Lewinson Thompson or Oakhill wants and now has a wife, for the simple reason that—although they have both married with the legal rites—their marriage is nevertheless currently protected by section 55 of the Civil Code, which provides that "all marriages of white persons with negroes, or mulattos are illegal and void." David Lewinson Thompson is a mulatto with pronounced African features, and he is going for a Broadway moonbeam. He met Annie Rogers Lutzen, a pretty little brown girl, who was in the employ of a local hotel, wood and wine list. He told her, she says, that he was a mulatto descent and in this way succeeded in his suit with. Anyway, she consented to marry him and he procured the license without any trouble. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Milton C. Wilcox, a white minister and editor of the Spirit of the Times, a weekly religious paper. Rev. Wilcox swears that he did not know that he was performing the ceremony for an illegal marriage, and it is very evident that both Thompson and his bride thought everything was all right. They were more astonished yesterday to find out that although a ceremony was performed they were not married. Thompson is going to see if there is not some way in which his marriage to Miss Lutzen can be legally solemnized. They hold, now each other, as they say, and want to legally live together as man and wife. The only hope for Thompson lies in the decision the courts of California will put upon the term mulatto. No court in this state has yet defined the term. The Massachusetts courts have held that a mulatto is the offspring of a marriage between a white and a black person. But the offspring of a marriage between a mulatto and a white person is not a mulatto. So if Mr. Thompson can show that his parents were one a mulatto and one a white person there is yet a chance for him, under the Massachusetts decision he would then be the same as a white person with the eyes of Dudley. The marriage of whites and blacks was prohibited in this state by law in 1850 and the statute has continued to now exist there. Miscegenation is forbidden to the extent that no person shall be married to a white person, and the penalty is imposed for a violation of the section. The case is a peculiar one and has created a great deal of comment in Oakland. The girl, Sophie Lutzen, is quite well known and is spoken of favorably by her friends. Thompson has been an industrious, hard-working boy, against whom character nothing can be said. He has violated the law, but has done so unconsciously and is willing to do anything that lies in his power to right the wrong he has done but does not see fit for any reason.
