OGDEN.

Special to the "News."

Ogden, Jan. 17.—George V. Schramm, Sen., grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Utah, A. F. & A. M., went down to the capital last night to attend the twenty-fifth annual communication of the grand lodge, which meets today. W. J. Sheely, W. M.; J. N. Fulton, S. W., and Dr. Frank Parker, J. W., delegates to the grand lodge, went down this morning.

Yesterday morning Peter L. Sherner, an old and respected citizen of Ogden, died at his residence at Five Points, aged about 59 years, the cause of death being an affection of the kidneys, from which he had been a severe sufferer for a long time. The funeral will not be announced until his son, Peter Sherner, now filling a mission in West Virginia, and who has been notified, has been heard from.

"Pudd'nhead Wilson," Mark Twain's play, has been booked for the Grand opera house next Monday night. With the company is Miss Ada Dwyer, a Salt Lake girl, who takes the part of Roxy.

Miss Bee Haddock of Salt Lake is visiting Mrs. Owen Elsey, her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Peery have returned from Salt Lake, where they were visitors for several days.

In the Second district court yesterday in the case of Esther Farr vs the North Ogden Irrigation company, a damage suit, which was decided in favor of the plaintiff, ten days were granted the defendant in which to file notice of intention to move for a new trial.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

All members were present at the regular meeting of the board yesterday morning.

Petitions of several persons were presented and filed for appointment as road supervisors, fruit tree inspector and fish and game warden.

H. W. Wade, manager of the Ogden office of the Union Light and Power company, appeared before the board and asked that proceedings be stayed in the matter of the assessment of the rights-of-way of their canals and reservoir sites. The board took the matter under advisement.

Adam L. Peterson of Huntsville petitioned the board, asking that Christian Larsen of the same place be examined as to his sanity, and the matter was referred to the county physician.

LEHI.

Lehi, Jan. 17.—Elder Andrew Fjeld, who has been superintendent of the Lehi ward Sunday school for the past four years, having been called on a mission to Australia, will leave for his field of labor Friday morning next. Last evening about 30 teachers and workers met in his honor in a social gathering in the bank building. The lady teachers of the Sunday school prepared an elegant supper and after partaking of the same, a short impromptu program was rendered consisting of songs and speeches, the latter bearing on the good work that had been accomplished by the Lehi Sunday school under the superintendency of Elder Fjeld. Through his untiring efforts, the speakers said, the school was rated as one of the model Sunday schools of the State.

During the rendition of the program Prof. G. N. Child presented Elder Fjeld with a gold watch and chain, which had been purchased by the teachers of the school; a check for $125 was also presented him by the Sunday school workers and the Lehi missionary fund committee. The balance of the evening was spent in dancing, at the close of which all present wished Elder Fjeld a safe and prosperous trip on his long journey, expressing the hope that his labors in the missionary field would meet with the same success that they had in the Sunday school.

PARK CITY.

The stockholders of the First National bank met on Tuesday and elected directors for the ensuing year as follows: W. S. McCornick, W. W. Chisholm, Simon Bamberger, David Keith, J. F. Woodman, Thos. Kearns, W. V. Rice, Robert Harkness and John J. Daly. The directors will meet in a few days to elect officers.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Park City Waterworks company was held on Tuesday last, when the following named gentlemen were elected to serve as a board of directors for the ensuing year: R. C. Chambers, W. V. Rice, Henry Newell, M. S. Ascheim and Thomas Cupit. A committee was appointed to audit the company's books, and the 21st named as the day when the directors will meet and elect officers.

The club of young folks organized a few weeks ago and which failed to receive a name at the time, was christened the Dewey Social club at its meeting Wednesday night. As before stated, James Byrne is president of the organization and Miss Anna Cupit secretary. The club has rented the Dudler hall to hold meetings in, each Wednesday evening, the programs to be varied during the winter according to the wishes and caprice of its members. The club has an enrollment of twenty-five young ladies and gentlemen now, but it is the intention to increase it to fifty.
