ticket yesterday had to treat the judges of election.

ADAM S. PATTERSON has been appointed official reporter for the Third

District Court.

The Ninth Ward Sunday School and members of the Ward will spend tomorrow at Garfield.

WM. GUSTAVSON was bound over in $800 bonds to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of forgery.

ALEX. J. DART, aged 58 years, died at his residence, Third South Street, on Sunday morning, of general debility.

The Tabernacle Choir and their friends "exerted" to watch to-day.

High notes from some throats are next in order.

No less than seven sprinkling carts stopped for dinner nearly opposite the News-office to-day. A cool proceeding or rather, stopping.

"I can't eat this hot weather!" exclaimed a disgusted 18th Ward matron at dinner yesterday. Well, try and eat some of the beans then," remarked her quaker-like daughter, demurely.

The London Conference dinner

takes place at Black Rock next Friday.

An old fashioned English concert will take place in the Bowery and other attractions will be provided. More of it anon.

There will be a grand Base Ball

Match on Washington Square, Friday,

August 8th, between the Athletics of Ogden and the Blue Stockings of this putation the public can expect a good game.

The two soldiers arrested by the police several days ago for disturbing the peace and resisting the officers, and whose trial has been postponed to next time in the police court, were surrendered to the military authorities at Fort Douglass this morning, a requisition having been made to that effect.

THREE Irishmen whose patriotism became unduly aroused by the too oft-repeated libbling of the "poteen" last evening, got so warm and so enthusiastic in their eulogies of the "coud soil," that they commenced pummeling

each other in their Irish fair style.

They were brought into jail about 10

p. m. This morning two of them were sent $10 each.

An old pocketbook with a blue cover was lost to-day about noon, between the Temple Block and the Postoffice

by one of the Church ladies. It contained about $40 in tithing orders and sundry other papers, which are of use to the owner only. Will the finder please leave it to the Temple Gate with

Bro. C. J. Thomas, or at the Tithing office with Bro. Kingsbury for the owner?

ARM AMPUTATED.—Our readers are already aware of an injury to the hand of Brother Ward E. Pack, of Kansas, from which it has been feared serious results would ensue, owing to its not being amputated. The following telegram has been handed to us with permission to publish:

COVILVILLE, Aug. 4, 1884.

President Joseph F. Smith:

Ward's arm amputated at 2 o'clock this morning. Left him well at 10 a.m.

to-day.

It was his right arm that was taken off, and hopes are now entertained that he will recover.

The Circus in Difficulty.—Constable Charles Crook attached the property of Shaw's Silver Plate Circus yesterday, on writs of attachment issued by Justice G. D. Pyper on the suit of Andrew Brixen, proprietor of the Valley House, and H. J. Faust, of the livery and feed stables on

First South Street. Mr. Brixen claims $202.35 for board and

Mr. Faust $102 for hay and feed.

The property seized consisted of thirteen head of horses, a number of wagons, and the big tent.

It is said there is money enough in hands of the circus treasurer to pay all debts of the company, but that official records to liquidate, owing to some misunderstanding in the partnership, which he expects to have settled through the litigation now pending. Should a judgment be given to the attachment, the property will probably be sold at auction and bought in by one of the partners of the concern.

LAWRENCE BARRETT.

THE COMING ENGAGEMENT AT THE THEATRE.

The local public have been looking forward for a long time to the dates for which Lawrence Barrett, one of the most eminent tragedians of the age, was booked for another engagement at the Salt Lake Theatre. Since his first appearance here in the summer of 1879, his actor has been a popular favorite, so that each successive advent of his has been anticipated with interest and even eagerness by our theatre-goers.

Mr. Joseph Levy, Barrett's agent, arrived in the city, via the U. P. last evening, to perfect arrangements for the appearance of the star on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening of next week. The plays to be produced will be selected from the following repertoire: "Francesca da Rimini," "Yorkick's Love," "Hamlet," "Richelieu," "Julius Caesar," "Merchant of Venice" and "David Garrick." The first-named will be presented the closing night, and a double bill including "Merchant of Venice" (as far as the trial scene inclusive) and "David Garrick" will make up one night's performance. The other selection has not yet been decided on.

The company, which opened in Denver last night, and will reach here by special train on Monday afternoon, comprises twenty-two people, among them, in addition to Mr. Barrett, the following named principals: Louis James, Marie Walworth, F. C. Mosley, and Ben. G. Rogers, who played with Mr. Barrett during his London engagement; Chas. M. Collins, late of the Union Square Company, N. Y.; Rosa Francis, late of the Boston Theatre; Oliver Doud, Mary Anderson's recent stage manager; Miss Minnie Monk and J. M. Sturgeon.

They bring with them new scenery from London, made by Hayes Craven, Henry Irvine's scenic artist; and new costumes from the establishment of August & Co., London and Paris; the designs by Hon. Lewis Wingfield. These are especially for "Yorkick's Love," "Francesca da Rimini," and "Hamlet." A special baggage car travels with the company, bringing the scenery and effects.

This will be Mr. Barrett's second appearance in America, since his London engagement, Denver being his only stopping place between this city and the British metropolis—perhaps the longest theatrical jump on record.

The company will go from here to San Francisco (whether Agent Levy proceeds on Thursday next), thence to Portland, Oregon, thence to Helena and Butte, Montana, and then east to Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul; opening in New York next January. Mr. Levy is now at the Walker.

Mr. Barrett has informed a reporter of the Denver Tribune that his London engagement was successful, financially and socially, though the death of Prince Leopold had "placed a damper on every phase of life in the English metropolis and not alone on theatrical matters," that his business was superior to Madame Bernhardt's, and that he was as good as that of any other theatre during his short season.

As an evidence of his success, Mr. Barrett points to the fact that he is engaged at the Lyceum for one year, during the season of 1885-86, under the management of Henry Irving; during the latter part of which engagement himself and the great English actor are to appear in a round of Shakespearean plays.

Barrett's engagement in this city, though it comes in the midst of a period of financial depression, will be an interesting event, and one which deserves substantial recognition. Excursions will probably run from Ogden, Provo and other neighboring towns to give the dramatic veterans the privilege of witnessing the great actor in one or more of his tragic specialties. Due notice will be published of the opening of the box office for the sale of seats.

A Tour in the North.—The U. C. northern express this morning carried as passengers Presidents John Taylor and George Q. Cannon, Apostle F. M. Lyman and Elders L. John Nuttall and James W. Evans, who will make a journey of some three weeks' duration, among the settlements of the Saints in the northern country. The designed route and programme is as follows: by train to Evanston, then by team down the Bear River settlements, holding meetings as they go, to Paris, where they will arrive on Friday evening. From there they will go to the Temple Gate, where the Stake Conference on Saturday and Sunday the 9th and 10th; on the following Tuesday they will drive over to Montpelier and take the Oregon Short Line to Pocatello, thence per Utah and Northern to Market Lake, reaching there Wednesday morning. The next three days will be spent in the Banook-Stake, whose Quarterly Conference is to be held Saturday and Sunday, the 14th and 15th; thence to Oneida Stake, holding meetings where possible, and back to Logan for the succeeding Sunday the 24th. Several ladies accompany the party, and will be glad to exchange of the heat and glare of the city atmosphere for the cool breezes of the northern mountains will more than compensate for the fatigues attending the journey. We wish them all a safe and prosperous trip.

The Election.—As a synonym for quietude and luckless indifference, yesterday's election ought to be placed in the museum and handed down to succeeding ages. If the "Liberals" had not evinced the same lack of spirit that members of the People's Party did, Salt Lake County might have been gobbled by them and the bankrupt history of the "Toledo Republic" had its ruinous repetition. Behold the proof in the city precincts:

Alleged Embezzlement.—The case of the two Chinamen, charged with embezzling a Frank and its contents at the Hotel, is still pending before U. S. Commissioner Sutherland. This afternoon's matter to be tried on this ground of alleged lack of evidence, was argued by A. G. Sutherland for the defendants and by J. D. Lomax for the prosecution.

The fact in the case, as alleged in the complaint, are briefly these: The two Chinamen, who were the owners of a $12,000, was left by the owner in charge of the two defendants and they afterwards, it is said, secreted, embezzled and converted the property to their own use.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

COLLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

Arizona has several cases of yellow fever.

Leadville, Col., has 21,000 inhabitants.

There are thirteen sheriffs to elect in Montana this year, and there are already 127 candidates for the offices.

Three bulls, whose combined weight is computed at 8,400 pounds, are to be on exhibition in Denver at the coming Exposition.

Of the colonization scheme to plant a few hundred Irish families on Bear River an exchange says: "The Utah land owners visited Denver, to complete a sale, but the capitalists had scattered, and none was effected."

The city marshal of Omaha, says an exchange, has ordered the arrest of any woman seen on the streets arrayed in a Mother Hubbard dress. His chase soil looks down upon this style as improper and leading to an indecent exposure of the person.

A Missouri man, who for some time has been working, due to Edwards murder, (the brakeman shot on the train between Deer Lodge and Garrison on the morning of June 19th) arrested at Garrison a few days since, as parties thereto, a man named Fairgrove and one "Tommy," both connected with Cole's circus.

FROM THE NORTH.

A "NEWS" MAN'S IMPRESSIONS.

Our traveling correspondent "L." writes as follows from Hyrum, under date of August 2nd:

Hyrum is not as prosperous as it has been in the past, yet it holds its own with the adjoining towns. Stone is being put on the ground for a new hotel, the completion of which is expected to be completed this fall. The town has some of the best school buildings that we have seen in the country. They are well situated and are well equipped, and are clean and tidy inside. The Sunday School is well attended and its primary class, which is under the efficient supervision of Sister Jane E. Nelson, is the best I have met. The little ones are prompt and correct, and show a good knowledge of the alphabet. The teachers are also very good, and will accomplish a great deal of good in the pupils.

The bishop's new house is up ready for the shingles and occupies a prominent position, making quite a show in the morning. The house is well situated and is a fine specimen of the country house. The ground and the building are well adapted to the purpose.

Writing from Logan on Aug. 4, the same correspondent says:

Saturday night a sensation was created in this otherwise quiet town by the report that the mail had been stolen. It appears that the carrier got the mail bag last night, and was conveying it, but did not discover this until the morning. The mail was brought to the station and the carrier was afterwards held for the robbery and mail.

Fire destruction is going on quietly, there will not be a full forecast; no opposition.

Nearly a fire—what might have been a disaster, had it not been discovered and put out in the incipient stage, took place on the premises of Bro. H. K. Whitney, yesterday about noon. One of the children who was playing in the yard, happened to see a smoke rising from the barn-yard, and on running thither found that a fire had been kindled in some straw, and rubbish on the ground and had crept along till it caught the fence, which was then in flames.

He alarmed the family and an ineffectual attempt was made by one of the ladies to get the garden hose to play on the fire, but it was too short to be of any service. Luckily two men from the neighboring yard had seen the smoke, and by their timely arrival with pails of water the blaze was in a few moments extinguished. The origin of the fire is mysterious, but it is attributed with tolerable certainty to a couple of more small boys who have been in the habit of playing around the premises, and very likely set fire to the rubbish with matches, either through pure mischief or thoughtlessness.

Missionaries Among the Menomonees.—We have been permitted to read and hear some extracts from a letter written by Elder Theodore Brandt, now laboring in the State of Kansas, to Brother Henry Reiser, of this city, in which the writer gives some interesting items of his missionary experience among the Menomonees. Up to the time of writing, July 26th, Elder Brandt and his companion, Mr. Reiser, had been in the State of Kansas for some time, and had been successful in converting many of the natives. Up to the time of writing, July 26th, Elder Brandt and his companion, Mr. Reiser, had been in the State of Kansas for some time, and had been successful in converting many of the natives.

He felt well notwithstanding, and is determined to remain and do his best as long as shall be required.

CARD OF THANKS.

In behalf of the family of the late Bishop L. W. Hardy, the undersigned desires to thank all who assisted at the funeral, or in any way administered help and sympathy to the bereaved in their hour of affliction.
