All London Does Honor to the Imperial Pair From Germany.

A REMARKABLE PROFUSION OF DECORATIONS.

The Great Procession from Buckingham Palace to Guild Hall.

By Telegraph to the News.

WILLIAM IN LONDON

The Hospitality of the Lord Mayor.

LONDON, July 10.—The inhabitants of London and vicinity turned out in force to witness the progress in state of the Emperor William from Buckingham palace to Guild Hall and back to the palace, after partaking of the hospitality of the Lord mayor. The streets through which the procession passed were lined with immense crowds of people and a large force of police and soldiers kept them clear.

At eight this morning the Emperor reviewed the Queen's Westminster volunteers on the lawn of Buckingham palace. After this reviewing the German ruler enjoyed a light breakfast and then visited the naval exhibition. Leaving the exhibition the Emperor returned to Buckingham palace and retired to his private apartments in order to transact public business connected with the German Empire. Precisely at noon the royal State Carriage left Buckingham palace for Guild hall.

As the procession left the Palace, from all over the city peals of bells rang out and announced that the imperial pageant had commenced. The decorations were superb, every inch of the way from the Strand to Guild Hall abounding in colors.

Bottle Workers Convention.

PITTSBURG, July 10.—The glass bottle blowers of the United States and Canada have in contemplation certain changes in their rules and demands that will create a revolution in the affairs of annual conventions. The National Trade assembly comprising the bottle blowers of the United States and Canada will meet at St. Louis on the 12th instant. An American manufacturer says that at the coming convention the bottle workers will push the claims made last year for the time. Other important measures will be discussed, among them being one admitting foreign blowers into the organization, which virtually means that no one shall be employed where there are American workmen. The proposed changes do not end here. The bottle workers will make a strong fight to cut loose from the Knights of Labor and enter the American Federation of Labor combining the American flint glass workers.

The Western Bottle Manufacturers association has invested the wage committee with full power to act in conference with the wage committee of the American flint glass workers. The committee of American flint glass workers has formulated a scale, but it can not be presented finally to the manufacturers until first acted upon at the Shoulerville convention.

The Christian Endeavor Conference.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 10.—This "decennial day" of Christian Endeavor societies was opened at half past six by a half hour prayer meeting. The regular session was called to order at 9:30.

Rev. Dr. Ware read for the morning lesson the sixth chapter of Second Corinthians. President Clark then announced the committees.

The free parliament was concluded by Dr. Boothbaler of Indianapolis, the subject for consideration being "What the society has done."

Dr. Boothbaler opened with a fifteen minute talk, explaining the topic not to consider the relations of the society to the church, but the society in the church. His speech was the introduction of one of the most interesting of the general exercises. Four and twelve ball delegates were on their feet with minute suggestions as to the work of the society.

Responses come so fast that each remark seemed to be the signal for fresh bursts of applause.

Sociability, evangelistic effort, support of the pastor, convention of souls, opposition to saloons and Sunday amusements and many other points were brought out in quick succession. Secretary Baer read a cablegram from Natal, South Africa.

May Visit This Country.

HAMBURG, July 10.—An officer of the new Hamburg-American steamship "Prince Bismarck," on which vessel the Emperor and Empress of Germany recently went to Heligoland, has made a sensational statement in regard to the alleged possibility of the imperial couple visiting the United States. This officer says he heard the Empress ask her husband whether he would go to the United States in the "Prince Bismarck." To this question the Emperor is said to have replied, smiling: "Do you really think we should go to the United States?"

Rioting not Revolution.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 10.—A dispatch from Guatemala says the reports of a revolution in that country telegraphed to the United States from Mexico, are exaggerated. There has been some rioting, but this was merely the result of an election excitement.

The Grasshopper Pest.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 10.—Henry Smith of Springer, N. M., who is in this city, says the grasshopper pest is in New Mexico and Arizona. He saw large swarms in both Territories and says grasshoppers have stripped them of nearly every vestige of vegetation, and have done great damage. Other officials, he says, have made the same complaint. Smith says the pests are moving slowly eastward and by fall will reach the Kansas and Texas lines.

Championship of England Decided.

LONDON, July 10.—Jim Smith and Ted Pritchard yesterday fought for the championship of England and $10,000 under the rules of the London ring. From the start Pritchard had the battle and at the end of the fourth round the championship of England was decided in his favor. It was a bloody and fierce fight, but the little man outgeneraled and outfought his powerful opponent.

Perished in the Flames.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa., July 10.—The house of J. E. Hannegan, general passenger and ticket agent of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern road was burned early this morning. Miss Huff, a servant, perished in the flames. The other inmates narrowly escaped.

Industrial Conference Declared Off.

NEW YORK, July 10.—General Master Workman Powderly has issued a special circular to all local assemblies of Knights of Labor on the question of the proposed industrial conference which was to have been held July 29, to take up the platform of the Farmers' Alliance and join hands with the third party. The call received so little response outside of the Knights that Powderly deemed it wise to declare it off for the present and to hold a meeting on Washington's birthday, 1892.

LETTER FROM SCANDINAVIA.

Apostle Brigham Young Visits the Saints There—Successful Conferences.

[Correspondence of the DESERET NEWS.]

The Saints in Scandinavia have had the pleasure of a visit from Apostle Brigham Young, the President of the Kingsman mission, who attended the conferences held in Copenhagen, April 24th, 25th and 26th, Christiana, May 2nd and 3rd, and Stockholm May 11th and 12th. After a pleasant trip over the North sea, President Young arrived in Copenhagen on the morning of the 23th of April, accompanied by Elder John F. Squires, of the Liverpool office. The roomy hall in Copenhagen was neatly decorated, and the congregations were large and attentive. The excellent choir rendered some choice selections which greatly enlivened the meetings. President Young spoke on three occasions, his speeches being translated by President A. S. Schou. The Saints were greatly blessed by the wholesome counsel and strong testimony which he gave.

Monday and Tuesday were spent in viewing a number of the many places of interest in and around Copenhagen, and in visiting among the Saints. On Wednesday noon, April 29, accompanied by President Edward H. Anderson, of the Scandinavian mission, and C. E. Thorstensen, of the Copenhagen office, the party boarded the steamer "Melchior" for Christiania. President Young, as well as the other members of the party, greatly enjoyed the pretty scenery up the Christiania Fjord. Upon arrival on the 30th, at 11:30 a. m., the party were met by President O. H. Berg and others of the Elders. On the same evening the regular Thursday evening meeting was held, which was attended by the visiting brethren. The conference opened on Saturday evening, at which the travelling missionaries rendered reports of their labors. On Sunday three meetings were held, all of which were well attended. President Young bore strong testimonies to the divinity of the work of God, and to the restoration of the Gospel by revelation in our day. President O. H. Berg translated his remarks. The choir rendered some excellent singing which greatly enhanced the interest of the meetings. The hall was neatly decorated with evergreens, and with artificial and natural flowers. During the stay the party visited several places of interest surrounding Christiania, particularly enjoying the trip to Frognesaeter, a mountain in the neighborhood from which a grand view of the city and its beautiful environs is obtained. The party attended the Bazar of the sisters of the Relief Society on Monday evening, and on Tuesday evening a meeting of the missionaries was held at which President Young gave some timely and excellent instructions.

On Wednesday, May 6th, at 4:30 p. m., the visiting brethren took leave of the Elders and good people of Christiania, and went by train via Christinehamn for Stockholm where they arrived and were met by President A. F. Anderson on the Thursday evening at 6 p. m., having greatly enjoyed the rural scenery of meadows, lakes, rivers hills and woods along the route. The hall in Stockholm was beautifully decorated. Two meetings were held on Saturday and three on Sunday, also one on Monday. Apostle Young spoke with great power on the early history of the Saints, their trials and tribulations, and bore strong testimonies that God had revealed himself in our day, and established His church with constituted authority to perform the ordinances of the everlasting Gospel. The testimony was borne by Elder J. O. N. Rich. During the stay quite a number of the saints were visited, and the brethren also had an opportunity to view the scenes in and around Stockholm. On Wednesday morning, the 13th, the party, including quite a number of the missionaries, took steamer via Mälaren lake Malaren to Upsala where an interesting meeting was held the same evening. Pres. Young also spoke here. The following day the brethren visited the noteworthy scenes and places, in and around this old city, including the old church, the cathedral, the university, etc., and at 4 p. m. left by rail for Nobelsin where they took a Gota river steamer over this famous canal, lake Wettern and Nessern via Trollhattan to Gothenby where they arrived at 7 p. m. on Sunday, May 17th, and were met by President L. Dahlquist. During the journey Elder Squires was married by a severe attack of quinsy from which President Young suffered. He was so far recovered, however, on Monday that he was enabled to speak in the meeting which had been called for that day at 4 p. m. This was the Pentecost holiday, and there was a fair attendance of strangers. President Young spoke for a short time with great spirit, his remarks being translated by President Dahlquist. On the 19th the Elders viewed the scenery in and around Goteborg. On Wednesday, 20th, at 7 a. m. President Young and Elder Squires returned to Christiania by the Wisen steamer for Holt, and thence to Liverpool, where they arrived in good health and spirits, on the 23rd. Elder Squires's absence was short. As he went to Copenhagen, and arrived there at 4 o'clock the same evening.

President Young as well as Elder Squires was very favorably impressed with the people in Scandinavia, and took great delight in becoming acquainted with the Saints. They were pleased with the manifestations of realness and attention which they received from the Saints and Elders as well as from friends and strangers, and said upon departing that this was one of the most pleasant experiences of their lives, which they will always remember with delight. Speaking for the Saints and Elders, it is safe to say that their visit will likewise be remembered and appreciated. The instructions given will do much good, and doubtless encourage the Saints to a firmer determination to perform their duties and live their religion.

There is everything to encourage the Elders in their labors, and finally the prospects for the progress of the work of God are good in nearly all parts of the mission. There are, in fact, but misdoings enough to take advantage of the opportunities that are offered where the Gospel might be preached. Among all the indifference of the people and the contumely that must be borne by the servants of God, this fact should at least serve to encourage us. The way will sometimes be opened so that all will have the privilege of hearing the word of God. So, also, will help come to those who pant for freedom from the bonds of Babylon; if they continue in faith and patience they will soon be privileged to behold the morning star of their deliverance arise.

A visit to other parts of the mission had been made previously by the President of the Scandinavian mission, conferences being held in Aalborg, Denmark, on March 28th and 29th. There were large congregations of attentive listeners including both saints and strangers. In Aarhus six meetings were held on Sunday and Monday, March 29th and 30th. The work is progressing quite favorably in Jylland, many investigating the principles of the Gospel. No opposition of any consequence is experienced, and there are many openings for place to preach where the Elders have recently been denied access. The brethren are receiving kind treatment as a rule, and the record of baptisms shows that there are many yet in the old fields of labor, souls who are willing to obey the truth. The bulk of the missionary labor is now performed in halls, where regular services are held, and the tendency is to have a roomy meeting place, a good choir, and a presiding Elder in each of the larger cities, to present, as all opposition subsides, the principles of the Gospel to all who are willing to hear. As a rule, the people respect the Scriptures, and when the Gospel as it is contained in them is presented with the inspiration of the Spirit, the impression upon those who listen is lasting. The favorable results arising from the use of the Scriptures in setting in our services is everywhere apparent, and it should be the aim of presiding Elders to organize and multiply a good choir in each branch. In Aalborg and Aarhus we found interesting choir organizations.

On Saturday and Sunday, April 4th and 5th, the Gothenby conference was held in Norrkoping on the central east coast of Sweden. This is the manufacturing centre of Sweden, and has been called this country's Manchester. Five meetings were held, at which the principles of the Gospel were explained to crowded houses. The hall, which, like those in Denmark, was tastefully decorated for the occasion, was not large enough to accommodate all who wished admittance. The majority of the Saints were strangers, as this branch has only few Saints.

The Skane conference was held in Malmo on the 11th and 12th of April. Five meetings were held. This is the oldest and most thoroughly worked field in Sweden, but notwithstanding this, the work is making fair progress, especially in the province of Blekinge. The Elders in most parts of Sweden labor under the disadvantage of having too large a scope of country, with an insufficient number of laborers. In many districts the Gospel has not recently, if ever, been preached, but there are openings everywhere for the servants of God to preach, although this must often be done in hired public halls, enabling expenses upon those which they are ill prepared to meet. If they had the necessary means, it would often enable them to testify of the redemption of the Gospel to hundreds and thousands of people who have never heard the testimony of an Elder. In some parts, again, much indifference exists on the part of the people in relation to the word of God, the labors of the Elders seemingly bearing only little fruit.

There are now 2014 members of the Church in this mission, 1068 being in Denmark, 2169 in Sweden, and 782 in Norway. During the six months ending May 15th, 229 new members were baptized—83 in Denmark, 118 in Sweden, and 18 in Norway. There are 79 Elders now in the field—29 in Denmark, 8 in Norway, and 42 in Sweden, besides 19 native Elders. Unity and kind feelings prevail among the Elders, whose example extends to the Saints, so that harmony and good feelings generally exist among them. The Gospel in this field is verily a school master administering those who accept of its influence to a capability of kindness and humility that is heavenly to enjoy and pleasing to contemplate.

Six conference presidents have been released this spring to return to their mountain homes after honorable labors here. Their names and conferences are as follows: C. M. Jensen, Aalborg; Nels Frederickson, Aarhus; A. S. Celson, Copenhagen; O. H. Berg, Christiania; Anders P. Rasmussen, Gothenby; T. A. Halgren, Skane. Their places have been filled by the following brethren respectively: F. C. Mickelsen, Joseph Christiansen, Ole J. Toftenson, John Johnson, L. Dahlquist, Fred Lundberg. At present all is well with us, for which we join in thanking our Father in heaven.

There are hundreds of people who will be interested to know that Lorenzo Snow, where the mission office has been located since April 15, 1891, when Hector C. Haight presided over the Scandinavian colonies, has been changed in name by legal authority to Sankt Paulo Gade, the new street taking effect June 15, 1891. The address of the office is, therefore, Sankt Paulo Gade, No. 16, Isle Sal.

ELDER H. AUGUSTUS

CHRISTIANIA, June 18th, 1891.

Self Supporting.

It is pleasant and hopeful to note that so many of the young women of America are starting in life the world, parents and friends to the contrary notwithstanding, to earn their own livelihood, and to make it possible for them to support themselves if the necessity for doing so should arise. The daughters of comparatively wealthy men are not ashamed to be seen entering their fathers's office or coming from an opportunity of amusement.

Many so skilled fashionable ladies make their own dresses and hats, we are told, having gone through a regular course of instruction in the art of millinery and dressmaking. Many young women, mere in the notion of the winter that has to be a season for women who give no thought to the state of dependence to which they would be reduced if their parents or husbands should die, leaving them unprovided for.

A lady who had a beautiful home and three little children, and whose husband was supposed to be comfortably wealthy, one day found herself a widow and almost penniless, her husband having been engaged in unfortunate speculations just before his death.

The fellow friends were profuse in their offers of sympathy, while wondering "what in the world she would do now."

She knew just what she would do. Within a month she had opened a millinery establishment, and her business was very popular and profitable, for the lessons she had worn in the past had been such models of elegance that her fashionable friends were anxious to show evidence of her good taste. They never dreamed that she had made their bonnets herself, nor did they know that she had probably worn herself a very good business education.

She was successful from the first, and the praise she received of her skillfulness and good sense would have turned the head of a less sensible woman.—Young's Companion.

A Pleasant Fumigation.

A cheap method of fumigating rooms for sick rooms, also diffusing a healthful, aromatic and slightly penetrating disinfection odor in close apartments, or wherever the use of sulphur candles is objectionable, is to place common vinegar on powdered chalk and effervescence ensues. Leave the whole in motion, and pour off the liquid. Dry the powder and place it in a shallow earthen or glass dish, and pour upon it oil of sassafras or other fragrant essence, to which it will cling. This vapor quickly spreads, is very agreeably pungent, and is an antiseptic and perfumer of vitiated air.—Detroit Free Press.
