AS TO VENEZUELA.

The United States Anxious to See the Boundary Dispute Ended.

FRIENDLY SETTLEMENT DESIRED.

But Ambassador Bayard Ridicules the Story of an Ultimatum Sent to England.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Ambassador Bayard was interviewed today respecting the report circulated in the United States that he had been instructed by Secretary Olney to submit an ultimatum to Great Britain on the Venezuelan question, in the form of a dispatch, the substance of which was said to be that the United States will never consent to British occupation of the disputed territory, unless the right to it is determined by arbitration.

Bayard, after reading the article published in a New York newspaper, dated Washington, Oct. 8, said the facts seemed to have been evolved in the little brain of the writer in the same manner as a spider finds material for its web from its own interior. He ridiculed the statement of an ultimatum having been drawn up by the United States and said he could not seriously discuss the matter. The fact, however, remains that since the diplomatic break between Great Britain and Venezuela some years ago, the United States has been anxious to bring about a friendly settlement of the question, and tendered its good offices to Great Britain with this object in view, and repeatedly endeavored to find means for its satisfactory solution. The same situation continues at present, and the longer the matter is allowed to drift, the more anxious would the United States become to see it definitely settled.

ANOTHER SCHEME.

To Have the Corbett-Fitzsimmons Fight Take Place at Hot Springs.

HOT SPRINGS, Oct. 15.—According to the opinion of the best legal talent of Arkansas, there is nothing in the laws in this state by which the contest between Corbett and Fitzsimmons can be prevented. In order to educate the master and prevent any interference on the part of the legal authorities, the officials of the Florida Athletic club have arranged for a glove contest to take place at once. The contestants will be arrested and taken before Judge Duffie. The decision of Judge Duffie will probably be given out tomorrow morning. If he agrees with the opinion given by the lawyers the fight cannot be stopped. There is no case against the athletic club officials, as appeal will be taken to the supreme court. It is believed Judge Duffie will render a favorable decision.

Good Reports From Tennessee.

COLUMBIA, TENN., Oct. 9, 1895.

To the Editor:

It is with pleasure that I pen a few lines to you endeavoring to express my thanks to you for the many copies of your most valuable paper sent to me. I can truly say it has been a great pleasure for me to peruse its contents, through which I have been able to hear from my co-laborers in the cause of truth and the promulgation of the Gospel of Christ.

During the last summer I have labored with Elders L. W. West, of Washington city, Wm. S. Greenwood, of American Fork, and E. S. Larsen, of Cornville, Utah, and have spent two months revisiting Saints and investigating friends of five different counties. I have done some baptizing, blessing of children and assisting in allaying much prejudice by holding meetings and conversing with the people where and whenever opportunity presented itself, and I am thankful to say we had the privilege quite often. We met people who one year ago refused to hear anything from us or allow us to enter their homes, but are now glad to have us come and preach for them. They invite us to their homes and have made many apologies for the way they treated the Elders before. We are meeting with friends on every hand as well as some of the opposite, but we find it necessary to have some of the rulers in order that we may enjoy the event. It is true that the people of the South are a kind and hospitable people; many times we enter their homes when they are preparing or eating their meals and about the first words are, "Won't you come and eat something with us?" I am thankful to say that during my sixteen months from home I have always found or had provided for me a good bed to sleep on, neither have I suffered for want of food. This has not been because I had money to pay for it, as I have paid out but little for meals or lodging, comparatively speaking.

During my summer tour I had the privilege of listening to a Christian or Campbellite preacher by the name of Daugherty, from Warren county, Tenn., who endeavored to show the difference between his belief or that of his church and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. In the beginning of his sermon he stated that he went right with the Mormon brethren in a great many of their principles and he acknowledged that it was on account of ignorance, prejudice and false rumors that the Mormons were persecuted so.

Some may think it strange that the Elders feel encouraged or glad to meet a person who will tell the truth about us, and when they meet persons who ridicule and revile us, we feel to thank the Lord that we have been counted worthy to stand the stake, and this also makes us feel to rejoice and press forward with more zeal and energy to spread the Gospel and return good for evil, "blessing for railing," etc. Many times do we think of the words of the Savior, "Blessed are you when men shall revile you and persecute you and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake, rejoice and be exceeding glad, for great is your reward in heaven, for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you."

Our annual conference was held Saturday and Sunday Sept. 21st and 22nd at which there were present twenty-one Elders including the presidents of the circuits and of the conference. It is needless to say we had one of the most enjoyable times ever had in middle Tennessee; after which we were given our new companions and counties to labor in. On Oct. 3rd I was joined by Elder Chas. A. Hirsenger, of Pleasant View, Weber county, and we wended our way on from Jackson, Tenn., where we had so very good to receive and peruse carefully your highly prized paper, but should any reading the same have friends of connections here who would desire us to call on them, by making their wants known, we would be pleased to do so.

Upon our arrival here we visited some of the leading men of the city, among them the editor of the leading paper; we obtained his acquaintance and subscribed for the paper. We called upon Jos. Sugar, Tom Lipscomb, whose friends had been to Salt Lake City and had been so highly and kindly entertained by President Brigham Young and others that upon their arrival here they told just how they had been treated and what kind of a people we are, which made a very favorable impression upon him and he said he would do anything he could for us. He wishes us to call upon and make ourselves at home. He also stated that we would have no trouble in getting a place to preach and getting our principles before the people.

We sincerely hope to be able to do our part and we know that as long as we do that we will be blessed and the way opened. I can and do truthfully say that my mission has been the happiest days of my life. May the work still grow and increase is the desire of your brother in the Gospel,

PROVO, UTAH, Oct. 15, 1895.

Home Industry.

H. H. Bean, George T. Peay Jr. and Wm. W. Peay have commenced a new industry for this section, in a small way. Mr. Bean and his two sons started a blacksmithing and general repair shop in this city last spring. In addition to doing such work as was brought them by the farmers they have put up a three-quarter farm wagon as a sample of what they propose to do, whenever they can get sufficient capital to engage in manufacturing wagons on a larger scale. The wagon compares favorably with any of the imported makes, and from figures submitted to the NEWS reporter by Mr. Bean, there can be no question about the practicability of wagons being manufactured in Utah at a profit. Mr. Bean was engaged in making wagons in Chicago before the great fire. At that time he and his partner, a Mr. Summers, were burned out, and Mr. Bean afterwards worked for the different wagon manufacturers there for several years and understands every detail of the business.

Messrs. Bean and Peay Bros. have also partly finished about 10 or 50 cutters and sleighs, and will have them ready for market before the snow flies. Every part of these vehicles, except the iron, is home product. The runners are made from Utah grown locust, which is proving to be a very superior wood for that purpose, and the bodies are made from white pine, like the wagon the cutters will be strong and well finished.

A son of Mr. Bean, Norman H. Bean, has inherited the mechanical ability of his father and is making guitars. The reporter does not know so much about musical instruments as he does about farm wagons, but those shown him compare favorably with the imported in appearance and finish, and the musical people who have used them say they are superior in tone to the eastern make.

Republican Convention.

The permanent officers of the Republican convention, yesterday, were Chas. D. Maloney, chairman; John Saxey, secretary; Miss Ellen E. Jensen and Mrs. W. H. Moneheng, assistant secretaries; George T. Pray, chaplain; Felix Bateman, sergeant-at-arms. The following candidates were selected: Lafayette Holbrook, Myron Newel Knight, marshal; L. L. Nelson, recorder; J. T. Farrer, treasurer; A. Saxey, justice of the peace.

The resolutions declared in favor of free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and endorsed the present city government. First, for reducing taxation; second, for economical expenditure of public money; third, for the better enforcement of the ordinances of the city; fourth, for the extension of the waterworks to the city cemetery. It also contained the following: "We criticise the action of the Democratic party of this Territory in their persistent howl of Church influence whenever they are unable to control that influence for their welfare and yelling 'wolf! wolf!' when there is no occasion except that they see the hand writing on the wall, plainly indicating that at this coming election their supremacy is to be taken from them, for they have been weighed in the balance and found wanting."

It will pay every careful housekeeper to try Price's Cream Baking Powder.

Legal Business.

Samuel R. Thurman has commenced suit in the First district court against Sarah A. Hardie and Margaret Davies, executrix of the last will and testament of Thomas Davis, deceased, for $3,400, with interest at 10 per cent from July 15th, 1890, on a promissory note, and for foreclosure of a mortgage on three ready given to secure the note.

Elizabeth Robison has brought suit for $500 damages against the city of Fillmore, claimed by reason of the defendant corporation destroying a ditch from which she previously obtained water to irrigate certain city lots. The effect of this action, it is claimed, has been to prevent her from obtaining water to irrigate a portion of her city property and caused another portion to be overflowed.

Notes.

Daniel W. Jones is in the city for the purpose of organizing a company to settle upon and develop land on the Uintah Indian reservation when it is opened.

The Best Market.

The best home market for American grains is the farm. Taking cattle as the class of live stock in which farmers are perhaps most interested it may be mentioned that there are in this country 17,000,000 cows, and the estimate does not include steers and calves. It requires 60,000,000 acres of land to support these cows, and the value of the agricultural implements and machinery required in the cattle industry is estimated at over $700,000,000, an enormous sum for a single department of agriculture. It is also estimated that 1,000,000 horses are required in the industry, and employment is given 750,000 men. These cows and horses consume 30,000,000 tons of hay, 30,000,000 bushels of oatmeal, 275,000,000 bushels of oats, 8,000,000 bushels of oatmeal, 1,000,000 bushels of bran and 20,000,000 bushels of corn. It costs about $450,000,000 to feed this stock, and the wages paid for labor may be estimated at $150,000,000.—Philadelphia Record.

The coming cow must be ready for market at 1 year old and must weigh by that time 1,000 pounds. This will be the requirement necessary to make beef raising pay. In order to raise such a steer, find the breed that matures quickly, breed early and then rush the cattle as much as possible.
