BUSINESS NOTES.

Money has become a little richer during the week, but the tone for call loans and paying stocks continues without any signs of abating, several leading stocks have reached new figures, reaching the highest mark since the slump of '93. E. C. M. I. led the list, selling at $34, when the "News" financial editor advanced the opinion some weeks back that the stock would go to $35 within six months, the statement was received with incredulity. Deseret National changed hands at $4. Another new high mark, Mark Smith Estate is held still at $12. Ogden Sugar sold at $11, and Utah Sugar at $10 to $11, with little or none offered, while their stocks at par with a decided tendency to work up toward $110. Deseret and Savings bank is still at 190. BUILDING TRACK ON THE U. & P.

It is Going On at the Rate of Half a Mile a Day.

SUPPLY OF TIES IS SHORT.

Northern Shippers Looking For a Rate War—Midland Line Open—D. & R. G. Clearing Notes.

Chief Engineer West of the Utah & Pacific will be in the city on Tuesday next, to confer with the directors of the road. It was learned this morning at the office of the company that the work of construction is going on slowly. Contractor Hendricks is at present only building a half mile a day. The work of tracklaying would have been very much hindered if it had not been for the Fourteenth ward ward. The Ashley-Ter the south country has furnished about 22,000 ties, which has been a great help to the people on the road, as this has caused the distribution of over 10,000 among them. The shipment of ties from the north has gone on steadily, though not as fast as they could be wished, and the officials have spoken with regard to the extension of the road through Nevada to the coast. Ties are not so plentiful there, the official stated this morning that in all probability the company will be forced to go to Oregon and contract the work. Although this had not been settled as yet.

The report that the Long party of engineers had passed the Nevada grade, did not even cause a flutter in the office.

SHIPPERS AND RAILROADS.

Difference of Opinion as to Probability of a Rate War.

L. C. Leonard, the general agent of the Missouri Pacific, came to town quite on a late train and was at the office, but Monday he left for his home. Mr. Leonard has been making a trip through the Northwest, looking up the business situation, and that part of the country for some time past. He reports the situation to be a general holding off on the large shippers, under the impression that the various lines leading into that country would cancel from their action of reducing the tariff. He said that up until the late storm there had not been a flour shipper in years for the movement of freight, but the business on all lines has fallen off. This has tended to stiffen the stiff in almost in all sections of the West among the big shippers. The railroad officials maintain that the freight wars of the past will not be renewed, and that during the next sixty days there will be a great movement of freight from all points, as stocks will be getting low and what constituted freight is but in no hand will have to find a market.

It seems to be certain that the railroads are determined to maintain the tariff and that the hatchet is buried on all the lines.

RAILROAD NOTES.

Auditor S. T. Pearson of the Sarpette Valley road has left for the coast on a business trip.

Vice President Bancroft goes to the north on Monday morning on a trip of inspection.

The building of the new shops on the Rio Grande Western is completed and work during the platforms which will be finished next week. All the shafting is in place, the foundations for the new machinery finished and the machines are being placed up as fast as they arrive. Three weeks will see the shops in full working order.

Chas. F. Shortsward, who accepted the position of general baggage agent of the Short Line, has been appointed to a position on the Pittsburg and Chicago road at Port Arthur, Tex. Mr. Shortsward has removed his family to Kansas City. David Patterson, who succeeded him in the office on the Short Line is also on the same road.

The office of general baggage agent is a misnomer, as here, or Mr. Shortsward occupied the position of station baggage agent at the city depot.

Mr. Shortsward was very popular among the railroad boys, who will be pleased to hear of his promotion.

ARE ENTITLED TO SALARIES.

Writ of Mandate Issues in the Policemen's Suit for Wages.

CASE WILL BE APPEALED.

Judge Sheeny Grants Motion for Judgment on Pleadings—Contention of Counsel for Petitioner Everill.

The petition of Policeman Thomas J. Everill for an alternative writ of mandate, directed against Auditor George Swan to compel that officer to draw a warrant in his favor for $1,020, representing the salaries of Everill and seven other policemen for the months of August, September, October and part of November, 1898, was allowed by Judge Cherry today.

The matter came up this morning on a motion for judgment on the pleadings, on the ground that the answer of the defendant that state funds sufficient to constitute a defense to Everill's cause of action. The court, after listening to arguments of counsel, sustained the motion and the defendant excepted to ruling, and stating he stand on his answer, judgment was rendered for the plaintiff. The case will now be appealed to the Supreme court.

The petitioner was represented today by Marshall, Zimmerman & Hempstead, and Mills, Rees & Corlett, while City Attorney W. C. Hall and his assistants, Mr. C. S. Stewart and Richards & Varian appeared in behalf of the defendant.

This suit was commenced on the 14th of December, 1898, and on the preceding 25th of November, Everill and his associates were restored to their offices by judgments of Judge Lake. The eight men who had been in possession of their offices being dismissed from the office.

The defendant filed an answer on the 14th ult., admitting the men's right to the offices, but alleging that they practically abandoned the same by accepting other positions and that they were not ready and willing at all times to perform the duties incidental to a police force's status.

Counsel for plaintiffs argued that the facts admitted by the pleadings were sufficient to show no abandonment on the part of the men, for the reason that they had been trying to get their old jobs back and did return to duty as soon as the Supreme court decided in their favor.

Counsel further contended that when a public officer who has been unlawfully deprived of his office is found to be entitled to receive the salary, the amount to be earned in the interval at any other employment, could not be deducted from the salary due him. Numerous authorities were cited supporting this position, and counsel also stated that after a diligent search, no authorities holding to the contrary could be found. In conclusion counsel said that not even the salary earned by the defendant's superior had already been passed upon by the Supreme court of Utah in the case of Powers vs Sheeny, and that therefore petitioner was entitled to judgment.

Counsel for defendant offered no argument when the court granted the motion, holding that the men did not abandon their offices for the reason it was not denied that they had made every effort to be restored, and were now in possession, with no other evidence of abandonment. As to the matter of deducting from the men's salaries as an offset to the city, his honor held that it would only apply in cases where the existing relations were under contract, and did not apply to a salaried officer.

The complaint alleges that in July, 1892, the defendant, Wetmore, residing out of the State, executed to plaintiff two notes each for $2,000.41, giving as security therefor a mortgage to certain lots situate in the city. It is also alleged that defendant, Polly Smith, claims an interest in the premises named in the mortgage from a deed recording the mortgage. A TAXPAYER'S OPINION.

Increase of Salaries as Recommended by Governor Wells.

Logan, Utah, Feb. 3, 1899.

To the Editor:

The recommendation of the Governor that the salaries of officers be increased in Salt Lake City, has caused disfavor in this section, the general impression is that in some cases they are too high now, so high at least that the learned and unlearned, especially the latter, are clamoring for office.

It is a public misfortune, as a correct principle that the office should seek the man and not the man the office, but this principle is being reversed on account of there being so much more money than honor attached to the office. In fact, the honor part of it has almost been lost sight of in the effort to get the money there is in it, and as a result the offices have been filled in many instances by persons who have neither the character nor worthy such distinction as the office should confer upon them. The essence of a public office is honor, it is a public proclamation that the person so elected is entitled to the confidence and esteem of his fellows, and in some instances this is a matter of fact is far from being the case.

Politics, the workers do not ask who is the best man for the position, but their duty is how they can secure the best office for themselves. They say: "There is John, he is popular among the young men, he can get forty votes, and Tom is popular, he is a favorite among the saloon element and will get their votes, we can put Tom on the ticket for some office so as to get the benefit of their influence," and their qualification for the offices cut no figure.

This is all wrong, but it will never be righted so long as the salaries of offices are so much out of proportion to the wages paid to laboring men in general. For in the free country of ours men of very meager information aspire to positions which only profound statesmanship should be equal to.

A few years ago such a thing as an office seeker was unknown in the member were sought for, but now the array of office-seekers come from every nook and corner of the Territory seeking for the office, and the person entering for it, and that condition of things is fast growing worse, and unless the salaries are too much money and too little honor in the office.

Now is the birth of office-seekers the most affliction which these high salaries have brought upon the people. High salaries mean high taxes, and a poor administration of the public affairs. Are not the people carrying sufficient burdens already? Must their burdens be still further increased for the gratification of those who seek the offices? We think the people will say no. Cut down the salaries to low that those who seek them do it because the people who have confidence in their ability, honesty and integrity desire them for service to the people who wish to confer upon them. Then the offices will be filled by efficient, honorable men. That will the burdens and burdens of heavy taxes be removed from the people. The crowds of office seekers will cease their clamor for office and go to work to lose united to their capacities, and a healthier condition, financially, will dawn upon us.

A Tumor Formed

Finally It Broke Inwardly and Discharged

Trouble Began With Dyspepsia and Impure Blood

Thorough Course of Hood's Sarsaparilla Completely Cures.

There is danger in impure blood. Disease and suffering are surely coming to those who neglect this threatening symptom. Read this:

"Gillium, Missouri.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—My trouble began with nervous headaches, which would last me for two or three days. The doctors pronounced my trouble dyspepsia, but they could not do anything for me, and advised a change of location. At the age of 55 a tumor formed on my spine, which was very painful and caused me much suffering. The doctor thought best to cut it out, but I objected. It finally broke and discharged a great deal. The doctors said they could do nothing for it. Then the tumor began to rise inwardly and discharge. I read much about cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. Before I had finished taking one bottle I was much relieved. I continued the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking 12 bottles I was entirely cured. I am now well, have a good appetite and feel that I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. Foster.
