THE HIDDEN BOOTY.

Hunt To Sent White While a Mil of Sacramento.

THE HUNT FOR THE STOLEN GOLD.

Guards Stationed Along the Track, Watching Day and Night—No Clue to Yet.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Oct. 15—8 somewhere within a mile of Sacramento a fortune is hidden. Fifty thousand pesitals in gold and several thousand in silver, the booty of the train robbery of last Thursday night is buried in the earth, sunken in the lake, sunk in a slough or covered up in a cellar. But all the detectives have been unable to discover the area within which the stolen wealth must lie. The hide-in-comes a town, a swamp, a lake, a river and a thousand sloughs and ponds. There is barely a part of it outside of the streets of Washington or Sacramento that might not conceal the three tons of gold and one of silver. For a time at least the hoof for the robbers has given way to the hand for hard spell.

A mysterious man was shot at by the guards posted against the remote possibility that the robbers might attempt to seek their treasure, but he escaped back from the moonlight into the murky shadows of the night without a word and without leaving even a definite idea of his identity. Which he identify might be traced or guessed. The detectives believe that if the robbers have cached the money they will wait some time before uncovering and making use of it. With the loss of guarding all possible chances, they stationed guards through the woods and along the tracks and have kept them there every night since the robbery.

Messenger Pike discovered that he had not come scatheless through the attack. He stood at the window of his car looking for a chance to shoot at the robbers when one of them fired. The indications are that he aimed at the image of the engineer struck him on the face. He here became so painful that he had a surgeon examine it. The surgeon cut into the tissues and extracted half of a Winchester bullet.

DUEL TO DEATH.

Several Years Farm Work Ends in Manslaughter.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 15—In Lake county, in the southern part of this state, Ed Donovan and John Vineyard, neighboring ranchers, engaged in a duel that ended in Vineyard's death. The news was brought to Lake View by Donovan himself, who came into town alone and gave himself up.

Donovan's statement substantially corroborated by witnesses is as follows: Vineyard and Donovan quarreled over some farm work. The former accused Donovan of his returning some borrowed harness and implements. Suddenly Vineyard became enraged, saying:

"You lying bastard, I'll fix you," and with this he pounced his left hand behind him and drew a revolver. Donovan, who was unarmed, hastily realized what was transpiring and he saw the pistol in Vineyard's hand. He then jumped for Garrett's rifle which was leaning against the stack, probably five or six feet from where Donovan was standing. Only a few days twenty or thirty feet apart and as Donovan sprang for the rifle Vineyard fired, but missed his mark and then jumped behind the barrel.

Shrieks got out of the way in an instant and then the two men took deliberate aim and started toward each other. Donovan says he has no idea how many shots were fired. Finally Vineyard fell to the ground with a bullet through the heart and Donovan escaped without injury.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Sinner of Public Funds Results in Suicide.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 15—W. H. Ingraham, clerk of the district court, shot himself through the head last night in the vault attached to his office, in the court house. He died almost instantly. The dead man had served two terms and had recently been renominated on the Democratic ticket. He was driven to self-destruction through the exposure of his misuse of public funds. His bondsmen were obliged to make good a shortage of about $2,000 a year ago. Last month he was ordered by the court to pay over to the county treasurer $100 each had which had been f-feited. There was much criticism at his bondsmen's comply with the order of the county, and this was intensified a few days ago when on a deposit of cash bail in another case is made payment of $200 on the first account. The board of supervisors demanded an accounting, and the Democratic central committee met to withdraw from the ticket. Yesterday he could not be found. He probably committed himself to the court house during the night. Mr. Ingraham leaves a wife and a large family of children.

RAVING MANIAC.

The Season of Rich Stakes and Numerous Contests Over.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. — The legitimate racing season in the state of New York will close today. At Saratoga all at Washington supplementary meetings will be held, but the season of fine stakes and memorable events is over.

There has been little brilliant racing in the East this season. Not one of the Eastern horses has shown out, with the possible exception of the Dunraven, and not great reputation mainly rests on private trials.

Besides the Dunraven the two best horses have been Domicate and Tom. In a year of great controversies the present crown would have had hard work to win selling races.

The best of the three-year-olds, Henry of Navarre, The extraordinary campaign through which he passed has made him a great favorite with the public. Although Domino has only been defeated twice, he has not shown the speed that he could that a few horses could do. Domicate and Tom have been well and fairly beaten by better horses, and the second horse to beat Tom by half and half by horses at his best, his admirers have cause to feel satisfied.

The sale of Senator Grady's entire stock of thoroughbreds was a feature of the season. It is rumored among turf men that Senator Grady has had an account opened at Saratoga where the stock, "a catching of those miscellaneous outfits which give driving respectable a bad name." Contracts in gold in hand and such an account, although the statement of the time was true, the money was not with the intention that the money was not with the intention that Senator Grady's back but will be used for his own.

How good Henry is remains to be seen. He the war his record last year, and he has not yet made in weeks, and will be due to cut hard to choose with Henry of Navarre and Domicate.

Dunraven was a disappointment. His victory in the Realization was an extremely lucky one, all things considered. Dunlap might be seen walking to all men who knew a good 2-year-old. There is some consolation in knowing a haggling policy in grabbing at everything in sight meets with unfortunate. If Dunlap had his way for $500 instead of the April sale of Elizabeth last year he would have won a fortune in the last year.

The season has been the most profitable to the history of all eastern racing associations. The clubs made earned by the racing tracks seem fabulous when the original investments are considered. Brighton Beach, with its $300,000 profits, has been remodeled phenomenal success. It is now he will, however, that the Coney Island Jockey club cleared in the neighborhood of $400,000 and the Brooklyn Jockey club over $1,000,000.

Montreal's repression such a tremendous outlay that while all its profits will probably run over $200,000, the sum is not a very large per centage on the sum invested.

No organized movement has yet been made by the track owners to fight the constitutional amendment. It is said, however, that something will be done before the next legislature.

Nevertheless, they continued gloria through the lows and along the track and have kept them there every night since the victory.

EXCITEMENT IN RUSSIA.

Is the Case Being Slowly Poisoned by Nihilists?

Rumors Current to that Effect—Intrigues Relative to the Succession to the Throne.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 15—Has the czar of all Russia been entirely poisoned and slowly put to death by scientific means in the hands of nihilists?

Dr. George F. von Schmidt, a German traveler now in Minneapolis, has received secret dispatches from St. Petersburg which throw strong light on the crisis in European politics, caused by the impending death of the czar. These dispatches came within an sympathetic ink on apparently a blank piece of paper. The appearance of best brought set strange stenographic characters which the doctor readily translated.

The doctor translated the dispatch for an Associated Press representative as follows: "The czar is lying at the point of death. The excitement in the highest circles of Russia is tremendous. It is understood in wide circles in Russia that the czar's sickness was brought about by scientific means and that his death will not be a natural one. It is on account of this that the journals suppress the fact of the czar's sickness.

"There is a party that wants the czarewitz on the throne. The czarewitz is of a cranky, melancholy nature, inclined to institute the most radical reforms throughout Russia, and he already made plans for such action. He is much feared by the clergy. Patrick Scerow, who is at the head of the Greek church, has traveled about with the czar, in order to persuade him to put his second son on the throne instead of the czarewitz. The Greek Catholic church or Russia is certainly active. The Revolutionary council of the empire is daily holding secret council. The Panslavism party is with the church and against the czarewitz, who is a great friend of Germany. Should the czar decide to place his second son upon the throne, this would be looked upon as a direct insult to Germany and would be attended with most serious results.

"The second son of the czar is very inimical to the Germans and friendly to the French, greatly despotic and in the highest degree headstrong, and a strong autocrat. It is feared on the death of the czar church influence will succeed in inducing him to call his second son to succeed. As this second son is very headstrong, he is sure not to remain long on the throne without becoming seriously involved in state troubles.

"The eighty-eight year old patriarch of Moscow has had a two hours' conference with the czar at his deathbed, but no one knows the purport of this talk. The second son of the czar is very despotic, opposed to the liberty of the people and of an curious nature. He is a large soldier, fond of fight, a martial house and very ambitious.

He is the enemy of England, Germany and above all, America. He not only intends to increase the size of Asiatic Russia, but will endeavor the Dominion task of bringing Berlin state under Russian control and extending the empire to the direction of America. The prices in by all odds one of the greatest generals in Russia, having been with Moltke and Tamarchieff, and having studied with the latter. All the cabinets of Europe are alarmed. "It is rumored that the emissaries of England into the dreadful, that is the triple alliance, is about to take place. Already between Russia and France secret relations have been entered into."

Dr. Von Schmidt, is second lieutenant in the Prussian army, traveling on leave. He is bound for Japan and the Orient.

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

A Full Corps of Regimental Officers to be Named Soon.

The Government to be Asked for Tents, Blankets and Other War Equipment Requirements.

A News representative learned today that the officials of the Utah National Guard are contemplating an important move in the military affairs of the Territory. The project is an outgrowth of the representations already offered and has in view the naming of at least one corps of regimental officers.

There are now fifteen companies of infantry in the National Guard, three more than are necessary to form a regiment. In addition to these there are three troops of cavalry and two batteries of military making an aggregate of nearly nine hundred uniformed men.

The regimental officers to be chosen are a major of cavalry, major of artillery, a colonel, lieutenant, a lieutenant-colonel and a major for the infantry. Besides these, says General Ottinger, there stroke three companies of infantry belonging to the second regiment who are entitled to elect a major. Commander-in-Chief West will soon issue the requisite orders to bring about the naming of these new guard officers.

A requisition will also be made on the government for the new tents for tents, blankets and complete camping outfits for the National Guard organizations. It is thought best to do this in preference to exhausting the Territory's entire allowance in drawing uniforms and arms.

POLITICAL MATTERS.

Democratic Primaries Tomorrow Night —Mr. Cannon at the Theater—Mr. Rawlins in the South.

Democratic primaries will be held throughout the city tomorrow (Tuesday) night for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the county convention to be held on Wednesday next and for the purpose of nominating delegates to the Constitutional Convention as follows:

A meeting of the Twenty-second ward Democratic voters will be held at No. 244 West, Third South, this (Monday) evening, beginning at 7:30.

Lest Sinners. Manager Carter, of the sugar factory, wishes to call the attention of the public to the fact that from this date there will be no public days given for people to visit the factory. There may be special occasions when the factory will be opened to visitors. Mr. Carter says he regrets to have to take this step, but, in consideration of circumstances have brought this about. One is, it is very expensive to the company to allow these visiting days, and it is dangerous for outsiders to be allowed in the factory while it is running. Another is, the company has to shut down every chance possible to keep the factory running, since the bounty has been taken from it. The former says, it is never safe to be very certain of the company, therefore, for the good of the company, he is under the necessity of giving this notice.

THE POLITICIANS.

Republican Party Department at the Theater.

SALT LAKE COUNTY CONVENTION.

Temporary and Permanent Organization—The Contest is Lively.

The Salt Lake county Republican convention was called for the Theater at 8 a.m. today, and a large crowd of delegates assembled in front of the building. The doors, however, were not opened for some time later, and it was 10:30 when Chairman James of the committee called the meeting to order.

The Theater was handsomely decorated with the national colors and across the back of the stage was a cloth bearing a portrait of Hon. F. J. Cannon and the words "Protection—Free Silver."

All through the session the activity of candidates and their partisans made the contest of a decidedly lively character throughout.

After music by the band, Mr. James made a brief speech recommending the convention on the party principles of silver, and named Arthur Brown as chairman and Glen Miller as secretary of the temporary organization.

Mr. Brown thanked the committee for the honor conferred on him, and called the attention of the delegates to the importance of the work before them, to select suitable men as the party's standard bearers. He referred the progress of the party in this Territory, and predicted its success.

George L. Nye was named as assistant secretary.

The convention call was read by the secretary, and a committee on credentials appointed as follows, five from the city and four from the county:

1st Precinct—H. Alff.
2d Precinct—J. J. Cowan.
3rd Precinct—Arthur Winter.
4th Precinct—T. E. Harper.
5th Precinct—S. J. O'dears.
County—F. A. Nelson, R. A. Gordon, W. H. Wardle, Joseph M. Hole.

The committee on permanent organization and order of business as follows:

1st Precinct—Sam J. Kenyon.
2d Precinct—J. H. Anderson.
3rd Precinct—[illegible]
4th Precinct—J. H. Farr.
County—J. L. Taylor, G. S. Squires, W. W. Wilson, J. A. Hindley.

The committee on resolutions was named as follows:

1st Precinct—J. M. Fraser.
2nd Precinct—Wm. M. Elliott.
3rd Precinct—Arthur Winter.
4th Precinct—J. H. Dexter.
5th—E. D. R. Thompson.
County—R. H. McKay, R. B. Ellis, J. T. Jones, W. O. Uttinh.

A motion to limit the county representation to two members on the committee was defeated by a heavy majority.

At this point the convention adjourned to 2 p.m.

On resuming this afternoon and during a wait for the committee on credentials, the convention was addressed by C. L. Allen.

The credentials committee report was adopted, C. E. Wantland being given a place as delegate instead of N. A. Empey, disqualified by reason of his nomination to the board of police and his nominee seats.

The committee on permanent organization and order of business recommended the permanent organization as follows:

Arthur Brown, chairman; Spencer Clawson, first vice chairman; A. J. Cooling, second vice chairman; Glen Miller, secretary; W. O. Uttinh, S. H. Lowe, H. Farnsworth, E. B. Jones, assistant; Edgar Guthrie, reading clerk; Thos. F. Mahoney, sergeant at arms; C. S. Cronin, D. Irion, assistants; J. C. Sandberg, chaplain.

The order of business recommended was adopted.

Resolutions committee on credentials, on permanent organization and order of business, and on platform.

Nominations and election of candidates for county officers in the following order: Sheriff, recorder, clerk, assessor, collector, sheriff, treasurer, attorney, coroner, surveyor. Nominating speeches to be limited to three minutes.

An explanation was made that the selections were placed at the head of the list because of the importance of the official position in the county.

The report was adopted without division and Chaplain Sandberg offered prayer.

The committee on resolutions' report was read and adopted. It reaffirmed the Chicago resolutions, and those in the same general line condemning the methods and policy of the Democratic party; demanding free silver coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, and pledging to Hon. F. J. Cannon the unqualified support of the Republicans of this county.

Nominations for executive came next in order, the names of John A. Marty, A. S. Gleason, Jos. Hyrum M. Christofferson, Samuel Perry, William Doxey, J. E. Beveridge, H. A.
